NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., MAY 9, 1881.

SHAD.

BY BROTHER SKIMMORE.

There was a shadow on my path,
I knew not whence it came;
Although it bore official rank
'Twas evidently game.

It over and molted from my gaze
So sinuously lank,
It left no scale to denote
The opening where it sank.

It has its seasons of return,
And I would like to know
When the strange shadow disappears,
Where it is wont to go.

'Tis on my table! on my plate!
It perfumes all the air!
And in the spring time of the year
Pursues me everywhere!

Off—fish—as shadow, hence! depart!
Nor venture here again!
Nor such a bony thing's enough
To drive a man in-seine!

YOUNG RADISHES.

—Wealth may not bring happiness, but it commands respect in a police officer.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

—Young swell—"I would like to have my moustache died." Polite barber—"Certainly; did you bring it with you?"—College Journal.

—It is a noticeable fact that a hog has to be killed before he is cured. This is true of two-legged hogs as well as of quadrupeds.—Boston Post.

—An editor in Cincinnati, puffing air-tight coffins: "No person having once tried one of these coffins will ever use any other."—Syracuse Herald.

—Dreary May's a skim-milk month,
When feebly does the pulse stir—
Taint warm enough for a calico coat,
And you feel like a fool in an ulster.

—Nitro-glycerine is recommended by a medical journal for certain affections of the chest. Particularly those in which the chest resists the drill or the jimmy.

—"Professor"—Yes, procrastination is the thief of time; but for the last year or so Maud S and St. Julian have divided the honors with Procrastination.—Chicago Tribune.

—"Isn't that a beautiful color?" said the fish dealer, as he cut into a large salmon. "Yes," said Flotsam, "I suppose he is blushing at the extravagant price he is getting for himself."

—A girl from Chicago, Miss Sweet,
Is stopping in town, on High street,
To church she don't go
For this reason, you know—
The doors won't let in her feet.

—A Nevada girl's love-letter: "Dear Jimmy, it's all up. We ain't going to get married. Ma says you're too rough, and I guess she's right. I'm sorry—but can't you go to Europe and get filed down?"—Chicago Tribune.

—New York's latest lahdy-dah: "Do you play the paino?" "No; I don't play the piano, but my sister Hannah, who is in Savannah, she plays the piano in the most charming manner." Havcabanana?"—New York Star.

SOME GIFTED LIARS,

And the Tales They Told in a Modern Grocery.

"I knew an old farmer in Minnesota," said the man with the red nose, "who owned ten acres of timber land, where millions of pigeons came each year to roost. They devastated the wheat fields, and the old coon used to catch the birds in nets and thrash them out on the barn floor. Each bird had three ounces of wheat in his crop, and it was a bad year for 'Old Thompson' when he couldn't ship a thousand bushels of wheat to market at $2 a bushel, and it ranked A No. 1 when it reached the Chicago elevator. If there had been a few millions more of pigeons he would have come pretty near getting a corner in the Minnesota wheat crop."

"I know a planter down in Alabama," said Kittell, "who trained an alligator to work up and down the river and catch the little picaninnies that played along its banks. The alligator would take the little kids in its jaws and swim back to the plantation. It was a dull day that he couldn't corral three or four. The planter raised them carefully, and when they got big sold 'em in New Orleans, prices ranging from three to ten thousand apiece. He was rolling in wealth when Lincoln's emancipation proclamation was issued, and after that the alligator never did any more work. The man is now barely keeping body and soul together in Washington, clerking in one of the Government bureaus at $8,000 a year."

"I had a dog once," spoke the judge, "back in Nebraska, that I kept to herd cottonwood lumber. Cottonwood boards warp like thunder in the sun. A board would begin to hump its back at nine in the morning, and in half an hour it would turn over. By eleven it would warp the other way with the heat, and make another flop. Each time it turned it moved a couple of feet, always following the sun toward the west. The first summer I lived in Brownville over ten thousand feet of lumber skipped out to the hills the day before I had advertised a house raisin'. I went to the county seat to attend a lawsuit, and when I got back there wasn't a stick of timber left. It had strayed away into the uplands. An ordinary board would climb a two-mile hill during a hot week, and when it struck the timber it would keep wormin' in and out among the trees like a garter-snake. Every farmer in the State had to keep shepherd dogs to follow his lumber around the country, keep it together, and show where it was in the morning. Wouldn't need any flumes there for lumber. We sawed it east of the place we wanted to use it and let it warp itself to its destination, with men and dogs to head it off at the right time. We never lost a stick."

True and Noble Words.

The opportunity for a readjustment on a permanent and happy basis of all our differences, local and general, is too valuable to be permitted to pass unimproved. Now our political affairs are at a tide which, "taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." The popular mind, inspired by that sense of the situation which always pervades communities not doomed to decay and destruction, is wide awake, and we are confident that its judgment is decisively in favor of progress and liberality and against Bourbonism and retrogression. The revolution of 1879 will not go backward. It will advance to complete success in Virginia this year, and rapidly it will pursue its course throughout the whole South, to be responded to by a corresponding overthrow of sectionalism, prejudice, and partisanry in the North, until Americans shall once more have one name, one flag, one country, and be indeed one people. So mote it be!—Richmond Whig.

By far the most active were Texas Pacific incomes, which opened ¾ per cent. higher at 90, declined to 89¾, rallied to 89¾, and reacted to 89½. Chesapeake and Ohio currency sixes rose to 64½; C. The stock market opened strong and generally higher, but in the early dealings there was a fractional decline. At the first board a buoyant tone prevailed, and an advance was recorded ranging from ½ to 6 per cent., the latter in Metropolitan and New York Elevated, Manhattan Elevated selling up 4⅝ per cent., Memphis and Charleston 4½, and C. C. C. & I. 2¾ per cent. Western Union was an exception and fell off 2½ per cent. Toward noon the general list became weak, and a reaction of ½ to 2 per cent. took place, in which the elevated railway shares were most prominent. During the afternoon the speculation became strong, and there was a recovery of ½ to 2 per cent., which was most marked in the elevated stocks. In the late dealings there was a reaction of ¼ to 2¾ per cent., the latter in Memphis and Charleston, but in the final sales a firm tone prevailed, and the market closed at a recovery of ⅛ to 1¾ per cent. The sales aggregated 468,673 shares, including C. C. C. & I., 5,300; C. C. & I. A Whole Company of 'Em.

Edwin Forrest was standing near the door of a theatre in which he was then playing, early in the evening, when a man approached the gatekeeper and said: "Do you admit the profession?" "Yes, when we know them," was the reply; "who are you?" "I've got the trained hog here." said the man. "Walk right in," interposed Forrest; "I've got a whole company of 'em inside."

Why Do We Droop?

The vicissitudes of climate, the wear and tear of business, the griefs, cares and anxieties that beset us in every walk of life, sufficiently account for the premature debility and decay so common among all classes in this country. Strange, very strange it is that with that potent vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, within the reach of all, any one of us should forego the health, vigor, and vital activity which its regular use imparts. Its effect upon the weakened stomach, the relaxed nerves, the torpid liver, the corrupted blood, the depressed spirits, is more salutary, refreshing, and cheering than words can express. It is a medicine alike for the body and the mind, pure and wholesome in its composition, harmless in its operations, and permanent in its restorative results. MWF
