CLEVELAND'S CASE IS VERY GRAVE, THE DOCTORS REPORT

Specialists Said to Have Declared the Former President Has Cancer of the Stomach—Dr. Bryant Refuses to Affirm or Deny.

There is a report current in financial circles, emanating from the offices of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, that former President Grover Cleveland is a sufferer from cancer of the stomach and that his case has been pronounced hopeless by specialists called into consultation by Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, of this city, the family physician.

Dr. Bryant was seen by an Evening World reporter to-day at his home, No. 32 West Forty-eighth street and asked point blank if Mr. Cleveland is suffering from cancer of the stomach. The distinguished physician made this significant statement:

"That is not for me to say. I cannot give an affirmative or negative answer to the question. As his physician it would not be proper for me to state whether or not there is anything at all the matter with him. Any statement as to the nature of his illness should come from his family."

"When did you see Mr. Cleveland last?" Dr. Bryant was asked.

"On Monday," he replied. "I am going to Lakewood to see him again this afternoon. The reports I have received of his condition since Monday have been very favorable."

Mr. Cleveland remains at the Lakewood Hotel, in Lakewood, N. J., although the house closed for the season ten days ago. His wife and children are the only other guests.

A physician and nurses are in constant attendance, and a small staff of servants has been retained to look after the Cleveland family.

A Trustee of Stock.

Mr. Cleveland is one of the trustees of the stock of the Equitable Life Assurance Society purchased form James Hazen Hyde by Thomas F. Ryan. The other trustees are former Justice Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse. Previous to the October panic Mr. Cleveland was quite diligent in the performance of the duties connected with his trusteeship.

Since the beginning of the year Mr. Cleveland has not been at the Equitable offices. Up to a few weeks ago he looked after considerable correspondence and attended to urgent work at his home in Princeton or at the Lakewood Hotel. He has done no work whatever recently, and messengers from the Equitable no longer visit him with documents requiring his perusal or signature.

Rumors concerning the precarious state of Mr. Cleveland's health have been in circulation in and about the Equitable offices for weeks. That cancer of the stomach is his ailment is now positively asserted.

Advise Against Operation.

An operation has been discussed, but the surgeon specialists have advised against it. Mr. Cleveland was seventy-one years old on March 18 last. It is extremely doubtful if he could survive the terrific shock of such an operation as the removal of a cancer of the stomach involves.

The history of medical practice contains no record of complete recovery of a patient afflicted with cancer of the stomach. It is possible to keep the sufferer alive by careful treatment for a protracted period, but the fatal termination is inevitable.

Mr. Cleveland, since his retirement from the Presidency in 1897 has lived much in the open air. Up to the time the first symptoms of serious stomach trouble made their appearance he was unusually virile and energetic for a man of his age whose occupations had been largely of a sedentary nature. His splendid constitution enabled him to withstand the ravages of disease and continue his business and literary activities long after a weaker man would have succumbed.

SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF NEW MEDICINE GROWS

Recent Statements by New Yorkers Strongly Uphold Cooper's Theory and Treatment.

The following statements were made Thursday afternoon at the Riker Drug Company, Ninth street and Broadway. At this store L. T. Cooper is meeting the public and explaining the nature of the medicines which are at present attracting so much attention.

The statements were given for publication and are examples of the sentiment in favor of Cooper's theory and medicines which has grown so rapidly in New York since his arrival a month ago.

James May, of 1061 De Kalb avenue, Brooklyn, said: "I have had chronic stomach trouble and indigestion for five years. I could eat very little solid food during this time and what I did eat would generally cause intense pain. I have spent several hundred dollars for physicians' services and medicines, but have grown worse, especially during the last two years.

"Five weeks ago I started taking this Cooper medicine and have now about finished the treatment. I wish to say that I am now a well man. I can eat whatever I like and have not a particle of indigestion afterward. I sleep better and feel better in every way and am no longer nervous and depressed. Life is worth living for the first time in five years, thanks to this medicine."

