GIANTS DEFEATED BY BROOKLYN; HIGHLANDERS SCORE A VICTORY

RICH MERCHANT IS ARRESTED ON BOY'S ACCUSATION

Detectives Accuse Him Also of Attempting to Bribe Them—Says He Won't Return to His Philadelphia Home Alive.

Benedict Gimbel, thirty-eight years old, a rich Philadelphia merchant, was arrested as he drove up Fifth avenue this afternoon in a cab with Ivor Clark, a youth. After the initial charge of assault, an additional charge of bribery was made against him by County Detectives Reardon and Brennan, who allege that he gave them $2,000 in cash upon their promise to turn him loose.

For several days Gimbel has been at the Waldorf-Astoria. He lives with his wife and two children in a handsome home at No. 914 North Broad street, Philadelphia, and is a member of the firm of Gimbel Brothers, who have a big department store in Market street in that city. He is said to be a millionaire.

Mrs. Clarke, of No. 310 West Fifty-seventh street, who is said to be the daughter of a former Admiral in the navy and the sister of another naval officer, went to the District-Attorney's office to-day. Her husband is a Wall street broker. Mrs. Clark said her sixteen-year-old son was in the habit of meeting Gimbel and she feared something was wrong. Her older son had first become suspicious, she said, after seeing the younger boy in Gimbel's company. Last night she intercepted a note from Gimbel to her son asking the lad to meet him this afternoon at the Hotham House.

Boy Joined with Detectives.

Assistant District Attorney Krotel assigned Reardon and Brennan to the case. The detectives found Ivor Clark, and he agreed, they say, to aid them in catching Gimbel. Young Clark met the Philadelphian at the appointed hour, and the two got into a cab and started up the avenue. The sleuths followed in an automobile.

At Fifty-second street, in front of one of the Vanderbilt homes, the detectives got a signal from the youth. They at once ranged alongside in their automobile and put Gimbel under arrest.

According to their story he became terribly frightened. They allege that he hauled out a roll of bills and offered them a case if, saying, "There's a hundred, boys; all I've got. Take the money and forget it."

"It isn't enough," said Reardon. "We want more than that."

"I'll make it a thousand apiece," they say the trembling Gimbel pleaded. "Come with me to my bankers, Wolff Bros., No. 100 Broadway, and I'll get the coin."

Pretending to agree, the detectives got into the cab with the man and boy. The whole party drove downtown to Wolff Bros. There, the captors say, Gimbel drew a check for $2,000, cashed it and handed them the proceeds.

Bribe Was Unavailing.

Regardless of his tearful protests they took him to the Criminal Courts Building, where Mrs. Clark, the lad's mother, was waiting. After a private examination upstairs, in which Gimbel prayed for mercy, he was taken before Magistrate House, in the Centre Street Court, downstairs. There, with Attorney Isaac N. Kemp as his counsel, he was arraigned on two charges—assault upon young Clark and bribery.

Assistant District-Attorney Krotel insisted that bail of not less than $10,000 should be fixed. He said Gimbel had been guilty of most flagrant misdeeds. Magistrate House fixed bail at $1,000 in the assault case, and $5,000 in the bribery charge. Gimbel was taken to the Tombs for the night after he had offered to pay any amount of money if the facts could be suppressed. It was stated that Mr. O'Reilly would be provided with cash bail for Gimbel in the morning.

As Detective Reardon was taking the white and trembling prisoner across the Bridge of Sighs to the Tombs he declares Gimbel said to him:

"It's all off with me. I will never go home to face my wife and family and friends after this."

Gimbel is a good looking, florid man, rather stout, apparently well educated and handsomely dressed.

POLICEMAN'S GUN WENT OFF IN STORE

He Was Buying a Suit and His Friend, the Salesman, Was Shot.

Fred Redlin, a policeman attached to the Long Island City station, came all the way to a well-known Broadway clothing house this afternoon to buy a suit of clothes from his old friend, John Smith, a salesman, living at No. 25 Stevens street, Astoria. Mrs. Redlin and young Master Redlin, aged eight, accompanied him on the trip across East River.

Redlin took his regulation revolver out of his hip pocket while he was trying on the new duds and very carefully laid it upon his coat, with his overcoat over it. When he had found garments to his liking and was getting back into his old clothes, an idea, unbecoming to hold the coat for him. He jerked it up as briskly that Redlin's sense of warning was lost in a mighty bang as the gun hit the floor.

A thirty-eight calibre bullet tore its way through the fleshy part of Smith's leg above the knee and then buried itself in the ceiling. An ambulance took the wounded clerk to the New York Hospital, where he will be laid up for a week or two. Redlin, badly broken up by the mishap, went to the Tenderloin station to explain. He was permitted to go home.

