A RESERVOIR BROKE.

Caused Loss of Nine Lives and Injuries to Others.

Walls of the Dam, 30 Feet High, Tumbled Over, Falling Upon a House and Barn—Tenement Buildings Were Swept Away.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 3.—A reservoir of the municipal water works, located near the center of Winston Salem, N. C., broke at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, causing the loss of nine lives and the injury of four or five persons.

The dead are: Mrs. Martin Peeples, Mrs. Volger, Mrs. John Poe and 12-year-old daughter, Mrs. Southern, John Southern, Miss Octavia Bailey, aged 20, Lucille Malone and Carolina Martin. The last two named are colored.

The injured: Martin V. Peeples, both legs broken; Walter Peeples, injury to back; Gilley Jordan, slightly bruised. These are at the hospital.

D. L. Payne, a traveling man of Greensboro, was badly hurt but may recover, though his condition prevents his removal to the hospital now.

The north side of the reservoir, which is 30 feet high, tumbled over, falling upon the home and barn of Martin Peeples. There were about 800,000 gallons of water in the reservoir and the mad rush of the stream northeast to the Southern railway cut and thence to Belos Pond, a distance of half a mile. Four tenement houses were washed several hundred yards.

D. L. Payne, injured, says he was awakened by the crash and thought he was being swallowed by an earthquake. "I can not describe my experience while I was floating on the mad rushing stream of water," said Mr. Payne after his removal to a house near the place where he was found.

The mayor and aldermen of this city have directed that coffins and graves be prepared for those who lost their lives beneath the rush of water.

The work of rescue was completed Wednesday afternoon. The following additional bodies were recovered:

Mrs. Vegler, John Southern, Miss Octavia Bailey and Lucille Malone, colored.

MINE CAR FELL.

Ten Miners Dashed to Death and Others Were Injured.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 3.—An accident occurred at the new Auchincloss shafe of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal Co. at Nanticoke resulting in ten miners being dashed to their death down 1,400 feet from the surface to a sump filled with water. Several other mine workers at the head of the shaft were waiting to descend, were injured.

The victims were all miners, laborers and company hands, and resided at Nanticoke and vicinity.

The direct responsibility for the accident can not be learned, but it was caused by the engineer losing control of his engine. The car with its human load was dashed beyond the Ross vein landing, 1,000 feet below the surface and into the sump, 400 feet below, where no human aid could reach them.
