UP TO DATE SPORTING NEWS AND COMMENT

EDITED BY ROBERT EDGREN.

IT is becoming quite fashionable in pugilism to draw the color line. I've noticed in my long ringside experience that the color line is usually an afterthought. While the aspiring and struggling fighting man is working his way up on the five and ten dollar purses he doesn't care a continental about his opponent's hue. Even when he gets a hundred or two for an evening's entertainment, it makes no difference who is pitted against him. But after that—my goodness! (as Jack O'Brien would say) what a sensitive plant the fighter becomes. Fight a black man? Horrors!

And generally it is a fellow in or somewhere near the championship class who draws the fine dividing line. He is getting big money, and he doesn't care to risk his income by getting in the way of some dusky cyclone's wallop.

But it has remained for Joseph Walcott, blacker than the ace of clubs, to introduce the latest fad.

Walcott has drawn the color line himself.

Against white men?

Not at all! Joseph is wise. He has decided against fighting any more negroes.

"What's the use of me a-fightin' them hard-headed niggers," asks Walcott. "When I can pick up lemons? After this I don't fight no more niggers. No sirree! White men is my meat from now on. They's easy."

It's evident that Walcott has a good memory, and that he hasn't forgotten the good, hard licking he got from Joe Gans in San Francisco last year. You remember that. The referee called it a draw—because both men were on their feet at the finish.

But Joe's memory doesn't go back far enough. If it did he'd recollect one Thomas West. If Tommy came out of his retirement we might see Mister Walcott executing an agile sidestep, and when he came to a stop it might be noticed that he was on the other side of that color line.

THE manager of the athletic games down at Coney Island wishes to explain that the medals provided are NOT duplicates of the Olympic medals presented at Athens, as was stated in the press notices. Only a part of the design was used on the medals, and that with certain modifications. I withdraw part of my criticism.

THE time has nearly come for Jack O'Brien's biannual lemon picking excursion to England. When across the water O'Brien is the most popular fighter in the land. He has that clever, jabbing, hit-and-get-away style that the Englishmen like. And his diamonds are said to rival anything worn by the London sports.

Mr. Jim Lowes, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, is here in our midst. Mr. Lowes says that he has engaged Mr. O'Brien for a date in the near future, £3,000 purse and £200 expenses, in return for which Jack will attempt to flatten Gunner Moir, Jack Palmer and Charlie Wilson, England's best heavy-weights, within a specified number of rounds.

Judging from Philadelphia Jack's former invasions he will have no trouble in doing this, although they say the breed of English heavies is improving.

THIS English trip, of course, depends upon the outcome of the match between Berger and O'Brien. It is understood that Sam Berger will be given the preference if he succeeds in defeating the Philadelphian on his own battle-ground Monday night. Berger hasn't engaged his steamer transportation yet. But he has hopes.

"CY" SEYMOUR, SHANNON AND SHAY JOIN GIANTS; MERTES AND MARSHALL GO

McGraw Closes Deal for Reds' Famous Outfielder at Figure in Excess of $5,000.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—McGraw's long threatened deal has been consummated at last. There will be three new Giants when the team returns to the oPio Grounds. Sandow Mertes and Marshall will be among the missing. Mertes is balking, but he will have to go.

"Cy" Seymour, champion hitter of the National League; "Spike" Shannon, shortstop, and Danny Shay, outfielder, are now memebrs of the New York Club. McGraw paid Cincinnati a figure in excess of $5,000 for Seymour, and Shannon and Shay were traded by St. Louis for Mertes and Marshall.

Seymour and Shannon will report to McGraw to-day. Shay is on the Pacific coast. He has not reported to St. Louis this year owing to a grievance over his salary, but it is believed he will willingly don a Giant uniform.

Tough Blow to Mertes.

The news fell like a trip-hammer on the Giants as they arrived in St. Louis at 10 o'clock. Not one of them had the least intimation as to what was coming. McGraw is a trifle nettled at the premature announcement by the Cardinal management. He has not had an opportunity to discuss the move with Mertes and Marshall. There was nothing to do, however, but to confirm it, and the New York players are in mourning. No ballplayer relishes the idea of playing in St. Louis. In fact Mertes and Marshall say they will not play here. They intimate that they will quit the business before donning a Cardinal uniform. Still it is believed their feelings will cool off after thinking it over.

Shannon Is Delighted.

Shannon, on the other hand, is delighted. Shay is in the cigar business on the coast and has not been heard from. Shannon will be a valuable addition to the Giants. He is a good fielder and a strong hitter. Of late his work with St. Louis has not been of the best, and his heart was not in his work. He promises to do the best playing of his life with New York.

