A Genuine Rupture Cure Sent On Trial To Prove It

DON'T WEAR A TRUSS ANY LONGER.

After Thirty Years' Experience I Have Produced An Appliance for Men, Women and Children That Actually Cures Rupture.

If you have tried most everything else, come to me. Where others fail is where I have my greatest success. Send attached coupon to-day and I will send you free my illustrated book on Rupture and its cure, showing my Appliance and giving you prices and names of many people who have tried it and were cured. It is instant relief when all others fail. Remember, I use no salves, no harness, no lies.

I send on trial to prove what I say is true. You are the judge and once having seen my illustrated book and read it you will be as enthusiastic as my hundreds of patients whose letters you can also read. Fill out free coupon below and mail to-day. It's well worth your time whether you try my Appliance or not.

The above is C. E. Brooks, inventor of the Appliance, who cured himself and who is now giving others the benefit of his experience. If ruptured, write him to-day, at Marshall, Mich.

Pennsylvania Man Thankful

Mr. C. E. Brooks,
Marshall, Mich.
Dear Sir:—

Perhaps it will interest you to know that I have been ruptured six years and have always had trouble with it till I got your Appliance. It is very easy to wear, fits neat and snug, and is not in the way at any time, day or night. In fact, at times I did not know I had it on; it just adapted itself to the shape of the body and seemed to be a part of the body, as it clung to the spot, no matter what position I was in.

It would be a veritable God-send to the unfortunate who suffer from rupture if all could procure the Brooks Rupture Appliance and wear it. They would certainly never regret it.

My rupture is now all healed up and nothing ever did it but your Appliance. Whenever the opportunity presents itself I will say a good word for your Appliance, and also the honorable way in which you deal with ruptured people. It is a pleasure to recommend a good thing among your friends or strangers. I am,

Yours very sincerely,
JAMES A. BRITTON.

Confederate Veteran Cured

Commerce, Ga., R. F. D. No. 11.
Mr. C. E. Brooks,
Dear Sir:—I am glad to tell you that I am now sound and well and can plough or do any heavy work. I can say your Appliance has effected a permanent cure. Before getting your Appliance I was in a terrible condition and had given up all hope of ever being any better. If it hadn't been for your Appliance I would never have been cured. I am sixty-eight years old and served three years in Eckle's Artillery, Oglethorpe Co. I hope God will reward you for the good you are doing for suffering humanity.

Yours sincerely,
H. D. BANKS.

Others Failed But the Appliance Cured

Mr. C. E. Brooks,
Marshall, Mich.
Dear Sir:—

Your Appliance did all you claim for the little boy and more, for it cured him sound and well. We let him wear it for about a year in all, although it cured him 3 months after he had begun to wear it. We had tried several other remedies and got no relief, and I shall certainly recommend it to friends, for we surely owe it to you.

Yours respectfully,
WM. PATTERSON.

Remember

I send my Appliance on trial to prove what I say is true. You are to be the judge. Fill out free coupon below and mail to-day.

Ten Reasons Why

You Should Send for Brooks Rupture Appliance

1. It is absolutely the only Appliance of the kind on the market to-day, and in it are embodied the principles that inventors have sought after for years.

2. The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of position.

3. Being an air cushion of soft rubber it clings closely to the body, yet never blisters or causes irritation.

4. Unlike the ordinary so-called pads, used in other trusses, it is not cumbersome or ungainly.

5. It is small, soft and pliable, and positively cannot be detected through the clothing.

6. The soft, pliable bands holding the Appliance do not give one the unpleasant sensation of wearing a harness.

7. There is nothing about it to get foul, and when it becomes soiled it can be washed without injuring it in the least.

8. There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by cutting and bruising the flesh.

9. All of the material of which the Appliances are made is of the very best that money can buy, making it a durable and safe Appliance to wear.

10. My reputation for honesty and fair dealing is so thoroughly established by an experience of over thirty years of dealing with the public, and my prices are so reasonable, my terms so fair, that there certainly should be no hesitancy in sending free coupon to-day.

Child Cured in Four Months

21 Jansen St., Dubuque, Iowa.
Mr. C. E. Brooks, Marshall, Mich.
Dear Sir:—The baby's rupture is altogether cured, thanks to your Appliance, and we are so thankful to you. If we could only have known of it sooner, our little boy would not have had to suffer near as much as he did. He wore your brace a little over four months.

