ROOSEVELT GRIP MAKES "HACK'S" EYES GET BRINY

"Russian Lion" Has an Interesting Interview With the President, and in Yarn-Swapping Contest the Big Wrestler Wins.

R. Edgren COLUMN

GEORGE HACKENSCHMIDT, known in wrestling circles as the "Russian Lion," called upon President Roosevelt in Washington Saturday. The President was DE-LIGH-TED.

"If I were not President of the United States I would like to be George Hackenschmidt," said Mr. Roosevelt, holding out his hand and giving the Russian Lion a grip that made his eyes water.

"Ah," said Hack, not to be outdone in politeness, "and if I were not Hackenschmidt I wou'd like to be President of the United States." Modesty is characteristic of all great men.

Then the President told Hack how he once threw a professional wrestler and broke two of his antagonist's ribs in finishing up the job neatly. Hack topped this off by relating the tale of his match with Perelli, in which Hack squeezed too hard and cracked FOUR of Perelli's ribs.

Mr. Roosevelt changed the subject to shoulders and discussed various accidents of the mat. Hack knew all about shoulders. He wrestled a big Turk named Madrali once in London. Madrali playfully tried to gouge both of Hack's eyes out with his fingers, and Hack, becoming petulent, picked Madrali up and hurled him to the mat so hard that one of the Turk's shoulders got a quadruple compound fracture, or words to that effect.

When the interview was over Mr. Roosevelt and Hackenschmidt shook hands again, and each agreed that the other was probably the greatest man in the world.

Each is in his line.

BOXERS are getting the habit of hurting their hands in big matches and taking a long lay-off before fighting again. Billy Papke hit Kelly too hard and won't be able to fight Stanley Ketchel for a month or two, they say. If Papke says it it's so. There isn't a sign of yellow about Bill. He prefers fighting to any other amusement, and no doubt he is as much disappointed over having to wait a while before fighting the Pacific Coast scrapper as a boy is when he's sent to school instead of the ball game.

Joe Jeanette has a sore hand, too, which necessitates calling off his match with Langford for the present. Perhaps Jeanette thinks he needs more training.

BOER UNHOLZ (where have I heard that name before?) tells another one about the Johnson-Flynn fight. He was talking to Flynn after the scrap, and Flynn expressed the opinion that Tommy Burns wouldn't make Johnson jump very far. "Why," said Flynn, "I tried to get Johnson's goat. I thought I had him going, and I tried a little Young Corbett on him. I just finished the first remark when he shot his right over and I thought the roof fell on me. If I ever fight Johnson again I'll be a perfect gentleman. I'll take care not to get him mad."

Unholz is also of the opinion that Johnson will make Barry surrender within a couple of rounds. Says that Barry would have quit with Langford in Los Angeles only they pushed him back into the ring every time he took a dive through the ropes. Barry didn't show any anxiety to quit in his Eastern fights with Langford.

WHEN champions or record holders run in handicap races they ought to be timed whether they win or not. Saturday night at the Thirteenth Regiment Harry Hillman and Lawson Robertson ran from scratch in the 120-yard three-legged race. The world's record (which they already hold) is 14 seconds. They finished second in the race, but a stop watch held on them registered 13 2-5 seconds. They actually beat the world's record by three-fifths of a second. It's hard luck to have a fine performance like that lost just because the handicapper gave an unreasonable handicap to another team, or because watches are held only on the winners of a race.

HACK PAYS A VISIT TO THE PRESIDENT

GIANT BATTERS ARE BEST IN THE LEAGUE

They Ran to Form in Game at Dallas, and McGraw Is Happy.

MCGRAW has put the Giants to a severe test in the batting department of the game, and those who saw the men turn loose unanimously agree that from present indications New York should have the best hitting club in the National League.

