CRACKSMEN GET $661 BY BORING SAFE

Two Enter Woolworth's by Skylight and Slide Down Rope of Sheets

USE BIG JIMMY IN THEIR WORK

Woman's Screams Give Alarm as Pair Return Over Housestops to Hotel Annex, But Burglars Get Away—Dummy Safe as a Blind

Two cracksmen gaining entrance to the Woolworth five and ten-cent store, 406 Market street, early to-day, rolled the safe out of the office to a place in the center of the first floor and after rigging a dummy safe out of pasteboard so their operations could not so easily be detected, ripped the real safe open and made away with $661. They were seen when departing by way of roofs at 3 a. m. They escaped, although forced to leave behind shoes and some clothing they had gathered together and their burglar kit.

The police say the men took rooms last night in the annex of the hotel, St. James, at 11 North Fourth street, and that one of them registered as Lewis Greenthall, of New York. He is described as tall and slender. With a pal, shorter and stouter, the police say, he made his way over roofs to that of the five and ten cent store. There the pair removed a glass from a skylight and with two sheets tied together let themselves down into the store.

They rolled the safe from the office and turning it on its face drilled large holes in the back. With a sectional steel jimmy, about four feet in length, they ripped the safe open and put the $661 in a tan leather traveling bag and made their way back to the roof by means of a step ladder found inside of the store.

Mrs. Frank Coe, a member of the Ferari Carnival Company, who is rooming in the hotel annex, saw the pair coming back over the roofs. She screamed and called her husband. Coe hurriedly dressed and aroused the other lodgers in the house. The pair, however, escaped with the bag of money. One of them was seen to run across Fourth street shoeless and without a hat.

The details of the robbery were not disclosed, however, until 7 o'clock this morning, when the store was opened for business. Inside the store were found the tools the men had used in ripping open the safe. On the roof of the store were a hat, shoes, a collar and tie. A rope the men had used in making a fifteen-foot drop from the roof of the Busy Bee restaurant, adjoining the St. James' annex, to the roof of the five and ten cent store, also was found. The brace and bits used in boring into the safe were picked up near it on the first floor. Twenty-three dollars were left in the safe.

The police believe the men intended returning for their tools and the rest of the money, but being surprised by Mrs. Coe, changed this plan and ran away. Descriptions of the pair have been given to the police.

FIGHTS IN AN AMBULANCE

Man Apparently Crazed by Drug Struggles With Police

While being taken to the Harrisburg Hospital shortly after noon today, Harry C. Sollenberger, apparently crazed from the effects of some drug, caused trouble for a squad of policemen in the ambulance. Force was necessary to hold the man down until he reached the hospital where medical treatment quieted him. He was reported to be resting comfortably late this afternoon.

A hurry call was received at the Police Headquarters for the ambulance to go to the home of Mrs. Charles Schaeffer, Twenty-first and Greenwood streets, at which house Sollenberger boarded. When the police arrived they found Sollenberger violent.

BRITISH SAILING SHIP SUNK BY GERMANS; CREW SAVED

Berehaven, Ireland, May 22, 1.20 P. M.—The British sailing ship Glenholm was sunk yesterday evening by a German submarine at a point 15 miles off this port. The members of her crew have been landed here. The Glenholm was on her way from Chile to Liverpool with a cargo of nitrate.

The submarine interceptd the sailing ship and signaled to the crew to abandon her. The ship was then sunk, the submarine firing 39 rounds from her gun before she went down.

Berehaven, or Castletown Berehaven is on the southern coast of Ireland on the north shore of Bantry Bay. The point where the Glenholm was sunk is roughly not more than sixty miles from Oki Head of Kinsale, where the Lusitania went down. German submarines consequently are still active in this vicinity.

ATTACKS OF THE ALLIES REPULSED SAY GERMANS

Berlin, May 22, By Wireless to Sayville.—Germany army headquarters to-day gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

"British and French attacks were repulsed yesterday to the southwest of Neuve Chapelle where colored English troops were taken prisoners and on the heights of Lorette. In some places the fighting is still going on.