Yours very truly,
ANDREW EGGENBERGER.

AIDING SHRUBS AND ROSES IN COLD WINTER'S WEATHER

Fourth Article in Series on Winter Care of the Garden—Treatment of Lilacs, Snowballs, Etc., Not Necessary During the Frosty Season

Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—While lilacs, snowballs and certain other shrubs should be let alone during the winter, being neither trimmed nor covered with straw and manure, other bushes need special attention.

Hydrangeas (semi-herbaceous) in the South will last out the winter if properly cared for out-of-doors. The tops should be protected with straw or brush. This may be held in place about the bushes with a little manure or stones. The flower buds of the hydrangea form in the fall, and this cover will keep them from winter-killing while shielding the bush from winds and sun. In the North hydrangeas must be taken up, planted in tubs and placed in the cellar. This is generally true of latitudes north of Philadelphia.

The shrub known as brugmansia should be treated as is the hydrangea. The brugmansia (known botanically as datura) is also called thorn apple. It is a cultivated form of jimson weed and has long, bell-shaped white flowers and rather coarse foliage.

As a rule, shrubs should not be trimmed in the fall. This process is timely immediately after the blooming period, if this is in the spring, as in the case of the snowball. If the shrubs bloom in the fall, as do some hydrangeas, the rose of Sharon and some lilacs, they should not be cut directly after blooming, but in the spring of the following year.

The mock orange, which is also known as "syringa," needs no special treatment to help it winter the severe weather. The name "syringa," although popularly applied to the mock orange, is really more appropriate for the lilac, which is known botanically by that designation, while the mock orange is botanically "Philadelphus."

Roses: Almost all kinds of roses are hardy in the vicinities of Washington and St. Louis and to the south of a line drawn between these points. From Washington northward local conditions influence the successful cultivation of certain varieties. Some roses, as the briar and rugosa, need no protection, but other varieties, such as the hybrid-perpetuals, teas and hybrid-teas, need special care, particularly north of the fortieth parallel. Teas and hybrid-teas hardly succeed in Chicago, although the hybrid-perpetuals grow as far north as Canada. All these classes do well on Long Island and in Boston near the sea when proper care is given them. These varieties in the vicinity of Washington need merely a little manure on the ground to prevent alternate freezing and thawing. Farther north, however, they should be treated as follows:

Cut the tops to within 30 inches of the ground. Cover the roots with coarse manure or leaves or similar litter. Hold this in place by brush, which also acts as a protection. Evergreen boughs may be substituted for the coarser litter, except in the most northern regions.

It is best to draw mounds of earth about six or eight inches in height about the base of the rose bushes to keep them from mice. In some localities the loose brush around the roots will attract mice, who will make their winter quarters there and destroy the rose bushes. As an added protection against mice, permit the ground to freeze slightly before winter protection is supplied. In fact, roses should not be protected until after the first light freeze, which may be expected in Washington about the first of December, but earlier farther north.

In the latitude of Philadelphia and farther south climbing roses usually need no protection during the winter unless they are a particularly tender variety. Farther north these roses need protection similar to that given to the tea and hybrid-tea roses.

Climbing roses may be best cared for by being removed from their supports. The branches should then be covered over with a little dirt and treated as hybrid-perpetual roses would be treated. A little fall trimming might be desirable to lessen the space occupied by the branches on the ground. Such side branches as are not to be needed for next season's blooming may be cut off. Such cutting off and shortening of the ends as would otherwise be done in the spring may be done in the fall before covering, merely for convenience.

The above method is much more satisfactory than attempting to put straw about the roses as they remain on their posts or trellises.

Make Biscuits This Way

For twelve small biscuits measure three cups of flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, one teaspoon of salt. Sift together three times. Add two tablespoons of shortening. This may be pure lard but the best shortening is meat dripping that has been well clarified. I always use this when baking for a public class and when it is not to be had I substitute one tablespoon of butter and one tablespoon of lard. Mix this into the dry, sifted ingredients and add one-half pint of milk or water. The milk makes a richer biscuit with a softer crust; the water makes the biscuit white and crisp.

