Printers' & Binders' Ware Rooms.

Nos. 29 and 31 Gold St. New-York.

Prices Greatly Reduced!

THE Howe Printing Press and Saw Manufactory in consequence of the addition of new and improved machinery to their works, and the reduction in the price of materials and labor, are enabled greatly to reduce the prices of their Presses, and of Printers' and Binders materials generally; as will be seen by their newly printed Circular to which they beg leave to refer.

This establishment is still under the personal superintendence of R. M. Hoe and Robert Hoe, and they assure their friends that notwithstanding the great reduction in prices, all articles manufactured by this establishment shall retain the high reputation which they have hitherto sustained. It will also be their constant endeavor to improve the quality of them in every particular. They flatter themselves also, that their old friends will not only continue their favors, but that Printers generally will appreciate their endeavors to furnish the very best articles at barely remunerating prices.

Orders from any part of the country for all articles used by Printers or Binders, including Type, Ink, Paper, etc, will be executed with the greatest care and promptitude, and on the best terms

Jobbing work and repairing will be done at the lowest possible prices with every attention and expedition.

N. B. All articles manufactured by this establishment will be stamped R Hoe & Co, so that persons from abroad may not be imposed upon with spurious articles, made in imitation of theirs.

Printers of newspapers who publish this advertisement, with this note, three times before the first of July next, and send one of their papers to us, will be entitled to the payment of their bill on buying four times the amount of it.

The Cheapest and best Lady's Magazine!

The Ladies National Magazine.

EDITED BY MRS. ANN S. STEVENS AND C. J. PETERSON.

Permanent contributors:—Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, Mrs. F. S. Osgood, Mrs. A. M. F. Annan, Mrs. E. C. Embury, Mrs. C. F. Orne, Miss Mary Davenant, Mrs. C. Lee Hentz, Mrs. M L. Lawson, Mrs. A. B. Welby, Mrs. L. J. Pierson, and other females of the first rank as authors.

This elegant and popular monthly periodical was established in July, 1843 by the union of the "World of Fashion" and F. Quarre's "Artist," and has already attained the reputation in our great cities of the Text Book of Fashion and Literature. In the correctness and beauty of its fashion plates; in the novelty, splendor and costliness of its other embellishments; and in the chastened tone and peculiarly refined feminine character of its literary department, it is conceded that this magazine has no superior. Fully equal to the best three dollar magazines in these respects, it is yet but little more than half their price. The astonishing success has induced the publisher to begin the new year with great and costly improvements. Accordingly he has determined to employ a corps of female contributors whose united talents are such as have never been before employed any magazine for the sex. The work will not be the reflex of any one mind. The names of the permanent contributors are a guarantee for the variety, talent and worth of our pages for 1844. Ours will be the only Magazine sustained by the sex.

The editorial department will still remain with Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, author of the celebrated $400 prize story, "Mary Derwent," and acknowledged to be the most powerful writer of her sex in America. Her story of "Anna Taylor" in our volume for 1843, has had an astonishing run, and will be followed by others more thrilling. Assisted by her sister authors, she will be enabled to make this book surpass all others intended for the ladies. Every thing of interest to the sex will find an early insertion in our pages. Among other distinguishing characteristics of this book will be a series of critical reviews, or accompanied by autographs of each individual. These will be of great value, as presenting facts all would wish to know

Portraits of our Female Poets,

The Home Department.—To render this Magazine as useful on the work-table as in the parlor, the publisher has secured the services of an eminent author to furnish monthly—beginning with the January number—a Home Department, in which directions for knitting the newest styles of lace, working Berlin and Persian work and needle work, and embroidery of all kinds will be given together with recipes for compounding cakes and sweetmeats of every variety, and in general, whatever may be useful to the housekeeper, whether daughter, wife or mother, to know. This department will form, at the end of the year, a volume in itself, worth twice the subscription price.

Our colored Fashions.—As this work is intended for the boudoir as well as the domestic hearth, great pains have been taken to secure the earliest reports of the London and Paris Fashions. Accordingly this department has been entrusted to Madame Quarre, who receives from Parisian correspondents designs in advance, enabling us to anticipate every rival, as has been done constantly during the past volume. But while the correct Parisian Fashions are given, care is taken, in the letter-press description, to point out how far these costumes are suited to our climate, a necessary caution observed by no other cotemporary. In a word, this department is managed thoroughly, and not used as a mere omitted in this magazine, which has been the only one to publish in 1843, an Unbroken Series of Fashions. These plates are always originally engraved for us, and not transferred, as in other cheap magazines, from any cotemporary.

