SPORTING NEWS AND COMMENT

EDITED BY ROBERT EDGREN.

WILLIE LEWIS says Honey Mellody knocked him out with a "chance punch."

That is the usual wail of the fighters who get licked. Very few are willing to let the other fellow have the same credit they would claim if they had landed the finishing blow.

MYSELF, I don't believe in the "chance punch." Whenever a fighter starts a blow he intends to land it—that is, when he is fighting "on the level." Naturally he misses a great number, and many are blocked. But when he finally does get one over to the target there is no reason why it should be called a "chance blow" or a "lucky punch." By some combination of boxing tricks he has managed to do just what he has tried to do all along. If the recipient's guard has been defective or he has not had time to escape when the blow started or he failed to see it in time, there is still no excuse for his trying to take away from his opponent's laurels by claiming that luck was against him.

Bob Fitzsimmons always thought he was whipped at Coney by a "chance punch." He still thought Jeffries was lucky after the second knockout in 'Frisco, although he acknowledged that he was winded and almost helpless when the blow struck home in his midriff.

Corbett thought a "chance blow" whipped him at Carson. But it was a deliberately planned punch of Bob's that ended the scrap. Bob had failed to land it before, although he had tried for fourteen rounds. But the element of "chance" had nothing to do with it.

EVERY fighter, as long as he is good for anything in the game, thinks that he can whip any man of his weight in the world. Naturally when he is whipped himself he feels surprise, and looks about for an excuse to offer himself as well as his friends. If the excuse suits him, then he can fight again with some confidence. Perhaps Lewis and Mellody will fight again and in that case it will be easy to learn whether Lewis really thinks a "chance punch" put him away on this last occasion.

ABE ATTELL seems to be one of the long-lived fighters. He has shown signs of decadence now and then, but whenever he takes on a really important fight he goes away and gets into fine trim.

Abe is the most scientific of all the little fellows. His victory over the rushing, plunging Nell will make science more popular among followers of the fighting game who have been inclined of late to admire the slugger rather than the man who taps. H. Rider Haggard, years ago, wrote in one of his South African stories about a native warrior who always killed his enemies by tap, tap, tapping the tops of their skulls with the sharp spike that was on the back of his battle axe, all the while avoiding their frantic slashes by using agile footwork. Haggard had the Attell style of fighting in his mind, although, when the book was written, Attell had never seen a boxing glove. Perhaps Abe, when he wore knee breeches and was carrying messages out in San Francisco, read about Umslopogas, or whatever his name was, and decided to use his foxy tactics. If so the fact shows that even a fighter may profit by acquiring a literary foundation for his work in the ring.

Tommy West was a great student. His favorite classic was Darwin's Descent of Man, and Tommy always claimed that Darwin helped him to understand and to whip Walcott. Some one ought to endow an institution of learning for the benefit of scrappers.

DUFFY'S SUCCESSOR COMES FROM WEST IN 9 3-5 CLIP

Dan Kelly, of Portland, Can Do Hundred-Yard Dash in Wonderfully Fast Time—Speedier than Old Champion at Long Distances.

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

THERE is another Arthur Duffy in the land, and his name is Dan Kelly. He's a good American. He lives in Portland, Ore., and he can run a hundred yards in the wonderfully fast time of 9 3-5 seconds. He ran it in that time in the Northwest Amateur Athletic Association championships. This just ties Duffy's famous last record.

When Arthur Duffy was thrown out of the A. A. U. under charges of professionalism, and his records with him, it was thought that many years would pass before his equal appeared on the cinder-path. Yet here it is a mere matter of months, and a greater than Duffy is clipping the fifths from the seconds.

Kelly (how these Irish names do fill the record books!) is a greater athlete than Duffy, because, while he has already equalled the Georgetown flyer's 100-yard record, he is even faster at longer distances, and he is a marvellous broad jumper. He has cleared 24 feet 2 1-2 inches in open competition. Within the past year only two men have done that, and Myer Prinstein is the other one. He ran a quarter-mile in a recent mile relay race under fifty seconds.

