BANKS HOPE TO REOPEN DOORS NEXT MONDAY

Hamilton, of Harlem, Among the Institutions That Expect to Resume Business.

DANGER SEEMS PASSED.

Trust Company of America Only One Where Anything Like a Run Continues.

While the bankers of New York are not out of the woods, the trails are clearly marked and the danger of an extension of the panic has passed. Most of the suspended banks have arranged to open next Monday, among them the Hamilton Bank in Harlem. The Knickerbocker Trust Company directors are still working to the end that business may be resumed, but it looks as though the institution would have to go through all the delays of a receivership.

About the only run that maintained any evidence of vitality to-day was that upon the Trust Company of America. The line was small at the opening of business, but it grew because of the delay in paying off depositors, and this delay was, in turn, due to the fact that the first to reach the window were bank messengers bearing big piles of checks.

Had 148 Checks.

The first man to present himself had 148 checks by actual count. Each of these had to be examined and compared, as forgers become busy in times of panic and the closest scrutiny is necessary. Since the beginning of the scare the Trust Company of America has refused to honor more than 200 checks because the signatures were not satisfactory.

The savings banks are gradually suspending the sixty-day notice rule and before long it will be generally dropped. Deposits are picking up, money that was drawn out early last week is finding its way back, and every minute of the business day adds to the total of cash available for commercial purposes.

Some of the banks and banking houses which had made tentative engagements of gold for importation to this country to-day completed their arrangements, and the record of gold actually ordered from the other side up to a late hour this afternoon stands as follows:

National City Bank	$8,250,000
Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co.	3,000,000
Chase National Bank	2,000,000
Lazard Freres	2,000,000
Hanover National Bank	1,000,000
Kohn, Loeb & Co.	1,000,000
Bank of Montreal	1,000,000
Russo-Chinese Bank	1,000,000
Guaranty Trust Co.	500,000
Total	$18,750,000

London cables to-day reported that in addition to the gold already secured for shipment to New York, $1,000,000 in American eagles had been engaged there. This would bring the amount to date up to $19,750,000.

Rates for Sterling Up.

Rates for sterling exchange to-day were up 1-2 and 1 cent from yesterday, demand bills on London being quoted at 4.83 1-2 and 4.84, and cables at 4.86. However, the market was still unsettled, with the prospect of further importations of gold unless the Bank of England should raise its discount rate on Thursday.

Foreign bankers reported a large supply of bills drawn against shipments of cotton to Europe and they stated that the bulk of the gold, engagements abroad were on account of the large cotton export movement from this side. It is understood, though, that a portion of the gold now being brought over is to pay for the immense quantity of copper—estimated at 100,000 pounds—that has been sold to a London speculative pool.

Demand for Copper.

The European reserve supply of copper is exhausted and there is a renewed demand for that metal abroad. This has resulted in a pronounced advance in the price of the metal and also in the price of copper stocks and the exchange of European money for American copper will soon set in.

Dispatches from the principal cities of the United States to New York to-day show that there is no panic anywhere. Clearing House certificates are being issued in sixteen cities outside of New York and the supply of cash for immediate purpose is ample.

Lines of Waiters Drenched.

Some half a dozen intrepid men and boys stood an all-night watch in front of the bank of the Broadway Trust Company, at Broadway and Fulton street. There was no shelter in the vicinity, and they had to take the rain just as it fell. A man who said he was an officer of the company appeared at midnight and persuaded five men of eleven in line to leave.

The longest all-night line assembled at the bank of the Lincoln Trust Company in Madison Square. It included about forty-five persons all night long. Frequent showers drove them to the shelter of neighboring awnings but by common consent every man was allowed to take his old place in the line when the weather cleared. An umbrella vendor selling second-hand rain shedders at 25 cents apiece, cleaned out his stock about midnight, but the heavy rain that set in soon after resulted in a revelation that as umbrellas in an emergency his entire stock wasn't worth 30 cents.

Praises Clearing-House.

There was no line of depositors in front of the Mechanics and Traders' Bank, at No. 657 Broadway, awaiting the opening of the doors to-day. Among the first customers were several making large deposits. Whatever scare afflicted the neighborhood of the Mechanics' and Traders' in the height of the panic last week was promptly dissipated by the action of the bank in meeting all its obligations as rapidly as they were presented.

Vice-President Leo Schlesinger took occasion to deny published utterances credited to him in criticism of the Clearing-House committee. Instead of criticising, Mr. Schlesinger said, he had said nothing but words of praise and approval of the entire course of the Clearing-House committee and the Clearing-House Association in the recent crisis.

There is a persistent rumor afloat in Wall street that Thomas F. Ryan has secured control of the Trust Company of America, and is putting up the money that has enabled that institution to make such a remarkable resistance to a persistent run. Mr. Ryan has several close business associates in the directorate of the Trust Company of America, including John D. Crimmins, E. A. B. Widener and William F. Sheehan.

