RUBE MARQUARD JUMPS TO BROOKLYN FEDERALS

Giants Erratic Lefthander Signs Outlaw Contract—New York Team to Fight Case in Court Claiming Pitcher Was Tied Up Until 1917

New York, Dec. 5.—"Rube" Marquard, one of the New York National League club's trio of leading pitchers, signed a contract yesterday to pitch for the Brooklyn Federal League baseball club, according to an announcement made by President Robert B. Ward, of the Brooklyn club, yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Ward stated that Marquard had signed the Brooklyn Federal contract in triplicate, in addition to making an affidavit that he was a free agent in a baseball sense and had received and receipted for an advance payment under his Federal League contract.

Secretary John P. Foster, of the New York National League club, when questioned regarding Marquard's status as a free agent, said that the pitcher was under contract to the New York Giants in a series of three interlocking contracts which covered his playing services for 1915 and 1916 and gave the New York club an option on his services in 1917. Still another contract gave the New York club special rights in regard to Marquard's playing services and was drawn up with the idea of covering any loopholes which might exist in the other contract.

The secretary of the New York club scouted the idea that Marquard could play for any other team than the New York Giants for the next two seasons and intimated that the case would be taken to court if the Giants' southpaw endeavored to jump to the independent league.

President David Fultz, of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, stated last night that the report of Marquard's signing with the Federals was hard to believe, but that if it were true Marquard would undoubtedly be expelled from the fraternity. Mr. Fultz's statement follows:

"Information has reached me that 'Rube' Marquard, in spite of the fact that he is under a binding contract with the New York National League club for the season of 1915, has signed with the Brooklyn Federal League club. The report is hard to believe, as I feel that the Brooklyn people would not knowingly sign a player under these circumstances.

"If Marquard has done this he will unquestionably be expelled from the Baseball Players' Fraternity, as the directors absolutely will not countenance any such disregard of their obligations by its members."

Marquard joined the Giants in the fall of 1908 from the Indianapolis club of the American Association. The purchase price was $11,000, at that time the record price for a minor league player. His start with the Giants was a dismal failure and it shook his confidence to such an extent that for two whole seasons he was next to worthless. First known as the $11,000 beauty, he was later dubbed the $11,000 lemon. In 1911 he began to improve and his pitching figured prominently in the winning of the National League pennant by the Giants that year. In 1912 he experienced his best season as a Giant, his winning record being featured by a run of nineteen consecutive victories before he suffered his first defeat of the year on July 5. In 1913 Marquard again proved a consistent winner and he helped the Giants materially in their third successful fight for a pennant. During the season just closed Marquard failed to show any of the form which featured his work of the preceding campaigns and his failure played a strong part in the loss of the pennant by McGraw's men. His "break" during the past season followed the memorable twenty-one-inning game at Pittsburgh, in which Marquard won over "Babe" Adams by the score of 2 to 1. The strain of the game was blamed to a great extent for Marquard's failures later in the year, when he was defeated twelve straight times.

Marquard after his success in 1912, was a 1913 holdout, and was finally signed by Dick Kinsella, who made the trip to the Pacific coast, where Marquard was appearing in vaudeville. That contract was for two seasons, but it was called in last spring by the Giants and a new one for three years was issued.

SHAWKEY STAYS WITH MACK

Hurler Says Cast-offs Were Done—Praises Rube Bressler as Coming Star

Butler, Pa., Dec. 5.—Evidently Bob Shawkey, the famous twirler of the Athletics, does not intend to jump to the Federals, for he has already stated that he intends to go South with the Athletics and train ready for a gruelling test in the American League race next season. Bob Shawkey and his bride, formerly Miss Marie La Kier, of Philadelphia, are spending their honeymoon here as the guests of the pitcher's cousin, H. D. Shawkey. Bob Shawkey has been with Connie Mack's champions for the last two years. When asked to make a statement regarding the action of the Athletics' manager in asking waivers on Plank, Bender and Coombs, Shawkey said:

"Well, I think he did it to cut down expenses. You know they had a bad year at the box office last season. And then, you know, Bender and Plank were always used against teams Connie knew they could beat. Their games were all picked for them. Bender never worked against Detroit or Boston, for the last several years. Both of them are bothered a whole lot with rheumatism and will probably never again pitch winning ball in the American League.