MAYOR CLASHES WITH BINGHAM ON POLICE PLAN

Commissioner Said to Have Had an Unpleasant Session With Him in the City Hall on the Question.

It is believed in political circles that the Mayor and his Police Commissioner have fallen out over the Bingham bill.

Commissioner Bingham if he had his way would go through the force of inspectors like a runaway automobile, leaving the dead and wounded littering the road four or five deep. It was his intention to send nearly all the present inspectors to precinct work as captains and promote men of his own type of policemen in their places.

In framing up this cataclysm the Commissioner overlooked one bet. He ignored the fact that a police inspector of long standing seems to have a pull that extends even to the Mayor's office.

Realization of the existence of several such pulls has come to the Commissioner and made him peevish. The Commissioner has an idea that because he is Commissioner of Police he ought to run the Police Department. He believes a commander should command.

When the matter was brought to Gen. Bingham's attention he denied that his interview with the Mayor was anything but pleasant. He would not, however, tell what passed at the interview.

However, having in mind many drastic changes in the Police Department, he conceived the idea of consulting with the Mayor. He had no idea that the Mayor would question any of his acts; all he wanted was the Mayor's endorsement. If Tammany Hall and police gossip is to be believed, he didn't get it.

The Trouble Starts.

"Well, Mr. Mayor," the Commissioner is said to have remarked to His Honor

Hard Hitting Hilltoppers Land on the Ball at the Right Time and Fans Witness an Exciting Contest with Mack's Athletics—Clarkson Does Twirling Honors.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, April 18.—It was another dull and dreary day, but the Highlanders felt so enlivened over their ninth inning finish of yesterday that they got real frisky and danced around the bases in midsummer style. On account of a severe cold Keeler was out of the game and Moriarity had to play right field.

Clarkson started in to pitch for the Hilltoppers and was doing nicely until Umpire Evans called an apparently foul ball "fair," allowing a run to score. This was the first bad decision of the year and the crowd hissed the official. About 2,500 people were present.

First Inning.

Hartsel singled to centre field. Cross walked. Seybold doubled to right. Hartsel scoring. Cross on third. Crowd raised a howl on the decision. It looked to be a foul by eight feet. Davis flied to Hoffman and Cross scored. Seybold going to third. Murphy hit to Elberfeld and Seybold was run down between home and third. Laporte finally getting the put out. Murphy tried to make third on the play, but Laporte's quick throw to Elberfeld nailed him as he was sliding into third. TWO RUNS.

Hoffman struck out. Conroy scooped a foul to Barry. Elberfeld died on a grounder to Coombs. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Lord went out, Laporte to Chase. Knight lifted a high fly to Hoffman, and Barry also died via Laporte and Chase. NO RUNS.

Chase popped an easy fly to Cross. Laporte got a nasty crack on the wrist from one of Coombs's inshoots and took first trowning. Williams met the next one squarely on the nose and soaked it into left field for two bases. Moriarity flipped an easy fly to Murphy and nobody could move. Jack Kleinow was not to be denied his share in the scoring, however, and he walloped one against the left field fence for two bases, scoring both Laporte and Williams. Clarkson struck out. TWO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Coombs wanged a long drive into left field for three bases. Hartsel sent one to right-field fence for three, scoring Coombs. Cross walked. Seybold's grounder went to Clarkson, forcing Cross out at second base. Davis struck out. The last ball split Kleinow's finger, so he retired from the game. Thomas scored. Elberfeld sacrificed. Coombs to Davis, Conroy taking third. On the squeeze play Knight threw out Chase, while Conroy scored. Laporte laced a beautiful one around second base for a single. Williams forced Laporte at second base, Cross to Murphy. TWO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Elberfeld threw out Knight. Chase making a wonderful pick-up. Barry drove a single into left field. Coombs flied to Conroy. Hartsel forced Barry at second base, Elberfeld to Williams. NO RUNS.

Moriarity struck out. Thomas walked. Clarkson singled over second base, Thomas going to second. Hoffman struck out, but the ball bounded out of the catcher's hands and struck the umpire. Evans promptly declared Hoffman out and would not let the other runners advance. Conroy laced the next one to the left-field fence for two bases, scoring both Thomas and Clarkson. Conroy stole third. Elberfeld fouled out to Knight. TWO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Cross got a single past Elberfeld, and Seybold followed with another safe crack past Laporte. Davis hit to Chase, forcing Seybold out at second, Cross taking third. Murphy flied to Hoffman and Cross scored. Davis was out stealing second, Thomas to Elberfeld. ONE RUN.

Vickers relieved Coombs as pitcher for Philadelphia. Chase got a free pass. Laporte hit into a double play, Knight to Murphy to Davis. Williams died out to Davis. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Lord flied to Moriarity. Clarkson threw out Knight. Barry went the same way. NO RUNS.