Mrs. Anna Mountain, of 123½ Chrystie street, Manhattan, said: "My husband has sent me here to get this medicine for him, after seeing what it has done for me. When I got the medicine for myself three weeks ago he said that it was money wasted.

"I have been sick for seven years next November. My food would not digest and the gas on my stomach was so bad that I dreaded to eat anything. I was a chronic dyspeptic in its worst form, and have walked the floor in agony time after time.

"I tried everything I ever heard of and many physicians, but nothing helped me a particle. After taking this treatment three weeks I am a well woman. I can eat three hearty meals with no indigestion whatever. My husband says it is the next thing to a miracle."

Mrs. E. Jones, of No. 652 Fifty-second street, Brooklyn, said: "For two years I have been a physical wreck from nervous and stomach trouble. I was constantly imagining that some terrible calamity was about to happen to me. I could eat little and what I did eat gave me no strength. I tossed all night and was tired out and depressed when I awoke in the morning. I had no energy, was weak and unstrung and the least exertion seemed like a burden.

"A friend of mine insisted that I try Mr. Cooper's medicine. So about a month ago I commenced. I had a talk with him and took his treatment home with me. From the very first it helped me. I am now so well that every one notices the difference in me. I am full of life, energetic, and no longer nervous. I think this is the most wonderful medicine in the world. It is worth its weight in gold."

BIG SHIP ASHORE, SEAS TOO HEAVY FOR LIFE-SAVERS

Four-Master Peter Rickmers Pounded by Surf Near Fire Island.

None of the Short Beach or Zach's Inlet life saving forces have managed to reach or get a line to the stranded four-master Peter Rickmers, which was blown hard and fast upon a sand bar off Jones's Inlet last night.

The big German ship, laden with a valuable cargo of case oil, was snatched from her tow in the furious gale that lashed the coast last night, and blown helplessly upon the reef. She had passed out of Sandy Hook yesterday morning and was bound for Bremen.

The Short Beach life-savers, who were the first to notice the plight of the vessel, made several attempts to traverse the choppy shallows that lie between the Rickmers and the shore, but the high wind that continued through the morning beat them back. The gale also seemed to throw the ship further inshore, and the opinion of the seawise beach-combers is that she will have to lighter her cargo before she gets off.

A Merritt-Chapman wrecking tug which was sent down from the city could not get within several cable lengths of the bar, but will stand by until the sea is smoother.

After several futile efforts to shoot a line to the Rickmers the life-savers gav up the job and decided to do nothing until the wind went down in the evening. The tide will also be down then, and it is pretty certain that the crew and captain can be taken off if they desire to land.

Jones's Inlet, where the ship lies, is known along that stretch of Long Island coast as an ocean graveyard. Scores of vessels have foundered upon the ribbed shallows that stretch far out to sea.

The vessel drove ashore at 7.12 before a sixty-mile gale last night. The first notification the life-savers had of her was the firing of a number of rockets after she grounded. An attempt was made to shove off a surf boat, but the seas running were too heavy to get her through, and after a struggle the life-savers had to quit.

All night long they burned Coston lights to show the big craft they were standing by. For a while the seas were so big and there was such a stiff wind blowing that when the rockets ceased from the stranded ship the life-savers thought they had seen the last of her. At dawn to-day, however, she was still there, driven up on the sands with her bow well out of the water, about a mile from shore, and flying the signal of distress.

INHALED GAS AND CHLOROFORM AND MADE DEATH SURE

Aged Lawyer Snyder Ingenious in His Preparation for Suicide.

In committing suicide, at No. 602 Nostrand avenue, where he had an office and apartment, to-day, Charles Snyder, an aged, despondent lawyer, took no chances of failure. He utilized illuminating gas and chloroform at the same time and the combination proved effective.

Snyder's preparations for self-destruction were elaborate and ingenious. First he fastened a long tube to the gas jet and turned on the gas. Then he suspended from a cord attached to the ceiling a vial of chloroform turned upside down. A small perforation in the cork of the bottle allowed the anesthetic to escape a drop at a time. The bottle was fastened directly over the head of his bed.

