President D. I. Elliott of the Chadron Normal, together with W. F. Bodster, were in the city a part of Thursday and Friday of last week. On Thursday Professor Elliott addressed the high school students at assembly. Leaving Alliance he went to Minatare and Scottsbluff, returning on Friday to be in attendance at the Alliance-Chadron Normal football game.

"What Prohibition Has Done for Maine," was the subject of an address delivered Friday night at the Phelan opera house by E. E. Newbert, a Maine state official. He came to Alliance under the auspices of the Nebraska Prosperity League. The band played a few selections on the street before the meeting to attract the crowd. A fair-sized crowd was out to hear the talk. Mr. Newbert is an able talker and seemed to understand his subject very well.

Mrs. G. M. Burns, who was called to College View, Nebr., something over a week ago by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Elwood, notified Mr. Burns last week of the sister's death. The strange thing connected with Mrs. Elwood's death is that the mother died in the same room just a year before to a day, of the same malady. Physicians do not understand the nature of the malady.

Enoch Boyer has sold his forty Holstein cows, and all equipment necessary to the operating of the dairy to Oscar Brush, who will conduct the dairy at his farm a mile west of this city. Mr. Boyer is going into the cattle-raising business, having purchased 200 head of Short-horns. Mr. Boyer, while he liked the business, decided that he ought to take things a little easier and so has disposed of the dairy. He has an enviable record of never having missed a trip in six years.

Voters were confronted with a strange proposition at the polls Tuesday. They were afforded the opportunity of voting for a county assessor to assume office the first of the year and also of voting to abolish the office the first of the year, thus electing an assessor at the same time they did away with his office. The proposition was to let the county clerk do the work but to provide him with an assistant who was familiar with the duties of the assessor.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

HOG CHOLERA BREAKS OUT IN BOX BUTTE

Swine Shipped in From Outside Is Cause of Appearance of Disease—Use Great Care

Hog raisers of Box Butte and adjoining counties should exercise every precaution possible just now in an effort to avoid the spreading of hog cholera. A number of cases have already been reported to County Agent F. M. Seidell, those in practically every instance the disease has appeared in hogs shipped in from districts where the cholera has been quite severe. It is reported that the disease has appeared on the farms of the following and possibly others: Ira Roland, Fred Bergfeld, D. E. Watson, Neils Peterson, Milk Collins, O. Bowser, and John Mablin. The infected hogs in most of the herds mentioned above have been vaccinated.

It is suggested that hogs received from other districts be kept under quarantine for a period of at least two weeks and then be dipped before turning them out. Extreme care should be exercised until the disease is completely wiped out.

A high temperature, getting off feed, sunken sides and arched back are the preliminary indications of cholera. Post mortem examinations show the kidneys spotted, resembling turkey eggs. Especially at this time all dogs should be kept at home and anyone visiting where cholera is known or suspected to exist should use care in disinfecting shoes, etc., as soon as possible in order to head off all possible chance of carrying the disease. Many farmers, on learning that their herd is infected, immediately advise their neighbors, that they may be on their guard, and then call a competent veterinarian immediately.

Her Son Subject to Cramp

"My son Edwin is subject to cramp," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kensington, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as directed. It always gave my boy relief." Obtainable everywhere. Adv—Nov

TWO WHEELED PATROL CALLED INTO PLAY

Written for last week:

Ding, ding, dong, ding, dong—get out of the way, here comes the Alliance police patrol.

"Is he injured? Is he sick? Is he dead?" the crowd asked. And the answer came back, "Yes, dead drunk."

Had you chanced along the west side of lower Box Butte avenue about nine bells Saturday night you would have been attracted by the crowd congregated on the walk. That is all you would have seen at first. Of course your curiosity would be aroused. You probably crossed the street to get in on the doings. As you came closer you heard the jingle of coin on the pavement. The crowd makes a place for you. You see a man to all appearances dead—and dead to the world in fact.

There he is—loaded into the Alliance patrol, a two-wheeled cart, his head dangling over one end and his limbs lopping over the other. Exclamations are coming from his mouth. Then you know the cause. The man had been fighting the old, old fight, and as usual, Red Liquor put him down for the count.

Ding, ding, ding, dong, ding, and the patrol is on its way to the police station. Chief Jeffers is in command but there are two assistants along to hold the fellow in.

George Binney, he said his name was, when he came out of the stupor. He had imbibed too freely, had sunk to the pavement and when lifted up by Chief Jeffers and assistants, the silver shackles that remained in his pockets started on a merry trip down the walk. Said shackles were recovered and held in safe keeping for Binney until he appeared before Police Magistrate Roberts Monday morning and plead guilty to being "stewed." The judge assessed him $1 and costs of $5, which he paid, and went whistling on his way. Binney is a boater and claimed to hail from Sioux City.

Sufferer From Indigestion Relieved

"Before taking Chamberlain's Tablets my husband suffered for several years from indigestion, causing him to have pains in the stomach and distress after eating. Chamberlain's Tablets relieved him of these spells right away," writes Mrs. Thomas Casey, Geneva, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere. Adv—Nov
