THE STATE OF TEXAS
County of Scurry

I, W. T. Skinner, Clerk of the County Court in and for Scurry County, Texas do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the Delinquent Tax Rolls, arranged numerically as to abstract, Lot and Block number, as reported by W. M. Curry, Tax Collector for Scurry County, Texas, for the year 1914 and prior years.

Given under my hand and seal of office, this 15th day of June, A. D., 1915.

(SEAL) W. T. SKINNER, County Clerk, Scurry County, Texas.

Over in the Philippines the Carabao is the general beast of burden. For all kinds of hauling this short-legged, long-horned buffalo is used.

It is more than a mere coincidence that the principal brand used with the Red-Star-Green-T oils in the Philippines is a picture of this animal with its name "Carabao."

THE TEXAS COMPANY CARABAO BRAND AMERICAN RESIDENT PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS U.S.A.

To the native of these islands the Carabao represents service, valuable service continuously performed in many ways. What the horse was to the Texas ranchman in the early days, the Carabao is to the Philippine native.

To Texaco products are pictured to the native by the Carabao, indicating the service and its character, the quality and its usefulness. The same quality and service are available for you in your town under the Red-Star-Green-T emblem of Texaco fame. Ask for them.

TEXACO TEXACO

A. & M. COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY DIVORCEMENT ELECTION JULY 24. BURGES ARGUES FOR 34.

The following unanswerable reasons for the separation of the A. & M. College and the State University are from Hon. Richard F. Burges, member of the Legislature from El Paso County. Mr. Burges is a graduate of the University and is one of the strongest and most influential members of the University alumni:

Hon. R. T. Milner,
Manager Executive Committee for the Promotion of Higher Education,
Bryan, Texas.

Dear Mr. Milner:

In my opinion, House Joint Resolution No. 34, commonly known as the Sackett Resolution, should be adopted at the election to be held on the fourth Saturday, which is the 24th day of July, for the reason that the people of Texas, both as evidenced by declarations in Democratic platform, by resolutions of representative bodies of farmers, and by successive votes in the State Legislature, have definitely expressed their desire that the University of the State and the Agricultural and Mechanical College should be separated from each other and each given a distinct and independent status.

The Sackett Resolution presents this issue to the people of Texas in the simplest form. No question of bond issue is involved in it, and no proposal of a permanent tax levy. The division of the permanent endowment fund, as embraced in the resolution, was arrived at by mutual agreement and compromise, and is probably as just as can be reasonably expected.

The especial advantage to the Agricultural and Mechanical College will be that the College will be removed from the equivocal and uncertain position in which it now stands in perplexing uncertainty as to whether or not it is only a branch college of the State University, subject to the constitutional inhibition against appropriations for permanent buildings.

The equally important advantages to the University from the adoption of the Sackett Resolution will be the removal from the Constitution of the unwise and unnatural provision forbidding appropriation for permanent buildings. It is difficult to conceive how the University (which has long since outgrown its clothes) can ever be suitably housed until this provision has been voted from the Constitution, as would be done by the adoption of the Sackett Resolution.

I earnestly believe that only two intelligent courses are open to the people of this State concerning the University and the Agricultural and Mechanical College: Either they must be consolidated in government and organization, or they must be completely separated and allowed to work out their separate destinies.

If former expressions of the will of the people are still indicative of the desire of the people of this State, then the two schools must be separated.

That is the sole real issue to be voted on in July. It is not complicated, nor encumbered by any proposals of permanent bond issues, permanent tax levies, or other incidentals or side issues.

If the Sackett Resolution is adopted, a clear and definite policy will have been established by the people, and it will only remain for the Legislature and the governing authorities of the University and College to carry out the will of the people.

(Signed)
RICHARD F. BURGES,
Of El Paso.

PROF. DOUGHTY FAVORS SEPARATION.

Prof. W. F. Doughty, State Superintendent of Public Education, is unalterably in favor of the separation of the A. & M. College from the University. In a letter to the Manager of the Committee for the Promotion of Higher Education in Texas, he says: "In my opinion, both schools will make greater progress under separate boards, and, no doubt, separation would end the envious feeling that seems to exist on the part of some zealous friends of both institutions."
