NUMBER 29

LOCAL GLEANINGS

Mrs. Roy Strong is visiting this week at the home of Mr. Strong's father, John Strong, at Lakeside.

Mrs. Ira Rentfro and son of Bingham were in Alliance last week, coming to consult a physician for the boy.

Mrs. Jno. Kovarik of the Marple neighborhood has gone home after several days' stay in St. Joseph Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Eldred were a part of the Garden county visitors to the big stockmen's convention this year.

R. H. Stevens and wife, of Ellsworth, were in Alliance Monday to give their little three weeks' old son medical treatment.

Mrs. M. L. Phares of Bridgeport came in on 304 Monday for a few days' visit with Alliance friends.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hagaman are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine little baby girl who recently came to make her home with them.

Mrs. F. M. Gilbaugh of Bingham, who has been in St. Joseph Hospital for several days has gone to her home much improved in health.

Miss Grace Gelsel whose home is in Harrisburg, Pa., arrived in Alliance last Thursday for a week's visit with her aunt, Mrs. H. C. Smith.

The delivery wagon of the Alliance Steam Laundry has been treated to a new coat of paint which gives it a more city-fied appearance.

Nick Vethelus, who was operated on for appendicitis a few weeks ago, at St. Joseph Hospital, is making a good recovery and will soon be out again.

Read the advertisements in The Herald, and don't forget the little "want ads" look them over. No doubt you will find something in them that will interest you.

Mrs. Belle Brown submitted to an operation at St. Joseph Hospital on Tuesday morning from which she is making a rapid recovery, for which her many friends are very grateful.

Sister Winifred, who underwent a very serious operation some days ago at St. Joseph Hospital, is getting along splendidly at this time, which will be good news for her many friends.

George Smith from the Hubbe ranch is in town for a few days being treated for some bad cuts on his hand and arm as a result of coming in contact with a barbed wire fence while riding.

John H. Harvey of Bingham has been in Alliance for a few days receiving medical treatment for a bad ankle which will require considerable time and patience to restore to normal again.

E. I. Gregg & Son have a spick and span new delivery wagon which they put into service in their feed business the first of the week. It was ordered through Newbery's Hardware Co.

Among the advertisements crowded out of last week's Herald was that of Clayton & Simmons' barber shop and bath house. It appears in this issue. Read it and give them a call when wanting anything in their line.

Mr. Simonson, who makes his home on the Simonson ranch near Reno, got mixed up in a runaway the other day and as a result is confined to his bed with more or less injuries of a serious nature, but no broken bones.

Mr. Pickeral of Spade, Nebraska, went to his home on Tuesday following a two weeks' stay in St. Joseph Hospital where he underwent an operation for hernia. He has many kind words to say for those who cared for him while in the hospital.

Manager G. G. Smith of the Alliance Steam Laundry has been making some improvements that will be a help in handling the large business of that establishment. The old "dry room" has been replaced by a new one of the latest improved pattern. This gives them more floor space and more room for their work.

Miss Walters who has a homestead claim near Bingham was in Alliance on business Tuesday and Wednesday. She came from Chicago to Nebraska about two years ago for the purpose of securing a section of Uncle Sam's domain. This was her first visit to Alliance since filing on her claim.

Sam Nelson, who is a former resident of Alliance and who now lives at Genoa, Nebraska, was in our city during the Stockmen's convention. Mr. Nelson is a talented band leader and he says he has a fine band in Genoa.

Before the Stockmen's convention, Landlord H. A. Bowman of The Drake made a canvass of private houses for reservations for lodgings for his guests, anticipating that they would have more than could be accommodated at the hotel. He wishes to thank those who so kindly helped him out of the emergency.

Mrs. S. D. Watson returned to her home at Spade, Neb., Monday. She is one of Sheridan county's teachers and had been attending Junior Normal at Alliance. It was necessary for her to go home on account of her daughter's being called East, as mentioned in another item.

Mrs. W. R. Harper left Tuesday night for Denver, from which place she will go to Monte Vista, Colo., her former home, for a visit with friends. After spending a few weeks in Colorado she will go to Chicago to order a fall stock of millinery and secure the services of an expert milliner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hughes and daughter Maude, of Lakeside, were among the number who came in on 43 last Friday. While in the city Mr. Hughes favored The Herald with one of his periodical calls for the purpose of leaving some cash on subscription and seeing how this advocate of progressive democracy was getting along.

R. T. Watson received a telegram Monday morning informing him that his mother was very low and not expected to live long. He left on 44 that day for St. John, Mich., to be at his mother's bed side before the end came if possible. His niece, Miss Virginia Watson, of Spade, had previously received word by letter of her grandmother's illness and took the train for the east at Ellsworth on Saturday.

Mrs. H. A. Bowman left Sunday for Deadwood, where she went to attend the commencement exercises of the training school for nurses of St. Joseph's hospital, from which her daughter, Miss Marie Bowman, graduated. Miss Bowman has been urged to locate in Alliance to follow her profession as a trained nurse, and The Herald is pleased to learn that she will probably do so.

Friends of this paper can confer a favor upon it by favoring with their patronage those who favor us with advertisements. We believe that as a rule you will fare better by trading with the business men who advertise thru their home newspaper than by doing business with those who do not. Generally those who are liberal enough to use newspaper advertising as a help in building up a good trade are liberal enough to give you a square deal when patronizing them.

