W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

An Explanation.

Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, chairman of the Womans' Republican Committee, has issued a call for women everywhere to organize clubs for active service in the campaign. This movement has no connection with the W. C. T. U., state or national, nor does Mrs. Foster represent either in her action. It has not therefore the significance that some of the Pittsburgh papers attach to it, as she only acts individually. The two wings of the Womans' Christain Temperance Union, which Mrs. Swift is represented as saying are about equal in Pennsylvania, differ only in regard to the policy of the Union as organization, lending its influence "to any one party." The National Union has adopted such policy and is supported in its action by all the states but Pennsylvania and Iowa, and perhaps one or two at the south. The resolution pledging its influence "to that party which will give us the best embodiment of prohibition principles and and will most surely protect our homes," was adopted by the Detroit convention in 1883, and was reported from a committee of which Mrs. Foster was chairman, its passage being warmly advocated by her. At this convention a memorial was ordered to be presented to the national political parties the following year. Neither the Republicans or the Democrats noticed it all, and at the W. C. T. U., convention at St. Louis in 1884, the resolution was, by a large majority made to apply to the Prohibition party as the only one which had stood the test. Mrs. Foster opposed this application and since then has been the non-partisan leader. She has always been a Republican and now announces her intention to remain so. Such a course does not interfere at all with her membership in the W. C. T. U., as no one denies the right of individual choice in the matter. Nor does it even argue inconsistency as a non-partisan White Ribboner. It is however, an example that Prohibition party women in the unions will not be slow to follow.

M. S. TEMPLETON.

The American Home.

This question of the desolation of the American home and its protection lifts itself above every other question relative to American politics. I wish I could put on the canvas an imaginary American home. I would not make a fine mansion on the avenue nor an old log-cabin, but I would make a comfortable house with gardens and line of shade trees, with birds singing the song of joy in the morning. Then I would put in this ideal home a husband, wife and children, the eldest boy driving the team to the barn, the second one the cows, and the third whistling a familiar household tune. Then I would have Congress appoint a commission of inquiry upon political economy and inquire: "Madam, we have called to know what this American home will do for this American Republic?" She would reply; "Gentlemen, we are trying to keep our home pure; are trying to make our boys patriotic American citizens; we are trying to make our daughter a true American woman; we are trying to love God and keep His commandments, and to cultivate the grace of hospitality. Walk in, gentlemen, and take tea with us." The chairman says: "Madam, we have called to know what sacrifice this American home will make for this American Republic? This country is in danger, and we want an answer just now?" "We will talk it over," is the reply. Take our eldest boy; take him away to the battle-field, and if he falls in defence of his country's flag, we will kiss the second one, and say, 'Go fill your brother's place'." Any government that will not protect that home by all the power of its police and the majesty of its law from the cursed liquor-traffic is not the republic it ought to be. It is told of Ben Wade once that he rode upon his horse to find the government. He went to the President, who said, "I am not the government." He went the Senate and Congress, and they said. "We are not the government." He then called his neighbors into the old school-house, and said: "I want to talk to the government." I ask you, if you love this American Republic, then silence the rum power that is destroying our homes.—Geo. W. Bain.

—"Don't trifle with Niagara," says the Buffalo Express. There is no danger now. Most of the men who have trifled with Niagara have found that Niagara has trifled with them, and got considerably the best of it. There is no amusement there, and the funeral expenses are large.—Judge.

—Ingrain carpets, worn beyond repair, should be cut into lengthwise strips, and woven the same as rag carpet. It is unnecessary to sew the ingrain cuttings, weavers generally preferring to overlap the strips as they weave. Mats and carpets assume quite a Persian look when made in this way, and are very durable.

Gardening for Ladies.

Make up your bed early in the morning; sew buttons on your husband's shirt; do not rake up grievances; protect the young and tender branches of your family; plant smiles of good temper, and reap a crop of health and happiness; root out the causes of nervous debility and "female weakness," by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a sovereign specific, and thousands of the fair sex bless the day when they first heard of it. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

To cleanse the stomach, liver, and system generally, use Dr. Pierce's Pellets.

