HAYES'S NOTE-BOOK.

A New Story About the Predecessor of President Garfield.

Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, passed through Denver a few days ago. The Denver Tribune man interviewed the Senator and, among other things, says:

The visit of Senator Jones reminds the writer of a little story on ex-President Hayes which has never been introduced to the types. It is of particular interest because of the illustration it contains of a weakness that gained for Hayes the dislike of all the leading statesmen and politicians in the country. Hayes was always an unreliable and an untruthful Executive, a fact which became well known to all Congress long before he was retired.

Early in Hayes's administration, Rosewater, of the Omaha Bee, unearthed a rotten ring at Omaha that was robbing the government by a series of land swindles. After having secured sufficient evidence to convince the administration of the thefts and convict the thieves, Rosewater visited Hayes at Washington and laid the matter before him. The President promised that the ring should be immediately cleaned out. Rosewater told Senator Jones the whole story, congratulating himself at the same time that his efforts would result in the speedy apprehension of the swindlers.

Nothing more was thought about the trouble by the Senator until two years later he met Rosewater in Washington again.

"Well, how is everything in Nebraska, Rosewater?" said the Senator. "I suppose your millennium is come?"

"Business and all that sort of thing is all right, but—ahem! well—"

"Here, have a cigar," said the Senator, extending a costly weed, "and tell me all about it."

Rosewater lighted the cigar slowly, and then mysteriously invited the Senator into a quiet corner.

"Do you remember that land swindling scheme at Omaha, that I went to see Hayes about, two years ago?" he commenced.

"Yes," replied the Senator, knowing exactly what was coming.

"And you know he promised to clean those fellows out?"

"Yes."

"Well, he has never done it."

"Nothing strange about that; tell me about the interview you had with him at the time."

"The interview was all right—just as straight as it could be. When I commenced to enter into the details of the steals, he went to a pigeon hole in his desk, took out a scratch tab and then telling me to proceed, wrote down questions, answers, names, and everything. I was confident that he meant business. Now I am going to him again and ascertain why he has not kept his promise."

Suiting his action to his words, Rosewater braced up to start for the White House.

"Now, see here," said the Senator, quietly, "that's a pretty good cigar I gave you, isn't it? It cost me two shillings; a box of them is worth $25. I will set you a box, and leave the bet to your decision, that if you don't say anything about your former interview Hayes will take a scratch book from the same pigeon-hole, write the same notes over again, and never remember that you ever before made complaint to him. This is taking the chance on the pigeon-hole, but I will make the bet."

Rosewater agreed.

Two hours later he entered the Senator's room with a box of cigars under his arm.

"Well?" said the Senator.

"You won."

MR. EPH. MOSER, a well-known attorney of Shoals, Ind., had been confined to his room with severe rheumatism. St. Jacobs Oil was used; the third application relieved him from all pain.

DUMBARTON STREET CHURCH.

Reopening of the Oldest Church in the District—Interesting Exercises.

The first services since the Dumbarton Street Church, Georgetown, has been improved were held Sunday. The exterior of the building has been repaired and painted, and the interior beautifully decorated and renovated. The services were conducted by Dr. Webster, the pastor, and Dr. McCauley, of Dickinson College, Pennsylvania, preached the sermon, taking for his text Second Corinthians, fourth chapter, eighteenth verse—the principles of faith in the unseen and eternal as an influence in the discipline and development of probationary life—"While we look not at things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal." The Reverend Doctor gave a graphic description of his subject, and was the recipient of many congratulations at the conclusion of the sermon.

IN THE AFTERNOON,

at 3 o'clock, a reunion was held, at which the former members and pastors of the church were present. Addresses were made by Rev. Drs. G. W. T. Wright, McCauley, and Norris, and Mrs. Dr. McKendree Reilly. In the evening, at 7:30 o'clock, Dr. McKendree Reilly preached, taking for his text Isaiah, ii., 3: "The prospect of Zion. For out of Zion shall go forth the law and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem." Collections were taken up at all of the services, nearly a thousand dollars being realized, which, added to the church fund, amounting to $1,400, places the church

ENTIRELY OUT OF DEBT.

The congregation of Dumbarton Church is the oldest in the District, dating back to 1769, when it was started. The original church was built in 1790, was rebuilt in 1859, and has been improved and repaired from time to time since that year. Half a century ago it numbered among its patrons some of the first people of Washington when it was the only church in West Washington. Many Washington persons were present at all of the services yesterday. Devotional exercises will be held every evening the coming week.
