REVIEW OF MARKETS

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Stocks, Money, Exchange, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, Provisions, Etc.

New York, May 15.—Opening quotations in the stock market were a vigorous notice served on all parties that ample capital was forthcoming to take up all offerings which timid holders of the so-called Flower stocks chose to offer, and also to the bears that powerful weapons were on hand to resist any onslaught by them. The different members of the Flower group were opened up 1 to 3 points above Saturday's close, the favorites of the late financial dealer, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and People's Gas, leading the rise. New York Air Brake, in its usual volatile manner, made an exceptional rise of 11 points in the first few minutes. These aggressive tactics served to dissipate any uneasiness in the speculative mind remaining after the violent fluctuations in Saturday's market. Early quotations from London also made it evident that there were large reserves of capital prepared to take advantage of any further sympathetic declines in the general list of securities. The buying there before the opening here was not only for New York account, presumably with the purpose of supporting values, but also on orders from Scotland, Germany and Holland, as well as a local English demand. The high opening here, especially in the Flower stocks, invited a considerable volume of offerings, but they were absorbed without the slightest hesitation, and in a short time they materially decreased. The pressure of liquidation being relieved, the vigor of the efforts at the support was somewhat relaxed, prices having failed to break, the bargain hunters were deterred from buying and the market fell into a quiet state.

A brisk upward movement in Sugar to 154⅝ and a lively demand for the Pacifics and the Grangers caused a general stiffening again throughout the list, but the smallness of the transactions discouraged a continuance of the bull speculation and the market fell back into comparative inactivity. The movement of prices became decidedly irregular, many of the more obscure specialties fluctuating quite widely, but in contrary directions. This was notably the case among the Iron and Steel stocks, Tennessee Coal, Colorado Fuel and National Steel, preferred, being notably weak. American Smelting and the Coalers were also consistently weak. This tendency and the apparent withdrawal of supporting orders invited a raid by the bears late in the day, particularly directed against Metropolitan Street Railway, which was raided down three points. The Grangers and Pacifics also suffered in the decline, except in Central and Southern Pacific, which were consistently strong. Metropolitan Railway rallied very strongly nine points, the local traction shares responding in sympathy, the bears covered, making the closing firm. The conspicuous changes were in the Flower stocks, which all closed higher, though below the best of the day. Otherwise changes in the prominent stocks were not large. Net gains predominated.

In the bond market there were some very heavy takings of Baltimore and Ohio 4's when issued. Dealings elsewhere were moderate and changes irregular. Total sales, par value $1,180,000. U. S. 3's advanced ½ in the bid price.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 592,300 shares.

New York, May 15.—Standard Oil, 4.86@4.88.

The Cotton Markets.

New York, May 15.—Following the more reassured feeling in Wall street, the cotton market was quite prompt to show a steadier front in the face of conditions more or less bearish, regarding the weather in the cotton belt and the progress being made by the new crop. The cables from Liverpool, moreover, were quite as bearish as looked for. But on the other hand, early English orders were for the purchase of cotton. Wall street also showed a disposition to buy cotton and advices from New England and from the dry goods district were still very favorable. After opening steady with prices unchanged to 2 points lower, however, the weather advices became the paramount influence and the market yielded a little under local selling, the bears taking advantage of the fact that the better conditions in Wall street were not attended by general speculative interest in cotton. At the best the market was narrow, the entire swing of the day being only a matter of 4 points, while the volume of business was limited.

The foreign demand gave preference to the new crop positions. The Southern interests was not a factor during the session, either one way or the other. The close was quiet and steady, 1 to 2 points net lower.