Lying on the bed, Snyder took the free end of the rubber tube in his mouth and tied it so that it would not slip. Over his face he placed a folded handkerchief. The chloroform, dropping slowly but steadily, soon saturated the handkerchief, and he breathed gas and the chloroform fumes simultaneously.

Snyder had lived alone at the Nostrand avenue address for three years. He made few friends and sometimes spoke of a family from which he had separated. Business was bad with him and he was unable to pay his rent. A few days ago his landlord, George Black, told him to move May 1.

Black went to Snyder's apartment this afternoon to see if he had gone. The door was locked and there was a strong odor of gas in the hall. Fearing the worst, the landlord hurried out for a policeman, who forced the door of the front room.

Pinned to a door leading to the next room was a printed sign reading: "I am in here." The searchers followed the sign and found Snyder. He had been dead for eight or ten hours. A note pinned to a trunk in his office read:

"My son from Chattanooga will take care of this."

JEFF DAVIS SAYS THINGS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 1.—In the Senate to-day Senator Jeff Davis, of Arkansas, moved to discharge the Committee on the Judiciary from the further consideration of his bill "for the suppression of trusts, pools and combinations in trade." He spoke for about two hours, reading most of the time from a typewritten statement, which he said he had prepared in advance, "that no intemperate language might escape his lips on this occasion," a thing which he said he had never done before.

During his speech he roundly denounced the trusts, commended the President's recent message outlining measures for relief, spoke of the removal of the motto "In God We Trust" from the coins, and declared that John D. Rockefeller, of the Standard Oil Company and J. Pierpont Morgan should be indicted for treason. He also paid his respects to the press, his remarks in that connection being in part as follows:

"Let scavengers of plutocracy howl; truth, God's living truth—where are its defenders? Miserable travesties upon noble manhood, post-graduates in all arts of slander or defamation, I challenge the subsidized press: the people know your designs and spurn your pretenses, whether under show of argument or more servient hypocrisies. Go, damnable imps of pelf and greed, I defy your taunts. Tear to fragments my political career if it comport with your execrable will. Stifle and distort my every utterance. Not satisfied, if such be your brutal frenzy, lash my poor form into insensibility. Then, if it be your further pleasure, gnaw from my stiffening bones every vestige of quivering flesh.

"Howl a wretched bestiality through my own innocent blood as its drips from your fiendish visages. Drag then, if you want, what remains into the hell and the vermin of your foul dens and burn it upon the altar of Baal, or scatter it before the friendly winds of heaven to your betters—the carrion crows of the field."

The Senator said more than this and wound up by declaring that his voice could not be "stayed in behalf of the veomanry of America."

TRAIN HITS AUTO AND HURLS THREE, MAIMED, TO ROAD

Rich Man of Camden, His Wife and Chauffeur Victims—One Likely to Die.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 1.—Three persons were injured, one probably fatally, this afternoon in a collision between an electric train on the Pennsylvania Railroad and an automobile at Mays Landing, near here. The most seriously injured is Joseph Bailey, a wealthy manufacturer of Camden, N. J., who is not expected to live. His wife was slightly hurt and the driver of the automobile received serious but not fatal injuries.

The driver of the automobile was making good time when he came to the railroad crossing at the same instant the electric express came along. It is believed the occupants of the machine did not hear the electric train approaching until too late.

A work train nearby was pressed into service, and the injured were brought to this city in the cabin of the train and transferred to a hospital.

The baggage car of the electric train was damaged and after a delay of an hour the train proceeded to this city.

820 IN SEA CRASH ARE SAVED FROM DISABLED LINER

North German Lloyd Steamer Koeln Rammed by the Emperor Nicholas II.

BREMEN, May 1.—The North German-Lloyd steamer Koeln, which left here yesterday for Baltimore and Galveston, was in collision in a thick fog last evening with the Hamburg tank steamer Emperor Nicholas II., nine miles off Norderney. The Emperor Nicholas II. struck the Koeln amidships.

