SUPPOSED CORPSE

Laid Out, Preparatory to Burial, Moved and Began to Breathe.

Glasgow, Ky.—Persons living in the western part of Glasgow are excited over the strange condition of Mrs. George Burgess, who, with her husband, moved here from Etolle, this county, five months ago. Since locating here Mrs. Burgess became afflicted with a malady said to be consumption, and for several days had been growing worse. Yesterday it was given out that she would not live through the day. She sank gradually until 11 o'clock last night, when she apparently died. Several women were called in and the body was laid out, preparatory to dressing it for burial. While they were waiting for the burial robe the corpse surprised all present by moving. An investigation revealed that the woman was breathing. From the time she was thought to have died, half an hour, until she moved, there was no perceptible sign of life. Respiration and heart action had ceased, and those who closed her eyes and handled the body declared she was cold and rigid. After those present had recovered from their surprise restoratives were applied, and in a short time she had rallied sufficiently to talk. Mrs. Burgess is still alive, though her condition is very critical and her death expected at any time. To those who helped revive her she said: "It takes one a long time to die. Don't you think so?"

RESORT OF NOTED CROOKS,

Yclept "Hell's Half Acre," the Scene of a Shooting Affray.

London, Ky.—During a general fight J. H. Thomas, from Mud Lick, N. C., and a man named Thompson, from Flat Lick, Knox county, were shot near the K. D. bridge in this county. Thomas is shot through the stomach and is dying. Thompson is shot through the arm, and is seriously wounded. But Lanham, of Lily, this county, is accused of shooting both men, and has made his escape. The place where the trouble occurred is known as "Hell's Half-Acre," and is a woodland just outside the corporation limits of Corbin and across Lynn Camp River on the Laurel side. Here many noted crooks congregate, and several men have been killed there within the last few years. The resort is so situated that the city authorities of Corbin can not interfere with the offenders, and they have little trouble in escaping the officers of Laurel and Knox by crossing the county line when they were pursued. Deputy Sheriff W. N. Scoville, of this city, went to the scene of the fight to-night and placed several men and women under arrest, and will bring them to the London jail to-night.

AN INVESTIGATION

Into Ketterer Case Is Ordered by the State Board of Control.

Frankfort, Ky.—The state board of control ordered an investigation into the sudden death of Fred Ketterer, of Ashland, at the Lexington Insane asylum. President Haly, of the board, issued the following statement: "The state board of control, in special session, has determined to make an investigation of the cause and circumstances attending the death of Fred Ketterer, recently a patient in the Eastern asylum for the insane at Lexington. Judge J. R. Morton, of Lexington, has been employed by the board to formulate the method to be used in making the investigation. The board has instructed Judge Morton that its purpose and desire is that the investigation shall be full and complete and that the facts relative to the death of Ketterer be clearly established, without regard to consequences. The result of the investigation, whatever it may be, is at the service of the Fayette county grand jury, which meets in October."

FOOT RACE

Suggested to McCreary by Beckham to Settle Senatorial Battle.

Louisville, Ky.—There might have been a unique day in Kentucky's history if Gov. Beckham and Senator McCreary had really meant what they said when one submitted a proposition for a foot race to settle the senatorial question and the other quickly took it up. The governor and the senator met at the state fair and hobnobbed together for a large portion of the time. They were in the judges' stand waiting for the calling of a race when the governor suddenly said: "Senator, we might as well settle this question now as any other time. Suppose we go out on the track and have a foot race for the nomination for senator." Quick as a flash Senator McCreary came back: "That is perfectly agreeable to me," he said, "but I would suggest that the distance be a mile, that we may better test the running qualities of each." Among those in the stand was Gen John B. Castleman, and for a moment every one accepted the challenge seriously. But the proposed foot race passed into the 1906 campaign joke book.

INDICTMENTS FOR MURDER

Returned Against Sheriff and Posse That Captured Frank Ball.

Middleboro, Ky.—The grand jury in session in Lee county, Virginia, returned indictments against Kentucky officers who captured Frank Ball at Ross Hill August 9. The men are charged with the murder of John Lee. Lee was killed in the fight between Ball and the officers. Those indicted are Rice W. Johnson, sheriff of Bell county; R. L. Givens, Gordon Givens, Newton J. Wilburn, John Glynn, of Middlesboro, and James Rollins, Ike Vanbibber and John Wilson, of Pineville, deputy sheriff. It is said that Gov. Swanson will ask Gov. Beckham for requisition of these men. The members of the party who assisted the sheriff and his posse have been indicted as accessories to the murder of Lee. This party was composed principally of business men of Middlesboro and Pineville.

