KEENE'S PETER PAN WINS BELMONT, WITH SUPERMAN AN EASY SECOND

Ring and Lawns Jammed Long Before First Race was Called—T. S. Martin Captures the Whitney Memorial from Good and Plenty in Stirring Race.

Peter Pan, owned by James R. Keene, won the Belmont at one and three-eighth miles in the remarkably fast time of 2.15 3-5—a new world's record for the distance. Peter Pan carried 126 pounds. The old record of 2.17 3-5 was made by Irish Lad, with the same impost at Sheepshead Bay track, June 25, 1904.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BELMONT PARK RACE TRACK, N. Y., May 30.—Not any day since Belmont Park threw open the gates to its spacious and magnificent course has there been present such a monster crowd as gathered within the enclosure to-day, fully 45,000 racegoers of every degree being on hand when the horses in the first race were called to the post. The crowd came by train, trolley, automobile, horse-drawn vehicles, from the old-fashioned puncon to the up-to-date tally-ho, and a fleet of motor cyclists added their compliment as well as travelers who arrived on Shank's mare.

It was not merely the running of the classic Belmont that attracted, but, of course, that was a magnet for the turf aristocracy, but it was the weather and the yearning for a good race day, when weather conditions would permit of an enjoyable outing, of course, with a chance for a little speculation on the side. Never has grandstand or clubhouse veranda presented a prettier sight with the gathering of handsomely dressed women, who for once at a race track almost equalled the attendance of the men.

Society did not confine itself to club house environment either. Men and women of the upper ten traversed the grand stand aisles or peacocked themselves on the grand stand lawn, seeming for the notice to enjoy shoulder to shoulder acquaintance, at least, with the hoi-polloi, and if one didn't know the distinguee they couldn't have been told in the throng. It was only the divisional line fence cutting the line of the club house and grand stand, through the gate of which society passed, that afforded the distinctive mark to the uncultured.

But what about the races? Never a finer conditioned or a more prized lot of thoroughbreds were carded to go in the various events, and never a better course was prepared for their performances. The brown ribbon-like track was smoothened to billiard table evenness and as dry as the proverbial bone. In racing parlance it was lightning fast, and the infield, over which the timber-toppers were to compete in the Whitney Memorial, was in grand shape. Exhibited on the grandstand lawn was a massive piece of silver plate bearing the modest inscription "Belmont Stakes, 1907." This was to go to the winner of the classic Belmont Stakes.

Laughing Eyes Won.

Followers of The Evening World selections got a good start on the day's investments in the first race when Laughing Eyes, in the field of nineteen, scored in the stretch battle, beating out second and third Youthful, which finished Requite and Ponita respectively. At least half the field appeared to be fighting it out toward the end and none but the judges could seperate the first, second and third. Requite was the "wise" tip before the race and good. She had within an ace of making good. She had worked a fast half. Masson was also a tip. The colt ran an impressive race. By the time the odds in the first race were posted the betting ring throughout its length and breadth was jammed, until it was at the risk of a limb that one ventured into the human maelstrom.

Jack Atkin a Sprinter.

Miller and Suffrage in the second dash—a six and a half furlong straightaway sprint designated the Clermont Handicap—were beaten, to the chagrin of the Millerites and Keene stable followers, for Suffrage was favorite and a not one at that. It remained for speedy and game Jack Atkins to administer the blow. He grabbed the lead and won with something to spare, and as a natural sequence Jack Atkin will be heralded henceforth as a great sprinter. His win was a high class. "Barney" Schreiber, of St. Louis, certainly knows a racehorse when he sees one, and knows how to bet, too, for the stable went hide and heels on the colt. And Suffrage, even with Miller up, couldn't do better than third. Charles Edward snatching second.

Kentucklan Wins Cup.

The club house became enthusiastic over the running of the Amateur Cup. C. H. Smith, of Kentucky, mounted on Master of Craft, the favorite, won. Senator McCarren had Sam Bernard specially trained for the event, and a tip on the actor-named skate predominated Guam made good in a degree. He finished second. Progress was a good third. Waterbury made the early running, but retired at the stretch turn gracefully.

