KILLED AT WHITMAN

Brakeman Ryan's Life Crushed Out Under the Wheels of a Freight Train.

The sad news came from Whitman early Saturday morning that James R. Ryan, freight brakeman for J. W. McCracken had been instantly killed. Ryan started to couple the way car to the train when he slipped and three cars passed over him crushing his shoulder and thigh so seriously that he only lived a few minutes, but was conscious until the last and explained to the conductor that he slipped as he opened the coupler, and fell with above results.

The lifeless body was brought to Alliance and taken to the undertaking rooms of George Darling and embalmed, after which the remains were taken to the home of conductor McCracken to await the arrival of relatives from Massachusetts. The father and brother of the deceased arrived Tuesday and the brotherhood of railway trainmen held a brief service at the station Tuesday evening after which the sad party started for their home at North Hampton, Mass., where interment will be made in the family cemetery.

W. A. Manchester and J. A. Holdridge accompanied the body east. Deceased was but 27 years of age and had been engaged in railroad work here for four years, and was at the time of his death secretary of the B. of R. T. The sympathy of the order as well as the citizens go out to the bereaved parents.

Election Next Tuesday.

Very little interest is being manifested in the coming city election for the reason that the issues were settled at the primaries when the nominations were made. It being a citizen caucus and only one ticket in the field there is really no opposition to the election of the ticket named there except in the case of candidates for police judge. Judge Barry and A. F. Baldrige were a tie at the primaries and both names go on the ticket and to add interest, W. S. Ridgel has filed his intention to be a candidate, with the city clerk and there will be a three cornered race for the judgeship, with each aspirant reasonably certain of success. The scramble for the place is a friendly one, and any one of them will take success or defeat with the grace of a patriot.

Some little complaint is heard from some quarters because of only one ticket but it comes from those who want to see the scramble on election day. To remedy this in the future there seems to be a growing demand for party primaries at future elections, and the direct primaries to select the candidates for each. Then no man will have a sure thing of election until after election day. The advocates of this plan say that now the primaries settle the whole question and no election is really necessary.

Will Organize April 30.

Arrangements for the organization of a council of the order of Knights of Columbus are well under way, and the date set for the initiation is Sunday April 30. The degree work will take place at Zbinden's hall in the afternoon. It is expected that fully sixty members will be taken into the order on that date several of whom will be from out of town. Invitations have been sent to councils throughout the state and no doubt they will respond by sending good delegation to take part. The teams to do the work have not as yet been selected, but it is very likely that Lincoln, O'Neill and Omaha will furnish the same. Other organizations of the K. C.'s outside of the state have also been invited to be present including Deadwood, Cheyenne, Denver and several councils in Iowa.

HOSPITAL PROGRESS

The Lincoln Land Company Donates A Site and Money Contributions Being Added to the Fund.

The board of trustees of the Alliance Hospital association met at the city hall Tuesday night and adopted articles of incorporation, and drafted a set of by-laws, and appointed a committee to solicit funds for the erection of the building. The soliciting committee are Dr. H. H. Bellwood, Father B. F. Galvin and C. A. Newberry.

The soliciting committee got busy at once and to demonstrate their interest and earnestness in the matter Newberry pledged $500, Dr. Bellwood $200, Dr. Bowman, $200, and Prof. Bartz, $100 as a starter. That makes $1000 from four men.

The Lincoln land company has donated a block of land on which to build the hospital, which will be available as soon as $5000 to $6000 has been submitted.

The committee have assurances of another one or two $500 subscriptions and it looks now as though Alliance would have a hospital in the near future that will be a credit to any city and will provide a home for invalids without traveling 250 to 400 miles.

It has been suggested that a grand charity or hospital ball be given on "May day" May first for the benefit of the hospital fund. A movement is on foot now to secure the Ft. Robinson Military band and orchestra of twenty-eight pieces to furnish music for the occasion. Each church organization and each benevolent and fraternal society in the city could give a nice donation to the hospital fund and would willingly do so as the object of those institutions is charity, and with what can be secured as general subscription the thing is done. The HERALD will publish the program of the soliciting committee and the amounts subscribed by each.

Every public spirited or charitably inclined citizen of Alliance and the adjoining counties are requested to see the soliciting committee, and say how much you can give toward so worthy a charity. Here is a copy of the articles of incorporation.

Farming Without Irrigation.