The addition of Tenney has aided the batting wonderfully, as well as the return of Donlin. There is no club in the League which can beat the Shannon-Seymour-Donlin combination for a hitting outfield, and the infield is almost as strong. The only weak spot is Bridwell, but McGraw is of the opinion that the rest of his men can hit well enough to carry Bridwell along, as they did Gilbert for several years. Bridwell is too fast a fielder to lose on account of his poor hitting.

In the game with Dallas yesterday McGraw used major league tactics, and in a few minutes he had the whole infield of the opponents completely flabbergasted. First he upset the minor leaguers by ordering all his men to bunt. When they had got the infielders going he then ordered the Giants to hit the ball out. What they did to it was a plenty. Two-base hits and three-baggers were as common as April showers. Bresnahan pulled off two three-baggers all by himself. Altogether they got away with fourteen hits for a total of twenty-two bases. That is going some in the early spring.

While McGinnity and Taylor were both hit hard by the Dallas batters, they held themselves in reserve, and when the showdown came the Giants won on the bit.

While the game with Dallas was going on here Sammy String had the youngsters over at Fort Worth, where they played a tie game.

Dallas, Tex., March 23.

Two Young Dodgers Scheduled to Go.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 23.—Manager Donovan, of the Brooklyn National League Club, is thinking seriously of letting two of his young pitchers go to the minor league clubs. Who the twirlers are Patsey refused to state, claiming that he would make known their names in a few days. The players were given a lay off yesterday and occupied their time by sightseeing, the majority of them making the trip to St. Augustine, and also paying a visit to Manager Ganzel and his Cincinnati team at their camp. President Ebbets is due to arrive to-morrow and will find his men in better shape than he had expected.

The programme for the week will include practice sessions twice daily, with games in the afternoons between the regulars and the colts, except to-morrow, when the contest with Cincinnati will be played. Two games also may be played with the Jacksonville team, one of which will take place next Sunday, if the new park across the river is finished. Charles H. Ebbets, Jr., secretary of the Brooklyn Club, who has been here for several days, sailed for New York yesterday.

Harry Tuthill Is With Tiger Colts.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 22.—The Sabbath in Hot Springs, with the clouds open and everything else closed, is just about as close to suspended animation as one can get. The Pittsburg people have arranged to allow the Tigers on the field at 11 A. M. to-morrow and Tuesday, and probably will not object to the use of the diamond. Trainer Tuthill and the Colts came in late this afternoon, and the young men will be sent through their paces with the oldsters to-morrow.

ATTELL YIELDS A POINT TO MORAN

Hilltops Are Storm-Bound in Atlanta and Can't Practise To-Day.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ATLANTA, Ga., March 23.—The Cleveland Americans ran into the storm-bound Highlanders here this morning. The two teams met in the lobby of the Piedmont Hotel, and for a solid hour there was a handshaking bee and much fraternizing among the ballplayers. This is not the Clevelands' first appearance here, but never before has there been seen in Atlanta at one time such an array of diamond stars.

The marvelous Lajoie and the wonderful Chase—two of the greatest baseball players of the age—chatted together pleasantly like ordinary mortals, while Harry Niles and Harry Day, the two fastest runners in the game, sat in chairs at another part of the lobby and talked things over; but baseball was not mentioned once. Joe Doyle met Lajoie personally for the first time.

The person who introduced them related, amid much laughter, how Doyle, after he had famed the big Frenchman during one afternoon in American League Park, wanted to know who that "big dub was that struck out each time he came to the bat, and caused the people to applaud when he did it?"

The Naps are here for two games with the Atlantas, but it is doubtful if a contest can be pulled off this afternoon. It has been raining here incessantly for twenty-four hours, and the grounds at Ponce de Leon Park are in horrible shape. The Yankees will not attempt to practise to-day. Griffith had intended leaving Chattanooga at 5 o'clock this morning, but last night received a message from Armour stating that a game was out of the question. He will, therefore, wait until to-morow before starting, playing in Chattanooga Tuesday and Wednesday.

