GIANTS TACKLE PITTSBURG, WITH MATTY TWIRLING

Big Pitcher Holds Down Pirates While Mates Get a Lead, Only to Lose It Three Innings Later.

(Special to The Evening World.)

BALL GROUNDS, PITTSBURG, June 14.—Four thousand persons saw the opening game between Pittsburg and the Giants this afternoon despite wet and soggy grounds, and all of them applauded Mathewson as he took the slab for New York.

The big fellow was in fine fettle for work, having rested for five days. His opening work showed he had speed, and Matty always has control.

Not in the least daunted by his recent defeat on the Polo Grounds, Leifield, the tall lefthander, was sent in against the Giants. They jumped at him right from the start, and a two-bagger and a single gave New York a run right off the reel.

First Inning.

Shannon led off with a clean two bagger into left and went to third on Browne's sacrifice, Leifield to Nealon. Devlin backed it up with a pretty single and Shannon came home. Seymour popped out to Sheehan and Devlin was caught stealing second, Gibson to Wagner. ONE RUN.

Matty started off like a whirlwind, striking out Hallman and Leach in quick succession. Clarke tarried a little while by hitting fouls, but he finally swung at the third one and went the same way. NO RUNS.

Second Inning.

Bresnahan was hit by a pitched ball. McGann beat an infield hit past Leifield. Dahlen fifted a high fly to Leach and Corcoran sent one soaring to Clarke. Mathewson flied to Hallman. NO RUNS.

Corcoran easily threw out Wagner. Abbaticchio went the same way. Nealon flied out to Shannon. NO RUNS.

Third Inning.

Shannon was called out on strikes. Leach made a great one-handed catch of Browne's liner. Devlin walked and stole second, but Seymour struck out, Gibson dropping the ball and then throwing to Nealon. NO RUNS.

Sheehan slammed a single past Devlin, but was forced out on Gibson's grounder, Corcoran to Dahlen. Leifield hit to Matty, who threw to Dahlen, forcing out Gibson. Hallman walked. Corcoran got Leach's bounder and touched Hallman out on the line. NO RUNS.

Fourth Inning.

Bresnahan flied to Leach. McGann singled to centre, but took out stealing second. Gibson to Wagner. Dahlen walked. Corcoran fouled to Gibson. NO RUNS.

Clarke smashed a long drive to left for three bags. Dahlen took a hot grounder from Wagner and threw him out at first, Clarke being unable to budge from third. Abby struck out, but Nealon saved the day for Pittsburg by driving a single to left which scored Clarke. Corcoran threw out Sheehan. ONE RUN.

Fifth Inning.

Mathewson was thrown out by Wagner, after the ball had bounded off Leifield's leg. Shannon again struck out. Browne was thrown out on a roller to Leifield. NO RUNS.

Gibson flied to Devlin and Shannon was waiting for Leifield's long fly to left. Hallman struck out. NO RUNS.

Sixth Inning.

Devlin was hit by a pitched ball, but was doubled up with Seymour when Cy shot a liner straight to Leifield, who threw to Nealon before Devlin could get back to the bag. Bresnahan beat out a bunt to third. McGann fouled out to Nealon. NO RUNS.

Leach fouled out to McGann and Matty threw out Clarke. Wagner's grounder was too hot for Dahlen and stood for a single. Wagner stole second. Abby was out, Matty to McGann. NO RUNS.

Seventh Inning.

Dahlen beat a slow one to the infield, but was forced out on Corcoran's roller, Leifield to Wagner. Corcoran stole second. Wagner threw out Mathewson, and Shannon flied to Clarke. NO RUNS.

Nealon flied to Seymour. Sheehan fouled to Bresnahan. Gibson walked. Matty threw out Leifield. NO RUNS.

Eighth Inning.

Browne flied to Wagner. Sheehan got Devlin at first, making a grand stop. Seymour smashed a double into left. Bresnahan flied to Clarke. NO RUNS.

Hallman flied to Shannon. Leach grounded out to Devlin. Clarke was hit by a pitched ball. Wagner flied out to Seymour. NO RUNS.

Ninth Inning.

McGann drove a long single into centre and advanced on Dahlen's sacrifice. Leifield to Nealon. Corcoran fouled to Gibson. Matty was hit by pitched ball and laid up for several minutes. He finally walked to first. Shannon flied to Leach. NO RUNS.

Dahlen threw out Abbey. Devlin threw out Nealon. Sheehan walked. Sheehan caught stealing second. Bresnahan to Corcoran. NO RUNS.

Tenth Inning.

Browne flied to Leach. Devlin grounded to Sheehan. Seymour smashed a two-bagger into left. Wagner threw out Bresnahan. NO RUNS.

Devlin nailed Gibson's grounder. Leifield struck out. Hallman also struck out. NO RUNS.

COURT OVERTURNS PART OF STATE FACTORY LAW.

