GAZETTE & SENTINEL.

☞ Washington letter writers seem unanimous in awarding praise to the Hon. Daniel E. Sickles for the discreet subdued manner in which he deports himself in the House. He has gained over many of his old friends, and the general feeling towards him is kindly and favorable.

ASTOUNDING IGNORANCE.—The Doual journal relates an extraordinary instance of ignorance in a village near that town. A physician called a few days ago to prescribe for a sick child of a peasant woman, and ordered a warm bath.—"What is a bath?" said she. "Heat some water in your pot on the fire and put your child into it." A few minutes after a neighbor entered, and found that the woman had put the child into the pot with the water, and had placed the little creature on the fire, which she was diligently stirring up! Of course the visiting neighbor rescued the child from the horrible fate with which it was threatened.

PROSPECTUS.

Young Ladies Academy
AND CONVENT OF HOLY CROSS,
Plaquemine, (Iberville,) La.

THIS INSTITUTION is beautifully situated in the centre of the town of Plaquemine, between Court, Church and Plaquemine streets. The buildings are large and commodious, and the grounds of good ample space for amusement and healthy exercise. The Institution being situated within a few minutes walk of the steamboat landing, enjoys the advantage of easy and frequent access. It is conducted by the Sisters of Holy Cross, who being wholly devoted to the important work of public instruction, spare no pains to improve the hearts of their pupils in virtue and store their minds with knowledge, and they pledge themselves to return the children to their parents improved in virtue and learning.

To impart a thorough education in the highest sense of the word—to train the moral and the intellectual being—to develope sound health and elegant manners, is an object of constant attention. The system of government is mild and maternal, aiming to guide rather than to drive the pupils along the path of duty. The comforts and personal habits of the young ladies, receive the same attention as in the most refined family circle.

Religion is the ground-work of education. The Institution is Catholic; but young ladies of all denominations are admitted, provided they are willing for the sake of order and uniformity, to attend the exercises of public worship. The Academical year is of ten months. The course of Education embraces all the branches usually taught in Academies, with the facility of primary instruction in both the English and French languages, at the option of parents.

BOYS' COLLEGE.
PLAQUEMINE, La.

THIS institution is now open for the admission of pupils. The services of M. PAROT, an accomplished teacher of French, have been secured for this department and he will be on the ground in a few days, when those desiring instruction in this branch can be accommodated. The principal will also soon take up his residence in the institution, when a limited number of pupils from abroad may be accommodated with board.

Special pains will be taken in preparing youth thoroughly for College, in order that their future course may be both easy and satisfactory. The same care will also be taken with those who may wish to prosecute their classical studies beyond the rudiments in this institution.

A careful supervision will be exercised over the morals, habits and conduct of pupils during school hours or while resident in the institution.

The following are the

SUGAR INTEREST.

Important to Sugar Planters.

THE undersigned would call the particular attention of Planters to the Star Bagasse Furnace, patented June 15, 1858.

Its advantages are as follows:

1st. Its operation is effected entirely by natural draft.

2d. Its perfect combustion of Bagasse of any quality.

3d. It is under the entire control of the Engineer, and can consequently make more or less steam as required.

4th. It will burn Bagasse for either one or two sets of Kettles, without increasing the size of the Furnace.

5th. It contains no grate bars or Iron Work in the interior.

6th. It is self feeding, a new and beautiful arrangement of hopper, admitting the Bagasse regularly into the Furnace, while at the same time it is incapable of derangement.

7th. It emits neither sparks, smoke or heat from the feed opening, so that it can be placed in the interior of the Sugar House if more convenient. The Furnaces of Messrs. Girand & Debieux, and Col. E. G. W. Butler—both of Iberville—are in the interior of the Sugar House.

8th. Owing to the arrangement of air flues, and exit flame and smoke arches, the exterior of the Furnace is at all times perfectly cool.

9th. The quantity of slag formed, (owing to the perfect combustion of the Bagasse, and the heat's being carried off as fast as generated) is considerably diminished.

