CUBS DEFEAT WHITE SOX IN THE SECOND CONTEST

Big Crowd Turns Out on Cold Day to Watch the Progress of Battle of Pennant Winners for the World's Championship.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

The Cubs	0	3	1	0	0	1	0	2	0	—7

(Special to The Evening World.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The Cubs evened up with the White Sox in the second game of the world's championship series to-day, defeating them by a score of 7 to 1.

The big grounds were prettily decorated for the occasion.

Frank Chance and his National League champions were not as cocky as they were, for yesterday's defeat had taken the chestiness out of them. They realize that they will have to play to the limit to beat the Sox. The betting to-day was even.

At 2 o'clock the crowds at the main entrance were simply a fighting mob. It seemed as if everybody with reserved seats arrived at the same time, and the men at the turnstiles were helpless. The confusion was so great that extra police were called from inside to keep the crowd in line and in order. The crowd was as large as yesterday.

CROKER DENIES GETTING ANY OF TAMMANY GRAFT

Never Profited by Political Connections, He Says in Libel Suit.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—In the Four Courts here this afternoon J. H. Campbell, Richard Croker's attorney in his libel action against the London Magazine, applied for permission to serve a writ on the Amalgamated Press, publishers of the magazine. The Amalgamated Press is one of the Harmsworth companies, with headquarters in London, so it was necessary to obtain the sanction of the Court to serve the writ outside the court's jurisdiction.

Mr. Campbell pointed out that the Dublin agents of the defendant had served a writ on the plaintiff. Mr. Croker, he said, sought, in addition to recovering damages, to restrain the defendants from publishing certain "gross and defamatory statements concerning him" under the heading of "Tammany in England."

"Statements," counsel continued, "had been made therein which were entirely false and unfounded. The plaintiff had never, as alleged, derived any money or money's worth from his connection with any Democratic organization in New York, including Tammany Hall, save and except the salaries he received for the different offices he held in the civic administration of New York.

"So far from having at any time used his position for the purpose stated in the article, namely blackmailing, bribing, corrupting and suborning, he had never, as a matter of fact, benefitted directly or indirectly as alleged, and he did not then or at any time blackmail, bribe, corrupt or suborn any person or persons. He solemnly swore he had never knowingly done or suffered to be done any corrupt or improper act for his personal benefit."

Mr. Campbell pointed out that Mr. Croker lived near Dublin, so it was more expeditious to have the action tried in Dublin. It was of the utmost importance to him that he should have an early opportunity of vindicating his character.

Justice Gibson gave counsel permission to serve the writ on the Secretary of the Amalgamated Press.

SIXTH RACE—Belmere (4 to 5 and 2 to 5) 1, Belle of Jessamine (8 to 5 for place) 2, Onatas 3.

BY FRANK W. THORP.

BELMONT PARK RACE TRACK, Oct. 10.—Airs, a 20 to 1 shot, won the Hurricane Stakes at Belmont Park this afternoon. The wise people divided their support between Vaquero, Glenham and Beggar Maid, while Airs was neglected. Airs had been tried out at Saratoga under Miller, and pronounced worthless. Hence her people were dumfounded to see her breeze home before Glenham and Vaquero. The books cleaned up, for many of them never wrote the name Airs on their sheets.

The fourth race was scratched down to four starters, confirmed maidens all of them. Far West was a hot favorite, and he won in a drive from Hot Toddy. Sanfara, the second choice, was knocked out of the race at the head of the stretch by Montgomery bolting. No claim was made and the race stood.

Handzarra was the nomination of the wise ones in the opening dash, and they backed her down to 8 to 5. She was badly beaten and they wondered what detained her. Prince Hamburg, whose recent form has been poor, suddenly came back to his form and, leading from end to end, won easily from Rusk, a 10 to 1 chance ridden by Van Dusen. Oaklawn, improved in the mud, was a good third.

Toddes, running for the first time in the colors of Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., easily took the second race from Jennie Wells. Toddles was a hot favorite. Sally Preston had some backing and she was third.

Dr. Gardner Wins Easily.