"Southwest of Lille and in the Argonne, the enemy made use of mines charged with poisonous gases.

"In the east of Windau, in Courland, Russia, there have been cavalry engagements.

"At Shavli, in Kovno province, on the Dubysa river, Russian night attacks were repulsed. Two hundred Russians were taken prisoner.

"In the southeastern arena of the war there are no changes of importance."

MAY RESORT TO OLD LAW TO CUT ARBITRATORS' FEES

City Officials Are Seeking Advice as to Whether They Can Apply the "Dollar-a-day" Plan of Remuneration for Men Who Made Award

Despite the fact that the board of three arbitrators—Farney Gannett, Joseph L. Shearer, Jr., and Roy G. Cox—who awarded $22,767.09 to W. H. Opperman for extra work in connection with his contract to build the river front intercepting sewer, have charged $1,500 each for their services, it was said to-day upon good authority that city officials are investigating to learn whether they can cut down these charges by resorting to an act of 1836 which, it is held, prescribes $1 a day "for each day actually engaged" for arbitartors' services.

It was unofficially reported, too, that the Board of Public Works has communicated with the arbitrators and has asked them to give a more detailed statement of their award to Opperman and also to state the exact number of days which the arbitrators spent in consideration of the case and the preparation of their report.

Coupled with this came the announcement that the City Commissioners at their meeting on Tuesday will be acquainted with every fact concerning the sewer disputes and the subsequent decision to arbitrate. City Commissioners to-day declared that they yet have not been advised whether they have the authority, under the act of 1836, to fix the fees of the arbitrators at the dollar-a-day rate. They were unable to state, therefore, what action, if any,

73 PERISH IN R. R. HORROR IN ENGLAND

Casualties Will Probably Reach 400 as Result of Collision of Three Trains

FIRE ADDS TO AWFUL SCENE

Nearly All the Dead Were Soldiers Whose Troop Train Collided With a Local and Express—Many Pinioned in Wreckage and Burned Alive

By Associated Press.

Carlisle, Eng., May 22.—One of the most disastrous wrecks in the annals of British railroading took place at 6 o'clock this morning on the Caledonian railway at Gretna, near this city, when three trains came into collision. No fewer than 73 persons were killed, and the final list may be considerably greater, for it is believed that many persons sustained fatal injuries. The total casualties probably will reach 400, as the list of more or less seriously injured is very numerous.

By 5 o'clock this afternoon 73 bodies had been recovered from the wreckage.

One of three trains was a troop train, another was a local, and the third was the express from London to Glasgow. Fire broke out among the wreckage and added to the horror of the scene. Assistance arrived quickly. The fire force was called out, and after getting the flames under control the firemen joined in extricating the dead and the wounded.

The adjoining fields soon had the appearance of an immense mortuary with the dead, the dying and the injured laid out in gruesome ranks. The dead mostly were soldiers. The troop train collided first with a local from Carlisle, and before the occupants were able to get clear of the wreckage of this accident the express from London to

DRIVER OF MILK WAGON IS KILLED AT CROSSING

Daniel Schriver, 70 Years Old, Struck by Reading Passenger Train Near Boiling Springs—Horse Attached to His Wagon Dies Instantly

(Special to the Star-Independent.)

Boiling Springs, Pa., May 22.—While driving toward the creamery here with a wagonload of milk, Daniel Schriver, 70 years old, was struck by a passenger train on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad at 7.15 o'clock this morning and thrown several feet from the wagon. He was injured in a way that resulted in his death shortly afterward. The horse was instantly killed. The milk cans were hurled in all directions.

Schriver had been employed as a farm hand, for a number of years, by Lewis Otto, a farmer who resides about two miles west of this town. This morning he left the farm with a one-horse wagon loaded with cans of milk which he had been in the habit of taking daily to the Boiling Springs Creamery.

