

THE NEBRASKA STOCKMAN SECTION OF
The Alliance Herald

Read by Every Member Nebraska Stock Growers Association. It Reaches Headquarters for and Western Nebraska

Official Organ Nebraska Volunteer Firemen's Association. All the News of Alliance 15,000 Firemen

VOLUME 1.

MAY, 1916.

NUMBER 11.

Convention Dates
June 20 and 21

Good Attendance Expected at Annual Convention of Nebraska Stock Growers Association.

MEETING IN OPERA HOUSE AT ALLIANCE

Musical Program To Be Given in Addition to Speeches by Prominent Men in Stockdom.

The 1916 convention of the Nebraska Stockgrowers Association will be held in Alliance on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 20th and 21st, the meetings to be held at the Opera House. There will be no celebration this year, although there will be special features on the program, including musical selections and speeches tendance is expected. Visitors will be here from South Omaha, StouxCity, St. Joseph, Kansas City, Denver and other stock markets.

National Convention

South Omaha Well Represented at Annual Convention of National Live Stock Exchange.

The delegation elected by the South Omaha Live Stock Exchange to attend the 28th annual convention of the National Live Stock Exchange, which was held in Cincinnati on May 18th to 20th, left Omaha in a special car over the Burlington, on Tuesday afternoon at 4:30, May 16th.

Included in the party were J. G. Ingwersen, president of the South Omaha Live Stock Exchange, and Mrs. Ingwersen; W. B. Tagg, vice-of certain packers in buying their supplies direct in the country, and in that way depressing the open markets, lowering the price paid the producer for live stock with a view of curtailing the demand at the markets and eventually putting the buying power in the hands of a few men instead of having open and free competition at all the markets. This and other matters of importance to the different exchanges and to the live stock industry were taken up and discussed.

Mr. E. L. Burke, who is vice-chairman of the market committee, appointed by the American National Live Stock Association at their convention in El Paso, Texas, January, 1916, and who has been a member of the firm of Kent & Burke, who have been big stock feeders in Nebraska for many years, delivered a paper on Friday, May 19th, the subject of which was "The Commission Man intentional omission, in this territory mean more rapid growth for the market.

The Omaha delegation stopped over in St. Louis a few hours Wednesday morning, viewing the sights of that city, after which they joined the St. Louis delegation and left together Wednesday noon over the Big Four for Cincinnati.

UNINTENTIONAL OMISSION

In the large advertisement of Harpham Bros. Co. which was published in the April issue of The Nebraska Stockman, a list of sixty persons and firms who handle these goods, in the territory in which The Stockman and Herald have their principal circulation, should have been published, but by mistake one of these was omitted. It was the name of H. H. Squires, prominent business man of Broken Bow. We make this mention in order to make amends for the un-

SCENE OF RANCH OF HUFFMAN BROS., TRYON, NEBRASKA

These "Pride of the Sand Hills" were sold on the South Omaha market, July, 1914, by the Record Live Stock Commission Co., for $9.00 per cwt., the highest price ever paid at that market for horned, open range steers.

by prominent men.

The tentative program is as follows:

Tuesday, June 20th.

10:00 a. m.—Meeting of executive committee.

2:00 p. m.—Opening business session.

Report of secretary.
 Report of brand inspector.
 Regular business.

8:00 p. m.—Musical program.
 Speaking. Subjects, "Vaccination for Anthrax," "Marketing of Cattle," and other subjects of interest to members attending.

Wednesday, June 21st.

10:00 a. m.—Business meeting.
 Report of committees.

Election of officers.

2:00 p. m.—Business session.

The sessions will be held at the Phelan Opera House. A good at-president of the National Live Stock Exchange, and Mrs. Tagg; E. Buckingham, vice-president and manager of the Union Stock Yards Company, and Mrs. Buckingham; J. H. Bulla, president of the Traders' Exchange, and Mrs. Bulla; Will H. Wood, chairman of the Stock Yards and Railroad Committee of the Live Stock Exchange; Mr. A. F. Stryker, secretary-traffic manager of the South Omaha Live Stock Exchange; A. C. Davenport, general manager of the Drovers Journal-Stockman; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wertheimer, and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Kiddoo, and Mr. J. B. Root.

The 28th annual meeting of the National Live Stock Exchange is destined to be one of the most important in the history of the organization. At their meeting in Indianapolis a year ago a special committee was appointed by the National Live Stock Exchange to work against the practice from the Producer's Standpoint."

This was a very interesting paper. Mr. Burke's years of experience fit him for such a task.

Mr. A. C. Davenport, general manager of the Journal-Stockman at South Omaha, also delivered a paper on Saturday, May 20th, on "The Value of the Live Stock Exchange." Mr. Davenport has been writing the live stock and produce markets for many years, and has been in a position to get an insight into the marketing of live stock from all sides, and he is in an exceptionally good position to write as to the real value of the Live Stock Exchange.

The interests at the South Omaha market have been working for several years in an effort to build up the market by boosting the live stock industry in all of its different phases, realizing that better service and better conditions affecting the industry

Buying Arizona Cattle

There is quite a demand just now in the grazing states of the central and northern parts of this country for more cattle to pasture the coming summer. T. J. Donahue, of the live stock commission firm of Donahue-Randall & Co., South Omaha, recently went to Arizona to buy eight or ten thousand good grade white face cattle to fill orders. He expected to return about the first of June, and if he has not secured all that he wants by that time his place in the field will be taken by Allen Randall. These gentlemen inform The Nebraska Stockman that they will be represented in Alliance at the time of the convention in June, and that they "Will be there with both feet."

It will pay you to become a regular advertiser in The Nebraska Stockman.