'BOOKIES' LOSE $50,000 ON LADY WINIFRED'S RACE

Johnson Entry Got Best of Start and Galloped Under Wire.

FLIP FLAP A WINNER.

Meggs Hill and Zal Showed Ability in the Third at Gravesend.

(Special to The Evening World.)

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, June 6.—Frederick Johnson's Lady Winifred won the Criterion Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, but an advantage at the start virtually gave her the race. She might have won with an even break, for she won rather easily. Meggs Hill figured the best filly in the race the way the event was run and the manner of the start. Meggs Hill recovered a great deal of ground, and was going faster than anything in the race at the end. Ella O'Neill, away poorly, was third.

The race was a heavy betting feature for Mr. Johnson, John E. Madden, who has an interest in the filly; Trainer McCreery and a host of stable followers. They backed the filly from 4 to 1 to 11 to 5 at the close, and took $50,000 easily out of the ring.

Frederick Johnson is a wealthy resident of the Bronx and a club-house member. He personally sent a heavy commission into the ring, assuring his friends that the filly could not lose.

After the start, when left several of the company in bad rear positions, Aimee C. being practically left, Lady Winifred opened up a gap of several lengths and rounded into the stretch with an equal advantage over the others. The race itself was uninteresting for so important a turf fixture.

Eight Started in First.

The twenty-two carded originally to go into the first were reduced to a modest eight when the scratch pencil got in its fine work. All the top weights went by the board, leaving the ante-post tipster and handicappers afloat at sea. New figures had to be made and these saw Red River installed favorite over They're Off, Saracinesca, Easton, Zal, Jacquin, Red River and Lord Loval constituting the field. Red River would surely have won but for the start, which saw the colt back in the ruck and an ill-judged ride. Oraculum and They're Off made the running into the stretch, when They're Off was done and Zal came with a rush, liking the going. Red River came, too, with a fine burst, but could not get up in time to head Oraculum, who won by a head from Red River, a head in front of Zal. The latter was a nearly ripe speed merchant in the going, which was heavy and sticky.

Rider Broke Collarbone.

Two accidents marred the steeplechase, the second on the card, resulting in the defeat of the favorite, Jimmy Lane and the breaking of a gentleman jockey's collarbone. Mr. Smith, who rode Navajo. His mount slipped on the flat and Mr. Smith fell heavily. Jimmy Lane and Phantom, the winner, were having a duel to themselves when Lane stumbled in a flight over a hurdle and threw his boy Ownes. Phantom then went on, winning easily from Caller, who beat Dublan a sixteenth of a mile to the finish. After the race considerable criticism was heard of the tactics of Ray, who rode the winner. He crowded and crossed Lane several times during the trip.

Flip Flap Had Speed.

They played Flip Flap to-day, and the Bennett mare just romped off with the Westminster Handicap for a mile and a quarter, to the sorrow of the "bookies" and the delight of her stable management. She took the lead at the far turn and increased it to the end, winning easily. The real struggle was for the place between Philander and Running Water, the former getting the verdict by a head.

Flavigny Was Right.

Flavigny's price see-sawed in the ring, and when the top price, 7—5, was reached in pound the right coin and in romped the favorite, a clever winner over Flowaway. The latter was also played at the opening. Flowaway and Grace Larson cut out the pace. Flavigny, last, gradually improved her position until, entering the last sixteenth, she had everything her own way. Flowaway was next best over Magna Stella, third.

M'GINNITY TAKEN OUT; WILTSE FAILS TO HOLD.

Bases on Balls from "Iron Man" Proved Costly and His Mates Did Nothing at Bat Against Taylor Until Eighth Inning.

(Special to The Evening World.)

CHICAGO, July 6.—The Giants escaped a shutout this afternoon by a rally in the eighth inning. McGinnity's bases on balls were turned into enough runs to win the game. Wiltse replaced him, but the battle was already lost.

Though the first games are gone, the Giants have by no means given up hope of at least half of the four games. They remember full well when they came here last year and dropped the first game, only to turn around and win the next three, and recapture the lead, which was subsequently lost to Brooklyn.

McGraw is not a man to let one defeat cripple him, and he went to the grounds as full of fight as ever.