ALBANY, June 14.—The Court of Appeals to-day sustained the judgment of the courts below in declaring unconstitutional the section of the Penal Code penalizing violations of the factory law with regard to hours of women's labor in factories.

The case was that of the people against David Williams. The decision of the lower courts, now sustained, was the basis of the argument which resulted in the Senate's defeat last week of the Hooper bill, extending the limitation to mercantile establishments.

WEST SIDE BALL PARK, CHICAGO, Ill., June 14.—Chicago and Brooklyn hooked up here this afternoon in the second battle of this series. One of the few fine days of this spring greeted the rooters to-day when they flocked to the ball yard. The attendance was larger than usual for Friday.

Yesterday's close victory and to-day's fine weather brought the fans out 5,000 strong. Donovan's tribe was looking for at least one scalp from the Cubs on this trip, and to this end Pat singled out Henley to pitch.

VETOES CHARTER REVISION BILL

Mayor Tells Why He Declined to Add Signature to Measure.

Mayor McClellan this afternoon vetoed the bill creating a commission to revise the Greater New York Charter. He said:

"This bill is thoroughly objectionable, in my opinion, for three reasons: First, it is mandatory in its terms and burdens the city with large expense without the consent of the local authorities. Second, it provides that this commission shall make a final report to the Governor, for submission to the Legislature, on or before the 1st day of December, 1907. The period of five months, thus allowed, is, in my judgment, far too short a time for an adequate and comprehensive revision of the City Charter. Third, it places the appointive power in the hands of the Governor, instead of the Mayor of the City of New York, and allows him to name non-residents as members of this commission.

"I fully appreciate the need of a thorough revision of the present city charter. In fact, I called attention to such a necessity in my annual message to the Board of Aldermen, dated Jan. 7, 1907. I then stated that there are in the amended charter a great number of provisions which, in the opinion of competent judges, are in need of a thorough revision. I believe that such revision should be initiated by the city itself. I propose in a short time to appoint a commission of the best available material to undertake this task."

By the terms of the bill the Mayor and Controller were to be members of the commission with one other local official and be a member of the Board of Aldermen. Alderman James Cowdon Murphy hoped to get that place.

BEACON LIGHT WINS HANDICAP IN EASY STYLE

Horse Liked the Mud and Looks Good for the Suburban.

THEY'RE OFF A WINNER.

Club House and Layers Alike Hit the Bookies Good Thing.

(Special to The Evening World.)

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, June 14.—Another formidable candidate for Suburban honors came into the public eye to-day, when Beacon Light, carrying 114 pounds, romped in a winner of the fourth race at a mile and a quarter. If the course is muddy on Suburban Day Beacon Light will have a host of followers because of the Star Shoot colt's fine showing to-day. The colt is in the classic with 100 pounds and no penalties accruing up to date.

Of the eighteen original candidates carded for the day's handicap, but eight went to the post, the track then being a veritable quagmire and the rain falling in torrents.

Cederstrome, with characteristic bluff, went to the front, setting a warm pace, with Dan Buhre in close attendance. Beacon Light was in the middle of the bunch, but moved up at will at the far turn. Cederstrome had enough rounding into the stretch and retired when Beacon Light moved up, easily taking the lead. The favorite galloped to the finish then. Dan Buhre clung to second position, and Bartender, full of running, snatched third place. Go Between made no showing, and Flavigny, played down from 8 to 5 to 1, was nowhere.

The Beacon Light people cleaned up on their horse, whacking every book for hundreds confidently. Heavy plays on others, however, always afforded a good price against the winner.

Magazine Liked Mud.

Magazine, the winner of the first race, did not show up in the stretch as the backers of the favorite, Ancient, declared the colt would do. The going was sloppy and heavy and just suited the Magazine colt, who went out in front with Arasee and led the party a merry trip through the slush. Ancient was an odds on favorite and could not raise a decent gallop. But this does not mean that Ancient is of no account. She will gallop some day. Zieglen, off in the second division, made a stout rush at the finish and got second from the consistent and muddying Thermidor. The false price of twelves was lodged against Sheehan throughout, while Magazine closed at 18 to 5.

Herman Won the Second.

Don Creole tried to make a runaway race of the second, but faltered in the last sixteenth, when Herman, under a resolute ride by Beckman, made a well-timed rush and beat the pacemaker on the post. Arabo next challenged Don Creole, but the old steeplechaser could not get up in time. The Don lasting, A will try and plunge sent Jacquin's price tumbling, but he was nowhere in the contest.

Gene Russell Was Fast.

Gene Russell proved the good thing the figures indicated, the gelding getting off in the lead and staying there to the end, his light impost and natural liking for the mud enabling him to win easily. Blue Heron and Hollister fought it out for the place, the former getting the verdict. The winner was played down from seven to five to four to five by large commissioners from the club house, the public also going to the gelding as if it was all over but the shouting.

JAPANESE CONSULAR REPORT ON OUTRAGES.

All the Leading Papers in Tokio to Print It To-Morrow.