In the costliness, brilliancy and number of its other embellishments, this magazine shall continue to equal the best three dollar monthlies. The past is the best guarantee for the future; and it is conceded by the press that, in 1843, we have surpassed all others in the Novelty of our Illustrations.

This Magazine is issued from the office between the 15th and 20th of the month preceding the one for which it is dated, or immediately on the arrival of the steam-ships bringing the reports of Fashions.

THE TERMS.

The cash system adopted and maintained by the publisher, enables him to afford a Magazine, in every respect equal to the old three dollar magazines, at one third less cost. The price of "The Ladies' National," is, therefore only Two Dollars per annum cash in advance. Each subscriber, at the end of the year, is notified of the expiration of his term, when, if the subscription is not renewed, he is no longer served.—This is far better than the old plan of forcing the book on a subscriber, if he neglects to notify the publisher at the end of the year. Let it be remembered that this is the only magazine, similar in embellishments and literary character to the three dollar monthlies which is afforded under their price. It is the intention of the publisher to give throughout the year, and not for January and February only, a meritorious work.

TO CLUBS.

In order to facilitate remittances from post-towns where there is no local agent, the publisher offers the following terms to persons disposed to club, viz:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1 Copy, | $2 00 | per annum |
| 3 Copies, | 5 00 | " |
| 8 Copies, | 10 00 | " |
| 17 Copies, | 20 00 | " |

This Money must be sent, post paid, in advance.

PREMIUMS.

We offer the following inducements to Post Masters and others who will take the trouble to procure subscribers:

For a club of three, and five dollars, any one of Miss Bremer's novels, or the "Gems of Art and Beauty.

For a club of eight, and ten dollars, any one of Rockafellar's Original American novels—Mrs. Gore's "Banker's Wife," or any of Harper's late novels

For a club of seventeen, and twenty dollars, Cooper's New Novel, "Wyandotte," or two copies of the "Gems of Art and Beauty," or any other of the premiums, or any work of equal value the postmaster may wish.

A Pictorial Annual, containing a selection of his Choicest Embellishments will be published by the subscriber, on the 1st of December. This elegant work will be sent to any postmaster or other person who will procure us Two new subscribers and the money, or who will obtain either of the above clubs.

All letters must be franked or post-paid.

Any premium given by any cotemporary we will give on equal terms.

As the January number will be ready for mailing very early in December friends and neighbors cannot be too prompt in getting up clubs.

Address CHAS J. PETERSON.
No. 98 Chesnut Street Philada

No. 5, of Useful Books for the People.

PRINCIPLES OF POLITICAL ECONOMY, or the Laws of the Formation of National Wealth. Developed by means of the Christian Law of Government; being the substance of a discourse delivered to the Hand-Loom Weavers Commission.

BY WM. ATKINSON.

With an Introduction, Treating of the present state of the Science of Political Economy, and the Adaptation of its Principles to the condition of our own Country and the upholding of its Prosperity.

BY HORACE GREELEY.

The work of Mr. Atkinson is one of the most instructive and admirable that has yet appeared on the important and difficult subject of Political Economy—difficult not so much in its essence or in the nature of its laws as in the application of these laws to the dissimilar complicated, varying circumstances of different nations and periods. The laws educed by Mr. Atkinson are so just, so clear, so vital, and yet so strangely overlooked by those who arrogate to themselves the title of the Political Economists in our day, and who resolve all Political Economic Science into doing nothing—of whose universe Somnus is God—and who elevate the maxim of the counter, 'Buy where you can cheapest' to the summit of attainable wisdom and statesmanship. In their eyes the cheapest possible production—coin being the unerring standard—is the great end of human effort; and he who is outstripped in the headlong race is doomed to ruin and starvation by the law of envious strife and depressing competition, which they blasphemously represent as the order of Providence! These are the views put forth by the Political Economists enthroned in our Colleges and Senates, as liberal and enlightened!—at least, these are the inevitable results from those views. It was needed that the specious fallacies put forth by these teachers should be scrutinized and confuted, and this has been done in a masterly manner by Mr. Atkinson. As an elementary on Political economy—as a refutation of the doctrines of 'Free Trade' theorists—nothing equal to his work has ever appeared on either side of the Atlantic. To the friends of American Industry, therefore, and to all who [illegible] the trade, the skill or experience of the Working man as his property, his means of livelihood, in the possession of which Government is bound to secure and sustain him precisely as it does the possessor of any other property—that is, until and unless some overruling public necessity or manifest public advantage demand a contrary course—to all who would give stability, permanence, activity and prosperity to the great Industrial Interests of the country we heartly commend this work, trusting that they will aid us to secure for it a wide and general perusal.