The minstrel show given under direction of Mrs. J. T. Wilker at the opera house last Saturday night for the benefit of St. Joseph's Hospital was a pronounced success, and was splendidly received by the large audience in attendance. The Herald had previously given notice of the entertainment and had intended to publish the program in the issue preceding the performance, but like a number of other things which we wished to print last week it was crowded out.

Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Godfrey are spending a three or four weeks' vacation very pleasantly among relatives and other friends at Albia and Sigourney, Iowa. They left Alliance on their trip last week. During Rev. Godfrey's absence there will be no preaching service at the United Presbyterian church, Sunday school and Wednesday evening prayer meeting will be held as usual, as will be seen by consulting our department of church announcements.

We wish to call particular attention to the notice of dedication of the new Lutheran church at Alliance next Sunday. As will be seen by the article published in this issue, there will be three services. The morning and evening services will be conducted in German, but the afternoon service will be in English. No doubt many Herald readers who cannot attend the morning and evening services will be glad to attend the afternoon service, to which they will be heartily welcomed, as also to the German services if they wish to attend them also.

You will notice the new advertisement in this issue of The Herald of the City Meat Market, of which J. R. Barb is the proprietor. He closed a deal last week for the purchase of the Roach meat market, northwest corner of Box Butte avenue and Fourth street, taking charge of the same Saturday afternoon. Mr. Barb was one of the proprietors of the Drake & Barb Resident Meat Market, which had a big trade while it was running. He informs us that he will follow the same business principles that made that market so popular, namely, a big trade by selling on small margins.

The growing business of the Alliance Meat Market, 206 Box Butte avenue, has made it necessary for the manager, C. E. Phillips, to secure additional help. Ed. Hembold of Rushville, who has worked at the butcher's trade since a boy, was highly recommended to Mr. Phillips, accordingly he made an effort to secure his services, and fortunately succeeded. Mr. Hembold arrived last week and took his place in the shop, where he is giving excellent satisfaction. Mrs. Hembold and little girl will arrive next week and will make their home in this city, rooms having been rented of M. Bayer for a residence. The Herald is pleased to extend a cordial welcome to Mr. Hembold and family.

During the Stockmen's convention Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gergen of Crawford were guests of their former next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson, who accompanied them upon their return home, remaining in Crawford over Sunday. Mr. Gergen is connected with the International Harvester Co. He was transferred from Alliance to Cheyenne about a year ago, and from there to Crawford.

Two automobile loads of Crawfordites attended the Stockmen's convention. They were Mr. and Mrs. Lease, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Thorsen, Mrs. Maminon, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gergen and daughter Druciel. A third automobile load headed this way from Crawford, but were so captivated by the scenery along the route that they failed to reach Alliance. After driving around the country between this city and Crawford they returned home.

The Herald is pleased to learn this afternoon of the improved condition of Mrs. M. P. Nason, who has been in a critical condition for several days at St. Joseph Hospital, where she underwent an operation for cancer.

Wm. King now has the finest automobile ever. It is a $3,000 National, same make and same style as the car that won first in the big national race recently held at Indianapolis. It arrived on Tuesday of this week and was at once put into commission.

A. M. and Clair E. Wilson, father and son, came over to Alliance from their Sheridan county ranch the latter part of last week on business, a part of which was having some printing done at The Herald office. While here Mr. Wilson, Jr., purchased a new Flanders automobile of Jas. Keeler, the agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Watson were visitors to the Stockmen's convention. To the pleasure of attending the celebration they added that of a visit with Alliance friends, of whom they have a large number.

A. D. Weir is in town today on his way to Kansas City, where he will join Mrs. Weir, and from there go to their home in Arkansas. Mr. Weir informs The Herald that his public sale yesterday went off splendidly. Things sold lively and the live stock especially brought good prices.

John King, youngest son of Wm. King, who has been attending school in Denver for the past several years, returned to Alliance last week. John has made quite a record in a baseball at the college where he attended, in fact he has been offered a position with the Denver team of the Western League. A recent issue of the Denver Post gave him quite a boost, his photograph being printed in the paper together with a record of his base ball prowess. He has not yet decided whether he will play ball this summer or not.

Looks Like Champ Clark Missouri Statesman in Lead for Democratic Nomination for President of the United States

GAYNOR LIKELY DARK HORSE

We had hoped to give our readers the name of the democratic nominee for president in this issue, but nothin' doin'.

The convention adjourned till 8 tonight without having made nomination.

On the contest over temporary chairman, W. J. Bryan was defeated by the election of Judge Alton B. Parker; but since the election of temporary chairman they have been offering Mr. Bryan on a silver platter everything that comes up for decision. The Herald would be pleased to see them offer him the nomination for president again.

ALFALFA MAXIMS

(By Prof. L. R. Waldron) Alfalfa must be inoculated. Alfalfa cannot stand wet feet. Alfalfa needs a well drained soil. Alfalfa is a poor weed fighter the first season. Alfalfa does not thrive when not cut.

Alfalfa should be cut when one-tenth in bloom. Alfalfa should not be cut too late in the season. Alfalfa roots go deep. Alfalfa is the prince of drought resistors. Alfalfa needs a deep, well packed seed bed. Alfalfa does best on manured soil. Alfalfa is best seeded without a nurse crop. Alfalfa should be seeded with a drill. Alfalfa should not be pastured until well established. Alfalfa should not be pastured in the spring, when starting growth. Alfalfa bears itself and pays for the privilege. Alfalfa adds humus to the soil. Alfalfa sod plows hard. Alfalfa sod produces good crops. Alfalfa yields are large. Alfalfa hay represents quality.