FROM HIS HEAD

The Bullet Bounced and the Negro Was Unhurt.

Lexington, Ky.—Having a bullet bounced off his head while he lay in bed without even losing consciousness was the singular experience of Al Hawkins, a negro 50 years old, at Athens Ky. The shooting occurred while Hawkins was in his bed, and when the surgeons arrived to dress the wound they found the bullet had bounced off his head and was lying on the pillow. The shooting was done with a 38-calibe. pistol by another negro named Hinks Wilson, Hawkins' son-in-law. The trouble came up over an affair between Wilson and his wife. It is said that she called to Hawkins for assistance and that he responded. This action on his part is alleged to have given Wilson offense.

Whereas: Our brother John M. Cook was called from labor here on earth to refresnments in that Lodge on High in that unfortunate explosion that occurred at Jellico, Tenn, on the morning of Sept. 21st 1906, that caused the destruction of so much property and the loss of more than a dozen lives.

Brother Cook was born and raised in this county, had attained the age of 48 years, was a member of the Christian church, having joined that church at the age of eighteen and has been a devout member ever since, lending his energies to all that was for the upbuilding and good of his community.

Brother Cook left this county ten years ago, during which time he has been in the employment of the L. & N. R. R. at Jellico, Tenn., as foreman of the mechanical department. He enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his employe.

He was ever ready to assist deserving young men, and through his efforts there are now several young men from this county enjoying lucrative positions. Therefore be it Resolved:

That, we deplore the loss of our brother and extend to the family our heart-felt sympathy in their sad bereavement.

That, we have no greater comfort to offer them for consolation than to refer them to Him who promises to be a husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless.

That, this lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days

That, a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our Lodge, a copy be sent to the family of the deceased, a copy be sent to Boston Lodge No. 593. at Jellico, Ky., of which Brother Cook was a member, and a copy sent to the Advance Sentinel at Jellio, Tenn., and the Mt. Mr. James N. Nichols, a merchant and postmaster at Vernon, Conn., makes the following statement: "A little child of Michael Strauss was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to me for something to stop the little one's pain. DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free Explosion.

On last Friday morning at 7:43 o'clock, there occurred an explosion of a car load of dynamite at Jellico, Tenn., which destroyed property to the amount of nearly a half million dollars and more than a score of people lost their lives. On the switch was a car containing about twenty thousand pounds of dynamite, and near this car were standing J. M. Cook, Master Mechanic for the L. & N. R. R., Joe Sellers, an engineer, and Walter Rogers, Agent for the East Tennessee Brewering Co, when the great catastrophe came and a foot and a part of the skull, which was identified as being that of Mr. Cook, was all that was found of the three men. Of the others killed, which number between ten and twenty (the reports be conflicting) lost their lives by falling timbers and caving in of houses The writer reached the terrible scene about ten hours after the great disaster to witness the wreckage and turmoil of what only a few hours before was a thriving prosperous little city, every body on the hustle and everything going well, but alas, almost in the twinkle of an eye was reduced to ruins, such as could almost be compared to that of the great San Francisco disaster, The Kentucky side was almost total wreck, while the large brick structures on the Tennessee side were either destoyed or so badly damaged that they were rendered unsafe for occupancy. Just how the accident occurred is a question that no one has been able to solve, as there is no one who was present left to tell the story. However two possible causes have been assigned, one that Mr. Rogers, one of the victims was shooting at a target on the car, which contained the dynamite and another is that a car loaded with pig iron was pushed against the car so heavily as to cause the explosion, but this is only speculation as no one can state positively that either took place. The arguement has been presented by some that it was caused by spontaneous combustion, the exact cause we will probably never know. On the spot where stood the car a whole was dug in the ground, more than thirty feet in diameter and about thirty-five feet deep. It is a miracle that more people did not lose their lives than did. Work of repairing the town has already begun.

THE BREATH OF LIFE.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung trouble." Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