Unknown Two Years Ago.

Kelly is an Oregonian. For several years he has lived in Portland and has run under the colors of the famous Multnomah A. C., the strongest athletic association in the West.

Two or three years ago Kelly was absolutely unknown. A year ago, Aug. 5, 1905, when the national championships were held at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, in Oregon, Kelly ran in the hundred. Parsons won in 9 4-5 seconds, Archie Hahn, now Olympic champion, was second; Blair, of Chicago, third. Kelly finished fourth.

In the broad jump he took second with 22 feet 7 1-4 inches, showing a flash of the championship form he was to develop within a year.

Kelly is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs a little less than 180 pounds. In proportions he resembles somewhat Paul Pilgrim, the famous N. Y. A. C. athlete, who won the 400 and 800 meter runs at the Olympic games. He is heavier and stronger about the body and shoulders, but he has the same long, light, supple underpinning.

Kelly is twenty-three years old. He is red-headed, and he has all the energy and determination that usually go with a shock of good red hair. He has fighting freckles, too, just like Fitzsimmons.

Trained Hard for Speed.

After being beaten by Parsons and Hahn and Blair in the national championships Kelly determined to go faster. He settled down into hard training. That fall he ran, and all through the winter he practised starting and short sprints in the college gymnasium. (He is a student in the University of Oregon.)

In May he began competing out of doors. His first performance made his reputation. In the Oregon State meet he won the broad jump with 24 feet 2 1-2 inches, the 100 yards in 10 seconds, the 220 in 22 1-5 seconds, and jumped second in the high with 5 feet 8 inches. At Seattle he won the 220 in 22 seconds flat. His jump was within 2 1-2 inches of Kraenzlein's famous record.

And then he came with a spurt.

On June 23, on the clay track of the Spokane Interstate Fair Grounds, he competed in the Northwest Championships in the 100, the 220 and the broad jump.

He won the 100 in 9 3-5 seconds (world's record).

He won the 220 in 21 1-5 seconds (world's record).

He jumped 23 feet 9 1-2 inches (within a foot of the world's record). His 220 performance, while it tied Wefers's old mark, was made around a turn, while Bernie had a straightaway. On the straight Kelly might have clipped off a fifth.

Nozo seems to have strayed. Perhaps Nozo has gone back to the island of Tiburon, where Prof. McGee discovered him. But we don't need any Nozo now. Young Mr. Dan J. Kelly, of Portland, Ore., will fill the bill. His records will stand, as they were made in a championship meet, and there can be no question of their authenticity.

GIANTS CATCH TARTAR IN ONE YOUNG TWIRLER

plate. Dolan got a pass, filling the bases. Brown sent a crack to Devlin and Dolan was forced at second, and the Giants were out of another hole. NO RUNS.

McGann got a base on balls. Daniel, of the house of McGann, promptly stole second. In trying to bunt Merten dropped a fly into Dorner's hands and McGann had a narrow escape. Dahlen's long drive was gathered in by Bates. Devlin sent a long fly to Dolan and it was all off. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Strobel elevated a fly to Strang. Dorner struck out. Bridewell singled. Tenney shot a two-bagger into centre and Bridewell scored. On Strang's long throw to the plate Tenney took third. Brain struck out. ONE RUN.

Gilbert struck out. Strobel fell down, and while laying on his back caught Bowerman's short fly. Dorner got Wiltse's bounder and threw him out. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Bates struck out. Bowerman got Howard's bunt and shot it to McGann in time. Dolan got a pass. Brown forced Dolan at second. NO RUNS.

Bresnahan worked his way to first on balls. Strang singled, but Bresnahan was caught at third and Strang took second on the play. McGann hit to Doyle and Strang was run down between second and third. Dan went to second in the meantime. A wild pitch sent McGann to third. Merten struck out. NO RUNS.