Price 25 cents a copy, 5 copies for $1, or $16 per hundred.

Orders solicited

GREELY & McELRATH
160 Nassau st. N. Y.

Now in Press.

The Most Splendid Historical Work Ever Published.

NOW in press, and will be published in 10 consecutive numbers of the New World, a 25 cents a number, or $2 for the complete work, Froissart's Chronicles of England, France, Spain and the adjoining Countries; the most rare, valuable in crest ing and celebrated work ever published in the world—printed on extra superfine white paper, and splendidly illustrated with over Two Hundred and Twenty Engravings representing the Scenes, Costumes, Sieges, Battles, Naval Engagements, and Tournaments of the Middle Ages, engraved at a cost of One Thousand Dollars—Price of the English Edition $12—New World Edition only $2, and equal in Typography, by Style and Embellishments. The first number will be ready about the 25th of April. Address, post-paid,

J. WINCHESTER,
30 Ann st. N. Y.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS

To persons wishing to become Agents for

The Citizen Soldier

A weekly paper published in the City of Philadelphia, by J. R. and J. H. Dillet, devoted to the interests of the volunteer and Militia.

In consequence of the handsome support that has already been extended towards us by the military citizens of this and other States, we propose in the future to issue our publication once every week, instead of semi monthly. It will be printed as heretofore, in large quarto form, suitable for binding, on fine white paper, and with new and small sized type, at the exceedingly low price of Two Dollars per annum, payable in advance. The better to increase our circulation, and to offer some stimulant to individuals wishing to club together, and not as agents, we offer the following extraordinary inducements:

To any person forwarding us fifteen subscribers and thirty dollars, we will furnish fifteen copies of the Citizen Soldier for one year, and a complete edition of either of the following valuable works, viz:

Alison's History of Europe,
Sparks' Life of Washington,
Shakespeare's Works,
Scott's Works,
Brande's Encyclopedia,
Frost's Pictorial History of the U. S.
Poets and Poetry of America,
Bulwer's Novels,
James' Novels,
Thiers' French Revolution,
Ure's Dictionary of Arts, Manufactures and Mines.

To any person forwarding us eighty subscribers and sixty dollars, we will furnish the Copies of the Citizen Soldier for one year, and a beautiful addition of the Life of Napoleon, containing one thousand pages, and embellished with five hundred engravings.

To any person forwarding us five subscribers and ten dollars, we will furnish five copies of the Citizen Soldier for one year and five of the latest popular novels; one copy of Cooper's Pioneers; or a colored map of Valley Forge

To any person forwarding us twelve dollars, we will furnish three copies or ten copies for fifteen dollars

Fifty cents premium will be allowed on each single subscription when the number is not less than seven

We pledge ourselves to fulfil to the very letter, all or either of the above promises, and we hope those contesting for the prizes will be careful to give us the full direction to each subscriber so procured and the name and residence of the individual procuring them. Many of the books named are so large, that it would be an unnecessary expense to send them by mail, and we therefore advise those persons who have complied with our terms, to forward an order by their friends visiting this city, naming the book or books they may select.

It is our intention to render our paper not only acceptable to the military but also to contain interesting information to all classes of society. We shall publish from week to week interesting biographies of distinguished men, and the better to beautify and improve our sheet, we have made arrangements by which we shall be enabled to furnish our readers with an original engraving of them, and also of remarkable events during the two wars every week. We intend to make it emphatically a family newspaper—a welcome visitor at every fireside. The advantages we offer to persons clubbing together are such, we feel warranted in asserting, as have seldom been held out by any of our cotemporaries, and we therefore call upon our friends to embrace our terms, and use their best endeavors to extend our circulation.

Thirteenth Volume!

