

THOUSANDS GET GREAT REWARDS FOR CONFIDENCE

Implicit Faith in Tanlac Has Been Brought About by Circumstances

Sound statements are based on exact knowledge and such knowledge can only be gained by experience. The great faith hundreds of thousands of people have in Tanlac, the National Tonic, has been brought about by circumstances.

Most people judge Tanlac as a man judges an old friend, not by a quick impression, but by what they have actually seen it do.

Beyond the evidence of any one locality stand tens of thousands of people in all parts of America who are ready to vouch for Tanlac. These are people who are grateful for the relief Tanlac has given them in stomach, kidney, liver and catarrhal ailments.

Tanlac's heating and strength-giving qualities are derived from roots, herbs, flowers and berries, gathered in many parts of the world.

Many say they actually have not known what it was to eat with comfort for years before they took Tanlac. Others say it has restored their nerves and brought them peaceful, restful, healthy sleep. Still others extol its merits as a blood purifier, a remedy for catarrh, and the many ills which arise from a catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes.

Tanlac is being introduced in Alliance by Harry Thiele.

SHOWS OLD FOLKS HOW TO RAISE REAL SWINE

Seward, Nebr.—Walter Briggs, a farmer boy who lives near here, has shown the older folks hereabouts how to grow hogs. Among other honors he boasts as a grower of pigs.

He won first on one of his gilts in competition against the world in the recent National Swine Show at Omaha.

Young Briggs is a member of the pig club conducted by the University of Nebraska, agricultural extension service in co-operation with the United States department of agriculture. The hog which won first for him at Omaha is the same animal that was grand champion sow at the Seward county fair. She also won first in the boys' class at that fair and took the silver cup offered by the Seward county live stock association.

The winning gilt was born in February and was cared for by the boy during the entire feeding period. She weighed 360 pounds, when shown at Omaha, corn, oats, shorts, oil meal, skim milk being responsible for the pig's winning form.

CATTLE KING LEAVES $25,000 TO NATIVE GERMAN VILLAGE

To the poor people of Brockenheim, Germany, his birthplace, $25,000 is left by the will made public at San Francisco of Henry Miller, who became known in the West as a "cattle king," and who was the largest individual owner of land on the Pacific coast.

It is estimated he is worth $70,000,000. The will also provides $15,000 for the poor of Gilroy, Cal., where Miller spent much of his time in the early days.

Scores of employees, who are to receive sums from $250 to life pensions, are included in the list of beneficiaries. The estate is left to Nellie Miller Nickel, the testator's only child, and her husband, J. Leroy Nickel, as trustees.

How Catarrh is Contracted

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere.

FAIRM CREDITS CONFERENCE IS SET FOR DECEMBER 4TH

The fourth annual conference on marketing and farm credits, at which farmers' organizations are to have representatives, will be held in Chicago Dec. 4 to 9 at the Hotel Sherman.

This conference has been educating farmers on better business methods in sale of their products and in improving of farm finances.

A feature of the session this year is to be hearings on how to advance the livestock industry on farms. The questions of milk production and disposal, marketing of grain, auctions of farm produce and improvement of containers for grain, auctions of farm produce and improvement of containers for grain will also be taken up in the discussions.

Charles W. Holman, 230 South LaSalle street, Chicago, is secretary and will send information to those who ask.

When You Take a Cold

With the average man a cold is a serious matter and should not be trifled with, as some of the most dangerous diseases start with a common cold. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of your cold as quickly as possible. You are not experimenting when you use this remedy, as it has been in use for many years and has an established reputation. It contains no opium or other narcotic. Obtainable everywhere.

ADVISE THE GROWING OF DRY LAND WHEAT

El Paso, Texas.—Wheat can be grown more profitably by dry farming methods than by irrigated farming. D. F. S. Harris, director of the Logan, Utah, experiment station, told the delegates of the International Irrigation congress. Dr. Harris, however, urged the close study of irrigation in wheat growing, as much wheat will always be grown on irrigated farms, he said.

The meeting was divided into two sections for the discussion of irrigation practice and irrigation districts. In the discussion of irrigation districts the plan of direct assessments for project improvement was urged by the speakers.

The paper written by John C. Wheelon, Garland, Utah, on "The Agricultural Duty of Water," which won the Harrison Gray Otis cup for the best paper on this subject, was read at yesterday's session.

A. L. Cowell, secretary of the Irrigation Districts' association of California, was unable to be present, but his address was read at the morning session.

FINALLY GOT HIS DESERTS

Originator of One of the Meanest Kinds of Fraud to Have Some Time for Reflection.