Arriving at a grade crossing about a mile west of this town Schriver was delayed a short time by an eastbound freight train. When the rear of the train passed he whipped up his horse and started to cross the tracks but was struck by train No. 92, a Harrisburg and Gettysburg passenger train, due to arrive in Harrisburg at 7.45 o'clock.

It is said that of late Schriver's hearing had begun to fail and that he did not hear the approaching passenger train. When picked up he was bleeding from several wounds and his skull was fractured. He was carried to a nearby farm house where he died at 8.11 o'clock before medical aid could be obtained. The Cumberland county authorities will investigate the accident.

ALFRED R. HOUCK DIES AT HIS HOME

Chief of the Bureau of Labor Statistics Succumbs at 3 O'clock This Morning

WIDELY KNOWN AS POLITICIAN

Republican Leader of Lebanon County Was Son of the Secretary of Internal Affairs—Political Ally of Late Congressman M. E. Olmsted

Alfred R. Houck, chief of the Bureau of Statistics and Information of the Department of Labor and Industry, died at his home in Lebanon this morning at 3 o'clock, of acute indigestion, in his 46th year. Mr. Houck had been ill for some time. Last week while here he was advised by his physician to take a rest and not concern himself with bureau affairs until he had quite recovered. He however, declined and stuck to his desk, insisting it was the proper place for him during the closing hours of the Legislature.

Mr. Houck was home last Sunday and on Monday morning, when at the station in Lebanon about to take a train for Harrisburg, he was taken so ill that he had to be removed to his residence. It was said no later than yesterday that his chances for recovery were excellent, but during the night he had a relapse and died in a few hours. The funeral will take place

ROOSEVELT VICTORIOUS IN LIBEL SUIT

Jury Finally Decides the Colonel Didn't Say Anything Untrue About Barnes

40 BALLOTS TO REACH VERDICT

Plaintiff's Attorneys Object to Finding But Are Overruled by Trial Judge and Jury Discharged—Colonel Is Highly Elated Over the Verdict

By Associated Press.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 22.—The jury in the trial of William Barnes' suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt to-day returned a verdict in favor of the defendant after considering for more than eleven hours the question of placing all the costs of action upon the plaintiff. It is the belief of the jury everything Colonel Roosevelt charged is true and therefore the plaintiff, not having been libeled, is entitled to no damages.

The foreman of the jury, Warren W. Summers, announced that the verdict was for the defendant and the jury was polled. Ten jurors answered "for the defendant" then the clerk hesitated, called the name of Edward Burns and waited. Burns, a big rosy cheeked Republican, stood up in his seat and in a deep voice said: "For the defendant." Juror No. 12 gave the same answer.

Spectators Cautioned by Judge

Before the jury came in the spectators in the crowded court room were warned that any demonstration would be met with severe punishment. Except for the voice of the clerk and jurors, the room was absolutely quiet until the name of Burns was called. When he announced that he, too, favored a verdict for the former President, the court room buzzed like a dynamo with voices.

Several persons in the court room stood up and waved their hands but there was no outburst of applause.

After the announcement of the ver-

SEIZED AT PISTOL'S POINT IN POSTOFFICE BUILDING

Negro Accused of Slashing a New York Bluecoat Is Arrested In Sensational Way When He Applies For Letter at General Delivery Window

Joe Jackson, colored, alleged by the police to be a man charged with having slashed a uniformed policeman in New York, on April 20, to avoid arrest for alleged illegal traffic in cocaine, was seized in the Harrisburg postoffice at 10 o'clock this morning. He was captured in a sensational manner by Detective Allen, attached to the headquarters staff in New York, and City Detective Harry White, of this city.

Jackson, who is known as a "bad man" in the "jungles" in New York, was ordered to throw up his hands and two revolvers were leveled at him as he asked for a letter at the general delivery window. Fearing that shots would be fired a number of Harrisburgers in the postoffice hastily beat a retreat. Jackson had no gun and he submitted to arrest without resistence.

