When Gladys Drives
When Gladys drives—the darling little thing—(Heaven preserve the car that's following!) One might as well concede the right of way. And take no chance, but, be that as it may, It is of lovely Gladys that I sing. She gives the bell a little ding-a-ling; Her course is zig-zag, or around a ring. Or catercorner—one can never say—When Gladys drives.

Her feelings I'd not hurt for anything. But if she ever hits a person—bing! (She hit a traffic cop the other day, And then there was the deuce and all to pay) She manages to get them on the wing.

The Booster's Crown
I never wrote a famous play Like those that Shakespeare wrote, Nor yet in verse or roundelay Struck the Miltonic note; I never painted anything Like Michaelangelo, Nor does my oratory ring Like that of Cicero.

Upon the stage I must confess I'm not a second Booth, Nor yet do I pretend to dress Like Beau Brummel in truth; No symphonies have I composed To rival Herr Mozart, Nor nature's secrets have disclosed With Luther Burbank's art.

No continents have I explored Like Ponce De Leon, Nor ever led the conquering horde, As did Napoleon; No master of finance am I, As Rockefeller is; In science I'd not qualify With the late Agassiz.

At statesmanship I must admit I'm not a Talleyrand; On no inventions have I hit With Edison's command; Yet on my tomb let all men read My one claim to renown, That mine was not a knocker's creed "HE BOOSTED HIS HOME TOWN."

Brown had the reputation of being very fond of money, and when his claws closed around a dollar the coin was a whole lot safer than if it reposed in a burglar-proof safe. One Sunday evening Brown attended church, probably because he had no other place to go. When the contribution plate was passed he didn't make any motions like a generous donation. "Excuse me, sir," said the deacon, who was a good collector, persistently holding the plate before Brown, "wouldn't you like to make a small contribution?" "No, sir," responded Brown, rather emphatically. "I am not in the habit of making contributions of this kind." "Then take something from the plate, sir," said the deacon in a louder voice, this money is for the heathen."—Ex.

A man was walking along the street, and he saw a house on fire. He rushed across the way and rang the bell. After some time a lady, who proved to be slightly deaf, appeared at the door. "Madam, your house is on fire." "What did you say?" "The man began dancing up and down. He pointed above. "I said your house is afire! Flames bursting out! No time to lose!"

"What did you say?" "House afire! Quick!" The lady smiled. "Is that all?" she smiled sweetly. "Well," replied the man hopelessly, "that's all I can think of just now."

The King Stranger—How old is your baby brother, little girl? The Little Girl—He's a this year's model.

"Now, Dorothy," said the teacher to a small pupil, "can you tell me what a panther is?" "Yeth, ma'am," lisped Dorothy. "A panther ith a man that makths pantha."

Little Molly had been very trying all day. That evening, when her grown-up sister was putting her to bed, she said she hoped the child would be a better girl tomorrow and would not make everybody unhappy with her naughty temper. Molly listened in silence, thought hard for a few moments, and then said wisely: "Yes, when it's me it's temper; when it's you, it's nerves."

An old lady once died at Spa. Her nephew and heir ordered the body sent home. But when the young man opened the coffin to have one last look at the remains he beheld instead of his beloved Aunt Jemima, the corpse of a general in full uniform, the breast covered with medals. The young man wired at once to Spa, receiving in a few hours the following answer: "Give general quiet funeral. Aunt Jemima buried this morning with full military honors, regimental band and twenty-one-gun salute."

"My husband does nothing but read."

"And mine is always going fishing. If a man isn't a bookworm he is an anglerworm."

OPEN KANSAS LANDS

Kansas Forest Reserve to be Opened by Government to Homestead Entry on November 1, Washington, D. C., October 21 — The President, upon recommendation of secretary of the Interior Lane and Secretary of Agriculture Houston, has signed a proclamation abolishing the Kansas National Forest, to take effect on December 1, 1915.

