JOHNSON'S PRESS AGENTS SPRING A REAL GOOD JOKE

Following the Story of Jeffries's Dissipation Comes One of Coffroth Frantically Urging Jeff to Fight for $100,000 Purse.

EDGREN'S COLUMN

THERE is a great hullabaloo in press agent circles over Jim Flynn's defeat by Jack Johnson in eleven rounds. The busy Johnson boosters are seeing visions of James Coffroth, promoter, flying frantically to Los Angeles to drag Jim Jeffries back into the ring. Coffroth is pictured on his knees begging James to accept a hundred thousand-dollar purse and fight Johnson. Johnson is depicted in the act of haughtily demanding a fight with Jeffries, "winner take all."

Which to the cool and collected outsider is a grand joke. In the first place, who was Flynn? Only a railroad fireman who took on occasional bouts when he was out of a job. He was tough enough to stay with Tommy Burns until knocked out in the fifteenth round, but there was nothing about Flynn to make his defeat sensational. When Tommy Burns whipped Flynn Johnson's press agents roasted Burns for picking a lemon. It was a sure thing that big Johnson would knock Flynn out. The only surprising thing about it was that Flynn lasted eleven rounds. He weighed only 172 pounds, while Johnson entered the ring well above two hundred.

AND another curious thing about the affair is that Johnson's boosters, beside clamoring for a match between Jeffries and the darkey, are telling us that Jeffries is going to pieces from dissipation. They want to catch Jim going and coming. If he sticks to his determination to stay on the retired list—which he has a perfect right to do—they will flood the country with tales of Jeff's dissipation, giving out the impression that Jeffries is a has-been and doesn't count any way. This sly knock, of course, would tend to undermine eJffriess reputation and make Johnson, as the biggest and heaviest of the heavy-weights, more prominent in the pugilistic limelight.

JOHNSON is a clever big fellow. He has everything that goes to make a champion but character. No crooked fighter was ever yet champion of the world. Johnson is crooked as a snake's backbone. And when he finds himself in a hard fight he isn't "there." Jeffries would make him jump out of the ring or fall down to escape punishment.

THE reports that Jeffries is dissipating are just plain lies.

If Jeffries takes a drink or smokes a cigar the rumor of it flies around the world. Other great champions went the liquor route, and people have been waiting for big Jim, the greatest champion that ever lived, to follow suit.

But Jeffries isn't built that way. He is a huge, healthy man, with plenty of character in his make-up. Jeffries has brains. He is proud of his strength and his reputation for square, honest fighting. He is married and has a fine home in Los Angeles, the finest little city in the United States. He is surrounded by old and tried friends. He has plenty of money, and is making more every year now than he ever made during his fighting days.

JEFFRIES lives a healthy life. All of his spare time is spent in the Oregon Mountains hunting bear and deer and mountain lions, or at Catalina fishing, or on the California marshes shooting ducks. A man doesn't live that way if he is dissipating. Dissipation and outdoor life don't go well together.

I spent some time with Jeffries in Los Angeles a few months ago. He weighed just 252 pounds, which was twenty pounds less than when he began training for his last great fight with Jim Corbett. He looked in fine shape. And in all the time I never saw Jeffries drink anything stronger than a glass of Napa soda with a spoonful of claret in it. Los Angeles people who saw him often told me that Jeffries never went beyond that limit. Not much dissipation there.

JEFFRIES will probably refuse to be dragged back into the profession he has left. But if he did come back the gnats and mosquitoes that have been buzzing about his ears would fly for their lives.

Ten thousand football enthusiasts this afternoon crowded Ohio Field, University Heights, to see the annual struggle between the New York University and Rutgers College elevens. The spectators filled every seat in the commodious grandstand, covered every available point of vantage and lined the oval on the north.

The Rutgers contingent brought a brass band and tried to drown the N. Y. U. band. Both squads cheered together, sang together and jeered together.

The red-shirted New Jersey players were the first to trot upon the field. They proved to be much heavier than the home team, and immediately the N. Y. U. men demanded odds of two to one. When New York lined up for signal practice their "rooters" were surprised to see a new form at right tackle. It was Stone who had taken Aufaunt's place. During light scrimmage work last evening the latter sprained his ankle.

Capt. Mowen, of New York University, made a sensational touchdown in the first half. He captured a Rutgers kick and ran down the field through the whole Rutgers team, crossing the line after a seventy-five yard dash. Rust kicked the goal.

Rust crossed the line once but was called back because he had failed to go back the required five yards. Despite Rutgers weight the Heights boys seemed to have little difficulty tearing through them. The first half ended with the score: N. Y. U., 6; Rutgers, 0.

In the second half Daugherty, a sub N. Y. U. half, made a touchdown. Rush failed to kick goal. The final score was N. Y. U., 11; Rutgers, 6.

POLO GROUNDS, Nov. 5.—Midst the cheers of 8,000 enthusiastic boys and girls the young giants of the High School of Commerce lined up here this afternoon against the sturdy young men representing the De Witt Clinton High School in a football battle to decide the championship of Greater New York.