"As to Coombs, I think he will come back. He and I spent twenty days in the Maine woods on a hunting trip and landed back in Philly the day before I was married. Jack gained twenty pounds in those twenty days and he went along just like the rest of us, packing his load on his back. He did not know where he would play next season.

"We didn't get much glory out of the world's series. Plank's game should have been won, but Collins lost a fly ball in the sun. The breaks were with the Braves. Outside of Maranville and Evers there isn't a good player on the Boston team. They couldn't trade their whole outfit for one of our infielders.

"Mack has some good players who haven't done any work as yet. Bressler is a southpaw who is destined to become a second Plank. He pitches in the same style and has everything.

"I think the New York team will make a great showing in the American circuit next year, but I can't see Boston with a field glass.

"I wouldn't like to make a selection in the National League. The players in that league are all old men and you can't tell much about them. They spurt for a while and then go to pieces.

"No, I don't think the Quaker City fans are down on Mack for letting his three pitchers go. Mack answered the comment of the critics and I think every person understands the situation thoroughly now."

Shawkey and his bride will go to Charleston, W. Va., and then take a short tour through the South before returning to Philadelphia.

BENNETT WINS X COUNTRY

Annual Greek-Roman Event at Harrisburg Academy Won By Latter—Stackpole Second

Bennett, a Roman entrant, trooped home in the lead in the annual cross-country run of the Harrisburg Academy yesterday afternoon. He started last but by steady running gained the lead at the half-mile mark and came home a winner, passing White, who headed the runners for the first half mile. Albert Stackpole finished second, White third, and Broadhurst fourth. The Romans won the run.

The four first men were within ten yards of each other at the tape and this exciting finish was made more so by the cheering of the students from both clubs who had gathered at this point. The three Roman entrants finished in first, second and seventh positions; the three Greeks, third, fourth and fifth. This gave the Romans a total score of ten points against that of twelve for the Greeks. On the scoring for the cup the Romans got four points, three for winning the run and one for the individual winner. In addition to this Bennett receives a silver medal and Stackpole a bronze one.

The runners finished in the following order: First, Bennett, Roman, one point; second, Stackpole, Roman, two points; third, White, Greek, four points; fifth, Broadhurst, Greek, five points; sixth, Seitz, Greek, not counted in final scoring; seventh, Smiler, Roman, seven points.

Final score, Romans, 10; Greeks, 12.

Starter, Lawrence W. Phillips, Yale; Timekeeper, T. D. Macmillan, Harvard. Judges, H. Elmore Smith, Dickinson; Arthur E. Brown, Harvard; Raymond D. Kennedy, Bowdoin.

Games with York and Myerstown pending on the change of two games, which are the following: Bethlehem, February 19, at Bethlehem; February 20, Easton, at Easton.

NOW AFTER BENDER

St. Louis Feds Want Him as Team Mate to Eddie Plank

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Charles Albert Bender, Connie Mack's Indian pitcher, will sign with the St. Louis "Feds" within a few days, according to President James Gilmore, of the Federal League, who yesterday afternoon received a telegram from Baltimore announcing the fact.

Bender, the message said, was eager to join his team mate, Eddie Plank, on the St. Louis team.

Bender is one of the pitchers upon whom Manager Mack asked waivers a few weeks ago. It has been reported for several days that the independents were dickering with the "Chief." Bender recently went to Gettysburg to see Plank, and an agreement as to what course they would pursue may have been decided upon at that time.

