"Schlitz—Pep-ish? I'll Say It Is"

"Some scratch—bracing aplenty—and no comeback."

That's what the man who works with his hands thinks about Schlitz. He realizes by results that Schlitz is a builder—helping the body replace waste tissues. He knows that Schlitz brings appetite with it—and satisfies that appetite demand. Schlitz is good at meals and between meals.

Schlitz is both food and drink. It contains every element necessary to the human body. Schlitz is made pure—properly aged to preclude biliousness—and completely fermented before it goes into the stomach. That's why there are no unpleasant after effects with Schlitz. The Brown Bottle protects its purity.

Schlitz is a healthful cereal drink.

Rainfall Sunday Unusually Spotted

Thomas Hagland, prominent farmer of Corpus Christi, accompanied by Mrs. Hagland, arrived in the city yesterday in automobile for a brief visit. Sage Tea Darkens Hair to Any Shade

Don't Stay Gray! Here's An Old-Time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of sage and sulphur for restoring hair is now left to the grandmothers. Gray, faded, lifeless hair is quickly darkened by this ancient mixture. Nothing else is so good for restoring the hair to its original color, and prevents scalp troubles. Dandruff, itching and dandruff disappear with washing and a few applications.

Just stopping at some drug store and asking for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is all that is necessary. This ready-to-use preparation is not sticky nor greasy, and is not easily detected. Its effect is so natural and so gradual that no one can tell you have applied it. Your hair seems to gain in beauty and vitality and becomes dark, glossy and attractive. Whether your hair be black or brown, blond or auburn, this simple mixture will restore it to its original color. Gray hair is usually coarse and wiry, while the hair that has faded is soft and silky. Gray hair is very susceptible to dandruff and scalp troubles, and should be treated at once to prevent further loss of hair.

Baby Girl Wins 3 First Prizes

Parents of Louisiana's "Champion Baby" raised her on Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

THERE is always a good deal of sickness in the summer months, due to the hot weather. The heat is especially severe on babies and children, and often it interferes with their development and growth. They lose appetite, pass restless nights, suffer from indigestion, and finally constipation.

In the hot Southern States mothers give a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, at the first symptom of constipation. This formula is known to druggists as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and they have sold it under that name for a quarter of a century. It is now the sole medicinal reliance in thousands of families.

Little Dorothy Boylan knows what real hot weather is ten months of the year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Boylan, and lives at 216 North Alexander St., in New Orleans. She has won three successive first prizes as the "Grand Champion Baby of Louisiana," and her parents say the only medicine they have ever given her is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has kept her healthy and built her up, and helped make it possible, they write, for Dorothy to be a prize-winning baby.

You can obtain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. You will find it pleasant to take, and it does not grips or weaken.

FREE Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 112 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. A million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.