SHORT IS ACCUSED BY ANOTHER GIRL

Henry Alfred Short, of No. 258 West Fifty-eighth street, who is being prosecuted by the Children's Society through Agent Dwyer for alleged misconduct with young girls, had another complaint lodged against him to-day and an additional $5,000 bail was required of him. He has not found a bondsman and is still in jail. His case, in which Charlotte Fitzsimmons, of No. 362 Sixth avenue, is the complainant, came up to-day in the West Side Court before Magistrate Finelite, and at the request of both sides it was put over until next Wednesday.

The new complaint filed against the young clubman was by Helen Walsh, of No. 323 Seventh avenue, who was a witness in the case of the Fitzsimmons girl.

An effort was made by Short's lawyers to get the release of Margaret Haggerty, who was a maid to the woman Barbara Livingstone, held in $5,000 bail for abduction, and who is now held in Bellevue Hospital as a witness. It was urged that the young woman was in a critical condition. Deputy Assistant District-Attorney Pinchot said she was a material witness and she was held in $500 bail.

Bartow S. Weeks may appear for Short. He had a long conference with Short to-day, but would say nothing after it was over. Short also refused to talk on the subject.

BOY KILLED BY A TRUCK.

Philip Hoffman, four years old, of No. 417 Grand street, was run over and killed at Grand and Attorney streets this afternoon by a truck owned by the D. S. Brown Silk Company and driven by Henry Hanaman.

CHILDREN KILLED AT THEIR FROLICS

Raymond Wragge, seven years old, was sliding down the banister in the tenement in which he lived at No. 299 West One Hundred and Forty-second street this afternoon when he fell off and was killed by striking on the floor.

Grace Tillman, six years old, was playing with other children on the fire-escape at her home on the fifth floor of the tenement at No. 777 Second avenue this afternoon when she fell through the opening and descended to the sidewalk, where the impact instantly killed her.

Arthur Touhey, nine years old, of No. 434 West Sixteenth street, was swimming in the East River at the foot of Sixteenth street, this afternoon, when he dived, his head striking the pier. Policeman Eckert jumped into the river to get the boy's body, which had started to float out into the stream.

With the assistance of other men he got the body on the pier, and at Bellevue Hospital, where he was taken, the doctors said the boy's skull was fractured and that he would probably die.

GOLFER TIFFANY BEATS HAMILTON

Title-Holder's Easy Match in Hudson River Association's Tournament.

(Special to The Evening World.)

CHAUNCEY, N. Y., July 6.—Three sets began the second round of match play to-day in the annual championship of the Hudson River Golf Association at St. Andrew's Links. While attention was focussed on the first set, the second division contained several excellent players, such as J. S. Taylor and C. R. Gillette.

Tiffany, Poughkeepsie, had no difficulty in beating L. A. Hamilton, Poughkeepsie and Dutchess, 4 up and 4 to go. It was the title-holder's match from the start, Hamilton being over-golfed. Tiffany, while he played a better short game than yesterday, missed a number of close putts.

The cards:

Tiffany (par) 5, 4, 4, 4, 5, 4, 5, 4, 5—40; in, 5, 5, 3, 4, 5, 4, 3, 4, 4—37—77.

Hamilton (par), 6, 5, 4, 5, 4, 5, 4, 3, 6—42; in, 4, 5, 5, 5, 3, 4, 5, 3, 4—38—80.

Ralph Carroll (Briarcliffe), beat Daudley Brandreth (Briarcliffe), 4 and 3. Brandreth was 1 down at the turn, being unable to use his irons. Carroll's score was approximated at 86. Charles Brown (Yonkers) beat R. A. Kenworthy (Dutchess) 2 up.

Second set: Corkendall beat Gillett, 4 and 2.

Third set: Hobbie beat O'Brien, 7 and 6. Madden beat Wallace, 6 and 5.

BY JOHN POLLOCK.

WASHINGTON PARK, July 6.—Patsey Donovan's ball team, commonly know as the Trolley Dodgers, played like a lot of amateurs in their game with Philadelphia here this afternoon and were beaten by a score of 10 to 0.

It is painful to relate how badly the Donovanites did play, but some inkling may be gathered from this record of play.

First Inning.