—Ella Butler, a colored girl 18 years old died the other day at Haddonsfield, N. J., and her coffin had to be just 6 feet 8 inches long.

—A young man down South has discovered a substance that is 346 times sweeter than sugar. It is 17 years old and wears a bustle.

—"Have you seen my wife lately?" asked Smith, who was hurrying through the street. "By George!" he exclaimed in the next breath, "there goes her bustle around the corner now. She can't be a great way off."

—A long breath is called a sigh because of its sighs.

A Successful Man.

The Warner family originated in England, John Warner, Bishop of Rochester in the seventeenth century, being one of the most prominent members. Col. Seth Warner of Revolutionary fame in this country, and Capt. Seth Warner, a valiant man in the war of 1812, and eight distinguished physicians, mark the H. H. Warner line in America. H. H. Warner was born in Van Buren, Onondaga Co., N. Y., Jan. 19th 1842. After an education at Dr. Wright's Academy at Elbridge, and acquiring the tinsmith's trade at Memphis, N. Y., he went west for five years. In 1870 he returned to Rochester as General Agent of the Mosler Safes of Cincinnati, O., and for ten years was the most successful safe dealer in the country, and amassed a fortune.

In 1879 he was prostrated by a severe disease. The best physicians gave him no hope of recovery. It was at this time that he used what is now known as Warner's safe cure and was fully restored to health thereby. Realizing that the world needed such a specific for kidney disease, he made a vow when sick that if it cured him he would spend his days proclaiming its merits to the world. On his recovery he began at once to manufacture, and to-day there are seven laboratories and the branch houses in seven different quarters of the globe. In 1883, the Warner Astronomical Observatory, erected and endowed by Mr. Warner, was completed at an estimated expense of $60,000. It is located on East avenue, and is the finest private Astronomical Observatory in the world. the telescope cost $13,000. Since 1879, astronomical prizes to the extent of $5,000 have been awarded by Mr. Warner for scientific discovery. In 1882 he was elected a member of the American Association for the advancement of science. In 1886 H. H. Warner & Co. put Warner's Safe Yeast upon the market, and in 1887 Warner's Log Cabin Remedies, designed to reach diseases for which Warner's Safe Remedies are not specifics.

The Safe Remedies building on N. St. Paul St., with its four and a quarter acres of flooring, is one of the busiest and most imposing structures of the kind in the world. In 1887 H. H. Warner was unanimously elected President of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, a compliment that the city and all who knew him confessed was more than well deserved. His inaugural address to that Chamber was notable for its radical views and thorough-going sensible recommendations.

He is about six feet high, has iron gray hair, splendid physique, is a man of great energy, and is one of the most thorough-going and publi c-spirited citizens of Rochester.

—The man who contemplatively puffs away at his corncob pipe probably does not know that the only factory in the world for making them is in Washington, Mo., and that the five stockholders in it are drawing dividends of $10,000 a year each. In 1878 H. Tibbe received a patent for "a cement-like substance" with which to fill the interstices of cobs, the said substance being plaster of Paris, and his royalty on his patent amounts to $200 a month. The machinery for making the pipes is simple, and an expert hand can turn out 3,000 of them in ten hours.

The Population of Butler is about 7,000, and we would say at least one half are troubled with some affection of the Throat and Lungs, as those complaints are, according to statistics, more numerous than others. We would advise all not to neglect the opportunity to call on their druggist and get a bottle of Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. Price 50c and $1. Trial size Free. Sold by all druggists.

—She: "No, Mr. Brown, you need not hope. I can never be more than a sister. He: "A sister! Lend me $5."

—Major Smith: "Col. Jones, can you tell me where Gen. Robinson got his military title."

Col. Jones: "Certainly, sir. He was general ticket agent at Kalamazoo, Mich., for six years."

LOG CABINS were strongholds of love, contentment, health and happiness. Coon skins were nailed to the door and they were the happy homes of strong, healthy, men and women. The simple but effective remedies which carried them to green old age are now reproduced in Warner's "Tippecanoe," and Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla and other Log Cabin Remedies.

—The upper crust of English society, like that of a restaurant pie, is pretty tough.

