TO-DAY is the date set for one of the most sensational hangings which has occurred in Washington for many years.

Howard J. Schneider shot his wife and brother-in-law last Spring, and was convicted in May following. While receiving sentence in court, he attempted to brain the district attorney with a chair. He cursed the Judge when passing sentence.

THE KHEDIVE COWED

The Mighty England Asserts Her Power in Poverty Stricken Egypt.

An Ultimatum Which Brought the Successors of the Pharaohs Quickly to Time.

CAIRO, Jan. 18. The flurry in Egyptian political affairs has ended in the complete withdrawal of the khedive from the position taken by him, and henceforth unless some untoward event occurs, Great Britain will have all to say as to who shall fill the Egptian cabinet officers.

Yesterday the khedive was handed an ultimatum from the government demanding the dismissal of the newly appointed ministry within twenty four hours. The ultimatum left no doubt that Great Britain was seriously interested in her determination not to relax her grip upon the country, and that the khedive's personal predilections would not be allowed to count for anything against what England believes to be her interests. The Egyptian ruler was plainly given to understand that his position was held only by the consent of Great Britain, and if that consent was withdrawn he would find himself in a precarious position.

Upon the expiration of the twenty fours given in the ultimatum, Lord Cromer, the British minister, went to the Abdin palace and demanded to know the decision the khedive had arrived at. The khedive, who had had a long conference with Nubar Pasha and Riaz Pasha, expressed regret that his selection of a ministry had proven not to be the liking of Great Britain, and pointed out that Fakhri Pasha, the newly appointed president of the council had, at his request, resigned his position. The khedive offered to appoint in his stead Riaz Pasha, who was formerly at the head of the Egyptian ministry, and who is known to be friendly to British interests. Lord Cromer assented to the appointment of Riaz Pasha. He secured from the khedive an understanding that hereafter he would make no alteration in the ministry without consulting Great Britain.

Ex-President Hayes Dead.

FREMONT, O., Jan. 17.—Gen. Rutherford B. Hayes died at 11 o'clock tonight, but information of his death was not known for some time after, as everything was kept exceedingly quiet in the vicinity of the Hayes mansion. Early report that the condition of the ex-president was improving nicely and that he was resting easily allayed suspicions, so the sudden announcement of Webb Hayes that his father had just died proved a shock to all. From Mr. Hayes it is learned that the condition of his father took a sudden change early in the evening and rapid dissolution followed. His sickness had been watched during the day and evening by Dr. Hillish and friends of the general, and as is usually the case many conflicting rumors were afloat, but an interview early in the evening with Rutherford P. Hayes appeared to reduce the fact to the statement that his condition was practically unchanged. Members of the family had spent the day quietly at home and nothing seemed to indicate that the death of the general was expected.

Will Double Alum'num Output.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18. The city will shortly have in operation the largest aluminum factory in the world. It is now in course of construction near the Mississippi river in the southern section of the city, and the purpose for which the immense structure is intended was only developed today by the giving out of the contract for the steam plant. The plant has been arranged to yield an output of 10,000 pounds of pure aluminum per day, and experts regard the estimate as a very conservative one. When it is considered that the present output of aluminum in the world is less than 4,000 pounds per day, the influence of the new works will be seen to be very large indeed. Hitherto little or no aluminum has been made in this city, and the establishment of the new industry will provide employment for a large number of men, and obviate the necessity of a great deal of importing. The promoters of the enterprise state that arrangements have already been made for a profitable placing of a large per centage of their projected output.

Control of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The republicans of the senate met in caucus this morning to consider the order of business and such other matters as might come before them. The meeting was an interesting one, and resulted in the initial steps being taken that will be the beginning of a bitter fight for the control of the next senate. If there has been any belief that the republicans intended permitting the organization of the next senate to go by default, that belief was shattered by the action taken today. A committee consisting of Messrs. Teller, Hoar, Mitchell, Chandler and Higgins, all republican members of the committee on privileges and elections, was appointed to take special charge of the subject of organization, and, incidental thereto, the matter of the election of senators in the western states where the fight is now on. These senators, all astute politicians, will see that nothing is done to jeopardize the chances of the republicans, and will prepare all cases, so that in the event of contests, which are inevitable, the best possible front can be made.

One Thousand Men are Out.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 18. The yard switchmen's strike on the Lake Erie system at this point is getting worse. Every iron and steel plant in the city is now closed, with more than 1,000 men out of work.

Supt. Hill arrived yesterday morning, bringing twenty men from St. Louis, accompanied by Thiel's detective agency men. The union succeeded in getting the men to leave town without going to work. Assistant Superintendent Jarvis did some switching yesterday, but had to quit, as the strikers would pull the pins. The police were unable to protect them. The conductors, engineers, switchmen and firemen on through freights will strike in sympathy in case non union men are put on.

Attorney Hackadorn arrived last night with injunction papers against all the strikers, prohibiting them from going on the company's property. The railroad officials refuse to talk of arbitration, or recognize the men or their committees. Trouble will ensue should attempts be made to take a train out.