They should be very soft when mixed and patted out on a pastry board until about an inch thick. The palm of the hand is better for this than a rolling pin, in fact, except for cookies and pastry, there is little use in this world for rolling pins.

Bake in a quick oven eight minutes. The full time for mixing, cutting and baking biscuits should never exceed twelve minutes and in contests it is often done in eight.

Twin biscuits are made just as explained above but are patted out thinner. Cut in rounds as usual and lightly butter the lower half. Place a round on top of this and bake. They come apart when served and are richer than the ordinary biscuit.

Drop Biscuit — These are not so smooth looking as the cut ones but are quicker to make. Always use milk for them. The proportions are almost identical with the recipe above except that the sugar is used to help with the browning: Three cups of flour sifted, three teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon of sugar, one teaspoon of salt, two tablespoons of shortening. Enough sweet milk to make a very soft dough. Drop by spoonfuls onto a buttered pan and bake in a quick oven.

Cream Biscuits—English recipe: Sift one pint of flour with two teaspoons of baking powder and half a teaspoon of salt. Warm a pint of cream until it will melt a teaspoon of butter. Add the butter to the warm cream and when it is melted and cool beat in two eggs. Add to the flour and beat briskly. Pour the batter into hot buttered gem pans and bake in a moderate oven.

Sour Milk and Soda Biscuit—These will never be yellow unless you use too much soda. Like all material soda differs in strength. A fresh box, newly opened and not exposed to the varying temperature of the kitchen will possess much greater power than soda that has stood open on the shelf for days. The proper quantity is one level teaspoon of soda to a full pint of sour milk or cream. Pour the soda, milk and salt into a deep bowl and sift in flour to make the dough a trifle heavier than for baking powder biscuit. Shortening is not always added. If you use it in soda biscuit melt it and mix it into the sour milk. Never use it with soda if you use sour cream.

These biscuits needs a slower oven than baking powder ones and should bake about twenty minutes. They may be shaped with the hand or with a cutter.

Beaten biscuits are relics of befor' de war days when time was plenty and every kitchen was furnished with a strong negro who was able to "beat de biskits until dey blistered." Women who do their own baking put the biscuit through the chopping machine, some twelve or more times and the results are good but not like the real Southern article.

LEGAL TRESPASS NOTICE EXPLAINED BY SURFACE

Advice, Through Following Which Hunters May Avoid a Great Deal of Trouble, Is Offered by the State Economic Zoologist

There are such remarkable differences of opinion as to what constitutes a legal trespass notice that State Zoologist H. A. Surface has looked into this matter carefully, and has issued the following statement in regard to this important subject:

"The law provides that when premises are posted with signs against trespassing it is illegal to enter thereon under penalty of arrest for trespass, which may result in a fine of $10. There is no definite wording of the notice fixed by law, but it is necessary to state that the property so posted is 'Private Premises,' and all persons must be warned against entering thereon. The law does not require that the notice shall be of any definite stated form or material, nor is any requirement made as to the size of the letters, nor the number of notices to be posted, the way they are to be put up or displayed, nor the distance apart at which they are to be fixed, nor the time when they are to be posted.

"This means that a notice printed by hand or type, stating that the premises are 'private' and warning against trespass, is legal and must be respected. It is not necessary for the owner to show that the trespasser has damaged property, in order to arrest and prosecute him for trespass, and the payment of a gun license fee does not permit the gunner to enter on posted premises, whether cultivated or not. Gunners have no more right to enter posted woods than cultivated property.

"It is to be inferred that the notices will be sufficiently large to be seen at a reasonable distance and placed close enough together that gunners can have opportunity to see them before entering the premises. However, the fact that a gunner has not seen the notice does not excuse him from the responsibility of entering upon posted premises and the liability of arrest, without warrant, subject to a penalty of $100 for resisting arrest for violation of any provisions of the act.

"It must further be remembered that the persons made responsible by the State for enforcing the laws are not the ones who made such laws, and can not annul or modify them, but must enforce them as they are, or fail in the performance of their duty, and thus be liable to dismissal from their official positions."

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisurated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisurated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G. adv.

