

PLEASING PROGRAM

Pupils of St. Agnes Academy Gave

Program at Opera House Wednesday Evening, May 26

A most pleasing program given by the pupils of St. Agnes Academy was held at the Phelan opera house Wednesday evening, May 26. It was attended by a large and appreciative audience and proved to be a full blown success.

The numbers being varied the program was especially interesting, and each number proved a treat to the audience.

The piano selections by Miss Mary Comer, Miss Evelyn Kerr, Miss Margaret Kuester displayed technical skill and are deserving of much merit to teacher and pupil.

The dramatic and humorous readings by Miss Mabel Bye, Miss Evelyn Kerr and Miss Corinne Mollring were evidence of excellent training in this line, and each of these numbers met with the hearty approval of the audience.

The vocal selections were excellent—while the dancing numbers were gracefully and artistically performed and an unusual treat to all present. The costuming of the little dancers was most attractive and pleasing.

After the entertainment the following Eighth grade graduates received their diplomas: Winifred Barry, Cornelius Bos, Catherine Buechstein, John Carey, Margaret Dwyer, Teresa Duffin, Ruth Katen, Katie Kuester, Frank LaRiviere, Clarence Mackin, Corinne Mollring, Maurice Nelson, Mary Shaughnessy.

EMPRESS WILL MOVE

Proprietors Have Leased the Gilleran Building and Will Remodel it at Once

Along-term lease has been secured by Cramer & Willis, proprietors of the Empress theatre, on the Gilleran building, formerly occupied by Miller Bros., the housefurnishers, and the work of remodeling will begin at once.

While the present building serves for the regular programs, it is too small when specials are offered, and it was necessary to find larger quarters. An excellent stage will be installed in the new home, and a great amount of scenery will be installed, much of which will be the work of Mr. Willis, who is now at work on a number of original designs.

The front of the building will be entirely remodeled and a large arch installed. For about ten feet back from the front the floor will be perfectly level, after which it makes a gradual incline to the front.

The stage will be large enough for any of the smaller vaudeville troupes on the road, and Messrs. Cramer and Willis stated that they would get some good companies here from time to time.

Everything will be in readiness for the Stockmen's Convention.

RECEIVED MORE REOS

Six New "Fours" Received last Week by the Local Dealer, J. L. Nicholai

Considerable automobile fever was stirred up last Saturday when six shiny new Reo "fours" paraded up and down Box Butte avenue, accompanied by the shrill blasts of klaxon horns. An investigation revealed the fact that these cars had just been received by J. L. Nicholai, the local dealer, and that he was pulling off a little advertising stunt.

Before starting on the parade, the cars were lined in front of the Reo garage and photographed. Mr. Nicholai made several demonstrations with the one he was driving, starting it on "high", and carelessly (on purpose) shifting gears. The most severe test was that of getting up a speed of twenty miles an hour and quickly throwing the gear into reverse, this being a test that the Reo people invite. Three of the new cars have already been disposed of.

SUCCESSFUL BOOSTER TRIP

Seventeen Auto Loads Go from Alliance to Chadron to Advertise Stockmen's Convention

It was a live bunch of boosters that started out from Alliance Monday morning on the Crawford-Chadron booster trip, even though the sky was over cast and there were plenty of signs of rain in the air. Seventeen autos composed the company, and almost one good-sized load of advertising was taken along and distributed.

The schedule was carried out all the way, and had it not been for several of the cars sustaining minor mishaps, they would have been in Alliance on the return at about 9 o'clock.

The bunch was met a short distance outside of Crawford by several auto loads of Crawford boosters, who escorted them into town where the band was playing and colors were flying in honor of the guests. After driving over Crawford they were taken to Ft. Robinson, where they were entertained a few minutes by the military band. At Chadron they were also met enthusiastically by the business men, and in every town everyone seemed to be talking of the Stockmen's Convention and making plans for attending.

Not all that went from here were men. The women were but slightly in the minority, and they proved themselves equal to the men when it came to boosting; in fact, some of the men were compelled to put on more steam to keep up with the weaker sex. Everyone feels that the trip was a decided success, and that such trips not only serve better than anything else in advertising an event of the convention's nature, and that they also cause a more friendly feeling between neighboring towns.

The second trip occurs today, the boosters starting for Scottabluft at 7:30. This is one of the shortest and many more are going this time than went on the first one.

COMMENCEMENT

Largest Class in History of Alliance Schools Graduated This Year—Address by Clark A. Fulmer

SIMPLE GOWNS MARKED EVENT

The commencement exercises of the Senior class of the Alliance high school, which were held last Friday evening in the Phelan opera house, marked the close of the school year entertainment activities.