Moriarity walked. Thomas popped out to Vickers. Clarkson slammed a wicked single past first, Moriarity taking second. Hoffman walked, filling the bags. Conroy was called out on strikes. Elberfeld was hit by a pitched ball, forcing Moriarity. Chase struck out. ONE RUN.

Seventh Inning.

Vickers singled to right field. Hartsel sent one over second base, advancing Vickers a peg. Cross sacrificed to Laporte, the other runners advancing. Seybold hit to Laporte and Vickers was thrown out at the plate. Davis forced Seybold, Elberfeld to Murphy. NO RUNS.

Laporte fanned. Williams was out, Murphy to Davis. Vickers threw out Moriarity. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Keefe, now pitching for Highlanders, Elberfeld threw out Murphy. Laporte made a bad throw to first and Lord was safe. Lord was out stealing second, Thomas to Elberfeld. Knight flied to Moriarity. NO RUNS.

Thomas struck out. Keefe struck out. Hoffman then got the first honors of the season by smashing a fierce line drive past first for a home run. Conroy rolled out to Davis. ONE RUN.

Ninth Inning.

Barry flied to Williams. Vickers flied to Hoffman. Elberfeld threw out Hartsel. NO RUNS.

Ex-Champions Strike Snag Across the Bridge and the Great Seymour Strikes Out Three Times in Attempt to Solve Pastorius's Benders.

WASHINGTON PARK, BROOKLYN, April 18.—Patsey Donovan's Trolley Dodgers won their first game of the season this afternoon by trouncing Johnny McGraw's Giants in the third and final game of the series by a score of 3 to 0. The game was a very interesting one. Pastorius, who twirled for the Brooklyns, pitched one of the best games of his career, only allowing the Giants to make two safe hits.

Taylor, on the other hand, pitched a good game up to the seventh inning, when the Brooklyns succeeded in getting two men over the plate on Ritter's beautiful drive to left. The Donovanites added another to their tally in the eighth inning, this time Jordan being the man to face out the hit at the right time.

First Inning.

Shannon waited until Pastorius had sent in four wide ones and then ambled to first. Browne drove a hot grounder to Pastorius, who threw to Lewis at second, forcing Shannon. Browne then started to steal second, but was pailed on Ritter's pretty throw to Alperman. Devlin's scorching bounder was stopped by Pastorius, but as the latter threw poorly to Jordan, Devlin got first on the error. Seymour fanned weakly at three outcurves, and the Giants took the field. NO RUNS.

Maloney pasted a fast bounder to Corcoran, who threw him out at first. Casey bounced one to McGann, who threw the ball to Taylor at first, just in time to dispose of the Dodgers' captain. Lumley made three unsuccessful swings at Taylor's collection of mixed curves and the inning came to an end. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Bresnahan sent up a foul fly, and Ritter was under the ball when it came down. McGann smashed a scorching grounder to Alperman, who shot the ball to Jordan in time to dispose of big Dan. Pastorius couldn't get them over for Dahlen, and Bill trotted to first. Dahlen tried the stealing act and also died hard, Alperman taking Ritter's neat throw and putting the ball on Bill two feet from the bag. NO RUNS.

Jordan looked too dangerous for Taylor and was given a free pass to first. Batch gave another excellent exhibition by failing to even swing at three of Taylor's curves. Alperman was disposed of by Taylor and McGann, Jordan reaching second. Lewis drove a grounder to Dahlen who threw him out at first. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Corcoran's hot grounder was taken care of by Lewis and Jordan. Taylor lifted a fly back to first base which dropped safely, getting the Dummy his base. Shannon was the second Giant to fall a victim to Pastorius's benders, Browne making a grounder to Alperman, who tossed the ball to Lewis, forcing Taylor to second. NO RUNS.

Devlin made a neat pickup of Ritter's fast roller and threw Louis out. Pastorius was an easy victim on strikes. Maloney hit four close ones pass him and strolled to first. He tried to steal second, but was nipped on Bresnahan's throw to Corcoran. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Devlin lifted a scorer to the infield and Alperman smothered the ball. Seymour made three vicious swings at high inshoots and went to the bench, the second time Cy did the fanning act. Bresnahan bunted, but Casey, by a quick pick up and throw to Jordan, managed to nail Roger by a few inches. NO RUNS.

Casey hit a bouncer straight out to Taylor's hands, and the Dummy threw him out easily. Lumley's high foul fly near third base was nicely gathered in by Devlin. Jordan made the first safe hit off Taylor, a low line drive to centre, which was good for a base. A wild pitch promoted Jordan to second, but he got no further, for Batch drove a fly to Shannon, retiring the side. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

McGann was an easy victim, Casey capturing his high foul fly after a hard run. Dahlen pasted a high one to short left, which Batch had no trouble in getting under. Corcoran also lifted a fly to the same field, and again corralled the ball. NO RUNS.

