AEROPLANES AND MOUNTAIN ARTILLERY "MAKE GOOD" IN MEXICAN DESERT WORK

AMERICAN AEROPLANES AND ARTILLERY IN MEXICAN DESERT

(Photos by American Press Association.)

(The expedition in Mexico is placing the value of aeroplanes and mountain artillery in a new light. Although the operations of the troops against Villa have been hampered by the difficulty of transporting supplies, the aeroplanes have proved invaluable in locating the bandits. Although it is generally believed that the expedition will be withdrawn, it is certain that the experience gained will be of great value in the event of future operations in Mexico