Great Increased Interest!

THE New York Christian Messenger enters upon its Thirteenth Volume on the 18th of November, ensuing. Extensive improvements will be made in the paper on the new volume, both as to matter and appearance, by securing the best talent to its columns, and putting it on new type throughout.

For its general character and character, reference may be had to its persevering efforts in the cause of Universal Redemption, in the moral elevation of the race, for the last twelve years. As in the past, so in the future, no efforts will be spared to render it one of the best publications in the order—a valuable journal of Religion, Literature and Intelligence—in short, an acceptable Family Paper, either for the established Universalist, or for the Inquirer after the truth of the doctrine, and even for the candid opposer, who is disposed to examine both sides of the question. In all its course it aims to be guided by the law of kindness and love, and to say to those who cannot unite with it in sentiment, "come now and let us reason together."

Arrangements are in progress for a Series of Articles, of a Common nature, Expository and Literary character, which shall give greater solidity and permanent value to the volume and render it still more worthy of preservation.

An Original Historical Tale. It is proposed, also to give, in the course of the volume, (to commence in the early part, perhaps the first number) a highly interesting Historical Tale entitled, The Scout; or the Fast of St. Nicholas. To those who had the pleasure of perusing the very interesting tale "Eagle of the Mohawks"—inserted in the volume for 1840-41, it need only be stated that the Scout is a continuation, or more properly speaking a sequel to that work, taking up the narrative and bringing the history down to the succeeding generation, and possessing, if possible, a more thrilling interest than does that valuable work. This story of itself is worth the subscription of the volume. Other interesting Tales, Sketches, Essays, &c. will be given, all combined to make this volume, it is hoped much superior to any which has ever preceded it.

Great Inducements. In overhauling the surplus numbers of the Union for the eight years past, many perfect volumes of different years are made out, and depending on the single sets, I have reported sets above these volumes as premiums. They are in convenient form for binding, and a whole volume can be sent to any part of the United States by mail for 75 cents postage; and any where in this State, or within 100 miles, out of the State for 62 cents.—Each volume embraces a mass of reading (832 large closely printed octavo pages) of a permanent character, which will be interesting to all for reference and perusal, forming altogether a valuable library.

For every $5 current funds advanced for expiration, two copies of the new volume of the Union form, or two copies of the Messenger form, for the year ensuing, or one for half a year, will be sent and one of back volumes, and so in proportion for larger amounts, giving all more than back volumes, and in large amounts the back volumes, and in proportion for larger amounts. Thus by securing for instance subscribers for the Union or Messenger at $2 per annum, the individual is entitled to one back volume; for four Unions or two Messengers, two back volumes, different years and so on—Only one remaining set (4 D) at one time, shall receive for one address, 20 copies of the Messenger or 16 copies of the Union, next volume, and a complete set of the back volumes of the Union eight in number.

Will the patrons of the paper oblige us by making these conditions known as early and extensively as possible.

The paper is issued in two forms—one, the "Universalist Union," in octavo containing a volume of 832 large closely printed pages, containing the Religious and Literary matter of the Messenger, at $2 50—the other Messenger in folio newspaper format $2 per annum in advance.

Address post paid,

C. L. STICKNEY,
No. 110 Fulton St. New York.

An elegant Book for a Present.

JUST PUBLISHED.

Price 25 cts.

Embellished with a correct likeness of Count D'Orsay, the handsomest man in England—engraved on steel.

Complete in one number of the Brother Jonathan Monthly Library,

ETIQUETTE,
OR A # GUIDE TO THE
Usages of society.

BY COUNT ALFRED D'ORSAY.

With a likeness of the author.

"Manners make the man."

Among the various topics which this curious original treatise sets forth, are the following:

1 General observations on Etiquette; ideas of an looking persons on the usages of society, &c.

2 Introductions—how they should be effected, and when persons should or should not be introduced—meeting a friend with a lady—when you are unacquainted with her; the science of cutting an acquaintance; slighting a friend.

3 Of letters of introduction, the manner they should be written, despatched, presented or received; how to treat a new acquaintance introduced by letter; promptness in answering letters.

4 Of marriage; the duties of those about to be married towards their friends—how old bachelors should behave under such circumstances; advice to newly married people.