Chicago fans had evidently spent their venom toward the Giants yesterday, and this afternoon's early arrivals were fairly peaceful in their attitude toward the Eastern players.

To prevent any possibility of an outbreak, a large force of police was on hand to give the New York players protection, and they were continually on the lookout for any fan who showed a disposition to start something.

Fully 20,000 persons crowded into the grounds to see the second battle of the series.

The Board of Trade brass band, the shower of lemons, the "Muggsy" kite, and the cocoanuts were again among those present, but it did not matter, as yesterday's victory for the Cubs put everybody in a good humor and apparently there was no danger of violence.

McGinnity took the rubber for New York and Jack Taylor was selected to oppose him. Bowerman arrived from Michigan this morning and took the job as catcher, Bresnahan taking a rest.

First Inning.

Shannon opened proceedings with a hot bounder, which Taylor tossed to Chance. Browne's grounder was gobbled up by Evers, whose throw to first was perfect. Devlin was called out on strikes. NO RUNS.

Slagle struck out and Randall went the same way. This so aroused the admiration of the crowd that McGinnity was given a real live cheer. Sheckard died on a grounder to Corcoran. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Seymour flied to Sheckard and Bowerman was easily tossed out by Taylor, McGann grounded out, Hofman to Chance. NO RUNS.

Chance lifted a high fly to Shannon. Steinfeldt smashed a line drive straight to Bill Dahlen, who hung to the red-hot ball like a leech. Hoffman created a single into centre, and Evers banged another into the same spot, but Kling spoiled it for the crowd by striking out. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Dahlen's grounder got through Evers's legs, but Bill was doubled up with Corcoran a minute later on the latter's grounder, Evers to Hofman, to Chance. Taylor threw out McGinnity. NO RUNS.

Taylor's bounder jumped over McGinnity's head for a single. McGinnity got Slagle's grounder and threw it to Dahlen, forcing out Taylor. Slagle was out stealing second, Bowerman to Dahlen. Randall walked, and scored when Sheckard's single got by Shannon, Sheckard going to third. It looked as if Randall was out at the plate, but Umpire Rigler refused to listen to Bowerman's protest. Chance walked. When Umpire Rigler called Steinfeldt's long drive to right a foul, the Chicago players rushed around him in a wild protest, but he would not alter his decision. Steinfeldt hit to McGinnity and the ball bounced back toward the plate. McGinnity tried to throw Sheckard out at the plate, but he scored. Hofman rolled out, McGann to McGinnity. TWO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Shannon flied to Slagle. Evers threw out Browne. Devlin fouled to Steinfeldt. NO RUNS.

Evers bounced a single off Devlin's shins. Kling popped a fly to McGinnity. Taylor singled, advancing Evers to third. Slagle walked, filling the bases. Randall's fly to Browne scored Evers and advanced the other two. Sheckard flied to Dahlen. ONE RUN.

Fifth Inning.

Taylor threw out Seymour. Steinfeldt ran into the crowd and caught Bowerman's foul fly. McGann flied to Sheckard. NO RUNS.

Chance flied to Seymour. Steinfeldt's red-hot smash bounded away from Dahlen for two bases. Hoffman flied to Dahlen. Evers lifted looper to Shannon. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Dahlen singled. Corcoran flied to Hoffman. McGinnity flied to Evers. Dahlen stole second, but Shannon rolled out to Evers. NO RUNS.

Kling flied to Browne. Taylor lifted one to Seymour. Slagle singled to right and was out stealing second, Bowerman to Dahlen. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Browne flied to Randall. Devlin died the same way, Randall making a beautiful running catch. Seymour flied to Sheckard. NO RUNS.

Randall popped out to Corcoran. Sheckard grounded out to McGann. Chance walked and stole second. Steinfeldt flied to Seymour. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Bowerman singled and went to third as McGann banged another to the same spot. McGann took second on Slagle's hot throw. Dahlen's smash was a hot shot for Hoffman and went for a single, scoring Bowerman and McGann. Corcoran sacrificed. Chance to Evers, advancing Dahlen. Strang batted for McGinnity and died to Slagle. Shannon walked. Browne flied to Slagle. TWO RUNS.