Charley Harvey, manager of Owen Moran, the little English fighter, received a telegram from Jim Coffroth, the California fight promoter, this morning to the effect that Abe Attell had agreed to make a weight of 122 pounds four hours before another fight with Moran.

Attell, however, wants the limit to be twenty rounds. This does not satisfy Moran, as they fought a twenty-five-round draw, and the latter wants a bout of at least thirty rounds, that the question of who is the featherweight champion may be settled. It is this championship matter that is holding Moran here. He says he wants to be either champion or a beaten man before going back to England.

Texan Wins for Giant Thirds.

WACO, Texas, March 23.—The Giants' third team defeated Waco yesterday, 1 to 0. Ames and Wiltse pitched for the visitors. Only one hit was made in Waco. The Giants got three hits, a home run by Rolling, a Waco player, who was filling in for them, being the only run of the game. The batteries were: Ames, Wiltse and James; Browning, Gibson, Henshling and Orr.

YOUNG KETCHEL SAYS PAPKE MUST FIGHT ON COAST

Western Man Claims That Only a Finish Contest Can Decide Middle-Weight Championship, Which He Will Assume and Defend.

BY JOHN POLLOCK.

UNLESS Bill Papke, the Western middleweight, changes his mind about fighting Stanley "Young" Ketchel in Milwaukee only, there will be no battle between these two great pugilists for the middleweight championship of the world. In a statement given out by Ketchel in San Francisco last night, the Montana fighter says that he will not box Papke at Milwaukee, as he does not think that a fight for the championship should only be for ten rounds, which is the limit in that city. "If Papke refuses to fight me at Colma, Cal., for twenty-five or forty-five rounds, I will claim the title and defend it against all comers. Then I will take on the light heavyweights and then go after Tommy Burns, the heavyweight champion," concluded Ketchel.

Ketchel-Mantell Bout Called Off.

The limited round bout between Stanley Ketchel and Frank Mantell, the Pawtucket (R. I.) middleweight, which was to have been decided at the Colma (Cal.) A. C. on March 28, has fallen through. Matchmaker Jim Coffroth came to the conclusion that he would have so much work to do in getting all preparations made for the lightweight battle between Jimmy Britt and Packey McFarland on April 11 that it would be impossible for him to hold the Ketchel-Mantell contest.

Kaufmann to Fight Again.

Big Al Kaufmann, the heavyweight of California, who has not fought since he was awarded the decision over Jack "Twin" Sullivan, in a twenty-five-round bout at Colma, Cal., a few months ago, is to fight again next month. He has been matched by his manager, Billy Delaney, to meet Terry Mustain, the young California heavyweight, for twenty rounds at Marysville, Cal., between April 5 and 6. Mustain knocked out George Gardner a short time ago.

Gans May Meet Robson.

Joe Gans, the lightweight champion, has consented to meet "Spike" Robson, the English lightweight, in a six-round bout before the National A. C. of Philadelphia, on April 8, providing Robson defeats Harry Baldwin in their twelve-round battle before the Armory A. A. of Boston, on Wednesday night. Jack McGuigan, matchmaker of the above mentioned club, secured Gans for the bout by making him a flattering offer for his services.

"Young Erne" to Fight Marto.

"Young Erne," the sturdy and clever light weight of Philadelphia, will make his first appearance in a ring in this vicinity for nearly a year on Wednesday night, when he tackles Johnny Marto, the Italian pugilist, in the main bout of six rounds at the star of the Sharkey A. C. Erne is a great fighter, and as Marto has been constantly improving they should put up a very interesting contest.

Moran Now Wants to Fight Gans.

Owen Moran, the little English pugilist, was offered a fight with Tommy Sullivan, the former South Brooklyn fighter, before the Pacific A. C., of San Francisco, the latter part of April, but Charley Harvey, manager of Moran, promptly refused the offer. Harvey wired Matchmaker Marisch that if Abe Attell refused to fight Moran he would let Owen meet Joe Gans if the latter would take him on.