"Of course, it is not altogether pleasant to dispose of two of my men to a town they do not like," said McGraw. "But I will not let that interfere with my duty in doing what I think is right to strengthen my club."

There is going to be a big shake-up in the club before leaving St. Louis, and several positions will be switched. "Cy" Seymour missed the train last night and will not be here until 6 o'clock to-night. He will play in to-morrow's game.

WATCHING AUTOMOBILISTS.

POUGHKEEPSIE, July 13.—Hereafter automobilists on the way from New York to the Berkshire Hills will have to go slow through Pleasant Valley, Dutchess County, or answer to the constables who are to be stationed along the road signalling to one another by wire as the automobiles pass. If between the signalling points the speed is increased from ten miles an hour to ten and a half miles the automobile will be held up by a rope stretched across the road.

Fines for the first offense will be $25. For the second offense $50 may be imposed, and for the third offense a fine of $100 and imprisonment for ten days in jail may be the penalty.

EVENING WORLD'S RACING CHART

July 13. Third Day at Brighton. Track Fast.

573 FIRST RACE—$300 added; for three-year-olds and up, maidens; mile and one-sixteenth. Start fair. Won driving. Time—1.48. Winner, ch. c. by Farandole—Constance. Owner—J. B. Brady.

Dropped Dead When He Won.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 13.—Notified of the winning of a $500 purse by his big sloop yacht Quay, champion of the inlet fleet, yesterday, Daniel Hayden, a retired mariner, seventy-three years old, dropped dead at his home on Virginia avenue last night. The old man had been ailing, but an investigation has been started by County Physician Snyder, who is loath to believe that the surprise of the news was sufficient to cause his death.

BRIGHTON HANDICAP IS RICHEST RACING PRIZE

Feature Event at Seaside Track Most Valuable in the East to Owners—Classy Field of Horses Entered for Stake.

BY FRANK W. THORP.

The Brighton, richest of the handicaps run in the East, will be the attraction at the seaside to-morrow. And it ought to furnish a cracking good race. Three-year-olds are generally a powerful factor in the Brighton, and this year's one is no exception, for in Flip Flap, Whimsical, Ormondale, Kuroki, Bohemian and Bull's Eye the three-year-old division is well represented. It is a pity that Sir Huon is not eligible. It would make the race complete. In the older division there are Aglie, Tokalon, Hamburg Belle, Dandelion, Cederstrome, Klamesha, Cairngorm, Fire Mason, Inquisitor, Ram's Horn and Dolly Spanker.

From this bunch there should be a cracking good field, sent to the post, and it looks as if the Brighton might furnish the best race of all the handicaps.

It looks to me as if the race lies between the two fillies Whimsical and Flip Flap. Single-handed there would not be any hesitation on my part as to which I would choose. It would be Flip Flap. Unfortunately this filly is a slow beginner, and the Brighton track is not the best in the world for her if there is a big field of horses. If there are not more than eight starters in the Brighton, Flip Flap will probably be my choice. Walmsical has the speed and is a quick beginner, which is half the game at Brighton and in a race of this kind. She is sure to be breezing along in front, and I don't think she is going to be beaten by anything but Flip Flap.

Another dangerous one is Ram's Horn, whose last race was a mighty good one. He did not beat much, but he won in very easy fashion and is now at his very best. Inquisitor at 94 pounds looks tempting. Much will depend upon the pace. If Whimsical, Ormondale, Inquisitor and any of the others go out and run the first mile in 1.39 or better, then Flip Flap's chances will improve, for the faster the pace the better she likes it. The Brighton will be a cracking good race.

There must be some sympathetic connection between the odds posted in the betting ring and the running of certain horses. For instance, Penarris in his first start opens at 16 to 1 and closes at 15 to 1. No speed. In his second start opening betting is 12 and closing 20. Something happens. Penarris collides with Fountainblue and gets away badly. But yesterday the reverse English was on the betting. The opening was 15 to 1 and closing 5 to 1. No collisions and no lack of speed this time. It was ding-a-ling-a-ling and Kitty-bar-the-door all the way for Penarris. He won. Botanist in yesterday's opening race was the opening favorite. His price went up and up, and you could feel that something was going to happen to him. And something did happen. He was away so badly that he never had a chance to win, and when he did have a chance to get into the money, bang he goes into a pocket and pulls up. These are only incidents or coincidences. Call them what you please. But don't they indicate a sympathetic or telepathic or Marconi connection between horse and odds of some kind?