For more than a week the police say, Jackson had been living in a house on Cowden street, hiding from the New York police. Detective Allen got information that the man was in Harrisburg and came here this morning. The vigil at the postoffice had lasted only ten minutes when Jackson walked in, accompanied by another New York negro.

According to Detective Allen, Jackson was detected in selling cocaine in New York by Patrolman Michael J. O'Connor who attempted to arrest him. Jackson, it is charged, hid behind a door and slashed O'Connor when the bluecoat pushed the door open. Then Jackson made his escape. O'Connor was cut about the face and chest.

Jackson was committed to jail here and will be taken to New York, tonight by Detective Allen.

VAST CROWD CHEERS KING OF ITALY BEFORE PALACE; U. S. FLAG IN PROCESSION

Rome, May 21, via Paris, May 22.—Almost the entire population of Rome, except the aged and invalids, gathered this evening on Capitoline hill where Prince Colanna, the Mayor, had convoked a solemn sitting of the municipal council to consecrate, in the heart of the capital, the new war.

The Mayor delivered a patriotic address which provoked tremendous applause from the throngs gathered in the senatorial hall, the square below and in the surrounding streets as far down as the forum on one side and the Caffarelli Palace, now the home of the German embassy, on the other.

After his address Prince Colanna, surrounded by aldermen and the municipal council and preceded by the standard of Rome, started for the Quirnal to pay tribute to Victor Emmanuel as the personification of Italy.

Rivers of Humanity

Veritable rivers of humanity poured through the streets leading to the palace of the king. Thousands were paced into the great Quirnal square. The scene which was enacted when His Majesty and the members of his family appeared upon a balcony overlooking the square has few parallels in the history of Rome. It is estimated that the crowd numbered several hundred thousand.

The multitude was so vast that all the people could not enter the square. From the crowd came a sound like the roaring of the sea.

The windows on a balcony of the Quirnal palace were opened and a red damask covering was thrown over the parapet. This was a sign that the king was about to appear and the impatience

MARCONI SAILS TO SERVE HIS TERM IN ITALIAN ARMY

New York, May 22.—William Marconi, inventor of the wireless, sailed today on the steamer St. Paul in response to a summons from the King of Italy, to serve his term of military service in the Italian army. Mr. Marconi, who is a member of the Italian army and adviser of King Victor Emmanuel, is a reserve officer in the engineering corps. He said he expected to complete his term of service and return to America by next September, but would not venture a prophecy as to whether the war would end by that time.

"I suppose that I shall be called on for service," the inventor said. It is fair to surmise that at least some portion of the Italian army will be dispatched to the assistance of the allied forces operating against the Dardaneiles, but I am speaking without any authority when I say this. Both the Italian army and navy are well equipped and I have no doubt they will give a good account of themselves.

GERMANY TO CALL 2,000,000 MEN TO COPE WITH ITALY

London, May 22, 4.05 A. M.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the "Daily Mail" says he has learned fram an authoritative Berlin source that Germany is about to call up two million more men.

Berlin official circles, he stated, believe that an army of half a million will be sufficient to cope with Italy.

POPE WILL URGE NEUTRALITY OF HOLY SEE IN ITALY'S WAR

Rome May 21, 6.30 P. M., Via Paris, May 22.—Deep regret is felt by Pope Benedict that Italy has decided for a war which he, as head of the church, hoped might be averted. Although Italy is involved in the conflict, the Holy See will remain strictly neutral, although no effort will be made to restrain Italian Catholics from following the dictates of their conscience. A papal document outlining this position is expected soon.

It is announced that because of the gravity of the situation the consistory which was to have been held this month to fill vcancies in the College of Cardinals has been postponed indefinitely.

KING EMMANUEL APPEALS TO ALL PEOPLE TO DO THEIR DUTY

Rome, May 21, via Paris, May 22, 4.25 A. M.—King Victor Emmanuel will issue a proclamation to the people countersigned by all the ministers tomorrow (Saturday).

