"CIGARETTE CHARLEY."

Another Thrilling Romance—A Blood-Curdling Tale of Love.

"No, Cigarette Charley," she said, using the name by which he was known among the wild, reckless set with which he associated on Rum Row. "I can never be your bride. I know that you love me deeply and truly, and that to win a love like yours is something of which any woman might be proud. I will not deny, Reginald"—and here the girl stopped closer to him and placed a soft, white hand in his, while the deep, brown eyes that could lure a soul through Inferno or to Point Lookout by land gleamed forth with a topaz tint that intoxicated with the sweet nectar of love all who came "within their gaze"—"that with you I could live happily forever in the Lotus islands of a Washington hash-house, but my father says—and you know how I adore my dear, kind papa—that you are not of the nervously-active, pushing sort that always gets ahead in the world; that he does not object to my marrying a poor man, but that man must be one who will rise in the world—'a hustler from Hustletown,' as dear papa says. So we must part."

"Maud—Miss Slikock," said Reginald, in those deep, thrilling tones of his. "I cannot—indeed I cannot let you go! Stay one moment—only one moment!"

How that rich voice rang in her ears! Despite herself it moved her strangely. "Very well," she said, "I will stay."

Darting hastily to the hat-rack in the front hall Reginald fumbled for a moment in the upper left-hand pocket of his overcoat and drew therefrom a piece of white paper. Returning to the parlor he knelt beside the fauteuil on which Maud had thrown herself in an agony of grief, and kissed away the bitter tears of pain and sorrow that were welling up into the beautiful brown eyes.

"See, my darling," he exclaimed, eagerly, placing the paper before her. "Look at this, my precious one."

Maud opened her eyes and gazed languidly at the paper. "What is it, Tootsie?" she murmured.

Drawing himself up proudly, and holding in one hand the paper and in the other his pancake hat, Reginald Green said in proud tones:

"It is a notice of my promotion to the ribbon counter. Hereafter my salary will be $12 per week. Maud, my precious one, we are saved."

The girl looked at him lovingly. "You bet we are," she said, and her arms were clasped about his thirteen-inch neck in an ecstacy of passion.—From "Trials of a Lover," by Frank Hollingshead.

"Pour oil on troubled waters" is an old recommendation; in the modern interpretation of the phrase we hear such expressions and advice as the following contained in the closing words of a long article in the Boston Herald: During my jauntings around town I heard many remarks of a complimentary character in relation to the merits of St. Jacobs Oil, and one person said: "There's the venerable Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, our ex-Vice-President. He never wears an overcoat, and is therefore the legitimate prey of rheumatism. If he wants to continue saving the expense of an overcoat, and at the same time escape rheumatism, such weather as this, he must invest fifty cents in a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil and lather himself with it right well. He will find it a cheap and serviceable overcoat to keep the rheumatism from his body."

VIRGINIA NEWS.

John F. Rauhoff has been appointed postmaster at Rockingham.

There were twenty-seven buildings, mostly dwellings, erected in Berryville during the past year.

The Houseman farm, five miles from Staunton, 297 acres, has been sold to J. J. Glasbrenner for $12 per acre.

Rev. James N. Vance, a well-known Presbyterian minister, formerly of Virginia, died recently in Mississippi.

The street cars in Richmond have ceased running on account of the prevalence of pink-eye among the horses.

The Norfolk City Passenger Railway, with all its rights, franchises, and privileges, has been sold to Colonel J. B. Whitehead for $20,000 cash.

Mr. John G. Motley, civil engineer, of Richmond County, has been appointed superintendent of the southern division of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad.

George W. Hilliard has purchased the Fauntleroy place, on the Valley turnpike, one and a half miles from Winchester, for $5,000. There are about fifty acres in the farm.

Dr. I. Hite Baldwin died in Winchester Wednesday last. He was formerly a surgeon in the United States army, and served with the troops in the field during the Florida war.

The senate has confirmed Dr. J. M. Blanton, of Cumberland, to be commissioner of agriculture. The Governor has appointed Dr. E. A. Drewry, of Southampton, surgeon of the penitentiary.

Henry Burgess, a young white man, was taken into custody Friday evening, at the residence of his uncle, near Manchester, by officers from Norfolk, charged with having altered or raised a $100 check of Wrenn & Co., of Norfolk, to $2,100.

The names of Messrs. John R. Popham, C. T. Smith, Charles U. Williams, J. A. Armistead, R. A. Dunlop, C. T. Litchfield, and J. Marshall McCue have been reported to the senate to be added to House bill removing political disabilities incurred under the the dueling clause.

Governor Cameron's message to the General Assembly of Virginia is a plain, straightforward document, the style and good taste of which will commend it even to those who are firmly opposed to the views on certain questions of State policy to which it gives expression.—Baltimore Sun.

Girard S. Gregory died Tuesday last in Staunton from injuries received in a difficulty with several railroad men. The jury of inquest returned a verdict that Gregory came to his death from injuries inflicted by Thomas H. Binford, J. H. Nichols, L. L. Vasseur, and a party unknown to the jury.

The bill presented in the senate granting general amnesty to all duelists had the effect of bringing forth one from Mr. Glasgow (Democrat) for the suppression of dueling by providing adequate punishment for false and malicious defamation and wanton insult, so that occasion therefor may be taken away.

Governor Cameron's first message, sent in to the Legislature Friday, was the briefest message ever emanating from a Virginia Governor. As he wrote it was handed, sheet by sheet, to the reporters in an ante-room, and was not finished until two o'clock. The delay in its preparation was caused by Governor Cameron's arm being so painfully swollen from vaccination that he could not write.

That the Constitution is Wrecked

By periodically recurring attacks of malaria, if they are not arrested, is a fact too amply proven by the haggard looks, worn frames, and nervous debility of those who have felt the malign influence for any length of time to admit of reasonable doubt. To temporize with the disease is to incur physical evils, soon felt and very serious. The pleasant and safe specific, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, roots out the disease and prevents its return, and is also a curative for the debilitating effects of dyspepsia, as well as for irregularity of the bowels and kidneys, and for rheumatism. It restores diminished nervous energy, and is a general appetizer and cheering corrective. Bilious symptoms are removed by it, and constipation, flatulence, heartburn, and other indicia of a derangement of the organs of assimilation and secretion are overcome by it, with their cause. Convincing and abundant testimony establishes the above facts. MWF

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last! No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for Blind, Bleeding, Itching, and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. William (an Indian remedy), called Dr. William's Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years' standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments, and electuaries do more harm than good. William's Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching (particularly at night after getting warm in bed), acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for Piles, Itching of the private parts, and for nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment: "I have used scores of Pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. William's Indian Ointment."

BUCKWHEAT CAKES.
can be almost instantaneously made from
Hecker's Self-Raising Buckwheat
by the addition only of Cold Milk or Water. Hecker's Self-Raising Buckwheat will be found decidedly the cheapest when the saving of time and trouble is considered. It is Always Ready! Always Reliable! and Perfectly Healthy. Dyspeptics and persons who cannot eat Buckwheat Cakes made by the old process with yeast can use the Self-Raising Buckwheat without detriment.
ANY ONE CAN MAKE THEM.
No more mixing Buckwheat over night, but in the morning, when the griddle is hot, use
Hecker's Self-Raising Buckwheat,
and mix with Cold Water or Milk and bake immediately. This will produce light and delicious Cakes, preferred by many to those made with yeast.
For sale by all grocers.