Literally Hacked to Pieces.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18. The horribly chopped body of Jung Din Kun, a Chinese laundryman, was found in his shop this morning. A blood-clotted cleaver, hatchet and dagger which had been used to slay him were near by, while Jung Jack Sin, a Chinaman who arrived here from Kansas City last evening, was coolly washing his hands in the place when the police entered. The Kansas City Chinaman was gore-spotted from head to foot. The fellow's shoes had been removed and his stockings were literally soaked with blood. He was instantly arrested, but had the effrontery to deny any knowledge of the crime, saying he had found the dead body on returning from a restaurant after an hour's absence. The victim's condition, however, showed that the crime had taken place many hours before. It is believed that the Kansas City Chinaman came here specially to kill the Chicagoan, and that the murderer is a highbinder.

Mangled a Score.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 18.—A dreadful accident occurred at a crossing near Lonsdale on the Providence & Worcester railroad about 1:30 o'clock this morning. A sleighing party from Pawtucket, returning from a dance and supper at Woonsocket, was struck by a locomotive of a freight train. Eight persons were instantly killed and sixteen injured, ten believed to be fatally. Of the injured it is feared that eight or ten will die.

When the sleigh arrived upon the railroad crossing the "frog" freight from Worcester was within 150 feet. It struck the sleigh amidships and smashed it in fragments, sending the people flying in all directions and plowing through the wreckage and victims.

A Separate List.

Mrs. Mary Kent, wife of Thomas Kent, residing on the Crow Indian reservation, yesterday filed for record with the county recorder, under the provisions of section 1432 of the fifth division of the compiled statutes of Montana, a list of her separate property, substantially described as follows:

One dwelling house and all the buildings on section 19, township 1 south of range 17 east, together with all furniture, farming implements, tools, etc., used in and around the same; about 800 head of stock cattle, branded 8, and about 19,400 head of sheep, ranging in Yellowstone and Park counties and upon the reservation.

Panama Not Practicable.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—In the case of the Panama trial yesterday the public prosecutor made an important statement to the effect that the canal was impracticable. For a canal with locks the expense would be still 1,500,000,000 francs more and it would take fifteen years to complete it. As 1,400,000,000 francs have already been spent, this would represent a capital of nearly 3,000,000,000 francs.

But the engineers' reports state that the maximum profit would be 90,000,000 per annum, and that would only be realizable after twelve years' traffic. These calculations would show barely 2 per cent upon the capital invested. The conclusion drawn, therefore, is that the canal is not possible.

This statement produced a profound impression.

Real Estate Sales.

There continues to be great activity in real estate circles in and around Miles City, and yesterday two sales were made of city property, while a third involving some thirty or forty acres near town was almost completed.

John Wright sold the Russell house and lots to John S. Truscott, a most desirable residence location, for $2,500 cash. The house contains ten rooms, and is just what Mr. Truscott wanted, his present residence being too small for hss family.

Mrs. Warner also purchased through F. M. Schwartz, the Flanagan property on the corner of Eighth and Pleasant streets, but the consideration is not known.

Caught in the Gorge.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 18. The situation at the "Pumpkin Patch," three miles up the river from this city, is terrible. There is an immense fleet of coal barges wedged in the ice at that point. The gorge ice has attained a thickness of eight feet. About $1,000,000 worth of property, consisting of coal barges, steamers and tugs, are fast in the ice, and it is feared that when the ice starts to move all will be destroyed. Preparations to dynamite the ice are being made, but it is feared the attempt will be unsuccessful.

Chained His Wife in a Barn.

RADFORD, Va., Jan. 18. The wife of A. W. Filley, who came here recently, was found chained in a deserted barn near town, Monday. Fillie had spread the story that the woman was insane, and would soon be sent to an asylum. She proved to be sane. It is surmised that Fillie and the woman who posed as his housekeeper were trying to put Mrs. Fillie out of the way. Fillie is under arrest and the jail is heavily guarded, as there is danger of lynching.

Aground at Cape May.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Jan. 18. An unknown tramp steamer is aground on the outer edge of Cape May point shoal. The Cold Spring and Cape May people in the life-saving crew are making efforts to board her through openings in the heavy ice, which is coming down the bay. The steamer will be in a dangerous position when the ebb tide gets stronger.

Sheridan as a Schoolboy.

Sheridan gave almost no promise in childhood of his future brilliancy. His mother pronounced "Richard Brinsley" to be "the dullest and and most hopeless of her sons," and he was sent home from Dr. Whyte's academy with the reputation of being an impenetrable dunce, who wrote "think" for "thing." But he must have been able to think a thing or two even in those days, for at twenty-six he had written the "School for Scandal," of which Leigh Hunt observed, "It is a very concentration and crystallization of all that is sparkling, clear and compact in the materials of pure comedy." It should, however, be mentioned that a more judicious of the youthful Sheridan's preceptors, Samuel Parr, one of the masters at Harrow, detected the latent spark of his pupil's genius and aided it by judicious cultivation.—London Standard.

A Rude Shock for an Athlete.

It goes a little hard with a young man who has seen his name in all the newspapers as captain of an eight, a nine or an eleven, whose age, weight and diet, girth about the waist, biceps, muscles and hour of going to bed are all matters of absorbing public interest for a length of time, who is interviewed by the ubiquitous reporter, photographed by the snap shot camera fiend and after whose health gray bearded alumni anxiously inquire when they meet around the lunch table at Parker's—of course it is a little hard for him to presently discover that he is no longer famous and can walk the street without creating a sensation. But many things are a little hard that are a good deal salutary. Distinction of every kind is relative if not temporary. This fact cannot be found out too soon.—Boston Advertiser.