Welsh Has New Manager.

T. E. Jones, manager of Billy Papke, has taken another fighter under his management. After next Monday night he will look after the interests of Freddie Welsh, the English boxer, who has asked him to be his manager. Welsh boxes Fighting Dick Hyland for ten rounds in Milwaukee on that night, and Jones will be his chief adviser. Billy Papke will also be in the Englishman's corner to give him advice how to beat Hyland.

Jim Barry and Jeannette.

Billy Gilmer is thinking of putting on Jim Barry, the heavyweight fighter, of Chicago, and Joe Jeannette, the colored pugilist, for six rounds at one of the stags to be held by his club within a few weeks. It is hardly probable that Barry will take on the bout, for in the first place Gilmer could not offer him enough to box, and then again Barry expects to get on a big fight in California with Kaufmann.

Goodman and Hurley Training.

Jack Goodman, the light-weight pugilist, and Battling Hurley, the husky fighter, of Passaic, N. J., began training to-day for their six round bout, which will be decided at the stag of the Sharkey A. C. a week from Wednesday night. These lads fought a great battle before the same club a few weeks ago, and as they evened up then, it is expected that their coming battle will be a much faster go.

TWO STAGS TO-NIGHT.

Owing to the fact that Billy Elmer is moving his gymnasium from his present headquarters to Broadway and Twenty-ninth street, there will be a stag held by his club, the Consolidated A. C., to-night. There will be two other stags this evening, the Dry Dock A. C. having secured Lou Sheppard and Harry Ferns to clash for six rounds in the main bout, while the Grand Union A. C. of Harlem will put on Johnny Summers and Harry Baker for six rounds in the star contest.

BIG COLLEGES WILL NOT CANCEL GAMES

Present Schedules Stand, Though They Will Likely Be Cut Next Year.

There is a general movement throughout the country among college athletes, or rather the faculties of the various institutions, toward lessening the number of athletic sports in which students may engage. It is generally believed, however, at Harvard University that the vote of the faculty at a special meeting on Friday night recommending an intercollegiate agreement to reduce the number of intercollegiate contests will have no effect whatever upon any of the matches arranged for this academic year. The baseball schedule for this [illegible]ng has been completed and calls for twenty-seven games.

In the opinion of many Harvard men there is a strong possibility of a radical change next fall in the football schedule. There is even a prospect, it is asserted, that the schedule may be cut to two games and that the Harvard team's public activity in this line of sport may eventually be limited, though probably not this year, to contests with Yale and one other college only—probably Dartmouth. The supporters of this plan take the view that football should be put on a plane with rowing and that the football team, like the boat crew, should be trained and developed for not more than two or three contests.

President George Harris and the athletic authorities of Amherst College are in favor of the plan. President Harris holding that a few games are better for the scholarship and physical well being of the students than a long schedule or the establishment of conferences together. Amherst's baseball schedule has already been cut to twenty games.

A prominent graduate of Columbia College who has taken great interest in athletics in discussing the action of the Harvard faculty said yesterday: "Harvard's action, in my opinion, may depend on Columbia's to follow in the steps in this matter. The Columbia faculty for the past few years has shown a sentiment against the general participation of the students in intercollegiate contests. In 1905, when Columbia decided to quit the game of football there was some effort to create sentiment for the abolition of intercollegiate sport to as great an extent as possible."

JAY GOULD SHOWS CHAMPIONSHIP FORM

Young American Beats Professional Champion in Brilliant Game of Tennis.

Young Jay Gould showed that he is still of championship timber yesterday by defeating Peter Latham, champion professional tennis player of the world, in a set of games at Tuxedo Park on the courts of the Tuxedo Tennis and Racquet Club. Persons who saw this brilliant contest now know that Gould's win over Eustace Miles in England was no fluke. The galleries were crowded with a fashionable gathering, including a majority of the tennis experts of this country.