Oakleigh Thorne, president of the Trust Company of America, refused to discuss Mr. Ryan's reported capture of the concern to-day. In answer to a question he wrote the following statement:

"I have not been requested to resign by Mr. Ryan or anybody else."

Improving, Says Williams.

Clark Williams, State Superintendent of Banks, at his office, No. 52 Broadway, to-day pencilled the following note for publication:

"I have nothing to report, except that conditions are constantly improving."

This note was inscribed with the signature "C. W."

All Debit Cleared Off.

The banks in the Clearing-House to-day were declared to have cleared off all debit balances, and to be in excellent shape. The Clearing-House Committee and the Loan Committee were at the Clearing-House all morning acting on collateral for Clearing-House certificates.

JACKSON TO LOOK FOR CRIMINAL ACTS.

Attorney-General Jackson declares he will investigate every phase of the banking situation, and begin criminal proceedings if the law has been violated.

"I have not learned yet whether there has been any actual crookedness in connection with the events of the past week," said Mr. Jackson. "The Banking Department is in charge of the institutions that have suspended, and the reports I have received have had no bearing upon any possible acts of criminality. As soon as I have finished up the work dealing with the receivership of the Knickerbocker and the suspension of the other banking institutions I shall investigate the various companies to see if any criminal action is possible.

"If I find that the directors or officers of the companies have in any sense laid themselves liable to prosecution, I will proceed against them at once."

Clarke Williams, Superintendent of the State Banking Department, refused to say a word when asked if he had discovered any evidence of criminal acts in connection with the bank and trust company failures. He said:

"Several of the suspended institutions are making preparations to resume business. I have had applications from a few that wish to reopen and am now investigating their affairs."

FAILURE CAUGHT LILLIAN RUSSELL.

Miss Lillian Russell, the actress, who is now absent from the city on tour, was one of the large depositors of the Knickerbocker Trust Company. The last sum placed to her credit was about $15,000 from the sale of the household effects of her residence on West Fifty-seventh street.

It is stated chiefly through Miss Russell's interest that the Professional Women's League, of which her sister, Mrs. Suzanne Leonard Westford, is the president, was induced to open an account with the Knickerbocker Trust, and $3,500 of the league funds was on deposit when the crash came. Several members of the league were individual depositors.

"SIX-DAY" HOLIDAY ANGERS CORTELYOU.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou is greatly displeased over the actions of Acting Territorial Governor Charles Wilson in closing for six days all the banks in Oklahoma, and to-day will submit it to President Roosevelt for the latter's consideration as to whether the proclamation shall be permitted to stand or be revoked.

Gov. Frantz was in Washington when Wilson issued his proclamation, and knew nothing of the Acting Governor's plans. The closing of the banks will paralyze the movement of crops in the territory.

PANAMA BONDS IN AN EMERGENCY.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou said last night, after a conference with the President, that the Government had $25,615,242 deposited in the national banks. He added that in his opinion the financial situation is improving all the time and is better to-day than for several days.

"The necessity should arise the Government could issue bonds against the $50,000,000 in the general fund for Panama Canal construction and use the cash to aid commercial conditions.

Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days. Paso Ointment is guaranteed to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

FALL IN STOCKS CARRIES PRICES ALL ALONG LINE

Canadian Pacific Leads the Slump All Day, Declining About 10 Points.

NOT DUE TO THE BEARS.

Scarcity of Money Forces Brokers to Let Go of Collateral.

Prices of stocks to-day touched the lowest figure in years. Gilt-edged securities tumbled from 3 to 8 points. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul sold below par for the first time in ten years. New York Central and Pennsylvania, the two stocks representing the standard railroad lines of the East, showed a loss of approximately 5 and 6 points respectively on the day.

It was an awful slaughter and it was not a bear raid, for there was no short selling. Market sharps attributed the decline to enforced liquidation on the part of bankers and others holding securities as collateral for loans which the borrowers are unable to pay. The Stock Exchange transactions were enormous, when it is considered that there was no trading on margins—all sales were for cash. About 600,000 shares changed hands.

They Led the Slump.

Pennsylvania and Canadian Pacific led the slump, the latter showing a loss of close to 10 points. Pennsylvania was simply shoveled into the market in lots running from 20 shares up to 8,000. In the first two hours of trading 66,000 shares of Pennsylvania were sold. Union Pacific was heavily sold and closed weak on news from Omaha that from 5,000 to 8,000 men had been discharged.