Alperman was retired in a hurry on his fast grounder by Dahlen and McGann. Taylor snatched Lewis's hot jumper and threw him out. Ritter was the third victim, his infield drive being handled by Devlin and McGann. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Taylor's long foul fly was captured by Lumley. Shannon was called out on strikes for the second time, Spike being Pastorius's fourth easy mark. Browne smashed a hot grounder to Lewis, who just did nail the batter on his throw to Jordan. NO RUNS.

Pastorius laced a bounder to Dahlen and Bill got his man at first. Maloney hit to McGann, who fumbled the ball and threw wild to first, allowing Maloney to reach second. Casey was called out on strikes. Lumley spoiled all chances for a run by hitting straight to McGann, who retired Harry unassisted. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Devlin strolled to first on four inside flings. Seymour was retired by Jordan alone, Devlin reaching second on the play. Bresnahan's long fly to right was collared by Lumley, Devlin being held at second. McGann binged out a high one to centre, which Maloney got under. NO RUNS.

Jordan was a good waiter and was rewarded with a pass to first. Batch filed out to Shannon. Alperman was hit in the head with a high inshoot and went to first, Jordan moving to second. Lewis forced Alperman at second, Dahlen to Corcoran, Jordan reaching third. Lewis stole second. Ritter then set the cranks wild by slamming the ball to left centre, scoring Jordan and Lewis. Shannon threw the ball in to Taylor, who shot it to Corcoran, catching Ritter, who tried to reach second. TWO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Dahlen made a safe hit to the infield, his grounder being too hot for Casey to handle. Corcoran then slammed the ball to centre, which Maloney captured after a hard sprint. Taylor foul-fled to Lumley near the Second Bleachers. Shannon then reached out for the third time. NO RUNS.

Pastorius struck out. Maloney was disposed of by Corcoran and McGann. Casey walked. Corcoran then let Lumley's grounder go through his legs, permitting Casey to reach third and Lumley first on the error. Jordan singled to short left, scoring Casey and promoting Lumley to second. Batch struck out, as usual. ONE RUN.

Ninth Inning.

Browne was thrown out at first by Alperman. Devlin's infield fly was taken by Casey. Seymour went out, Jordan to Pastorius, the latter covering the bag. NO RUNS.

BLUE HERON GALLOPED UNDER WIRE, WINNER OF THE OZONE STAKES

(Special to The Evening World.)

AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, April 18.—With Blue Heron in the fourth race to-day, "Sam" Emery, the well known turfman, won his second victory in two days. Master Robert, a clever colt from the Emery barns, romped home yesterday with the last race. Both racers were backed with oldtime confidence by Emery, whose turf fortunes began to dwindle years ago, when the then black whirlwind, Fordham, won his last race at Morris Park.

In those days Emery was foremost on the turf. He was the owner of the great Dry Monopole, winner of many races and a stud success when his racing days were over. Now it is declared Emery is again destined to loom up as a turf magnate. It is said he has a barn full of two-year-olds even cleverer than Blue Heron and Master Robert.

Easy for Frizette.

Frizette went to the front at the start, made all the running and won easily by four lengths from Aunt Rose, who was second all the way. Berry Maid, close up all he way, weakened on the final drive and was third, two lengths away.

Mary Morris Was Fast.

Eudora raced to the front and made the running to the stretch, followed by Mary Morris and Lady Alicia. The latter moved up strong in the stretch and forced Mary Morris to a drive, under which she came away and won, pulling out of four lengths near Lady Alicia, who was five lengths in front of Eudora.

Easy for W. H. Carey.

Sam H. Harris rushed to the front in the third race and set a fast pace, followed by Tartan and Umbrella. The latter tired before they reached the turn, and W. H. Carey took third place. In the stretch Carey moved into the lead and coming away easily won by four lengths from Sam H. Harris, who though tiring fast, beat Tartan half a length.

Blue Heron, another good two-year-old from the stable of Sam Emery, went to the front in the Ozone Stakes and made all the running, winning in a drive by three-quarters of a length from Masks and Faces, who closed strong and just got up in time to beat out Tartar Maid, who was second most of the route. Laura Clay was close up for half of the distance and then drew away.

Ace High in a Drive.

Ace High, Sir Toddington and Barbary Belle raced in close order to the last sixteenth, where Barbary Belle weakened. Ace High and Sir Toddington then drew away, and the former won in a hot drive by a head from Sir Toddington. Berkeley closed with a rush and just slipped out Barbary Belle, finishing two lengths back.

Communipaw went to the front at the start, followed by Miss Spooner and Tim O'Toole. In the stretch Tim O'Toole went to the front and, stalling off a rush by Pins and Needles, won by a neck. Pins and Needles was a scant length in front of Communipaw.