The victory was a brilliant one for Gould and a surprise to the audience, due to the fact that Latham so easily defeated Miles yesterday. Before the men entered the court Latham was the favorite. The professional conceded Gould 15.

Gould won the spin and started the service, Latham taking the first four games. With 4 love against him, Gould then took the next two games, making the score 4 to 2. Latham, who was playing strongly, took the next two and won the set at 6—4. The next three sets went to Gould by 6—1, 6—2 and 6—1.

Gould was in fine form and played a very aggressive game, using his railroad service to great advantage. Latham seemed very tired.

Riverside Tournament.

The Riverside billiard tournament, at Sixty-fourth street and One Hundred and Fifteenth street, and Seventh avenue, opens to-night with Dr. Wilson, 115, and E. M. Levy, 120, as the players. Giant entries and I. Rosenbaum, 115, will be the first players, as they selected by Manager Frelsen in a preliminary round. A very close contest for the valuable prizes is expected.

Wrestling in Brooklyn.

George [illegible] champion wrestler, [illegible] the Star Theatre, Brooklyn, to-morrow night against "Greek George" Sandele, a heavyweight champion who has defeated every wrestler of note entered in the international tournament, and expects to defeat Hackenschmidt easily within a time limit of twenty minutes. Young [illegible] of Chicago, Constantino Madis [illegible] Frits Mohl, of Zurich, will try conclusions with "Butch" Miller and Neil Olsen, the great Dane. John P. Dunn will officiate as master of ceremonies.

STARS AT WHITE ELEPHANT.

There will be a warm series of games in the White Elephant individual tournament at Thum's to-night, Glenn Riddell, Fred Pump, jr., and Eastmead being the contestants. Riddell and Pump, while clever bowlers, are youngsters between whom there is a great rivalry for the juvenile championship, while Eastmead, of the Newspaper League, and a star among match game bowlers, will make it interesting in each game of the best three out of five series. All are to roll.

GREATER NEW YORK GAMES.

Nineteen series of games have been scheduled in the Greater New York individual tournament for this week, fourteen of the eighteen contestants being represented in the seven series to-night. The games are losing nothing in interest, although it seems almost certain that Jimmy Smith will win first prize, he having been an odds-on favorite from the start. Voorhees, Dunbar, Johns, Koster and a few others will divide the other prizes.

The schedule to-night is as follows: Voorhees vs. Schneider, Broadway; Schultz vs. Hulett, Circle; Allen vs. Nelson and Dunbar vs. Durand, Superba, Brooklyn; Koster vs. Schwebke, Broadway Arcade; Cohn vs. Heins, Harlem Palace, Manhattan, and Weingarth vs. Johns, Oxford, Newark.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

V. Vilain, a member of the Bohemian team in the Harlem Night tourney, at Kahlsourt's Harlem Palace, has an average of 218 for eleven games, this is about the best record in any city tournament.

Frank De Mar denies that he was the author of an article in the Sporting Life on the subject of the Professional Bowlers' Association.

There will be a great gathering of match game bowlers at Hoek's Dade Dumais and Hale avenues, Brooklyn, Saturday night, when the second annual ball of the Brooklyn Association.

Alex Dunbar rolled remarkably fine average in the White Elephant individual tourney Saturday night, defeating Hoffman and Horan and averaging 203 1-3 and 210 in respective series. Dunbar games each.

Scores in the Unitedo Sectional tourney at the White Elephant last night were as follows: Graham, 889, 1,023, 864. Vogel, chopper, 741, 893, 881. Cove, 886, 827, 847. Vs. Heinehund, 779, 844, 686. High scores—Heller, 268.

In case Conklin should defeat Wright a replay between Wright, Conklin and Demarest would result. If to-morrow's game results in a victory for the coast player, Wright will be first in point, Conklin will have second place as consolation, with four games won and one lost, while Conklin will go in third place with three games won and two lost.