Dr. Gardner, favorite in the fifth race, went to the front at the start, made all the running and won easily by two lengths from Dishabille, who closed strong and beat Ben Ban two lengths for the place.

Belmere All the Way.

Belmere, favorite in the closing event, made all the running and won easily by a length and half from Belle of Jessamine. Onatas, practically left at the post, was third, two lengths away.

LOUISVILLE WINNERS.

LOUISVILLE RACETRACK, Oct. 10.—The races here to-day resulted as follows:

FIRST RACE—Three-quarters of a mile.—Airship (4 to 5 and 2 to 5) 1, Benbonturat (8 to 5 for place) 2, Miladi Love 3. Time—1:15.

SECOND RACE—Mile.—Auditor (8 to 5 and 3 to 5) 1, Inspector Girl (3 to 1 for place) 2, Oratorian 3. Time, 1:41 4-5.

THIRD RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles.—Envoy (5 to 2 and 7 to 10) 1, McIlvaine (3 to 4 for place) 2, Princess Ornar 3. Time—1:47 3-4.

FOURTH RACE—Full course.—Dr. Keith (7 to 2 and 6 to 5) 1, John Dillon (2 to 1 for place) 2, Bank Holiday 3. Time—3:57 2-5.

FIFTH RACE—Three-fourths of a mile.—Bitter Miss (7 to 5 and 7 to 10) 1, Red Gauntlet (1 to 3 for place) 2, Grace Larsen 3. Time 1:14 4-5.

MURPHY AND HEARST AGREE ON JUDGES

List of Candidates Ready to Be Presented to Convention Contains Names of Three Leaguers.

The Tammany Judiciary slate has been practically made up. The Executive Committee of Tammany Hall will finally decide upon the ticket to be presented to the County Convention at Tammany Hall to-night. At least two of the candidates selected by the Judiciary nominators will probably be indorsed by the Tammany convention. They are Justice Leonard Giegerich, whose term in the Supreme Court will expire this year, and Theodore Connoly, Assistant Corporation Counsel.

William Randolph Hearst has completed his deal with Murphy and will not attempt to interfere with the make-up of the ticket. It is understood that Tammany has agreed to nominate John Ford and Samuel Seabury on the Supreme Court ticket and give Thomas F. Gilleran, the "original Hearst man," one of the two General Sessions nominations.

Goff a Sure Candidate.

Recorder Goff is regarded as a sure candidate.

Mitchell Erlanger will receive either a Supreme Court nomination or a nomination for the place of Judge of the Court of General Sessions. He has the backing of the Sullivans. If he should take the Supreme Court nomination Abraham Levy will perhaps be put up for the General Sessions place despite his refusal to run a few days ago.

The report that Peter A. Hendrick, Charles F. Murphy's close personal friend and legal adviser, would be nominated was revived at Tammany Hall to-day.

John J. Delany's chances hang in the balance. His friends were still hard at work to-day. George Loft, the candy manufacturer, representing, he said, hundreds of downtown business men, called upon Mr. Murphy and urged him to nominate Mr. Delany.

Hearst on the Judiciary.

Mr. Hearst to-day issued a signed statement in which he said:

"On Oct. 8 I issued a signed statement, the concluding paragraphs of which are as follows:

"'In regard to the Judiciary, the Independence League believes that it would be well to remove that question from politics altogether and to have the three parties unite in an effort to nominate a ticket that would be non-partisan in character and unassailable in quality, and without the suggestion of corporation influence. Whether or not this can be accomplished, the League does not know, but it will endeavor to procure the co-operation of the other parties in this plan.'

"Yesterday Chairman Woodruff, of the Republican State Committee, gave out a statement in which he said: 'I have turned down the proposition made to me some time ago by an indirect emissary of the Independence League for fusion between the League, the Republicans and the Democrats in naming a judiciary ticket in New York County.'

"Mr. Woodruff should understand that the Independence League is interested in the judicial nominees for the single purpose, as it declared, of securing a ticket free from partisan politics, free from corporation influence, and above criticism as to character and ability. The League is not moved by a desire to benefit the Republican party, or to benefit the League or any other party, but to promote the cause of good government and the interests of all honest citizens."

