That there have for years been good art schools in New York everyone will admit; but the "art atmosphere," which seems an indispensable requisite for the making of successful artists, has heretofore been sadly lacking. This season, however, the eminent artist, William M. Chase, has come to the rescue, and the art schools under his supervision, following exactly the methods of the famous Academie Julien of Paris, afford opportunities and encouragement to art students, both women and men, that previously have been attainable only by going abroad. A charmingly illustrated paper on "New York's Newest Art School," in Demorest's Magazine for April, is of special interest to all art students, and will be read with pleasure by all. Apropos to the dedication of the Grand Monument in New York, an illustrated paper on other "Memorials of General Grant" is particularly interesting; "The Children of the Five Points Mission," through its characteristic illustrations and the vivid descriptions of some of these denizens of the slums, shows a potent phase of metropolitan life; "The Stage as a Career" is discussed by well known dramatic favorites and teachers, including the late Nelson Wheatcroft; and an Easter flavor is imparted by a full-page black and white "Popillion," and illustrated articles on "Easter Egg Rolling at the White House," and "Easter Favors." "Society Fads" also describes some Lenten and Easter novelties; in Household, "Lenten Fare" is discussed; and in Sanitarian, "The Value of Rest" is treated in a helpful, practical manner. The fashions in this number are chosen with special reference to the needs of early spring, and twice the usual number of designs are furnished. The reliability of the Demorest patterns is a long established fact. Everybody who will cut out this notice and forward it, with ten cents, to the address below, will receive a sample copy of Demorest's Magazine, containing a Pattern Order which entitles the holder to any patterns illustrated in any number of the Magazine published during the last twelve months, at the uniform price of four cents each. Between thirty and forty patterns are usually illustrated in one number, thus affording an almost unlimited variety to select from. Demorest's is published for $2 a year, by the Demorest Publishing Co., 110 Fifth avenue, New York.

Three States of the forty-five pay $10,000 a year each to their chief executive or $2,000 more than is paid a Cabinet officer. These three States are New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. All three States have increased the compensation of their Governors within recent years. Until the present Constitution was amended some years ago, the salary of the Governor of New York was $4,000 and the Governors of Pennsylvania and New Jersey received $5,000 each. At the same time the Governor of Nevada received $6,000, and the Governor of Louisiana $8,000.

In recent years there has been an attempt at adjustment of the salaries of many Governors so that these many conform as far as possible to the importance of the duties of the office. The Governor of Massachusetts, for whose office there is an election each year, formerly received $8,000 and now gets $4,000. The Governor of Indiana gets $5,000 a year for a four years' term, or $20,000. The Governor of Ohio gets $8,000 a year for a two years' term. Connecticut pays her Governor $4,000, and little Rhode Island pays $3,000.

The New England States of the north border are not very liberal in the compensation of their Governors. The Governor of Maine gets $2,500 a year. The Governor of New Hampshire receives $2,000, and formerly got only $1,000. The Governor of Vermont has $1,500 a year. Now $1,500 is not a large salary for the Governor of a sovereign American State, but it is as much as Vermont pays or Oregon either. But the Governor of Oregon has a four years' term, whereas the Governor of Vermont has a term of only two years. It has never been established officially what, on a certain memorable occasion, the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina. It is supposed by many persons that this mysterious allusion bore some reference to liquid intoxicants, but a more probable explanation of the conversation is, perhaps, found in the fact that the Governor of North Carolina, one of the oldest and largest of the original States, gets only $3,000 salary, while the Governor of South Carolina, a smaller and less important commonwealth, receives $3,500. The Governor of Georgia receives $3,000; the Governor of Florida, $3,500. Michigan pays a Governor $3,000; Montana, a State of much smaller population, $5,000. In Kentucky the rate is $6,500; in Missouri, $5,000; in Nebraska, $4,000; in Kansas, the home of the Populist, $3,000. Maryland pays $4,500; Texas, $4,000; Idaho, $3,000; West Virginia, $2,700. Delaware and Utah have the same standard of compensation for their Governors, $2,500. The Governor of Alabama receives the same salary as the Governor of Alaska, $3,000. Wisconsin pays $2,500 and Colorado $3,000.

A Missouri Drunk Cure.