The steamer Feldmarschall, a German East African liner, responded to signals and took of 820 passengers from the Koeln. One child was drowned during the transfer.

The Feldmarschall took the Koeln in tow and brought her into Bremerhaven, arriving this morning. The Koeln carried only second class and steerage passengers.

The Emperor Nicholas II. had her bow stove in and was otherwise seriously damaged. Her hold is partly filled with water. A tug has been dispatched to her assistance.

"RED" BERKMAN STEALS MEETING FROM SOCIALISTS.

seeme to enjoy it—even when everybody around him sneezed and sneezed and sneezed.

When Berkman finished Max Kossminsky and Abe Weiser advanced to the front of the platform and began to talk at the same time. The crowd laughed and jeered. After a few minutes Inspector Cortright informed the talkers that the meeting was over and everybody went away.

Half a dozen of the leading Socialists were burning up with anger as they hurried from Union Square. They had been invited to speak, but the insistence of Berkman had broken up the meeting and their masterpieces of oratory were strangled.

Order and Quiet Promised.

The demonstration to-day was arranged by the Industrial Workers of the World, an organization of laboring men with Socialistic leanings. Daniel De Leon is the leader of the movement and was in charge of the arrangements. The permit for the mass meeting was secured on Feb. 28, a full month in advance of the fatal Union Square gathering promoted by various parlor Socialists. The parlor Socialists were not in evidence in to-day's gathering.

After the bomb-throwing episode Park Commissioner Smith thought of revoking the permit he had given to the Industrial Workers of the World, but the leaders made such strong protestations of their law-abiding intentions that he finally consented to allow it to stand. The permit for the parade was issued by Commissioner Bingham three days ago.

The main parade assembled in and started from Rutgers Square shortly after noon. Inspector Cortright and Inspector Burfeind were in charge there of a hundred patrolmen. There was no disorder at this point. The parade, headed by a detail of policemen, moved through Market, Division, Eldridge, Broome, Ludlow and Houston streets, First street, Second avenue and Fifteenth street to Union Square. A great crowd had gathered in the Square before the parade arrived.

150 Police Await Trouble.

Inspectors Cortright, Burfeind, Walsh and Steinbruch had control of the police arrangements there. The force consisted of 150 patrolmen, 20 mounted men and 30 captains, lieutenants and sergeants, with about 25 plain clothes men scattered through the crowd.

On reserve in the downtown Manhattan precincts 500 patrolmen were held and 50 mounted men were under waiting orders at the headquarters of the Traffic Squad, in East Twenty-seventh street. The plain-clothes men were under instructions to brush against all suspicious looking spectators and arrest as they found carrying weapons or packages.

IN BOHEMIA.

The hit of "The Merry-Go-Round," now playing at Gus Edwards's Music Hall, is entitled "In Bohemia With You." It will be given with next Sunday's World, words and music complete. The music is by Gus by Gus Edwards, composer of "School Days" and composer of the music of "The Merry-Go-Round." Words by Paul West.

THREE POLICEMEN LOSE THEIR BUTTONS.

Bingham Removes Trio Who Were Found Guilty of Neglect of Duty.

Charged with unbecoming conduct and neglect of duty, three policemen were dismissed from the force this afternoon. They are I. A. Devers and David Roach of the Mercer street station, and Walter A. Robertson of the West Sixty-eighth street precinct.

The men were tried some time ago, after looking over the testimony Commissioner Bingham this afternoon ordered the dismissal of the three men.

TRAVERS BEATEN BY GOLF NOVICE IN BIG TOURNEY

Champion Loses in Atlantic City Event to Dr. M. K. Neiffer.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 1.—There was a genuine surprise this afternoon when Jerome D. Travers, New York's golfing crack, was put out of the Atlantic City tournament in the first round of match play. Dr. M. K. Neiffer, of the Huntington Valley Country Club, Philadelphia, hardly known beyond the confines of his home organization, did the trick by 4 up and 2 to go. This is the first tournament Travers has played in since last fall and as usual at the outset he is a little soft in spots. His partner's victory, however, was none the less a sharp one.