Money was scarce and dear, call loans drawing as high as 75 per cent. The First National Bank loaned $1,000,000 at that figure, and the Chase National Bank $1,000,000 at from 50 to 75 per cent. Toward the close of the market the call money rate dropped to 50 per cent., 40 per cent., 25 per cent. and 6 per cent. in a few minutes. Then the market rallied, but weakly. To relieve the money scarcity to some extent, J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. have decided to anticipate payment on all coupons due and payable on Nov. 1.

The small investor saved the market from total demoralization to-day. Purchasers of from ten to fifty shares of stock flooded the brokers with orders. In the past six days probably 250,000 shares have been sold to small investors—men who have put their little savings into dividend-paying stocks. The transfer agencies are days behind because of these small transactions, and clerks in the brokers' offices are eating and sleeping at their desks.

Brokers and financiers hesitate to predict what to-morrow will bring forth. They have been asserting for weeks that the market was at bedrock, but to-day's decline showed that the bedrock was full of holes.

Steel Holds Firm.

The enforced liquidation embraced all the standard railroads and industrial securities and came close to squeezing all the marginal speculators out of the market. United States Steel preferred was the only stock that held firm. Backed by Morgan support, it hung around 82 for the preferred and 22 for the common.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit, which touched the lowest point in four years; St. Paul, Delaware and Hudson, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Reading and Union Pacific were sold in huge chunks and declined amazingly. Some of them established the lowest level in years.

There was a rumor current on the Stock Exchange that the Pennsylvania Railroad had decided to discharge 20,000 men. This did not tend to encourage would-be investors in the stock. The Pennsylvania gave out the following statement at noon:

"There is no truth in the report that 20,000 men are to be discharged. Nothing of the kind has even been discussed. In view of the fact that the traffic for October is 11 per cent. greater than for the same month last year, which will make the movement for the month the largest in the history of the company, any material reduction in the forces would not be practicable."

Coppers and Smelting resisted the slump. The copper situation is brightening because of renewed European demands and an advance in the price of the metal.

CITY ALMSGIVER AWAITS SENTENCE

Former Superintendent Blair, of Outdoor Poor, Guilty of Robbery.

George Blair, who was Superintendent of the Outdoor Poor under Mayor Van Wyck and several other Mayors, is in the Tombs awaiting sentence on an indictment for grand larceny filed against him Feb. 11, 1905.

Blair pleaded guilty to the indictment to-day before Judge Rosalsky in the Court of General Sessions and was remanded to the Tombs until to-morrow for sentence. Meanwhile his case is being investigated by District-Attorney Jerome and Mrs. Walker, Judge Rosalsky's probation officer.

The indictment against Blair, who is now gray-haired, bent with age and trouble, charges him with appropriating to his own use $400 in money and $500 worth of jewelry taken from Mrs. Dora Johnston, of No. 161 West Forty-sixth street, while she was an inmate of the insane pavilion at Bellevue Hospital.

Blair was arrested at the time and released on bail. He has since repaid Mrs. Johnston nearly all the money taken and the value of the jewelry.

"I wanted, for the sake of my family, to get the mater off my mind, if I ever can," Blair told an Evening World reporter. "Now that I have pleaded guilty it is a great relief to my conscience."

SITUATION O. K. IN WESTERN STATES.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The financial condition throughout the West was to-day satisfactory in general to the banks and to the majority of business interests. In all the money centres trade was on the check and certificate plan, and the banks were holding as closely as possible to their reserves of currency.

In Oregon Gov. Chamberlain, following the lead of other States, had issued a proclamation making the next five days legal holidays in order to prevent a currency famine. All of the banks in Portland, whence this news came, are absolutely sound, and there was no run or sign of a run upon any of them. They not only have standing accounts in the East, but during the last few months have loaned millions of dollars to Eastern bankers.

BANK OF GERMANY'S DISCOUNT RATE UP.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The discount rate of the Imperial Bank of Germany was raised to-day from 5 1-2 to 6 1-2 per cent.

It is significant of the changed situation in the market here that the advance was a full 1 per cent. whereas the bank did not only discussed raising the rate 1-2 per cent. The change is directly due to New York's demand for gold, which it is feared here will lead to gold exports from Germany.

The exchange rates of all the leading countries are now above the gold point. The market had expected the German Bank to await the Bank of England's action, but yesterday's gold engagements in London for New York apparently rendered immediate action here necessary.

Vital strength comes from proper food. If you want to be ready for opportunities, food that is quickly absorbed by the blood and stored up in the brain, nerves and muscles as vital energy, must be made a part of your regular routine.

NEW HAVEN ROAD ABSORBS RIVAL IN WESTCHESTER

Buys a Controlling Interest In the Westchester and Portchester Line.

The consolidation of the interests of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railroad and the New York and Portchester Railroad has now been followed by the sale of those roads to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company. Announcement of the sale was made this afternoon by Oakleigh Thorne, president of the Trust Company of America.