"It is unfortunate for the public good that Mr. Woodruff should advise with Attorney-General Mayer in a matter concerning the interests of honest citizens, for Attorney-General Mayer has shown conspicuously his utter disregard of American citizens in denying them the right to appear before the courts in an action to have their votes counted as cast.

Regrettable, He Says.

"It is regrettable for the general welfare that the Republican party should insist upon not only a corporation State ticket, and a corporation campaign manager, and a corporation fund collector, but also a corporation judiciary. It is natural, however, that the party should have been urged to take this position by the gentleman who protected the election thieves and received a renomination as a reward, and by the gentleman who collected the corporation campaign fund in the last general election and escaped investigation through the courtesy of the present Republican candidate for Governor.

"Mr. Hughes is continually harping on sincerity. We test Mr. Woodruff's sincerity by the combination he has made with "Pat" McCarren in Brooklyn in the interests of the judicial candidates of the McCarren machine, when Pat McCarren is universally known to be a political mercenary in the service of the Standard Oil Company and the Brooklyn Rapid-Transit Company, and only interested in the advancement of men and measures that promote the interests of those corrupt corporations."

Republicans Leave Out Wyatt.

The Republican County Convention tomorrow night will endorse the "Judiciary Nominators' ticket, with the exception of one man. Judge Otto Rosalsky will be substituted on the Republican ticket for Judge William E. Wyatt as the nominee for one of the two General Sessions judgeships.

The Republican leaders did not want to indorse the Judiciary Nominators' ticket entire, but President Roosevelt insisted upon it, and President Roosevelt is running this campaign. The substitution of Judge Rosalsky for Judge Wyatt, however, has the endorsement of the President. Judge Wyatt is a Democrat and was appointed by Mayor Van Wyck. He was placed on the Judiciary Nominators' ticket through the influence of District Attorney Jerome. It was reported around the Criminal Courts Building this afternoon that Judge Wyatt's friends would try to get him the Tammany endorsement to-night.

DAYTON FOR SUPREME COURT.

When the Tammany Executive Committee met to-night to make up the Judiciary slate the name of Charles W. Dayton was added to the tentative list for Supreme Court judges.

THIEF FLED FROM HAVANA IN YACHT WITH HIS LOOT

Concern, Unable to Replace Its Loss, Makes an Assignment on the Advise of Its Counsel, William Nelson Cromwell, to William G. Rowe.

The banking-house of J. M. Ceballos & Co. failed this afternoon with liabilities of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

The failure was directly due to the defalcation of Manuel Silveira, of Silveira & Co., bankers and merchants of Havana, who have represented the business of Ceballos & Co. in Cuba for several years. The shortage of Silveira amounts to $1,000,000 or more in money and other property.

Silveira departed from Havana on Tuesday, Oct. 2, in one of his own steamers named Carmelina, with New York as his ostensible destination. In local publications he announced his intention of coming here for a vacation of several months, and in letters and cables to Mr. Ceballos he declared his purpose of coming to personally present his accounts to the firm and deliver the pesetas in hand.

Fled with the Loot.

He was expected to reach New York on Monday of this week, but failed to appear, and it has just developed by cable from Havana that instead of starting for New York he had left on his own ship for parts unknown, accompanied by his wife and children. Every effort is being made to locate the absconder.

Silveira & Co. were one of the largest and best known firms in Havana, were the largest importers of cattle in Cuba and were reputed especially to have made a large fortune immediately after the war.

Announcement of the failure was postponed until after the close of the Stock Exchange, and the market was not affected, although there were rumors in the Street all afternoon that a big banking house was in trouble.

The Ceballos concern did business as usual, being careful to keep within the limits prescribed by law, and not the slightest suspicion attached to the house until the formal notice of suspension was sent over the ticker.

Far-Reaching Effects.

The failure is likely to be far-reaching in its effects, for the Ceballos firm was probably the most extensive holders of Cuban property for development. Its interests in the new Republic were vast and ambitious.

About a year ago the Ceballos people, with the aid of Cuban capital, went into the development of the grazing country of Cuba on a tremendous scale, importing thousands of head of cattle from Mexico and South America. For many years the Ceballos house has controlled extensive sugar and tobacco plantations. The effect of the failure upon the finances of Cuba is bound to be marked. Ceballos & Co. were also extensively interested in Porto Rico.