Going out there was not much to choose between them, Neiffer being one up at the turn. The tenth was halved. The current really began to run against Travers on the eleventh, when he holed his opponent's ball on the stymie. Neiffer laid him and so lost the hole. Neiffer got the next two and Travers the fourteenth, but the fifteenth and sixteenth were lost by the national and metropolitan champion, which ended everything. The eve holes were not played. The other results in the first set were Walter J. Travis, Garden City, beat A. W. Tillinghast, Philadelphia, 7 up and 6 to go; and F. D. Kerrishoff, Garden City, beat Louis A. Hamilton, Englewood, 3 up and 2 to go.

Fred S. Sherman, Atlantic City, won by default from H. M. Forrest, Philadelphia; W. C. Fownes, Jr., Pittsburg, beat W. E. Shackleford, Atlantic City, 4 up and 3 to go; Robert Weir, Wilmington, beat Jon Horstman, Washington, 1 up; Richard Mott, Philadelphia, beat W. C. Fownes, Sr., Pittsburg, 7 up and 6 to go; Findlay S. Douglas, Nassau, beat M. Hutchinson, Princeton, 4 up and 3 to go. Travis and Douglas naturally passed their opponents. Other ones were Horstman and Weir separated by more than two holes. Herreshoff rolled up a big lead on Hamilton going out, but the latter gained from the turn. Fownes and Shackleford were square at the ninth, after which the former pulled away.

Second Set—Ernest Anderson, Atlantic City, beat J. McMurtrie, St. Andrews, Scotland, 2 up and 1 to go; B. O. Race, Philadelphia, beat J. C. Head, Pittsburg, 6 up and 5 to go; S. L. Brumbaugh, Atlantic City, beat W. R. McShea, Atlantic City, 5 up and 4 to go. A. T. Kahl, Philadelphia, beat S. D. Wright, University of Pennsylvania, 5 up and 3 to go; Walter Champ, New Haven, beat H. C. Simons, Syracuse, 4 up and 3 to go; E. S. Davis, Philadelphia, beat A. D. S. Johnson, St. Paul, 5 up and 4 to go.

Third Set—Dr. Emery Marvel, Atlantic City, beat Sidney Maddock, Crescent, 1 up; J. A. Howard, Atlantic City, beat J. S. Gould, Atlantic City, 1 up 21 holes; H. C. Fownes, Pittsburg, beat McLeod Thomson, Philadelphia, 2 up.

TILEING WINS THE STAKE EVENT AT JAMAICA TRACK.

Triumph Wins Second Race.

The favorite players got even in the second race when they took Triumph in the maiden field. Triumph won easily, coming away from his field at the head of the stretch. He was tiring fast, however. Sparker showed in front for a while in the running through the back stretch, but stopped as they rounded the turn for home. Amandine, which was close up in the run to the stretch, closed fast and was second by two lengths in front of Twiks. Amandine was well played by the Farrell stable connections. Slumberless, ridden by an apprentice boy, Connelly, was away from the post last and never could improve his position. Eyden ran a fair sort of a race and may do later.

Light Wool Beats Favorite.

The favorite, Berkeley, failed the talent in the third. He was an even money choice, too. There was plenty of 12 to 5 about Light Wool, and there was decided play on him at the last minute, when one could have bet a million on Berkeley at 11 to 10, whereas Light Wool was held close at 8 to 5. Light Wool led all the way and won by three lengths with Soulat never being let down. Light Wool beat the flag, and after that it was a procession. In the backstretch Berkeley who had been running second, four lengths behind Light Wool, closed a hit under a drive, but he never could get near enough to be dangerous. Zienap closed strong and was catching Berkeley at the end. Umbrella, the only other starter, was beaten ten lengths for third.