RACE TRAIN CRASH PUTS PASSENGERS IN A WILD PANIC

Guard Lets Down the Steel Step and It Rips Out Part of Platform at Belmont Park Station.

An electric train which left the Flatbush avenue station on the Long Island road at 12.20 oclock this afternoon, crowded with racegoers, met with an accident at the Belmont Park race track station. The accident caused the injury of four persons—one of them a woman—and was followed by a panic among the passengers which the Pinkerton police and the train hands could not quell until the frantic people had rushed from the train trampling and shoving each other.

Men and women were thrown down in the frenzied rush, and it is wonderful more were not injured or several killed.

The injured were:

HOBBS, R. S., No. 1458 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn.

RAUSCH, JACOB, Long Island Railroad employee.

RUHL, Mrs. ANNA, of South Elliott place, Brooklyn.

O'DONNELL, WILLIAM, a Pinkerton policeman.

The manner of the accident was re-

HIGHLANDERS LOSE SECOND TO SENATORS

Game Shortened to Seven Innings—Griff Lands Kitson.

(Special to The Evening World.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE GROUNDS, WASHINGTON, May 30.—Weak pitching by Earl Moore gave Washington a commanding lead in the first two innings against the Highlanders this afternoon. Four runs were made in these two innings. Brocket, who replaced Moore, was batted freely for five more runs during the rest of the game.

The game was called at the end of the seventh inning to enable the Highlanders to catch a train.

Clark Griffith closed a deal just before the afternoon game whereby the Highlanders have secured the services of Frank Kitson. Kitson was secured by Washington from Detroit in exchange for Pitcher Townsend.

First Inning.

Keeler bunted a pop fly to Falkenberg. Elberfeld and Chase were both thrown out by Altizer. NO RUNS.

Moore gave Ganley a base on balls and hit Jones. Cross moved them up a base, sacrificing to Chase, unassisted. Hickman hit to Chase, who threw to Kleinow, and Ganley scored when Chase dropped a throw while attempting to run Ganley down between third and home. Hickman reaching second. Altizer flied to Williams. Anderson singled, scoring Jones and Hickman. Nill forced Anderson, Williams to Elberfeld. THREE RUNS.

Second Inning.

Altizer handled grounders for outs from both Conroy and Williams. Hoffman sat down on strikes. NO RUNS.

Heydon singled and was forced out, Moore to Elberfeld by Falkenberg. Ganley singled to Keeler, who threw to Moriarty, retiring Falkenberg at third. Ganley stole second and scored on Jones's single. Elberfeld got Cross's line fly. ONE RUN.

Third Inning.

Moriarty flied to Hickman. Kleinow walked. Thomas batted for Moore and dropped a single into centre. Keeler out, Nill to Hickman. Elberfeld out same way. NO RUNS.

Brocket went into the box in place of Moore. Chase made a fine pick-up of Elberfeld's throw of Hickman's grounder. Altizer flied to Conroy. Anderson was hit by pitched ball and scored on Nill's two-bagger past Hoffman. Heydon walked. Brocket made a wild throw to catch Nill off second and Nill scored, while Heydon raced to third. Falkenberg struck out. TWO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Chase took two bases on Nill's bad throw of his grounder and went to third on Conroy's fly to Jones. Williams took two bases on a tap to Falkenberg, while Chase was being chased between third and home, Chase scoring. Hoffman took two bases for a rap to Falkenberg, while Williams was being put out between second and third. Moriarty out, Falkenberg to Hickman. ONE RUN.

Ganley singled and was out stealing. Kleinow to Elberfeld, after Jones went out on bunt strikes. Cross out, Elberfeld to Chase. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Kleinow flied to Anderson. Brocket out, Cross to Hickman. Keeler walked. Ganley caught Elberfeld's long fly. NO RUNS.

McGuire began catching in place of Kleinow. Hickman flied to Conroy. Altizer out, Elberfeld to Chase. Anderson lined safely over Elberfeld and was caught stealing, McGuire to Elberfeld. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Chase singled past Falkenberg. Conroy grounded out to Altizer, Chase reaching second. Williams singled, scoring Chase. Hoffman forced Williams, Nill to Altizer. Moriarty forced Hoffman, Altizer to Nill. ONE RUN.