TOKIO, June 14.—A Consular report dated May 25, which tells in a graphic but unsensational manner the facts connected with the recent assaults upon Japanese in San Francisco, will appear in all the papers here to-morrow, and some expression of public indignation is expected.

It is likely, however, that the papers will conform with the official advice given them yesterday on refraining from the publication of any inflammatory matter, as any action in defiance thereof means punishment, provided for in the press law.

RICHARD CROKER REPORTED VERY ILL.

A report was received here to-day that Richard Croker was very ill at his home in Ireland. Returning from his winning of the Derby he was enthusiastically greeted and serenaded. Serious throat complications are said to have caused and all callers are forbidden the house.

Kilts Dale laid easy behind the pace to the stretch, where he came on and won easily. Thatcher was always near the leader and had plenty of early speed, but stopped to a walk and just lasted for third money.

LETTER ORCHARD GOT TRACED TO MINER'S HOME

Witness Against Haywood, Who Tells of Conversation Had With a Pinkerton, Hissed by Women in Court-Room.

POST-OFFICE RECORDS PART OF EVIDENCE IN THE CASE.

Girl Clerk Helps to Establish the Fact that "John Dempsey" Signed for Registered Package Which Was Sent from Denver.

BOISE, Idaho, June 14.—Important evidence for the State corroborative of Harry Orchard's confession that he had attempted to take the life of Fred Bradley, of San Francisco, first with strychnine and then with dynamite, and that while at the Golden Gate he had received money from Pettibone, was introduced at the trial to-day.

Hull McClaughry, who was Assistant Postmaster at San Francisco when Orchard declared he was in that city to assassinate Bradley, produced Post-Office records to show that Orchard had received a registered letter and signed for it, using the name John Dempsey. Postal clerks from San Francisco and Denver were then called to show that the registered letter had been sent from "J. Wolf," at No. 1725 Stout street, Denver (the address of Pettibone's store), to J. Dempsey, at San Francisco. This letter was sent in August, 1906, when Orchard declared he went to San Francisco to slay Bradley. Orchard testified Pettibone sent him $100 at this time.

While this important testimony was being taken some woman in the audience hissed audibly. Judge Wood immediately stopped the proceedings and announced that if there was a repetition of any such demonstration he would clear the courtroom.

Defense Objects.

The records showing the delivery of the letter to "John Dempsey" were admitted in evidence by Judge Wood over the protest of the attorneys for the defense, who objected on the ground that there was nothing to connect the defendant, Haywood, with the matter. The receipt signature, "John Dempsey," was written so badly that Haywood's attorneys insisted it be not read but submitted to the jury for their inspection and individual conclusion.

Additional evidence bearing on Orchard's story was introduced. Laurence H. Guibbinni, the proprietor of the store near the Bradley home, was the first witness. It was here that Orchard says he made his rendezvous when he was watching the Bradley house. Guibbinni, an Italian, has been here for several days. He is a small man, quick and intelligent. Orchard, or Barry, as he called himself while he frequented the Guibbinni store, made himself very popular with the family. It was the proprietor who went out and secured the room opposite the Bradley house from which Orchard said he could look into Bradley's dining-room and gain the exact knowledge which enabled him to plant the bomb at the right time.

Had Spending Money.

Guibbinni testified that he introduced Orchard to the servants in the Bradley household. He said that Orchard came to his store and hung around and spent considerable money. Orchard asked questions about the Bradley household, asked to be introduced to the servants and asked Guibbinni to get him a room in the neighborhood.

Guibbinni saw Orchard moving his luggage the night before the Bradley house was dynamited. He also saw the poisoned milk. Guibbinni described the result of the bomb Orchard placed at the front door leading to the Bradley apartments in Washington street. The whole front of the house was blown out.

LONGSHOREMEN RIOT ON RETURN TO THEIR WORK

Dismissed Strikebreakers Are Attacked on Quitting Water Front.

POLICE BEATEN BACK.

Mobs Armed with Clubs and Stones Send Victims to Hospital.

The ending of the longshoremen's strike was attended by riots and assaults along the water front to-day, the strikers waiting for the strikebreakers to be dismissed from the piers and then falling upon them and beating them.

On Bethune street, near Washington, 300 strike-breakers were attacked by a mob armed with clubs and stones. Four Italians were so badly beaten that they were taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in a serious condition. Dozens of others had to be ministered to in drug stores and bandaged by ambulance surgeons.

Though there were fifty extra policemen along the piers, where they were assigned to duty when the strike began, they were unable to restore order before scores of men were beaten and stoned.

Fell Upon Discharged Men.

The trouble started immediately after 300 strike-breakers were paid off at the French and White Star line piers. The discharged men were dismissed as fast as their money could be doled out and they immediately hurried across town for the Italian quarter, the majority of them straggling up Bank street and then turning into Bethune.

The neighborhood was dense with strikers at the time. The saloons were