PRETTY MISS SUES A GRANDFATHER FOR HEART BALM

He Is Sixty, but Asked Her to Wed, She Says—Now Asks $25,000 in Court.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 1.—Sheriff Church has served the summons in the suit brought by Miss Daisy Allerton, a pretty young woman, against Frank Ostrander, a wealthy brick manufacturer of Perth Amboy, for $25,000 damages. She alleges breach of promise of marriage. Ostrander has clay and brick manufacturing interests in Perth Amboy and in Troy, N. Y. He is over sixty years of age.

Miss Allerton declares that Ostrander promised at frequent intervals to make her his wife, and she believed he was a bachelor. Recently, however, she says, she discovered he not only had a wife and a family of children, but was also a grandfather. Miss Allerton is represented by Joseph Stricker, of Perth Amboy, and the suit is brought in the Circuit Court. It will probably be tried at the September term of court.

LESLIE P. FARMER EXPIRES SUDDENLY

Head of Railroad Trunk Line Association Stricken by Apoplexy.

Leslie P. Farmer, one of the best known railroad men in the country and chairman of the Trunk Line Association, died suddenly at his home to-day, his death, it is believed, being due to apoplexy.

Mr. Farmer had been at the head of the organization of trunk lines since January, 1887, and his position is one of the most important in railroad circles. He had been in the passenger departments of various railroads since the beginning of his active career. He is especially for his regulations in passenger traffic in and throughout the country.

He was born Dec. 22, 1838, at Rockville, Conn., and his first position was as clerk with the Bellefontaine road. In 1872 he was made general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, which he left to go with the Pennsylvania. Before he went with the Trunk Line Association he was general passenger agent of the Erie.

Mr. Farmer was regarded as having, with a few exceptions, the greatest knowledge of details of the passenger department of railroading in the country. He conducted a long fight against fleet scalpers, and was the originator of the idea of affixing the photograph of every traveller upon the railroad tickets.

MASKED ROBBER WITH PISTOL GOT RAILROAD'S CASH

Scared Ticket Agent With "Hands Up" Order and Was Led to Money Drawer.

HACKETTSTOWN, N. J., May 1.—A masked robber held up Isaac Miller, the ticket agent of the Lackawanna Railroad at this place, early to-day, and compelled him, at the point of a revolver to show him where the money was kept, and then got away with $130 of the company's money.

Miller was alone in the office of the railroad station about 2:30 A. M. when he heard a knock. He walked to the door and without inquiring who was there, opened it to find himself looking into the muzzle of a revolver held by a tall man wearing a mask.

"Throw up your hands and don't make any noise or you'll drop in your tracks!" commanded the robber. Miller, very much frightened, obeyed, and the man stepped into the station and closed the door, still keeping Miller covered with the revolver.

He then asked Miller where the money was, and the station agent told him there was none in the place.

"You lie!" said the robber. "Show me where it is or I'll blow a hole in you. Now, hurry up!"

Miller with his hands still raised over his head led the way to the money drawer, and the masked man opened it and took all that was in it, about $130. Satisfied there was no more cash in the place, the robber backed out of the place and soon disappeared in the darkness.

Although the authorities were soon notified by Miller no trace of the man or the money has as yet been found.

AUTO KILLS A BOY AND IS SPED AWAY

Number Given by Witnesses Is Said to Be That of Van Wyck's Car.

Sixteen-year-old Harry Nagelbosky, crossing the roadway in front of his home at No. 501 Fortieth street, Brooklyn, was struck by an automobile and instantly killed by it at about six o'clock this afternoon.

There were three men in the machine. Some say the body had been mortally injured, the chauffeur put on all speed and escaped with his passengers.

The car was dark gray in color and at the time it struck the boy was moving rapidly. Bystanders said they think the number of the car was 35,347.

On the police records the ownership of the machine licensed under this number is accredited to former Justice Augustus Van Wyck. His residence is given in the automobile license book as the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn.

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary — Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, "Try them if you like, but I do not think they will do any good." At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his own patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Resolvent, and I have now been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent users of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my house every day.
