BARONESS TELLS OF WOMAN WITH SIMON WHEN SHE LEFT HIM

Heard Noise Like Slamming of Door as She Reached Street—Never Saw a Revolver Until After Arrest.

Calm and confident, the Baroness Anisia Louise de Massy took the stand in her own behalf in the murder trial before Justice Blanchard this afternoon and told a remarkable story. She denied that she shot Gustav Simon, the rich blouse manufacturer, declaring that she never owned a revolver or carried one.

She swore that the last person she had seen with Simon on the afternoon of Nov. 19, 1906, just before the killing occurred, was a woman whom

"BOB" TUCKER WINS $20,000 ON TWO KILLINGS

"Davy" Johnson Almost Went Broke Again When Jacquin Got Race.

WOODLANE GETS STAKE.

Owner Bet All His Winnings in Third on Winner of the Fourth.

(Special to The Evening World.)

JAMAICA RACE TRACK, May 1.—Paul Rainey approached plunger "Davy" Johnson on the club-house veranda when the horses were on their way to the post in the third race.

"Say, Dave, which do you like in this race, which are you playing?"

"I've a bet on Robador, straight and place," answered Johnson.

"Why, there's Jacquin, your old horse and the favorite. You ought to know a whole lot about him. Isn't he worth betting on to win?" asked Mr. Rainey, smiling.

"Not for me," said Johnson; "I know the old dog!"

When Jacquin beat his field in a mild drive Robador was third and Johnson had lost. Other of his clubmates who thought that Mr. Johnson ought to know lost heavily on Robador also, and Mr. Johnson was railed at good-naturedly.

It was pure pique that kept Johnson off the horse and prompted his action. "Bob" Tucker, now the owner of Jacquin, bought the speedy Knight of Thistle horse out of a selling race for $1,500, and Johnson charged Tucker with unfriendliness.

Tucker, who ranks with Johnson as a plunger when he knows the checks are going down right—and he usually knows—played Jacquin to a standstill, winning thousands. Tucker came back again in the very next race with Woodlane, which he and his commissioners backed from fours to 8 to 5 and Woodlane won away off. All of Tucker's winnings on Jacquin went on Woodlane, and when the horse galloped in with the race the easiest of winners, Tucker was about $20,000 to the good on the day. Even the piqued Johnson never displayed more nerve in any of his crusades against the knights of the high stool.

Woodlane broke third at the start went right to the front and led to the wire. The Dane, an added starter, was second, beating Transvaal for the place money.

Prince Bets on Winner.

In the first race Robin Hood leaped into the lead and played the prominent part until the finish. "Robbie," who is Owner "Johnnie" Mayberry's favorite bread-winner, galloped at the end. Barney Schreiber's Chief Hayes beat Slickaway for the place with fours against the gelding second. Master Lester was played consistently by knowing turfmen on the strength of a pretty warming-up gallop.

Prince Thuron, a native of Austria, now with landed estates in Texas, was a good winner on Robin Hood. The money was all down when the Baron's jockey as Robin Hood was being given a cooling walk. "I like that horse, shall play him," instantly said the Prince, indicating the Mayberry gelding. The Prince sent a nice commission into the ring and was an enthusiastic witness from the club-house veranda of Robin Hood's win.

Sussex Wins at 10 to 1.

Sussex was uncovered by Forsythe in the second, but was not considered by her stable good enough to win, which she did with a good jockeying. Helen B and Sempro made the running. Goldfoil and Snakewood each heavily backed and considered "good things," leading the second division. Then something happened to Goldfoil and Snakewood. They dropped back a few paces and did not again get going strong until well into the stretch, when they were done. Sussex, on the outside, came from the rear in the last sixteenth and won cleverly from Helen B, who tired from the pace making lasting long enough to take the place from Sempro. A shower fell when the horses flashed over the line, moistening the upper dust of the course.

Johnson Went Wrong.

"Davy" Johnson, the plunger, saw his cast-off racer Jacquin, now in "Bob" Tucker's stable hands, win the third race easily to-day, and chagrin pictured the face of the owner of Roseben, for he had wagered heavily to win and for place. It was Jacquin's third win, and Johnson had on each occasion bet against the horse. Jacquin got away from the barrier with Maxnar, and the latter kept the leader company to the stretch head. Jacquin then had to give battle to Robador, which showed a flash—but it was only a flash. Maxnar came on again bravely, passed Robador and went to Jacquin. The latter was not to be denied, and won in a drive, with distance to spare. Robador held on to third place. Retort, the only other starter—the event being reduced by scratches with the rain—went on after the finish, being worked out for another full circuit of the track.