Nill singled. Heydon was hit by a pitched ball. Falkenberg drew four balls, filling the bases. Ganley's single scored Nill and Heydon. Jones bunted safely, filling the bases again. Cross hit to Elberfeld, who caught Falkenberg going home on a force out. Hickman flied to Conroy and Ganley scored. Altizer walked, again filling the bases. Anderson out, Morarity to Chase. THREE RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

McGuire fanned. Brockett out, Falkenberg to Hickman. Keeler singled. Elberfeld walked. On Chase's grounder to Altizer, Elberfeld was thrown out at second. NO RUNS.

Nill struck out. Heydon walked. Falkenberg fanned. Ganley forced Heydon, Williams to Elberfeld. NO RUNS.

Game called to permit Highlanders to catch a train.

Base Hits—Off Moore, 4; off Brockett, 1.

First Base on Balls—Off Moore, 1; off Brockett, 3; off Falkenburg, 3.

First Base on Errors—Highlanders, 1; Left on Bases—Highlanders, 4; Washington, 4.

Umpire—Connolly.

25,000 SEE THE GIANTS WIN GAME WITH THE QUAKERS

Mathewson Pitches Afternoon Battle, and Team Mates Find Batting Eyes After Defeat in the Morning Session --- Chicago Won Both Games To-Day, Putting Giants in Second Place.

(Special to The Evening World.)

POLO GROUNDS, May 30.—A Memorial Day crowd of 25,000 people packed itself into the grounds this afternoon, to see the second game between New York and Philadelphia.

As a precaution, Secretary Knowles had the gates thrown open at 12.30, and it proved a wise move, as baseball enthusiasts began coming in before 1 o'clock. At 2 o'clock special officers were necessary to keep the rows of fans in line leading to the various entrances, and seats in the grandstand at that time were at a premium. At 3 o'clock every seat had been taken, and at least 3,000 persons were banked up against the screen in center field.

At the back of the stands the people were jammed in the aisles like sardines, until it became necessary to force a passage so as to comply with the law. An extra squad of Pinkertons was on hand to preserve order and to prevent the more ardent rooters from encroaching on the field.

Ground Rule—Two Bases.

Just before the game began the capacity of the grounds had been taxed to overflowing and thousands of men and boys and some women poured on to the grass in a solid stream and were seated on the grass in a circle around the playing field from fifteen to thirty feet deep.

The crowd on the field finally became so large that the ball players formed into line and marched against the mass, so the game could begin. McGraw proved an excellent policeman, as the crowd moved in any direction that he asked it to. There was not a regular policeman on the ground, but with the ball players to assist the Pinkertons, perfect order was maintained.

As the crowd had completely surrounded the field, a ground rule was established, limiting all hits into the crowd to two bases.

The loss of the morning game and the winning of both games at Pittsburg by Chicago, put the Giants one game behind.

First Inning.

Thomas flied to Browne. Knabe beat out a slow hit to Dahlen. Dahlen ran back to third and got Titus's pop fly. McGee retired the side with a fly to Shannon. NO RUNS.

Shannon got a base on balls. Browne cracked a single into left, advancing Shannon to second. Devlin advanced both with a beautiful sacrifice, Ritchey to Bransfield. Shannon scored on Seymour's long fly to Titus and Browne took third. Bresnahan fooled Courtney by dropping a safe hunt toward third, scoring Browne. Bresnahan stole second. McGann fouled out to Bransfield. TWO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Mathewson threw out Bransfield. Courtney singled. Corcoran got Doolin's grounder, but threw badly to Dahlen and Bill dropped the ball, allowing both runners to be safe. Dooin struck out. Lush batted for Ritchey, and went out on an easy grounder to Mathewson. NO RUNS.

Dahlen struck out. Corcoran singled. Mathewson fouled out to Dooin. Shannon then set the immense crowd wild by driving the ball high into the right-field bleachers for a home run, sending Corcoran in ahead of him. Browne followed with a two-base smash into the right-field crowd. Devlin fouled into Dooin's hands. TWO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Dahlen's fast throw got Thomas by a step. Knabe banged another single into left. In his anxiety to make a double play, Corcoran fumbled Titus's grounder and both runners were safe. Dahlen threw out McGee. Dahlen also threw out Bransfield. NO RUNS.