MAY CRIMP COLLEGE SPORT

"Big Nine" Faculty Seek to Restrict Student Athletics

Chicago, Dec. 5.—The stricter faction of the faculty representatives of the Intercollegiate conference, or "Big Nine," renewed to-day its battle for the adoption of the "two sport rule," a measure designed to limit the time a student spends on athletics by permitting his participation in only two sports.

Opposition may be strong against the rule, especially by the smaller universities, the athletic prowess of which would be seriously weakened by its adoption, but recently advocates of an even more radical measure—a "one sport rule"—declared that the latter stood a chance of ultimate adoption.

BAN JOHNSON SORE

Thinks Walter Johnson Will Prove Costly Luxury

Chicago, Dec. 5.—President B. B. Johnson, of the American League, is of the opinion that the Chicago Federal League Club, which Thursday signed Walter Johnson, star pitcher of the Washington American League Club, to a two-year contract, will find him "a costly luxury."

"The Washington Club offered Johnson a higher salary than any club could afford to pay him," President Johnson said. "That was $16,000 a year for a period of three years. I do not know the price at which he jumped to the Federals, but he was reported to have been offered $20,000 a year by the St. Louis Federals."

Panama's Fair Postponed

Washington, Dec. 5.—The National Exposition of Panama, which was to have been opened on January 1 next in commemoration of the building of the Panama canal, has been postponed until March 13, 1915. Inability to have everything in readiness by the first of the year was said to be the reason for the delay.

"Billy, the Kid"

Berkeley Haswell, the popular young actor, is the criminal hero of "Billy, the Kid," which comes to the Majestic Friday, matinee and night, and such is the slant of human nature when the dashing bad man is concerned—he gets just as much applause as if he were the most virtuous of mortals. He is a very clever young artist and is surrounded with a company of capable actors. The melodrama is of western type with lots of action, exciting situations, plenty of fun and a nice little love story, and the scenery and production is all that could be required. Adv.

"Damon and Pythias"

When the dramatic spectacle, "Damon and Pythias," is presented at the Majestic theatre, audiences of Harrisburg will see the triumph of the art and skill of the universal's directors so long famous for wonderful features and realistic photo plays. No two characters have a more heart appeal than these ideal friends whose bond of affection has lived as an illuminating example through all the ages. The play will be presented in six parts, crowded with wondrous scenes of beauty and thrill. The date in this city is Saturday matinee and night, and patrons are advised to be early in securing their seats. Adv

BOY PRISONER FIXES NOOSE

Arranges to Hang Himself in Cell Before Transfer to Jail

Abington, Pa., Dec. 5.—Plans started by Percy Walters, a McKinley youth, to commit suicide in the Abington police station, were frustrated by the arrival of a motor patrol to remove the prisoner to jail, where he is to be tried on a charge of having robbed the home of William Magargal, also of McKinley.

Walters had torn the linings from his coat, made a rope and fastened one end to the bars of his cell window and had noosed the other end.

Woman Loses Trolley Suit

Pottsville, Pa., Dec. 5.—Court yesterday decided that trolley companies are not liable for damages to female passengers who jump or get off backwards. As the result of this decision the suit of Mrs. Charles A. Wade was thrown out of court. She sued for $3,000 damages because the running board of a summer car from which she was compelled to get off was a great distance above the street, which sloped sharply, and, being compelled to jump, she was seriously injured.

Girls' Hazing Trial Set

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 5.—Judge Henry H. Vinton, of the Superior Court, yesterday set the trial of the seven Purdue University "co-eds" charged with having Miss Mabel Rogers, a first-year student from Shoals, Ind., for the first week in January. She asks damages in the sum of $7,000.

Last Canal Boatman Is 80

Marietta, Dec. 5.—Samuel Thuma, the last canal boatman on the old Pennsylvania canal, abandoned a number of years ago, is 80 years old, and enjoying good health. Mr. Thuma was for thirty-five years the senior member of the firm of Thuma & Brother, and is the oldest member of the Odd Fellows and the Order of United American Mechanics in this section. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and seldom misses a service. He has two miles to walk to church.