RED FLAG FLIES WITH STARS AND STRIPES IN PARADE

Socialists and Socialist Labor Unions March in East New York.

HOLD MASS - MEETING

Express Sympathy with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, Accused of Murder.

Some 6,000 Socialists and Socialist Labor Unionists paraded through the streets of East New York and Brownsville to-day to show their sympathy with Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, the miners' union leaders, who are awaiting trial in Idaho for instigating the murder of Gov. Steunenberg, of that State. Every band in line played the "Marseillaise," and most of the paraders sang that revolutionary hymn as they trudged through the miles of rough streets.

Red flags were abundant, but there were also American flags. Each man in line wore a picture button of the accused labor leaders, and numerous banners showing cartoons and inscriptions in Yiddish, Italian and English were displayed.

A special detail of 150 policemen manned the line of march to preserve order. They had little to do, as there was no disturbance. The streets were thronged with cheering sympathizers.

Following the parade there was a mass-meeting at Congress Hall, Vermont and Atlantic avenues.

There were divisions in the parade. The following organizations took part:

The delegates to Moyer-Haywood conference.

The Socialist party of Brownsville.

The Socialist-Labor party of Brownsville.

The Russian Bund and the Russian Socialist-Democrats.

The Painters' Union.

The Carpenters' Union.

The Industrial Plasterers' Union.

The Cloakmakers' and Cornicemakers' Union.

The Italian Unions.

The Progressive Literary Society.

The Letterers' Union.

The International Ladies' Garment-makers' Union.

The Paper Boxmakers' Union.

The Shirtmakers Union.

The United Garmentmakers' Union of America.

The Children's Jacketmakers' Union.

The Progressive Plasterers' Union.

Among the sentiments displayed on the banners in line were the following:

"We protest against the utterances of President Roosevelt as to Moyer and Haywood being undesirable citizens."

"We demand the liberation of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone."

"If we are to hang, let us hang together."

"An injury to one is an injury to all."

"Down with Capital; Long Live Socialism."

"Socialism Means Freedom; Capitalism Means Slavery. Which Do You Want?"

JAY GOULD AN EASY WINNER IN TENNIS FINAL

American Beat Pennell in Three Straight Sets in London Game.

LONDON, May 1.—Jay Gould, of New York, defeated Vane H. Pennell, the champion of 1904, in the final of the International Amateur Court Tennis championship games, at the Queen's Club this afternoon. Gould won in three straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4, and thus won the right to challenge Eustace H. Miles for the title of champion.

The ease with which the American champion beat Pennell was a surprise to the British players, who anticipated at least a great match, some of them even maintaining that the former champion was quite capable of defeating the visitor. Pennell, however, was overmatched. He found himself powerless to return the American's railroad service.

Gould played brilliantly throughout, returning almost every play his opponent made. Gould and Miles will compete for the championship May 4.

GIANTS BEAT BOSTON; HIGHLANDERS LOSE

Griffith's Men Get the Worst End of a Struggle Against Rejuvenated Enemy on the New England Club's Grounds.

(Special to The Evening World.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE GROUNDS, BOSTON, May 1.—The Highlanders lost the game this afternoon by a score of 4 to 3. It was a hard-fought affair throughout and anybody's game up to the end. Both Brockett and Pruitt were touched up quite freely.

President John J. Taylor, of the Boston American League Baseball Club, before the game this afternoon appointed Robert Unglaub, first baseman and captain, to the position of manager of the team. Unglaub succeeds George Huff, former manager of athletics at the University of Illinois, who resigned after a week in the position of manager here.

Unglaub was formerly with the New York American League team. He will still act as first baseman, which position he has filled well. Huff leaves tonight for Illinois, where he will resume his old position at Champaign. He will act as a scout for players for the Boston Americans during the season.

With reference to his resignation, Huff said: "I did not really want the job in the first place. I did not think I was the man for it. I think still less now that I've tried."

President Taylor said: "I don't blame Mr. Huff a bit. If a man finds he is not in right it is the straight and manly thing for him to say so and quit."

First Inning.