Thirty-three of Alliance's finest young men and women received their diplomas, this being the largest graduating class in the history of the school.

The inspiring address by Chancellor Fulmer of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, together with the musical numbers by home talent, marked it as an evening that will live long, not only in the minds of the graduates, but with those that took advantage of the opportunity to attend. It was indeed a fitting close to a most successful school year.

Chancellor Fulmer spoke of the remarkable advances that have been made in all lines during the past few years, taking as his subject, "What the World is Now Demanding of a Man". The subject was a strong one, and was ably handled. The speaker gave several illustrations of the advantages of superior knowledge among which was the subway in the cities, and the great tunnel beneath the Detroit river. He deplored the tendency of the present generation to overlook these great changes, and its seeming indifference made an adjustment to this state of affairs. Too many people, in this day of speculation, try to be jacks-of-all-trades instead of confining their activities to one line and staying with it. As examples he called attention to the manner in which specialization had supplanted generalization in the medical world.

A plea was made for college education, in order that the young people may go into the business world and make their mark. "When a man or woman is satisfied with his or her present attainments, his usefulness to the world is past." Many young people do not try for a college education on account of poverty. This, according to Chancellor, is no handicap compared with some other difficulties. As an example he recounted the story of Edgar Hale, of Kearney, who has been a helpless cripple since boyhood, and who, without money, made his way thru school and is now completing his second year in the Nebraska Wesleyan.

Hattie Renswold, S. L. Clements, Paul Thomas and Carl Thomas composed the Mozart quartet that opened the program, followed by an invocation by Rev. A. T. Eller. Miss Burnett and Miss Smalley rendered a pleasing duet, the accompaniment being played by Miss Beulah Smith. Stage decorations were in class colors—purple and white.

A. J. Macy presented the diplomas after giving a brief review of the progress made by the Alliance schools during the past few years. He remarked that he would like to see the time come when credits would be given students for work done in stores, machine shops and offices, and other vocational lines.

For the first time in the Alliance schools, the graduates were dressed in simple gowns and caps, which makes a pleasing and a sensible contrast to the former dresses, on which some students put all manner of frills. It is hoped that the custom inaugurated this year will prove a permanent one. Following were the graduates from the high school:

Roy Armstrong, David Beach, Moe Brandt, Elting Bennett, Orville Deenport, Donald Graham, James Graham, Lura Hawkins, Charles Hanman, Adah Hill, Bernard Holsten, Helen Hewett, Ralph Johnson, Nell Keeler, Viola Kleinke, Alforetta Lamon, Irma Lotspeich, Lottie Owens, Mary Patterson, Alta Phillips, Beulah Reeves, Ietta Renswold, Hazel Sheldon, Charles Spacht, Dorothy Smith, Ruth Sturgeon, Nell Tash, Birdene Woods, Nellie Wright, Glenn Mounts.

In the commercial department were two—Lora Nason and Neil Pederson.

HILL WILL MARRY

Popular Chief of Alliance Fire Department, Goes to Portland, Oregon, to Marry

Charles L. Hill, chief of the Alliance Volunteer Fire Department, has gone to Portland, Oregon, where he will be married on June 12 to Miss Bertha M. Anderson, a former Alliance young lady, and sister of Mrs. Ray Hogue of Alliance.

After a short honeymoon trip Mr. Hill and his bride will return to Alliance about the 21st of the month. The Alliance firemen are laying plans for a proper celebration of the event when their chief arrives home. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will make their home at Alliance, where he has a responsible position with the Burlington railroad.

Bilious Attacks

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clear out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.

PUMP IRRIGATION

State Engineer Here Wednesday with View to Installing Experimental Station

State Engineer L. W. Chase spent Wednesday in Alliance and the surrounding territory looking over the prospects for pump irrigation in Box Butte county. The last state legislature passed a law appropriating $7,500 to be used for this purpose, a similar amount to be paid by the towns or counties taking up the proposition.

Sidney and Alliance were the only towns asking for a share in the appropriation. Mr. Chase stated that work will be started on an experimental pumping plant and well just as soon as possible. In company with E. T. Kibbe, C. A. Newberry, the county commissioners and others, Mr. Chase visited a number of farms in the county. The site where the first well will be tried out has not yet been definitely selected.

Mr. Chase stated that the matter was of course an experiment in Box Butte county and that he would not predict success in all parts of the county. In some parts the water sheet lies in very fine sand which would make pumping extremely difficult, while in other parts the water lies in coarse sand which would be easier handled.

The proposition of pump irrigation will be given a thorough tryout during the season. If it proves a success it will mean much more intensive cultivation of the soil.