1,200 FARM EXHIBITS

Blair County Holding Corn and Fruit Show in Altoona

Altoona, Nov. 12.—Every township in Blair county sent an exhibit to the Altoona corn and fruit show, which opened here yesterday under the auspices of the Blair county farm bureau. More than 1,200 exhibits of fruit, vegetables and grain are displayed on the long tables, with apples and corn predominating.

Mayor Walker formally opened the show and County Superintendent of Schools Davis welcomed the people. Each day addresses on farm subjects will be delivered. Farm Agent R. H. Bell, of Lycoming county, will judge the exhibits.

M'GOVERN GAINS IN RECOUNT

Republican Candidate for Senator in Wisconsin Only 903 Votes Behind

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 12.—With more figures in from official canvassing boards and from recounts of last Tuesday's ballots, the lead of Paul O. Husting, Democrat, over Governor F. E. McGovern, Republican, for United States Senator, was reduced to 903 votes.

The Governor's heaviest gain was in four of the five precincts recounted in Superior, where he gained 60 votes. He lost 9 in Milwaukee county, 1 in Iron county and gained 1 in Calumet county.

Mr. Husting has lost 38 votes in Polk county, gained 11 in Calumet and 7 in Fon du Lac.

The latest totals give Husting 134,811 and McGovern 133,908.

DIES AFTER A PARADE

Huntingdon Druggist Succumbs to An Attack of Acute Indigestion

Huntingdon, Nov. 12.—The welcome-home demonstration given to Governor-elect Martin G. Brumbaugh, Tuesday night by the citizens of Huntingdon county, was saddened by the death of Harry E. Steel, a well-known druggist, who died suddenly of acute indigestion a few minutes after leaving the parade, in which he had participated.

His father, Samuel A. Steel, was Prothonotary of Huntingdon county. His grandfather and great-grandfather were postmasters of Huntingdon.

Reading Aids Belgians

Reading, Nov. 12.—A carload of flour, valued at $1,100, was forwarded to Philadelphia yesterday to be shipped to the Belgian sufferers. The local committee reported that a prominent Reading manufacturer had contributed $250 to the fund.

SHOOTS TO SAVE HER DOG

American Woman Arrested for Attempted Murder at Sea

Havre, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Setelle, an American woman residing in Paris, who was a passenger on the steamship Chicago from New York, was arrested here yesterday on the charge, preferred by the police, of attempted murder.

After a quarrel with several passengers, who teased her dog, and becoming furious at the alleged mistreatment of her pet, Mrs. Setelle is accused of firing twice, from an automatic pistol, at a man whom she believed to be the ring-leader of the group. Both bullets flew wild and the woman was immediately disarmed.

In Court Mrs. Setelle said: "I fired in the air merely to frighten the man." Two witnesses testified with regard to the incident and both declared that the woman shot to kill.

CONVICT WHITE SLAVER

Former Religious Paper Editor Found Guilty by Cleveland Jury

Cleveland, Nov. 12.—Anzel Mlynarczyk, 59, former editor of a religious paper, yesterday was found guilty of white slavery by a jury in Federal Court. He was charged with having brought Lydia Seinar, 20, from her home at Coal Centre, Pa., to this city and having kept her a prisoner in his home. Sentence has not been pronounced.

Letters read at the trial by Miss Seinar said that Mlynarczyk had promised to 'make a great lady of her," that he would buy her pretty clothes and perhaps take her abroad.

Mlynarczyk served a sentence in the workhouse for holding the girl a prisoner in his home before Federal authorities took up the case.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't Stay Gray! Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea and Sulphur

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. Adv.

SLAYS BRIDE AS SHE AUTOS

Murder From Ambush Sequel to Numerous Mysterious Attacks

Iola, Kan., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Roy Ard, bride of a wealthy young farmer, was shot from ambush and killed early yesterday while driving home in a motor car with her husband and sister. The shooting took place on a lonely road five miles from Elsmore, 20 miles southeast of here, and the scene was within a mile of the home Ard recently had erected for his bride. A shotgun was used by the assassin, who lay hidden in trees bordering the road.

The Ards had been married six months.

The tragedy followed numerous threats against the young couple. Three weeks ago poison was placed in the water of the Ard farm. Later, upon opening a can of fruit, a peculiar taste was noticed and an analysis disclosed a deadly poison. Two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Ard were fired upon as they were returning from church. Last Sunday night as Ard entered his hay mow to throw down hay for his horses he was struck upon the head with a club. His assailant escaped.