The Hannibal (Mo) Post says that this beats the Keely cure out of sight: "Put two or three pints of good whisky in a pitcher, then procure a good sized, sound, lively toad, tie a string to its leg and immerse it in the liquid just for a second, and draw it out so that the toad may not be suffocated or die therein; do this three times, then set the toad at liberty. It may seem dazed, or see snakes, but will soon get on its natural hop and clear out of sight. Fill your husband's favorite bottle with whisky thus medicated, and after taking a few pulls at it his stomach will feel sick and become so nauseated with the stuff that he will be equal to any temperance lecturer that ever declaimed against the undue indulgence in alcoholic imbibements."

Washington Letter.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., April 23, 1897

The gentlemen engaged in attempting to organize a revolt in the House against Czar Reed's high handed way of doing things have zeal, will, brains, audacity—in fact, everything but the one thing necessary to succeed; votes enough to outvote Reed's supporters. There is lots of talk about a large number of republicans being ready to join the revolt, but it brought to an issue it will be found that the "large number" will be about a dozen or possibly as many as twenty at the outside. This being the case it strikes me that these gentleman, are, with the best intentions, wasting time that might be put to a better use than raising expectations that cannot be realized among those who are not fully acquainted with the situation in the House. That there are enough republicans in the House who are at heart opposed to Mr. Reed's policy and methods to make a majority of the House when combined with the democrats and populists is probably true, but they all want the best committee assignments they can get and are not going to vote against the man who makes those assignments; they also want favors from the administration, and they know that Mr. McKinley is in favor of the Reed policy. Enough republicans to make a majority of the House will support Reed, regardless of what they think.

"Billy" Mason of Illinois, this week established his record in the Senate as a "kicker," by making a speech in favor of his resolution for a cloture rule, in which he ridiculed the methods of that august body and charged its members with caring more for individual power than for the public welfare. Referring to the failure to act on the Morgan Cuban resolution he said that it was impossible to tear down the golden rod of the Senate rules in order to act, and closed by saying: "I would not scuttle the old ship, but I would like to put her in dry dock long enough to have her bottom scraped."

While no gold democrat has been appointed to a prominent place by Mr. McKinley, he is indirectly showing his gratitude to the gold democrats by allowing a number of them to remain in very desirable offices. Mr. Conrad N. Jordan, Assistant Tresurer of the U. S., at New York, is a conspicuous example, although Senator Platt and the entire New York machine made a hot fight for his place for Ellis H. Roberts, a Platt republican. Mr. Jordan was in Washington this week to renew his $400,000 bond that expired at midnight on the 22nd inst. His renewal of the bond makes it certain that he has been assured of his retention in office for an indefinite period, as a reward for being a gold democrat. And the same policy is being pursued towards Clauds M. Johnson of Kentucky, Chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing; ex Representative Forman of Illinois, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and others will fill places of less importance.

The professional office holders—those who have been in office before—have secured about nine-tenths of the pie distributed up to date by Mr. McKinley, which seems to show that experience is as necessary in office seeking as in any other business; but that doesn't lessen the disappointment of the inexperienced reachers after official pie.

Senator Morgan has given notice that he would insist upon a vote next week upon his resolution for the recognition of the belligerency of the Cubans. The resolution can command a majority in the Senate all right, but there it will stop, unless Czar Reed sees fit to allow the House to do some business at this session outside of the tariff bill and the left over appropriation bills.

The adverse decision by the U. S Supreme Court in the case of Chapman, the New York broker who refused to answer questions in the Senate sugar scandal investigation, leaves Chapman with only one hope of escaping the thirty-day jail sentence imposed upon him when he was found guilty of contempt in a Washington court. That is, in his being pardoned by McKinley. Strong pressure is being brought upon Mr. McKinley to issue a pardon to Chapman.

Democratic Senators have been notified that if they would not force Senator Vest's resolution, declaring the action of Secretary Gray in issuing orders for the enforcement of the retroactive clause of the tariff bill to be illegal, to a vote, that clause would be either made satisfactory or dropped entirely before the bill is reported to the Senate. This confession that the clause in question was merely put in the bill to bluff importers is not surprising. It never had many advocates in the Senate.

THE NEW WAY.

WOMEN used to think "female diseases" could only be treated after "local examinations" by physicians. Dread of such treatment kept thousands of modest women silent about their suffering. The introduction of Wine of Cardui has now demonstrated that nine-tenths of all the cases of menstrual disorders do not require a physician's attention at all. The simple, pure taken in the privacy of a woman's own home insures quick relief and speedy cure. Women need not hesitate now. Wine of Cardui requires no humiliating examinations for its adoption. It cures any disease that comes under the head of "female troubles"—disordered menses, falling of the womb, "whites," change of life. It makes women beautiful by making them well. It keeps them young by keeping them healthy. $1.00 at the drug store.