The document will explain how Italy has been driven to take up arms and will appeal to all citizens to do their duty in such a way that victory will be assured. Another royal proclamation will be addressed to the army and to the fleet.

Great Distress At Triest

On the Italian Frontier, May 22, via Paris, May 22, 4.25 P. M.—Reports received from Triest say there is much distress in that seaport. The city is virtually without bread and even cornmeal for the "polenta" or porridge of the people is extremely scarce. Very few Italians in Triest have been able to get away.

Agree on Pumping Station Wall

Following a conference to-day of Mayor Royal, City Solicitor Seitz, City Commissioners Gorgas and Bowman and Joel D. Justin, chief engineer of the Board of Public Works, it was decided that Commissioner Bowman has authority to build a retaining wall and "steps" along the river front at the city pumping station at North street. The work now is being done by the Stucker Brothers Construction Company.

AUSTRIA AND ITALY START WAR MOVES

Without Formal Declaration Both Countries Engage in Various Acts of Warfare

AUSTRIANS CUT RAILWAY LINES

Train Going From Milan Toward Austria Seized on Latter's Territory—Military Authorities of Italy to Take Control of Italian Railroads

London, May 22, 12.04 P. M.—No formal declaration of war by Italy against her former partners in the triple alliance has been yet reported, but many incidents have occurred of a character indicating imminence of any actual state of war.

A Geneva telegram reports that Baron Burian Von Rajecs, Austro-Hungarian Premier, has resigned, but Emperor Francis Joseph is said to have declined to accept his resignation.

London, May 22, 2.43 P. M.—A dispatch from the Stefano News Agency, of Rome, says that King Victor Emmanuel signed to-day an act conferring extraordinary powers on the government "for the duration of the war."

Rome, May 22.—The "Official Gazette" has published a decree empowering the military authorities to take control of all Italian railroads. This condition went into effect last night.

London, May 22.—A Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company which reports the cutting off of railway communication by Austrians at Udine states that one train from Milan going toward Austria was stopped and seized on Austrian territory. The crew of the train is reported to have been arrested.

Geneva, Switzerland, May 22, Via Paris, 1.10 P. M.—The "Journal" publishes a dispatch from Rome announcing that the Austrians are concentrating large forces along the upper Adige river. The Adige flows from the Tyrolese Alps into Lombardy and enters the Gulf of Venice.

Casus Belli Claimed for Italy

Paris, May 22.—It is considered that Austria's action in destroying the bridges and cutting telegraph and telephone lines at Pont Caffaro and Codrone can be held to constitute a casus belli, making Italy free to open hostilities without further diplomatic formalities, says a "Gaulois" dispatch from Turin.

Pont Caffaro is a short distance north of Riva, the extreme northern point in Austria on Lake Garda. Austrian troops were withdrawn after the civil population had been forced to evacuate Riva and other sections of Venezia under Austrian rule.

When the Milan express reached a point near Pont Caffaro, where the line had been cut, the train was seized by the Austrians and the crew was arrested. It is supposed the same fate has befallen another train from which no news has been received since it crossed the Austrian frontier.

Keep Italians From Going Home

Rome, May 22, via Paris—Advices received in Rome from Basel, Zurich and other Swiss towns with Germany and Austria are that thousands of Italians are being prevented from returning home by the German and Austrian authorities. It is asserted that the employers of Italians in Austria and German are refusing to pay the men their wages.

LATE WAR NEWS SUMMARY

King Victor Emmanuel will issue today a proclamation to the Italian people stating that Italy has been driven to war and appealing for popular support for the government's policy. Another royal proclamation will be addressed to the army and navy.

Although Italy and Austria-Hungary are virtually at war no reports have been received thus far of actual hostilities. A train which crossed the frontier from Italy, was seized by Austrians who arrested the train crew. Great patriotic demonstrations were held last night in Rome and Vienna and the opening of war is expected quickly, perhaps without the exchange of formal declarations.

Aside from the Italian situation the point of greatest interest at present is Central Galicia, where a battle of