The preliminary struggle between the junior teams of Commerce and De Witt Clinton roused the partisans of both schools to a high pitch of enthusiasm. The game resulted in favor of the Commerce youngsters, who beat the mighty little Clinton eleven by the score of 17 to 0.

This defeat didn't dampen the ardor of the Clinton rooters, nor of the Clinton senior eleven. The boys were put through a number of fast stunts in practice before the game that showed they were out to win and determined to wipe out the defeat of their second team.

The stand and sidelines presented a pretty spectacle. They were filled with girls wearing a varied assortment of colors in gowns as well as displaying the colors of their favorites. One feature that attracted particular attention and aroused much enthusiasm was the appearance of two dozen girls on the side lines wearing the colors of De Witt Clinton, who paraded back and forth in front of the grand-stand cheering their favorites on to victory.

Toward the middle of the first half after both elevens had fought on even terms in the centre of the field, the Clinton boys, by use of the forward pass, rushed the ball down to Commerce's ten-yard line. Samuels dropped back for a kick and by a pretty punt shot the ball squarely between the goal posts for a field goal, giving Clinton 4 points.

The star performance of the first half was a 30-yard run by Cane, of Clinton, who took a long forward pass from Adelson and dashed down the field toward Commerce's goal. When the first half ended the ball was on Commerce's 20-yard line, in Clinton's possession.

Gardner Refuses to Meet Morgan.

Jimmy Gardner, the New England welter-weight, has fluked out of his ten-round bout with Jack Morgan, the Indianapolis fighter, which was to have been fought before the Summit A. C., of Fort Wayne, Ind., on Thanksgiving night. Gardner is in Philadelphia training for this bout with "Unk" Russell, which comes off at the Industrial A. C. of that city on Friday night.

500 BOWLERS ARE BLACKLISTED BY ORDER OF N.Y.B.C.

They Are Members of Clubs That Have Not Joined the Association.

Forty bowling clubs engaged in tournaments in various parts of the city and representing upward of 500 bowlers have been blacklisted by the New York Bowling Association, and unless they quickly become members of this organization they will be forced to quit the tournaments in which they are rolling. This was the edict of the meeting held by the association last night.

Nothing was said at the open meeting of the association in the matter of killing off the mushroom clubs that have no organization or dates of practice, but which figure prominently in leading tournaments and are even members of the association. It has been this peculiar feature of membership organization which has kept many clubs out of the N. Y. B. A. Some of the tournament clubs that have been regularly incorporated and have regular club nights yet are not members of the association are under the new ruling now forced to unite with those who have met none of these requirements. It's an angle in bowling about which bowlers are deeply interested.

The expected sensation which had been promised last night in the adoption of a resolution compelling all alley-owners to have their drives inspected and put into a proper condition for tournament use was exploded behind closed doors by the Executive Committee, and once more the alley-owner has demonstrated his ability to strangle the will of 30,000 bowlers represented in the association. The move for an alley inspection, which would have all alleys planed twice a year and remove the ruts which produced freak scores will therefore lay over for another year.

Ed Sheffield, of the Heptasoph League, Brooklyn, was elected as Corresponding Secretary, and A. H. Davis, Casino alleys, Astoria, was elected to succeed Bert T. Allen, who was dropped from the Executive Committee for non-attendance at meetings.

TOMMY MURPHY TO FIGHT KEYES.

TOMMY MURPHY and Bert Keyes are to hook up again. The boys were practically matched last night to meet before the Sharkey A. C. on Nov. 13.

The only hitch in the arrangements is on the weight. Jimmy Kelly, manager of Keyes, insists on 133 pounds, and says if Murphy is a light-weight he should have no objections to making the weight. Oliver has agreed on the date, and Managers Buckley and Kelly now await his answer as to weight. These boys fought one of the fastest bouts ever witnessed here, and the question of supremacy is still an open one between

BELLARS BEATS DALY AND BONHAG IN GREAT RACE

New York Athletic Club Man Surprised Champions By Show of Speed.

A great crowd gathered in Celtic Park this afternoon, the occasion being the final outdoor meet of the Galway Men's Club. The chief attraction was a four mile race in which John Daly and eGorge Bonhag started from scratch.

There was a dead heat in the one-hundred yard dash event. Denis Mullolly, nine yards, of the New West Side Club, and Gorge Hall, six and a half yards, of the Irish-American Club, finished in a dead heat and in the run off Mullolly won. C. S. Cassassa, six yards, of the Irish-Americans, finished third.

The three-quarter mile event proved an exciting contest. It was won by D. Egan, Holy Innocents. He had a gift of 65 yards. F. Musterson, 48 yards, of the Mott Haven Club, was second, and William Brozil, of the Star A. C., 65 yards, was third. The time was 3.14 3-5.

The four-mile race was the surprise of the athletic year. Fred Bellars, of the New York Athletic Club, defeated John Daly and George Bonhag. The three started from scratch. There were twelve men in the race. After three laps Daly took the lead, followed by Bonhag and Bellars. At the end of the first lap of the third mile Daly went out, but Bellars caught and passed him and kept the lead until the end, beating Daly fifty yards. Bonhag finished fifty yards behind Daly. The time was 20m. 32 2-5s.

Con Leahy won the high jump with a mark of 6 feet 2 inches.