Ferdinand Drabina, a young man who emigrated to the United States in 1907, and who after a varied career as waiter, hotel porter, laborer in the gold mines in Colorado and salesman, settled down in 1912 as a correspondent for a banking firm in Chicago, has just been sent to prison for two years and a half for obtaining money from Austrian banks on falsified orders from Austro-Hungarians in America. A part of the business of the banking firm that employed Drabina was the transfer of money from emigrants to their families in Austria-Hungary. The young man conceived the idea, and at his first opportunity carried it out, of making the orders payable to himself rather than to the stipulated payee. The drafts thus falsified he mailed to a "co-worker" in Austria, and in the summer of 1914 he followed the bogus paper across the Atlantic. After collecting several thousand kronen—17,000 in the city of Ostrau alone—he took lodgings with a humble family and by means of his apparent wealth succeeded easily in seducing the daughter. When, however, he threw her over and took up another charmer she denounced him to the police as a "suspicious American" who had no visible means of support, and who must have something to conceal because he had never gone through the necessary formality of registering with the police. An investigation resulted that has only been concluded with Drabina's conviction.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

PUT TAYLOR IN WHITE HOUSE

Chief Executive Made Possible Because of War of the United States With Mexico.

Zachary Taylor became president when he was fresh from victories in Mexico. In November, 1847, he held the valley of the Rio Grande. In June, 1848, he held the nomination of the Whig party. He was elected in a three-cornered contest, in which the Democrats were represented by Cass, and the Free-soilers by Van Buren.

Taylor was a soldier and the son of a soldier. He received his commission as a lieutenant of the Seventh infantry nearly forty years before the battle of Buena Vista. He was a captain at the beginning of the war of 1812, and so gallantly defended Fort Harrison against the Indians that he was breveted major and then promoted to full rank. As a colonel of the First infantry he made his mark in the Black Hawk war in 1832, and in 1836 he broke up the power of the Seminoles at Okeechobee.

No two men could be more unlike than Zachary Taylor, "Old Rough and Ready," and Woodrow Wilson, college president. No circumstances could be more unlike than the circumstances in which Zachary Taylor was put into the White House because of his participation in a war with Mexico and the circumstances in which President Wilson might become commander in chief of the American army and navy in a war with Mexico.—Chicago News.

Making the Best of Things.

Those who are overtaken by blindness need never despair. Capt. Ernest Towse, V. C., who had both his eyes destroyed by a bullet in the Boer war, is now with the army in France. Naturally, he is not there as a combatant, and is unable to be with his old regiment, the Gordon Highlanders, in the trenches. But he is busily engaged in the field hospitals, where, though sightless, he spends his time writing letters for wounded and dying soldiers, and in other charitable work.

Since becoming blind this brave man has acquired quite a large number of accomplishments, including that of typewriting, which he does with wonderful speed and skill. Indeed, this sightless man is a remarkable illustration of making the best of things, and a splendid example of Christian determination. He might have flopped. He might "have cursed God," as Job was advised to do, and die. Instead of which, there he is bravely doing his best, and helping soothe the last hours of the wounded and dying.

When Boston Phones.

Manners are now being taught to the telephone-using public by the telephone companies' advertisements. Courtesy is described as beginning when the bell rings, as demanding promptness in answering a call, as making helpful an immediate statement like this: "Corydon 5543, Rudolph speaking;" and as calling forth in return, "Mr. Greaterox of the Eureka wishes to speak with Mr. Minimum." The way having thus been cleared, Greaterox and Minimum can proceed to talk without a period of feeling round, saying "Hello" and making sure that the man desired is at the other end of the wire. There can be the salutation of the day, and then to business. Long ago the telephone operators were made pupils in this school of good will, and willy-nilly they have to be courteous.—Christian Science Monitor.

Sweden's Ostrich Farm.

The northernmost ostrich farm in the world is in a suburb of Stockholm. The birds were taken there last year. They spent the winter mostly in the open, in perfect health, and toward the end of May the females laid their eggs, just as if they had been in South Africa. It takes six weeks to hatch an ostrich egg.

THE WEST IS GROWING FAST

The present time is propitious for Western land agents to put their propositions before Eastern people. Many land buyers and investment seekers in the East are looking for industrial and agricultural opportunities in the West. It is expected that the Government will soon open for settlement 12,000 acres of its irrigated land in the Big Horn Basin, adjoining the prosperous locality of Powell, Wyo. The Mondell lands in Central and Northeast Wyoming are being steadily claimed. The Black Hills region is teeming with mining and industrial activities. The North Platte Valley is recognized as one of the most prosperous localities of the Midwest. Western Nebraska and Eastern Colorado lands are coming into big demand as ideal for livestock and dairying.

Now is the time for commercial clubs, and others, interested in the development of their respective localities to put their resources before Eastern people. I am always ready to help you locate settlers and investors.

Better Service is Obtained by Talking Directly into the Telephone

Recently one of the comic papers had a cartoon of a man with his nose in the telephone mouthpiece. Underneath was the line, "Can't you hear me?"

Many who saw this picture smiled and recalled how often they had seen people talking out of the window, at their feet or through a cigar, but not INTO the telephone.

To be heard distinctly over the telephone one must talk directly into the mouthpiece, with the lips about an inch away.

If you talk with your lips against the mouthpiece, your voice is muffled and suppressed. To the listener it sounds as though you were troubled with a severe cold and could not articulate properly.

If you do not speak directly into the telephone, the sound waves will not strike squarely the metallic disc in the transmitter and the other party will hear you faintly and indistinctly.