5 Of dinners the etiquette of a dinner party; directions for the master or mistress of the house; instructions for gentlemen guests; the arrangement of the party at table; advice relative to general deportment at table; taking wine with a lady; how to furnish and lay out the table; behaviour towards servants at table; forms to be observed in waiting on a lady at table; advice to ladies; science of eating and drinking.

6 Of smoking and snuff taking restrictions to be observed; when, where and how to smoke or take snuff.

7 Of dress and fashions; to what extent fashions should be followed, addressed to both ladies and gentlemen; grand points to be observed in dress; when to wear gloves; when to wear jewelry; remarks on neatness in dress.

8 Of music in general society; highly gifted musicians in private society; when a lady should sing or play; the duties of listeners.

9 Of dancing; the etiquette of the ball room; duty of the master of ceremonies; when and how to apply for a partner; presentation to a lady with whom you are not acquainted; the lady's part; color of gloves to be worn at a ball; how to lead a lady through the quadrille; behaviour to be observed in the quadrille and waltz; of the steps; the treatment of a slight from an acquaintance in the ball room, &c.

10 Of conversation; picture of an egotist; when to avoid an argument; fidelity to truth; getting in a passion; defence of your friends; talking to and at people; lessons in talking; tone of voice; talking too largely; vulgar terms to be avoided; caution to parents; directions to a gentleman in addressing a lady; advice to tradespeople.

11 Of visiting; the time to visit a lady; when to leave your card; duration of a call; when to place your hat in the hall; strict rules to be observed.

12 Of visiting cards; how they should be worded, when they should be left, and when sent; instructions for married ladies; general directions relative to wedding cards; invitations to dinners, balls, or parties; invitations to christenings or funerals.

13 Of card playing; how card tables should be set out; general directions to the master or mistress of the house; the art of playing whist; hints to ladies who play for money.

14 Of tattling; usages of good society; caution to those who repeat the conversations of others; some advice to young ladies; danger of badinage towards dull people.

15 Of general society; deportment towards a lady of your acquaintance in the street; handing a lady to a carriage; shaking hands with a lady; behaviour in the box of a theatre; visiting a coffee house; saluting a friend publicly; respect to be shown great people; treatment of guests; vulgarit defined; how to offer a lover; rules to be observed when inviting a friend to ride; manner of addressing a lady in company; general directions in addressing letters; rules to be observed always when visiting; behaviour at a vacant int; queer notions of old beau people; postage on letters; economy; when it may be dispensed with; the true test of a gentleman.

16. The true Theory of Waltzing—gentleman's step in the figure of eight, or the Rhenish Waltz; lady's step in the same; serpentine waltzing; gentlemens step in the figure of eight a deux temps—lady's step, do—gentlemens step in the figure of eight, a deux pas, but not a deux temps—lady's in the same—how to learn the Rhenish and German Waltzes; theory of Spanish waltz—the language of the waltz—general remarks on waltzing.

This remarkable work is printed on fine paper, on clear and beautiful type, and is issued complete in one number of the Brother Jonathan Monthly Library. It may be sent to any part of the United States for the postage of a two sheet periodical, viz: under 100 miles 3 cents—any greater distance 5 cents.

Price 25 cents per copy, or five copies for one dollar. Agents and Newsmen supplied at the usual rates of discount.

This work, being issued in the periodical form, persons in the country wishing to procure a single copy, can have a twenty five cent piece enclosed to the publishers in a letter, franked by a Postmaster according to law—or five copies will be sent for a one dollar bill of any solvent bank in the Union. The post office law allows postmasters to forward all remittances for periodicals free of postage. No letters are taken from the post office unless they are prepaid or franked by a post-master.

Letters should be addressed to

WILSON & Co., Publishers,
162 Nassau St., New-York.

The United States Mathematician;

THE demand for this work has been so extensive, that we were obliged to publish a second large edition of the first number, which is now ready to forward to subscribers. We are now ready to supply all demands, however extensive, and will at any time furnish the work from the commencement.

This work will contain every thing necessary in Arithmetic, Book Keeping, Algebra, Mensuration, Gauging, &c. &c., to form and complete a man of business.

TERMS:—The United States Mathematician and Business Man's Companion, will be completed in 24 semi-monthly numbers of 32 duodecimo pages each, on good paper, and forwarded to subscribers at $1 50, payable in all cases in advance.