The banking-house of Ceballos & Co. was founded in this city in 1852 by the father of John N. Ceballos, the present head of the firm.

The older Ceballos was a Spaniard. His wife was a Cuban. Through marriage the Ceballos have become connected with some of the aristocratic old families of New York.

Famed as a Financier.

John N. Ceballos, although educated in Montreal, is an American in tastes and training. As a financier he has attained fame at home and abroad. Although a comparatively young man he is the leader of the Spanish colony of this city, a man of influence in Cuba, and also a respected friend of the royal family of Spain.

When the United States took up the cause of Cuba in 1898 Ceballos & Co. owned a steamship line between this country and Spain. Ceballos made powerful but ineffectual efforts to avert the war, which cost him a fortune. As soon as peace was declared he went into the work of building up a new Cuba and his plans were maturing rapidly when the dishonesty of his Havana agent made it necessary for him to make an assignment.

The affairs of the firm are so complicated and extensive that some time will be required before an exact statement of the assets and liabilities can be prepared by the trustees, Mr. Rowe and personal counsel to H. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil Company.

The Ceballos banks at No. 27 William street.

Statement of Counsel.

Sullivan & Cromwell made the following statement this evening:

"Messrs. Ceballos & Company having no premonition of this conduct of their agent, and confronted with this large loss and the deprivation of their current resources, have, in this emergency, deemed it just to all having relations with them, that they should make a general assignment without preference in order to insure equality to all and opportunity for examination of their affairs in connection with these unexpected and amazing developments.

FAIR LILLIAN'S DAUGHTER SUES FOR A DIVORCE

While Lillian Russell is starring in "the legitimate" as Barbara in "Barbara's Millions," her daughter, Dorothy Russell Einstein, is essaying the leading role in the divorce court in which her mamma won distinction years ago.

Dorothy Russell, through Moses H. Grossman, asks for an absolute divorce from Abbott Louis Einstein, son of Benjamin F. Einstein, the lawyer, once candidate of the Republicans for Mayor of the old city of New York.

How the Romance Began.

Dorothy Lillian Russell, daughter of Lillian Russell and the second of her husbands, the late Teddy Solomon, who had been studying the piano and singing in Paris, was home for her vacation in the summer of 1903. Instead of returning to finish her studies she visited a rabbi with young Einstein and they were married on Aug. 7, 1903. The happy pair went to live at No. 34 Morningside avenue and informed their respective papa and mamma at their leisure.

Their bliss was short-lived. In October, 1904, Mrs. Einstein returned to her mother. A truce was patched up, but did not last, and Dorothy Russell's name appeared successively on the bills of "Olympia" and "The Girl from Kays."

Remarkably Like Her Mother.

When Leo R. Brilles called Dorothy Russell Einstein to the witness chair before Justice O'Gorman in the "undefended divorces" court to-day, Mrs. Einstein, her slender figure accentuated by her costume of black, with a white lace front, broad collar and cuffs, her hair and big, dreamy eyes looked remarkably like her mother. She wore a snuff-colored turban of silk velvet, from the light-blue crown of which, over the right eye, drooped a cluster of light blue and "feathery" feathers toward the back.

Mr. Brilles laid a complaint upon the clerk's desk which charged Abbott Louis Einstein with visiting the Hamilton Hotel, Hotel Grenoble, The Netherland, at Thirty-first stret and Broadway, the Fairshop Hotel, Lexington Hotel and Hotel Belmont, in Lexington avenue, on several occasions, with a strange woman.

No Condonation of Offence.

The fair daughter of the "Fair Lillian" testified that she had not consented, connived at, forgiven or condoned the tergiversations of her young husband.

Decision was reserved.

ASPHYXIATED AT HOME.

The police of the East One Hundred and Fourth Street Station report that Edward Cook, thirty years of age, was found dead at his home, No. 20 East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, this afternoon—asphyxiated. It is supposed that he turned on the gas with intent to commit suicide. The Coroner is investigating.