Mr. Ard, his wife and her sister, Miss Latimer, had been visiting at a neighbor's and were returning home. Mrs. Ard was driving the motor car when the shooting occurred. Neither Ard nor his wife's sister would discuss the shooting. The Ard family is one of the oldest in the county and founded the town of Elsmore. Mrs. Ard was 26 years old.

JOHN BONNER SENT TO JAIL

Coal Region Pugilist Found Guilty of Running a Liquor Club

Mauch Chunk, Nov. 12.—John V. Bonner, of Summit Hill, who in his prime was one of the greatest middleweight pugilists in the anthracite region, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Barber to pay a fine of $500, costs and to imprisonment in the county jail for six months on the charge of conducting an illegal club at Summit Hill, in which he sold intoxicating drinks.

When Bonner appeared in court yesterday he was without counsel, and said he did not have the means of engaging an attorney. He said he owned real estate, but that he was without ready funds. A verdict of guilty was found in two hours.

FOX FIGHTS LIKE A WOLF

Man Finally Crushes Skull of Feasting Brute With an Ax

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 12.—A huge gray fox caught in a chicken pen at Mt. Carbon, with a fowl in its mouth, sprang with a snarl at the throat of Howard Cavilier yesterday, when Howard interrupted the feast. For three minutes the man was in great danger, as the huge animal, with great leaps at his throat, almost rushed him off his feet.

Cavilier finally succeeded in picking up an ax and crushing in the skull of the fox. It proved to be one of the finest specimens ever seen here, and Alderman P. J. Martin granted the State bounty to Cavilier.

Veterans Among the Teachers

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 12.—C. S. Jacoby, one of the teachers attending the county institute, has been a teacher for 45 years. J. B. Douglass has taught 43 years and B. K. Habecker and Theodore Harb, 41 years.

MINE SAFETY NEGLECTED

Coroner's Jury Obtains Startling Admissions in Car Tragedy

Hazleton, Pa., Nov. 12.—Startling evidence of negligence on the part of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company was alleged at the Coroner's probe into the deaths of Manus O'Donnell, Andrew McKelvey and John Douglas, killed when five men were struck by a runaway car at the Hazleton shaft colliery.

District Attorney John H. Bigelow secured admissions from Inside Foreman Thomas Young and Shaftman August Pollock that the pins holding the ropes to the car had not been inspected for two days prior to the fatality, and that no blocks or safety catches existed on the slope to stop runaways.

LADIES, HAIRDRESSING IN LONDON AND PARIS

A returned traveler says, "When I was in Europe this year I found both cities so thickly dotted with hairdressing parlors and hair goods stores that I wondered if the women ever had time for anything but care of the hair. Personally I was interested in finding a really good shampoo and was happily surprised when several inquiries each brought the suggestion that our own American made canthrox shampoo is best. I tried it and have decided that it is not advisable to use a makeshift but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth." Adv.

POURED DEATH WITH OIL

Woman Turns to Human Torch and Dies, House in Ashes

DuBoistown, Nov. 12.—Pouring oil to encourage a kitchen fire, Mrs. Ellsworth Young, aged 20, was fatally burned by the explosion that followed, and the house was destroyed.

Her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sheridan Young, ran to her rescue and was badly burned about the hands.

The young woman rushed through the house, scattering the flames and out the front door to the home of a neighbor, falling unconscious on the door step. All of her clothing was burned from her body and she died in a Williamsport hospital.

Farmer Kills Himself

Bloomsburg, Nov. 12.—Fred Hosler, a Civil war veteran and a well-known farmer, blew off the entire front of his head yesterday with a shot gun. The body was found by a farm employe.

Fatally Shot in Cousin's Fall

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 12. — Ralph Fickes, aged 22, of Wyandt, Bedford county, was shot in the right thigh by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Ross Motto, aged 20, his cousin, with whom he was hunting yesterday, and died from loss of blood while being brought to the hospital. Motto tripped and fell.

How to Peel Off a Weatherbeaten Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The wornout skin comes off, not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier underskin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled, faded or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows. An excellent wrinkle-remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This gives immediate results. adv.