Any person forwarding $5 in current funds, (free of postage,) shall have five copies of each number forwarded to his order.

Those who wish to act as agents shall have a specimen number sent, by applying to the subscriber, post paid.

J. M. MAHON, Old U. S. Mint

THE
LIFE AND SPEECHES
OF
HENRY CLAY,

Complete in two volumes, of over 1100 large pages,

WITH THREE ENGRAVINGS,

THE WHOLE FOR ONE DOLLAR!

The Publishers of the New-York Tribune have effected an arrangement with Mr. James B. Swain, proprietor of the only full and illustrated collection of the SPEECHES OF HENRY CLAY, preceded by a Biographical Memoir of the Great Statesman and Orator of the West, and embellished by three Superb Engravings—by which they will be enabled to publish, from Mr. Swain's stereotype plates, an edition of that work for the People, in two large and elegant volumes, at the unprecedently low price of ONE DOLLAR for the whole!

This edition will comprise—

I. A MEMOIR OF HENRY CLAY, clear and glowing, written expressly for this work, by HENRY J. RAYMOND, Esq.

II. The speeches of Mr. Clay, from 1810 to 1842 inclusive, carefully collected from various sources for this work compared and corrected, and all restored to the first person—many of them having been only reported in the third person—"Mr. Clay said" so and so, and "he urged," &c., instead of giving his own vigorous and graceful diction, without interpolation or dilution. No collection of Mr. Clay's Speeches at all comparable with this, in completeness or correctness, has ever before appeared.

Each Speech is prefaced by a brief introductory paragraph explaining the circumstances which called it forth, and whenever it is desirable and not otherwise indicated, a note at the end gives the tone of the measure under discussion.

ILLUSTRATIONS.

I. A Portrait of Henry Clay, from an original painting by Linen, engraved by Prud'homme.

II. A view of the birthplace of Henry Clay, in "the Slashes" of Hanover, Virginia—engraved on steel.

III. An Engraved Fac-Simile of a letter from Mr. Clay.

Such is the character—such are the contents of the edition of THE LIFE AND SPEECHES OF HENRY CLAY, which the subscribers now offer to the public in two large volumes of 1100 pages, for One Dollar. It will be handsomely printed, on fair, white paper, and neatly put up in flexible covers that will be afforded cheaper than any such work ever was before, because we hope to give it the largest circulation ever attained by any.

To the friends of HENRY CLAY—Mighty, glorious host!—to the advocates of the benignant principles and measures of National Policy of which he is the foremost champion—to the lovers of our country universally—but especially to the various Whig organizations and Clay Clubs, do we confidently appeal for aid in our effort to extend the circulation of this work, and render its perusal, as nearly as may be, universal. We ask them to do this not for our sakes, but to advance the great Cause to which their energies are devoted, and because that Cause can in no way be more persuasively, more successfully commended to the public judgment, the popular heart, than in the diffusion of far seeing patriotism, the soul stirring Eloquence of Henry Clay.

Respectfully,

GREELY & McELRATH,
160 Nassau St., New-York

This edition of Mr. Clay's Life and Speeches will be issued on or before the 1st of June next, and will be furnished to those who shall have previously subscribed and paid for copies, in the order of such payments. Price $10 per dozen, $70 per hundred. Subscriptions and orders are respectfully solicited.

The exceedingly low price at which this work is to be published at, precludes the possibility of supplying it, in any instance, on terms other than cash in hand. Our friends will therefore understand that, in order to be responsible they must be here with the utmost promptness in cash principle.

Almost every village, certainly almost every town will be able to form clubs of twenty-four. And in all cases where the money ($20) for 24 copies or over is sent through the Post Office and a certificate taken from the Post Master, it may be sent at our risk—the Post Master will be entitled to one copy gratis.

It is particularly requested that orders be accompanied by specific directions as to the manner in which the books shall be forwarded, and when unaccompanied by such specific directions, the books so ordered will be simply put up in bundles or boxes, and the name and place of destination plainly marked thereon, and the boxes or packages retained in our warehouse until called for, or directions given as to the manner of their shipment. The publishers will not hold themselves responsible beyond their shipment, or delivery to order.

New-York, April, 1843.

Law Notice.

ORVILLE HARRISON & CALEB F. VANCE,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

Have formed a co-partnership, and will in future practice under the style of Harrison & Vance.

ma 27 1-1w