"STOP THE B. R. T. AND I WILL STOP"

Brooklyn Resident Openly Defies the Health Department in a Letter.

The Health Department has been "defied" by a property-owner, who adds that the department is "rotten to the core." Frank Leffman, of No. 2004 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, is the man. A few days ago Mr. Leffman received a notice from the Health Department ordering him to alter and purify his lot at No. 1504 Prospect place of all garbage and refuse and see that the place was kept "clean and disinfected."

Following this order, filled in specifically ,was the printed form of notice that failure to comply was punishable as a misdemeanor. To-day Supt. Maxfield, of Brooklyn, received the notice back. Across the face was written:

"To the Department of 'Health'?(:

"As no doubt you will note, I have dedicated this to the proverbial waste-basket for the simple reason that a department of health which will tolerate and allow an ash-receiving staion to be conducted and maintained like the one adjoining my property at No. 2004 Atlantic avenue is unworthy of my consideration. It is rotten to the core. I defy you. (Signed) FRANK LEFFMAN."

Supt. Maxwell says that the ash-receiving station hit at—a B. R. T. concession—has received his attention and that an inspector will see to Leffman.

Following the closing of a foundry yesterday to enforce the anti-smoke crusade Supt. Maxwell to-day announced that four offenders had been prosecuted and fined in Special Sessions, two being fined $100 each. They are William Ferguson, engineer of the Brooklyn Heights Railroad power-house, Third avenue and Third street, and W. B. Sturgis, engineer of Uptegrove's mill, foot of Jarvis street. Edward Golden, of No. 831 Leonard street, was fined $50.

Seven milk dealers were fined for selling adulterated milk. The heaviest fine was $250, imposed on Benjamin Wecht, of No. 25 Morrill street. J. R. Rathjen, of No. 131 Meserole street, was fined $100.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS MOB FIGHT POLICE

Leaders Arrested After Chancellor's House in London Had Been Stormed.

LONDON, June 21.—Miss Billington, Miss Keney and three other leaders of the militant women suffragists were arrested in Cavendish Square to-day for creating a disturbance outside of Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith's house.

Mr. Asquith is the particular bugbear, in the present Ministry, of the women suffragists, and special police have been stationed in the neighborhood of his residence to prevent threatened attacks upon it.

A score of women with banners flying assembled in Cavendish square this morning and announced their determination to be heard by Mr. Asquith. They defied the police until their leaders were arrested and dragged off to the police station.

The women arrested were arraigned in a police court later. Miss Billington was fined $50 or two months' imprisonment, whereupon she expressed the intention of becoming a martyr and of going to jail. The hearing of the other cases was adjourned.

The Countess of Carlisle, herself an ardent suffragist, referred to the affair of this morning at to-day's meeting of the Women's Liberal Federation. She said she was shocked when passing through Cavendish Square to see "so-called women suffragists fighting police and making an impertinent mockery of womanhood."

The Countess repudiated any connection with the "poor, misguided women" who attempted to mob the Chancellor of the Exchequer in his own house.

ELLENBOGEN LOSES APPEAL.

City Marshal's Conviction for Perjury in Election Case Upheld.

The Appellate Division to-day affirmed the conviction of Samuel K. Ellenbogen, city marshal, of perjury in having sworn that Barnet Mendsleon and his son, Jacob, illegal voters, lived with one Bloch at No. 53 Mott street. Ellenbogen was sentenced by Justice Davy to from two years to four years and six months in State's prison.

THIS BIGAMIST ALLOWED TO GO

His Second Marriage Was "Committed" in Good Faith, Court Believed.

Frank W. Van Pelt, a wealthy contractor of Pelham avenue, the Bronx, who married Mrs. Christina Callahan, of Long Island City, while he had a wife living in West One Hundred and Sixteenth street, Manhattan, was to-day allowed to go under a suspended sentence when brought before Judge Humphries on a charge of bigamy in the Queens County Court. Van Pelt pleaded guilty, but said in extenuation that he had been served with papers two years ago in a divorce action by his first wife, Emma. He put in no defence and thought his wife had secured her divorce. Then he married Mrs. Callahan.

Van Pelt's lawyers produced the records of the first Mrs. Van Pelt's suit for divorce, pointing out that, although she dropped the suit there was no presumption that her husband was informed. Also the marriage records of Long Island City showed that he had given his real name and address when marrying Mrs. Callahan.

In suspending sentence, Judge Humphries said he felt certain Van Pelt acted in good faith and without intent to violate the law. Both Mrs. Van Pelts were in court, but neither of them came forward to greet him as he walked away.

TRIED TO SOLVE PROBLEM BY DEATH

Fannie Vriel Couldn't Live on $2 a Week and Jumped Into the River.

The problem of living on $2 a week overwhelmed Fannie Vriel, a comely young woman of Hoboken, and she threw herself into the North River today as the only solution. A man who knew nothing about Fannie Vriel's problem jumped in after her, dragged her out and had her placed under arrest on a charge of attempted suicide.

She was arraigned before Recorder Stanton and said that she was a member of a good family in Germany. She came to the United States about a year ago, expecting to find no difficulty in securing a remunerative position. Her imperfect English was a handicap, her store of money slipped away, and finally she was compelled to go to work as a domestic in a hotel at No. 316 River street for $2 a week. She worked every day, long and hard, until her soul sickened and her body ached.

"There were two things to do," said Fannie Vriel, "write my people for money and go back, or kill myself. I could not humiliate myself to write home that I had failed because my departure from Germany was opposed by my people. I determined to do the other thing."

Her story interested the Recorder. He will place the girl in the care of people who will provide for her wants for the present and secure her a good position.