Hoffman tried hard, but in his three attempts was unable to touch Pruitt's shoots so sat down. Keeler bunted and Pruitt gathered it up, tossing it over to Unglaub, rather poorly, but making the second out. Elberfeld had more success. He met the first ball served up and whacked it into centre for a nice single. It netted nothing, however, as Chase a moment later rapped a bounder to Wagner that forced Elberfeld, Ferris covering. NO RUNS.

Sullivan knocked the first ball pitched into the middle garden for a single. Parent bounded one down to Laporte, who tossed it over to Chase for an out, but an attempt at a double play failed, Sullivan being too fast. Unglaub popped up one for Chase. Collins singled to right, scoring Sullivan. Collins was caught stealing. Kleinow to Williams. ONE RUN.

Second Inning.

Laporte rapped a fast bounder to the left for a base. Pruitt stepped Conroy's sizzler, toss it to Wagner, forcing Laporte, and Wagner to Unglaub doubled Conroy. Sullivan made a spectacular catch of Williams's long fly. NO RUNS.

Grimshaw opened Boston's half of the second with a single to left. Ferris was the first man to go down on strikes. Wagner was given a pass. Williams and Chase took care of Shaw. Brockett tossed Pruitt's bounder over to Chase. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Kleinow placed a single in right and went to third on Brockett's single to left. Kleinow came home with the first run and Brockett went down to second when Hoffman singled to centre. Keeler sacrificed, Shaw to Unglaub. Elberfeld filed to Sullivan, scoring Brockett and Hoffman went to third. Collins and Unglaub took care of Chase. TWO RUNS.

Sullivan drove a two-bagger into the left field, but he tried to stretch it to a three-timer and was out, Conroy to Laporte. Parent filed to Conroy. Laporte juggled Unglaub's grounder, throw wild to first, allowing Unglaub to reach second. Collins's high foul was easy for Chase. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Wagner made a great running catch of Laporte's fly. Conroy was out, Collins to Unglaub. Ferris to Unglaub was enough to end Williams's grounder. NO RUNS.

Grimshaw was out on strikes. Ferris sailed one out to Conroy. Wagner singled to left, and was out stealing, Kleinow to Elberfeld. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Kleinow filed to Sullivan. Brockett popped one up to Ferris. Hoffman singled to right. Keeler beat out his bunt for a scratch hit. Elberfeld drove one down to Wagner, who touched second, forcing Keeler. NO RUNS.

Shaw singled to left. He took second on Pruitt's sacrifice. Brockett to Chase. Sullivan fouled out to Kleinow. Shaw made a great steal of third base on the out. Parent went out, Elberfeld to Chase. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Chase fouled out to Collins. Laporte was out on strikes. Conroy beat out his infield hit. Conroy tried to steal second, but was out, Shaw to Ferris. NO RUNS.

Unglaub popped up an easy one to Williams. Collins singled to centre. Grimshaw's grasser to Elberfeld forced Collins at second, Williams covering. Grimshaw was forced the same way, Elberfeld to Williams, on Ferris's bounder. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Williams doubled to left. Kleinow was out, Pruitt to Unglaub. Brockett went out, Ferris to Unglaub. Hoffman was out, Wagner to Unglaub. NO RUNS.

Wagner's high foul was easy for Kleinow. Laporte made a great stop and throw to Chase of Shaw's bounder. Pruitt gave himself a surprise by driving a two-timer into the left garden. Sullivan got a base on balls. Brockett pulled down Parent's bounder, but fumbled it and the bases were full. Unglaub laced a three-bagger to the left garden, scoring Pruitt, Sullivan and Parent. Collins popped up an easy foul for Kleinow. THREE RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Collins took care of Keeler's high foul. Elberfeld started on the circuit after Pruitt had nearly fractured his ribs with an inshoot. Chase could not do better than raise a fly for Grimshaw. Laporte forced Elberfeld at second to Wagner, unassisted. NO RUNS.

Grimshaw safe on Laporte's poor throw to Chase. Grimshaw was forced, Elberfeld to Williams on Ferris's bounder. The same play retired Ferris on Wagner's bounder. Wagner was out trying to steal second, Kleinow to Elberfeld. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning.