This national forest is located in Finney, Kearny, Grant, Hamilton and Haskell counties, comprising the sand-hill region of western Kansas, and the public lands therein aggregate 138,729 acres of the total of 262,787 acres within its exterior limits. Of these 138,729 acres, 3,022 are withdrawn pending proposed legislation to reserve the same as a game refuge, there being a small herd of antelope in that region believed to be the last of their kind in western Kansas.

These lands will be enterable under the 320-acre homestead act. Applications to enter, however, may be filed either by mail or in person on and after November 1, 1915, with the register and receiver of the United States land office at Dodge City, Kansas, and those received by the register and receiver from November 1 to November 26, if in proper form and accompanied by the required payment, will be allowed on December 1, 1915. In case of conflicting applications and only one of the applicants alleges settlement initiated prior to the reservation and since maintained, his application shall be allowed and the others rejected. If two or more conflicting applications are received, each containing allegations of such prior settlement, a hearing shall be ordered to determine the priority of right, and it shall be restricted to those alleging such right. Where there are applications or statements conflicting in whole or in part in which no one of the several applicants claims such a prior settlement, the rights of the respective applicants will be determined by a public drawing to be conducted by the register and receiver at the Dodge City land office, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. December 1.

Any further information may be obtained from the register and receiver of the United States land office at Dodge City, Kansas.

HAD PLEASANT VACATION

Young Alliance Business Man Spent Seven Weeks on Vacation Trip in California and Other Points

Howard Reddish, young Alliance business man, returned Sunday noon from a vacation trip of seven weeks, most of the time of which was spent in California. He visited the exposition at San Francisco and at San Diego. He also visited with an aunt and uncle at Santa Barbara.

Mr. Reddish spent four weeks at Long Beach, visiting with Ward Rubendall and mother, who recently left Alliance to make their home there. Howard spent much time at Universal City and other towns which have been built up exclusively for the making of moving pictures. He found much to interest him in these wonderful "play towns" where something new happens every day.

Howard met several Alliance people, among them Mrs. Charles Tully, Miss Josie Hampton, Judge L. A. Berry, and Webster Bernhardt, who formerly lived here.

New Lands for Homestead Entry

Upon the recommendation of Secretary of the Interior Lane, the president has signed a proclamation opening to homestead entry over one hundred thousand acres of land in North Dakota. These lands were formerly within the Fort Berthold Indian reservation, and have been reserved from disposition because of their containing coal. The lands will be classified, without regard to their coal value, as agricultural land of first and second class, grazing land and timber land, and appraised accordingly. The appraised price must be paid in addition to meeting the requirements of the homestead law.

Get This Can of Paint and Shingle Free

All the talk in the world would never sell a can of paint to a man who knows good paint when he sees it. He buys paint on its merits, not on its claims. We want everyone who has a barn to paint to come in and get a sample can of Standby Barn Paint. We want you to see for yourself what a good paint it is.

Be sure and get the shingle painted one and two coats—take it home, paint a shingle of your own, and put ours and yours side by side and compare them. You will find you can duplicate the result with

STANDBY Barn Paint

In other words this is not a "Show-Shingle." It is painted just as you would paint it, and shows the actual finish of Standby Paint.

Read the Formula

You will see it contains the highest percentage of oil of any barn paint on the market. The liquid analysis shows 43.7% Pure Linseed Oil, 56.3% Heavy Japan. Nearly half the liquid is oil. We don't have to tell you much when you see that.

We give you a sample to show its color and finish—how smoothly it works under the brush and how it covers.

We call your attention to the high percentage of oil.

We guarantee its wearing qualities for five years when properly applied. Stop in our store for your sample. Try it on your barn door. Match the painted shingle.

DIERK'S LUMBER and COAL CO.
Alliance, Nebraska

The coal in these lands will be reserved to the government and the homestead entryman will receive patent for the surface only unless it be shown that the land does not contain coal. The coal deposits are subject to disposition under the coal-land laws in effect at the time of such disposition.

By the terms of the proclamation these lands will not become subject to homestead entry until late in the spring of 1916. Public notice of the proclamation and the regulations thereunder will be given later.