Thomas faced to left for a base, and went to second after McIntyre had given Kid Gleason a free pass to first. Titus's ball dropped safely back of McIntyre and the bases were filled. Courtney singled to centre, scoring Thomas and Gleason. McGee sacrificed, McIntyre throwing him out. Doolin swatted the ball to centre for a base, sending Titus and Courtney over the plate. Doolin was caught napping on McIntyre's throw to Jordan. Bransfield flied out to Alperman. FOUR RUNS.

Maloney lifted a high foul fly which Donovan gathered in. Manager Donovan made three swings and went to the bench. Ritter also failed to connect with Duggleby's benders. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

J. Donovan pasted a bounder to Ritter, who threw him out by many feet. Eason made a horrible muff of Duggleby's high fly. Thomas also sent up a skyscraper, but Eason managed to hold the ball. Gleason pushed out a bounder and Jordan retired the side, unassisted. NO RUNS.

Jordan lifted one a mile in the air and Thomas nailed the ball after a sprint. Alperman contributed a single in centre, and was doubled up with Hummel on the latter's grounder, Bransfield to Doolin to Bransfield. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Titus belted the ball against the fence, but only got a base. Courtney hit to Jordan, and on the latter's bad throw to second to catch Titus both runners were safe. McGee sacrificed, McIntyre to Jordan. Doolin doubled to left, scoring Titus and Courtney. Bransfield's single scored Doolin. J. Donovan flied to Eason, and on the latter's throw to Alperman Bransfield was doubled up at second. THREE RUNS.

Eason reached first on Doolin's fumble. Bergen's fly back of short was collared by Doolin. McIntyre was passed to first. Maloney hit to Gleason, who threw to Doolin, forcing McIntyre. P. Donovan sent a bounder to Doolin, who threw the Dodgers' manager out. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Maloney made a great running catch of Duggleby's fly near the fence. Thomas was retired by Alperman and Jordan. Gleason singled to centre. Patsy Donovan grabbed Titus' fly after a hard sprint. NO RUNS.

Ritter drove a fly into McGee's hands. Jordan smashed to right for a base and reached second on Alperman's safe hit. Hummel fouled to Donovan. Eason fanned out like a person who never had a bat in his hands before. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Courtney was thrown out at first by Hummel. McGee singled but was nailed trying to steal second on Bergen's throw. Doolin hit safely. Bransfield was disposed of by Alperman and Jordan. NO RUNS.

Bergen's skyscraper was taken by Gleason. McIntyre also lifted and Doolin was under the ball. Maloney fouled to Donovan, who nipped him at first. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

J. Donovan banged a fast bounder to Ritter and went to the bench. Duggleby flied out to Pat Donovan. Eason made a clever catch of Thomas's fly a foot off the ground. NO RUNS.

P. Donovan was retired by Bransfield, unassisted. Ritter's fast grass-cutter was taken care of by Doolin and Bransfield. Jordan smashed a long fly to Thomas. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Gleason raised a fly and Jordan got a put out. Jordan also smothered Titus's high one. Courtney reached first on Alperman's bad throw. McGee also reached first on a bad throw by Ritter. Doolin went out to Jordan unassisted. NO RUNS.

Alperman was easy. Doolin to Bransfield. Hummel fanned out. Eason fouled to J. Donovan. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Bransfield singled. Donovan also singled. Duggleby hit to Alperman, forcing Bransfield at third. Thomas bunted, and on Ritter's bad throw to first Donovan scored. Gleason out, Alperman to Jordan. Duggleby scoring. Titus line-flied to Hummel. TWO RUNS.

Bergen flied to Gleason. McIntyre's high one went to Doolin. Maloney fouled to J. Donovan. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning.

Courtney doubled to right. McGee singled, Courtney taking third. McGee out stealing second. Doolin out. Hummel to Jordan. Courtney scoring. Bransfield flied to Eason. ONE RUN.

Patsy Donovan out. Doolin to Bransfield. Ritter out same way. Jordan out. Bransfield unassisted. NO RUNS.