10th. The Furnace can be cleaned out while in operation, with the greatest facility, the construction of the hearth causing the ashes and slag to accumulate at the ash doors.

11th. The flame is caused to act equally on the entire length of the boiler, instead of being thrown on one particular part, as is the case in all other Furnaces.

12th. Should the water accidentally become too low in the boiler, the heat and flame can in an instant be turned into the chimney through another channel, and so prevent the formation of steam. The damper to effect the above arrangement is placed at such a distance from the fire, that there is no possibility of its becoming warped or incapable of acting.

13th. It occupies less space, and is consequently more economical of construction than any other Bagasse Furnace.

14th. Its great economy of fuel, seldom requiring over half a cord of wood in twenty four hours. The above quantity of wood will furnish sufficient steam for Cane Engine and steam pan, besides allowing a surplus which may be used for Clarifying.

Read the following testimonials from well known Sugar Planters:

For further information, please address the Patentee,
EVAN SKELLY,

December 13th, 1858.

To Planters, Mechanics and Capitalists.

THE undersigned would call attention to his "NEW IMPROVED WOOD OR COAL FURNACE," Patented Dec. 21, 1858. Its advantages are as follows:

1st. Its great economy of fuel, its consumption being invariably fifty per cent less than by the ordinary arrangement.

2. Its combustion of fuel being perfect, it is consequently smokeless.

3. It is under the entire control of the attendant, combustion proceeding at a uniform rate, independantly of the amount of fuel admitted.

4. There being no open ashpit, danger from fire is obviated.

5. The cleaning out of ashes can be effected with as much facility as in the ordinary form of furnace.

6. The flame being distributed evenly, throughout the entire length of the Boiler, its liability to become burned is considerably diminished.

7. It can be adapted to every form of Boiler or Sugar Kettles.

8. It is peculiarly applicable to steamboat Boilers as the fire can be checked without opening the Flue Caps, and the exterior of the furnace being at all times perfectly cool, stowage room is increased as the freight may be placed in direct contact with the sides of the Furnace.

The above Furnace has been in successful operation in Iberville and adjoining parishes for the past year, invariably effecting a saving of fifty per cent in fuel.

The undersigned refers to the following gentlemen who have had his furnace in use:

Valsin J. Dupuy, Iberville.
Michel Schlatre, "
Gervais Schlatre, "
J. S. Leblanc, "
Chas. A. Bruslé, "
Davenport & Ford, Lafourche.
Hill & Markham, Baton Rouge

Purchasers will find the above a profitable investment.

THE TUTTLE HOUSE.

The undersigned proprietor deems it expedient to inform the TRAVELLING PUBLIC in particular, as well as Regular Boarders, that the above House—which has been established about two years, more as a Private Boarding House than a Hotel—has lately, by the advice of friends and the urgent demands of the public, been extended to a depth as great as its former length, and now presents, in the extent and style of its accommodations, the characteristics of a first class Hotel, second to no other in the country parishes, to which he invites the attention of all requiring accommodations of the character which may be expected at a first class Hotel.

The TUTTLE HOUSE is most eligibly situated, both for the convenience of Travellers and the Business Community. It is situated on the corner of Bank and Plaquemine streets, opposite the steamboat landing, and immediately on a line with the late Planters' (Bissell's) Hotel, and about one hundred yards distant from the river. In front of the House there is a handsome portico, above and below, an extensive Reading and Reception Room, in which there is one of the best Safe's, for the preservation of valuables, any where to be found—a delightful Dining Room and Bed Rooms, &c., that cannot be excelled; in front and partly around the house there is a yard fo fine green sward, most delightful for children.

In fine, the undersigned is confident that Travelers and others will find at the TUTTLE HOUSE, every comfort and attention that could be expected at Hotels of the highest reputation, and at prices that cannot fail to be acceptable.

The late improvements being now almost completed, with an entire new outfit of Furniture, Bedding, &c., the TUTTLE HOUSE is confidently thrown open to the public as a first class hotel, to which the undersigned respectfully invites all who desire quiet and elegant accommodations.