Mr. Thorne and Marsden J. Perry were the owners of the controlling interest in the Milbrook Company, which owned the Westchester and Portchester lines. This interest they have sold to the New Haven system. This gives the New Haven absolute control of all the shore line railroad facilities between Greater New York and the Connecticut line.

MONEY TO MALIGN HER IN DIVORCE, SAYS MRS. HARTJE

Coachman Quoted Against Husband That $30,000 Was Ready for Evidence.

SHE FIGHTS NEW TRIAL.

Files Answer to His Brief and Declares She Is Harassed by Millionaire's Spies.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—Mary Scott Hartje to-day filed with the Superior Court in Philadelphia an answer to the brief filed by her husband, Augustus Hartje, several weeks ago in which he requested that the divorce case be reopened in order to enable him to introduce additional newly discovered testimony. Mrs. Hartje denies all the allegations which Hartje makes.

According to reports from Philadelphia Hartje has filed a petition with the Court to strike Mrs. Hartje's answer off the record, because it is irrelevant and impertinent. Hartje also filed a supplemental order to-day of the love letters alleged to have been written by Mrs. Hartje to "Tom" Madine, one of the coachmen co-respondents in the case. These letters are alleged by Hartje to be of an incriminating character.

Mrs. Hartje stoutly denies that she ever wrote Madine a letter. She contends that she is being harassed by paid servants in the employ of her husband. Affidavits are attached to her answer showing that Madine had been repeatedly offered large sums to turn traitor to the woman. Madine recently made a confession in Canada, acknowledging intimacy with Mrs. Hartje. He has since gone to Ireland, where he purchased a hotel.

Theanswer of Mrs. Hartje is accompanied by affidavits from her sisters, Ida and Helen Scott, daughters of John F. Scott, alleging that the letters written to Howard W. Lappe were by his dictation.

In the papers in the case it is alleged that Madine made a statement April 12, 1907, in the office of Watson & Freeman, Mrs. Hartje's attorneys, in which he asserted that a representative of Augustus Hartje met him and said to Madine: "If you will come along with me I will get you $5,000. If you will make another statement there won't be nothing done to you and they will see that you get off all right. In six months you will be shaking hands with me and have $30,000 in your pocket."

On another occasion, it is claimed, Madine was offered $10,000 if he would get out of the case and out of the country, and that he would be paid liberally if he produced an envenope, or if he would give them some information that they wanted.

KNICKERBOCKER CREDITORS' MEETING

Thousands of circulars, calling for a mass-meeting of depositors and creditors of the Knickerbocker Trust Company to be held to-morrow night at the Harlem Casino were disturbed in Harlem to-day. The meeting is to be under the auspices of the Knickerbocker Trust Company Depositors' Protective Association, which was formed by members of the Harlem Property Owners' Association.

Ira J. Ettinger and Abraham Meyers, who are fighting to recover "Tody" Hamilton's savings of a lifetime, which were deposited with the Knickerbocker Trust Company, will make addresses as will President Abraham Korn.

A large number of Harlem business men are still financially tied up because of the failure.

ROOSEVELT AND CABINET DISCUSS THE SITUATION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Roosevelt was in conference with all the members of his Cabinet, except Secretary Taft, for more than two hours to-day. It is believed the financial situation was under consideration.

GOT FIVE STAB WOUNDS IN FIGHT OVER MONEY.

Philip Aceno, thirty years old, a workingman, whose home is on Carleton avenue, Rockaway Beach, is in St. Joseph's Hospital at Far Rockaway, suffering from five stab wounds in the back inflicted, it is alleged, by Joseph Marvella, thirty-three years old, of No. 27 Main street, Brooklyn. The men are said to have had a dispute over money matters and to have fought in Antonio Donate's saloon on Carleton avenue.

After the stabbing Marvella fled and has not been captured. He is described as being five feet five inches in height with dark hair and small brown mustache.

JENKINS QUITS WILLIAMSBURG TRUST COMPANY

Frank Resigns As President At the Demand of the Board of Directors.

The Board of Directors of the Williamsburg Trust Company, which suspended during the financial crisis last week, took positive action to-day in the direction of reorganization. The board called for, received and accepted the resignations as officers of two members and a relative of the Jenkins family.

The work started with President Frank Jenkins, whose resignation was demanded. Then came the retirement of John G. Jenkins as a member of the Board of Directors. This was followed by the resignation of Secretary William Addison Fields, who is related to the Jenkinses. After these resignations had been accepted the following well-known and wealthy business men of Williamsburg were elected as members of the Board of Directors: Charles J. Edwards, Mortimer Driggs, Frederick Lemmerman, John J. Cooney and John W. Weber.

The reports of the special board and the State Banking Examiner who has been going over the books of the institution since the suspension were read. The reports indicated that the bank is solvent.