Friday night an hour before it was due, the Burlington Soil Special arrived, but none too soon to meet the waiting crowd of farmers and business men who had assembled to listen to the men who had made a life study of arid land culture. As soon as the train stopped the waiting crowd filled one of the cars and the potato question was discussed. Much attention was given to seed. Too much care cannot be exercised in the proper selection of seed. It should never be allowed to sprout before planting, and this can be prevented by keeping the seed stock in a sufficiently cool place until planting time. This was thoroughly explained by providing for a root or potato cellar and leaving it open until late and cold, before putting in potatoes, and then keep the temperature down to near the freezing point. When pits or trenches are used, the potatoes should be covered with a layer of straw to a depth of six inches and then with three inches of dirt, and allowed to freeze solid before applying more straw and dirt to protect the pit and potatoes during the worst weather. They should then be left until wanted in the spring. The object being to get them as near the freezing point as possible and keep them there.

Macaroni wheat was discussed and was found to produce from 20 to 35 bushels per acre here, and is as sure a crop as can be grown, withstanding drouth and producing a large hard berry that makes excellent bread. It is well worth trying as it produces good results here, Mr. J. A. Smith of Hemingford having had splendid success with it. F. J. Coil of Hough, Dawes Co. raised 30 bushels per acre last year of this wheat.

Brome grass was highly recommended as a forage crop, being hardy and producing green pasture two months longer than prairie grasses, is very hardy, resisting drouth, and it ferms a sod. Some very good reports are made from this country with this best of arid land grasses.

Prof. E. A. Burnett gave a very logical talk on dairying. He says that any cow that will raise a good fat calf will make a good dairy cow regardless of her breeding. He is a strong advocate of the hand separators and says that calves can be raised on separated milk alone with plenty of green pasture for them.

The meeting lasted over four hours and more than 150 people listened to it. The special went from here to Bridgeport thence to Sydney and Sterling, and back east over the south line to Lincoln. If interested in any of these or other subjects relative to arid land crops, send to the Experiment Station at Lincoln, and a bulletin will be sent you free on any subject.

The Lockwood Opening.
Last Saturday was a red letter day for Lockwood. Their spring opening drew a crowd that filled the house all the afternoon. The music for the occasion was fine and hundreds of people took advantage of the opportunity to visit the various departments of that busy store and all were surprised as well as pleased with the elaborate and tastefully arranged display of home furnishings. Their stock would do credit to any city in the state. Every lady present who registered received a picture, and every fifth lady to register got a handsome cut-glass souvenir. Those drawing cut-glass prizes were: Jessie Carpenter, Mrs. Gleason, Inez McCorkle, Elizabeth Conner, Eva Herbert, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. McDonald.

Alliance Harbor No. 42, American Order of Protection met in I. O. O. F. hall last evening and a large class was given the mysteries of the order. After the initiatory ceremonies, for the good of the order, many interesting remarks were made by the members and the question of dancing was discussed, voted upon and carried by a unanimous vote that dancing be prohibited on all regular meeting nights. A drill team was organized and in a short time will be doing excellent service under the efficient management of Captain Scott. Friday March 31st at 2 p. m. all lady members are requested to be present at Mrs. Geo. E. Leidy's home at which time a social club will be organized for the good of the harbor.

Mr. Charles Osborne, a mail clerk on the Alliance Denver run is taking a ten days vacation to move his family here from Diller, Nebr. They will occupy the Frew cottage. Harry Mounts is substitute for Osborne during his absence.

Rev. Father Daley of Merna was in the city last Tuesday conferring with those interested in the Knights of Columbus project. He is an old-time member of the organization, and while he is pleased to see a council instituted in Alliance, he regrets his inability to be present on the day the lambs will be led to the slaughter.

Little Roy Smith, aged seven, son of J. F. Smith was run down by a delivery wagon Friday and seriously injured about the head and face, the wheel passing over his head. R. J. Walker and C. M. Einfeldt, of Denver, were in the city over Sunday. Mr. Walker is interested in the electric light company here and Mr. Einfeldt is a Mechanical Engineer. The object of their visit was to ascertain if conditions here warranted a day light and power service, and it was practically decided, before they left, that machinery will be installed at once to put on a day service and furnish light and power both day and night.

Herb Gardner, of Lincoln, a civil engineer was in town this week making a plat of the city in order to be prepared to figure on a sewerage plant here.
