WOMEN AS LAMPLIGHTERS

This famous official photograph shows one of the many women who are relieving men for the trench by taking their place at home. This woman, one of an organization of gas workers, is lighting the street lamps, doing the same work that the men did before they were all needed to make the world safe for democracy.

Womanly Dream.

Today one of Oliver Schreiner's dreams is coming true. It is the one that symbolizes the new woman and is called "Life's Gifts."

"I was a woman sleeping. In her dream she dreamed Life stood before her and held in each hand a gift—in the one Love, in the other, Freedom. And she said to the woman, 'Choose,' and the woman would long and she said 'Freedom.' And Life said, 'Thou hast not chosen. If thou hadst said 'Love' I should have given thee that thou didst ask for, and I should have gone from thee and returned no more. Now the day will come when I shall return. On that day I shall bring both gifts in one hand.' I heard the woman touch in her sleep."

His Luck.

There is always in every American hospital in France the unfortunate patient in the center of a group of disabled wounded from the battle field.

"How did you get hurt?" was asked of a depressed individual whose leg was amputated just up to the overhead trolley system.

"I was the disgusted reply, "ran into a trolley 200 miles from the front."

Morale, They Call It, and It Is Winning the War

By Bruce Barton

Back from the line they came, their minds full of pictures that refused to fade.

They did not smile; they did not joke; they did not speak. Like men grown old in a single night, they dropped heavily upon the ground, their eyes staring cold before them.

In a moment the bar door opened and a Secretary came out. His eye took in the situation at a glance. It was no time for talk; he turned back into his bar again.

And suddenly a baseball rolled out and bounded on the ground; then came a bat; and gloves; and a catcher's mask.

A man who sat beside the bar picked up the ball and turned it idly in his hand as if it had been some foreign thing. Another man picked up the bat, swung it and played absently with a glove.

Then, like flame out of smouldering embers, a baseball game was born full fledged behind that little bar. The air was filled with laughter, and the loud shouts of men whose minds are cleansed of every worry, and whose hearts are free.

No peace came to these men who had been so hardened with their memories. And in the morning they were fresh,—as men who had never fought.

They call it morale—the miracle that restores men's spirits and sends them back every morning fresh and confident.

You have to-day your chance to contribute to morale. It is a chance you must not miss.

For morale is winning the war.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes:

"From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, and life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. . .

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

Unlike Topsy—Swift & Company Has Not "Jest Growed"

Swift & Company in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done.

It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously.

The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of a half a century.

Because of all of these elements working in correlation and union, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected.

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meating the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet you can get by simply writing to us at the address below is a human document. Write Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.