Conroy doubled into right. Williams drove one to Wagner, who tossed to Collins to catch Conroy, but Collins dropped the ball and both were safe. Williams was forced at second, Wagner to Ferris, on Kleinow's grounder. Thomas batted for Brockett. Wagner and Unglaub took care of his effort. Conroy coming home with a run. Kleinow went to second. Hoffman went out, Pruitt to Unglaub. ONE RUN.

(Special to The Evening World.)

POLO GROUNDS, May 1.—A drizzling rain fell on the second game between Boston and the Giants to-day, and the crowd was consequently cut down to less than 3,000. It was a dull, dreary afternoon, and the most rabid baseball crank had difficulty in getting enthusiastic.

McGinnity started to pitch for the Giants, and was doing well, but a combination of a hit, a base on balls and an error gave Boston one run in the first inning, and made them troublesome. Dorner opposed McGinnity in the box. Capt. McGann was indisposed and Bowerman took his place at first.

First Inning.

Bates smashed a line drive straight into Strang's hands. Tenney got a base on balls. Beaumont singled over second base, and as it ran through Strang's legs, Tenney raced all the way home and Beaumont took second. Howard died on a grounder to McGinnity, advancing Beaumont to third. Bridwell struck out. ONE RUN.

Shannon led off for the Giants with a single to left. Strang tried to bunt, but in the attempt struck out. Devlin singled to left, advancing Spike to second. Bridwell threw out Seymour, but both runners advanced on the play. Beaumont muffed Bresnahan's long fly, allowing Shannon and Devlin to score. Ritchey threw out Bowerman. TWO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Ritchey struck out. Brain grounded out to Daniels. Brown struck out, but Bresnahan dropped the last ball and threw to Bowerman at first. NO RUNS.

Beaumont stood in his tracks and caught Dahlen's fly. Corcoran flied to Howard. McGinnity struck out. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Dorner was hit on the fifth vertebras by a pitched ball. Bates was given a base on balls. Tenney tried to sacrifice, but rolled in front of the plate, and Bresnahan threw Dorner out at third. Beaumont hit into a double play, Corcoran to Dahlen to Bowerman. NO RUNS.

Shannon flied to Ritchey. Browne dropped a bunt toward Dorner and beat it to first. Shannon walked. Seymour hit into a double play, Ritchey getting the ball, touching second and throwing to first. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning

Howard banged a single into left. Bridwell hit a grounder to Dahlen, forcing Howard out at second. Ritchey grounded to McGinnity, forcing Bridwell the same way. McGinnity threw out Brain at first. NO RUNS.

Bridwell threw out Bresnahan. Bowerman singled to left. Bridwell threw out Dahlen, but Bowerman took second on the play. Corcoran singled to right, scoring Bowerman, but was caught between first and second. ONE RUN.

Fifth Inning.

Browne struck out. Dorney out. Corcoran to Bowerman. Bates also struck out. NO RUNS.

McGinnity flied to Tenney. Shannon bumped a liner against right field fence for two bags. Ritchey threw out Brown. Devlin singled over second, scoring Shannon. Devlin was out stealing second, Brown to Ritchey. ONE RUN.

Sixth Inning.

Tenney flied to Browne, who made a pretty running catch over the foul line. Corcoran threw out Beaumont. Howard flied to Bowerman. NO RUNS.

Seymour flied to Howard. Bresnahan flied to Bates. Bowerman flied to Beaumont. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

McGinnity threw out Bridwell. Ritchey lifted a high one to Seymour. Brain popped out to Devlin. NO RUNS.

Bridwell caught Dahlen's short fly. Bridwell threw out Corcoran. Ritchey attended to McGinnity. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Brown singled to centre. McGinnity fumbled Dorner's grounder, and he also was safe. Bates slashed a pretty double into right, scoring Brown and sending Dorner to third. Tenney singled to centre, sending both Dorner and Bates home and tieing the score. Beaumont hit to McGinnity, forcing Tenney out at second. McGinnity to Corcoran. Beaumont took second, as Corcoran threw out Howard. Bridwell flied to Seymour. THREE RUNS.

Shannon out to Brain. Brown singled to right. Brown stole second. Devlin flied to Ritchey. Seymour whipped the ball into right for a single, scoring Brown. Bresnahan soaked into the right field bleachers for a home run sending Seymour home ahead of him. Bowerman singled to left. Dorner threw out Dahlen. THREE RUNS.

Ninth Inning.

Ritchey flied to Dahlen. Brain flied to Seymour. Devlin threw out Brown. NO RUNS.