—Erysipelas and salt rheum are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

—Edison has invented a talking clock which says "dinner time," "bed time," etc., and it is understood that there will be a 2 o'clock a. m. attachment for the use of the wives of lodge members. Just what language will be used is not stated.

J. C. REDICK,

OH! MY HEAD.

The pain from Neuralgia and its companion disease Rheumatism is excruciating. Thousands who could be quickly cured are needlessly suffering. Ath-lo-pho-ros will do for others what it did for the following parties:

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 3, 1887.

Having been afflicted with neuralgia for the past four years, and trying almost everything, but in vain, I finally heard of Athlophoros. After taking one bottle I found it to be helping me, and after taking four bottles of Athlophoros and one of Pills, I found that I was entirely well. I think the medicine is positively a sure cure.

CHAUNCEY B. RENDICK.

Mt. Carmel, Ill., Dec 28, 1887.

I have used Athlophoros in my family and find it to be the greatest medicine for neuralgia in existence, and having had its fangs fastened upon me for the past 30 years I know whereof I speak. MRS. JULIA CHILTON.

Send 6 cents for the beautiful colored picture, "Moorish Maiden."

ITS COMING

And when it gets here, everybody will rush to see it—Excitement will run high, and we shall have crowded houses day and evening. What is it? Why its HECK'S MENAGERIE—Its a regular Ring-tailed Snorter—and when it comes look out for sky rockets and greased lightning. Its not a menagerie of ring-tailed monkeys, leopards that change their spots, or wild African lions, but it will draw great crowds and will be worth seeing.

ITS A HOO-DO

and knocks competion endwise. It never hurts a customer, but it makes competition run. They cover the ground quite rapidly when they see it, and cast their coat-tails to the breeze, leaving you in the hands of people who will give you a fair deal. Your interests are ours, and we have made arrangements for excursions during the season. An accommodation will leave Gongem every day at 7 a. m., making only two stops between Gongem and Butler. First stop, Transtown, and passengers will be allowed 5 minutes to look at the trash. That will be quite long enough to satisfy them that they must go on to HECK'S. Second stop, Swindersville, passengers who are crazy enough to do so will be allowed to stop over at this station, the wise portion will go on to HECK'S.

The train will arrive at Butler 8 a.m., sharp and Heck will be at the depot to receive you. Should he not, do not be led off by the little Bazaars of side shows, but make a break for the big tent, No. 11, North Main St., Duffy's Block. We blow our own horn and there is no mistaking it. We are now ready. Ring the bell—beat the drum—toot the horn—let the crowd come and see our magnificent Spring Attractions. They are regular and on every point will beat anything ever shown in this city.

The quality, quantity, style and price are just what will suit you, and the assortment so large that it will dazzle you.

OUR BAND LEADS,

others try to follow us but they can't catch up. Our pace is too much for them. We are too quick.

We are boomers! We are sooners!—don't you

We are rollicking, jolly fellows. We are ripe roaring tip top sellers.

And when it comes to bargains we can suit you to a "T"

We are hungry for your money—do you hear? And we try to be so funny—we are so queer. If you think we are a honey, come and drop your money.

And we'll treat you like a sonny—all the year.

For we have got the energy and the will. We made up our mind to be the leaders in our line and the result is, "that we lead" and there it no mistake about it. Our prices tell the tale. They are always lower than the lowest and quality proves it. We make but prove everything we state in the papers when a customer calls at our store. If you want sterling goods for sterling cash call and see our Magnificent stock of Spring Novelties in line Clothing of all shapes styles and prices; Hats, Caps, Neckwear, Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Underwear, Hosiery, Handkerchiefs Umbrellas, Trunks, Valises, Satchels, Brushes, Combs, Harmonicas, Jewelery, Hammocks and Notions generally. We do not attempt a full enumeration of our goods but content ourselves with the statement that we have the largest stock, latest styles and lowest prices.

No Rash Promises,

THE WORLD STANDS AGHAST

The realization of the fact that our low prices are a reality and not a fictionary legend makes everybody wonder. Ready money is the wonder worker that has enabled us to place before the public such a gorgeous display of Spring bargains and a determination to be easily satisfied and live for small profits is the reason we can sell so much cheaper than anybody else.