Seymour singled. He was out stealing second, Dooin to Doolin. Bresnahan drove a hot smash through Courtney for two bases. He was out stealing third, Dooin to Courtney. McGann hit into the left field crowd for two bases. Dahlen singled to center, McGann scoring. Corcoran flied out to McGee. ONE RUN.

Fourth Inning.

Courtney struck out. Doolin hit into the crowd for two bases. Doolin fouled to McGann. Duggleby struck out. NO RUNS.

Mathewson flied out to Doolin. Shannon flied out to Titus. Browne singled, but was out stealing second, Dooin to Doolin. NO RUNS.

Fifth Inning.

Thomas fouled to Devlin. Knabe popped a fly to Dahlen. Titus walked. McGee hit into the crowd in left for

BROOKLYN WON IN BOSTON IN 14TH INNING

Hard Battle in Afternoon With Fine Fielding and Pitching.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NATIONAL LEAGUE GROUNDS, BOSTON, May 30.—The weather cleared at noon to-day, and half an hour before time for play to be called 5,000 persons were on hand to see the afternoon game between Brooklyn and Boston. Both teams were eager to get away with the game, which would give the majority of the series. Owing to an overflow the crowd in the outfield made ground rules necessary.

First Inning.

Alperman singled. Casey's attempted sacrifice dumped in front of the plate and Brain threw it into centre field trying to catch Alperman for a force. Alperman getting to third. Lumley bumped one down to Ritchey who tossed to Tenney. Casey was doubled up, Tenney to Bridwell, Alperman coming home. Batch out, Ritchey to Tenney. ONE RUN.

Tenney was out, Henley to Hummel. Beaumont filed to Maloney. Howard was out, Henley to Hummel. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Hummel sailed a long fly to Beaumont. Maloney and Lewis both rolled easy ones down to Ritchey, who tossed them to Tenney. NO RUNS.

Bates was an easy out, Alperman to Hummel. The same order applied to Ritchey. Brain singled. Bridwell was out, Lewis to Hummel. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Butler got a safe one into the left. Henley was out on strikes. Alperman bumped one down to Bridwell who threw to Ritchey, forcing Butler. Casey was out, Flaherty to Tenney. NO RUNS.

Needham out, Lewis to Hummel. Flaherty got a two timer. Tenney got a base. A wild pitch advanced both men. Beaumont singled, scoring Flaherty and Tenney. Howard's bounder to Lewis was passed to Alperman, forcing Beaumont. Howard stole second. Bates was hit by a pitched ball. Howard stole third. Bates stole second. Ritchey filed to Lewis. TWO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Lumley out, Flaherty to Tenney. Flaherty got Batch's warm bounder to Tenney. Hummel singled. Maloney out, Ritchey to Tenney. NO RUNS.

Brain lifted the ball over the left fence for the whole circuit. Bridwell out. Alperman to Hummel. Batch made a beautiful running catch of Needham's long fly. Flaherty struck out. ONE RUN.

Fifth Inning.

Lewis got a base on balls. Butler singled and Lewis went to third. Henley singled, scoring Lewis. Butler getting third. Alperman was out, Flaherty to Tenney. Casey filed to Beaumont and Butler scored. Lumley out, Tenney to Flaherty. TWO RUNS.

Tenney out. Lewis to Hummel. Beaumont out, Casey to Hummel. Howard singled and was out trying to steal second. Butler to Lewis. NO RUNS.

From the fifth to the fourteenth inning it was a row of goose eggs on both sides.

Fourteenth Inning.

Batch singled to centre and went to second on Hummel's sacrifice. Tenney to Flaherty. Maloney singled to right and Batch scored. Jordan popped one up to Tenney. Maloney tried to score and was out, Tenney to Needham. ONE RUN.

Brain was out, Casey to Jordan. Bridwell was out, Alperman to Jordan. Needham popped one up for Butler. NO RUNS.
