CRUSHED DRIVER OF FIRE-ENGINE DIRECTS RESCUE

Corbett, With Legs Broken and Ankle Crushed, Pinned Under Wreck.

Pinned as if in a vise between the demolished dashboard and a pillar of the Third avenue "L" road, into which his engine had crashed with terrific force, Driver Michael Corbett acted like a real hero to-day while a score of firemen and citizens endeavored to move the apparatus that he might be released. For fully ten minutes Corbett, his legs broken and one foot crushed to a pulp, directed the efforts of the men, every one of whom was more excited than he.

Unable, even with a man to every spoke of the apparatus, to budge the great engine, workmen with wrenches and jacks finally managed to remove the demolished dashboard, and Chief Croker and Batallion Chief Worth lifted Corbett down tenderly and held him in their arms until an ambulance came from Bellevue Hospital.

"Thank these men for what they did for me," said Corbett, gritting his teeth as the rescuers gathered around. His broken legs bandaged, and the crushed foot placed in splints, he was lifted into an ambulance and hurried to the hospital.

One Horse Dying.

Twenty feet from the wrecked engine one of the magnificent fire horses of the team of three which dragged No. 33 lay dying.

"Poor Charlie," said Corbett, indicating the horse to one of his comrades. "He's a goner and, strange, he was the cause of all the trouble. I wonder if the other horses escaped."

It was an hour after midnight to-day when Corbett, strapped to the seat of No. 33, the largest engine in the department, sent his horses away with a dash in response to a call at Third avenue and Eleventh street.

Lieut. Conway and Engineer Trefser were on the fire-pan behind. Directing the spirited horses skilfully into Third avenue, Corbett took the north-bound tracks for a straight hustle to Eleventh street. For some unaccountable reason Charlie, the off horse, shied at Seventh street, dashing headlong into an "L" pillar. The crash slewed the great engine around, skidding it with great force into the next pillar, twenty-five feet distant. Charlie was torn loose from the harness and left a quivering mass on the pavement, blood streaming from his nostrils and both forward legs broken. The poles were smashed into kindling wood, and the other horses, maddened by the splinters, which tore their flesh sadly, leaped frantically.

Thrown to Street.

The first impact threw Conway and Trefser headlong to the street, where they lay stunned. The second impact brought up the engine with demolishing force against the second pillar, the front part of the apparatus crushing inward and clutching Corbett in the wreckage, breaking both his legs below the knees and catching the left foot with bone crushing force. Still he clung to the reins and managed actually to quiet the wounded horses.

Chief Croker and Battalion Chief Worth heard the crash, and dashed back to the scene.

Forty men were unable to back the heavy engine away, and not until wrenches and jacks were brought was the brave Corbett released and untrapped from his seat.

Chief Croker ordered Roundsman Fogarty to put Charlie and Dick, whose right fore leg was broken, out of their misery, and two shots ended the animals' suffering. The fire was insignificant, having been extinguished by a pail of water by a tenant in No. 118 East Tenth street, where the blaze had been discovered in a furnished room.

VETERAN LAWYER DEAD.

George Van Nest Baldwin, who died yesterday at Dr. Bull's sanitarium, No. 33 East Thirty-third street, will be buried to-morrow at 10 o'clock from the Marble Collegiate Church. Mr. Baldwin was seventy-one years old and had been a member of the New York Bar since 1860.

SLAIN PRIEST WAS LONG MARKED BY ANARCHIST GANG

Denver Police Have Evidence to Show Father Heinrichs Had Been Followed.

DENVER, Feb. 25.—Most of the priests of the Roman Catholic Church in this city believe that Father Leo Heinrichs, who was murdered by Giuseppe Allo, the anarchist, while giving communion in St. Elizabeth's Church here on Sunday last, was a marked man from the time he arrived in town last August or even before.

The dead priest was stationed previously in Paterson, N. J., and it is believed that he may have incurred the enmity of the Anarchists there and that a plot was laid to kill him, perhaps prior to his leaving Paterson, but that the machinery of the "Reds" failed to get into working order until Allo carried out orders.

A woman who witnessed the tragedy told a prominent Catholic priest yesterday that two weeks ago, during an early mass, she saw two evil appearing men, one of whom she believes was the assassin, standing in the aisle of St. Elizabeth's Church. They were conversing in a low tone, but she saw one of the men point to the priests who were in the sanctuary.

The priests, one of whom was Father Leo, were separated several feet, and the man who did the pointing directed his finger toward Father Leo and remarked in a low tone: "That is the man." The woman thought it odd that the two men should hold a conversation in the church, and this, together with their ruffian-like appearance, made a deep impression upon her.

When she saw the assassin running down the aisle Sunday she declares she immediately recognized him as the man to whom Father Leo had been pointed out. The police are working on the conspiracy theory.

PRIEST SHOT ON ALTAR WORE TORTURE BANDS OF STEEL.

DENVER, Feb. 25.—That Rev. Leo Heinrichs, who was shot dead on the altar of St. Elizabeth's Church by the Anarchist Allo last Sunday, lived a life of severe austerity is evidenced by a discovery made in preparing his body for burial. Next to the skin Father Leo had wrapped about his waist and upper arms heavy bands of linked steel chains and to each link was a hook, sharpened to a needle's point, attached in such fashion that each movement of the priest caused the hooks to pierce his flesh and to remind him of the life and death of Him in whose steps he sought to follow.

Father Leo never spoke to his fellow clergy of his mode of penance and no one in the monastery surmised it. His body and upper arms were callouseed entirely, showing that when the pain became deadened because of the toughened skin, he had taken the network of steel claws and adjusted them so that the pain might be felt again with renewed force.

ANOTHER POPULAR SONG.

The ballad hit of the Sam Bernard show, "Nearly a Hero," now appearing at the Broadway Casino, is entitled "What Makes the World Go Round." It is by Van Alstyne and Williams, the well-known song writers, and will be given, words and music complete, in the Magazine Section of next SUNDAY'S WORLD.

Driver Overcome by Gas.

Frank McElroy, a hack driver, was found unconscious in his room at No. 130 East Thirty-second street to-day with the gas turned on. He was taken in Bellevue Hospital in a serious condition. The police say that McElroy turned on the gas accidentally when retiring last night.

$1 and 50c bottles, at druggists

Keep Cascarets in your pocket. Take one as soon as you need it. It is old fashioned and wrong to take harsh doses of physic.

We all live unnaturally.

Our food is too fine, too rich and too plentiful. We eat too little fruit, too few green vegetables. We don't exercise enough.

The result is, our bowels get clogged; for Nature intended us to live in a different way.

What shall we do?

Shall we walk ten miles a day? Shall we diet ourselves? Shall we seek for more laxative, and less costive effect in our food?

Or shall we take Cascarets?

One way will serve just as well as the other.

Cascarets are vegetable laxatives. Their action is as natural as the action of fruit, of coarse food or of exercise.

They are gentle. They persuade the bowels—never drive them or irritate them.

They are candy tablets, and the dose is one at a time—just as soon as you know that you need it.

It is wrong to take harsh physic and to wait till you need a big dose. It is better to keep at your best, every hour of every day. And one Cascaret at a time is sufficient.

That means to keep clean inside.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50 cents, 25 cents and
