EACH TENANT GETS HOUSE HE LIVES IN BY WILL OF RICH MAN

Eighteen Philadelphians Given Homes Free and Clear by Friend of the Poor.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—One of the most unique wills ever recorded in Philadelphia was made public yesterday when a deed of trust was filed covering the estate of the late William Hawkins, who died in January, 1910, in his ninety-eighth year, leaving over $200,000 to be distributed to various beneficiaries, nearly all of whom were in needy circumstances and some of whom he had never seen.

Among the latter are eighteen struggling families in Germantown, who were presented with clear titles to the homes in which they live and all of which were included in the property of the aged philanthropist.

The details of the will were brought to light with the filing of a petition of Mrs. Anna Newland of Vineland, N. J., a sister of Mr. Hawkins, who, through her attorney, Alexander Lauer, of No. 1010 Betz Building, is contesting a portion of the will.

The houses named in the will are valued at from $2,000 to $3,000 each. All of them were subject to ground rents, which Mr. Hawkins personally paid off at the time the deed of trust was executed, leaving the beneficiaries absolutely clear titles. Some of the tenants had been unable to pay their rent for many months before Mr. Hawkins's death, but he continued to allow them to live in the house and ordered that the back payments should not be collected from them.

The exact amount of Mr. Hawkins's fortune is not known, but it is believed that he spent while living for charity at least as much as he left when he died. He was never married. He lived in retirement during the latter part of his life, during which he devoted his entire time to philanthropy. His greatest pleasure was derived in hunting up individual cases of poverty and suffering and relieving them from his great resources.

During his declining years Mr. Hawkins lived in New Britain, Bucks County, where he occupied a large house, with no companion except his housekeeper, Mary Whitehead. About ten months before he died he conveyed the house in which he lived, together with all its furnishings and outbuildings, to the housekeeper as a reward for her faithful services.

FINDS $200,000 CHECK, GETS "THANK YOU" FOR IT.

Warren Homler, a sixteen-year-old messenger employed by the W. J. B. Mills Co., bankers, at No. 36 Wall street, is to-day busily recounting to the awed messengers that surround him how it feels to be the possessor of a sung fortune of $200,000 for a few moments.

Yesterday afternoon, he noticed a long slip of paper lying on the curb in front of the Bankers' Trust Company Building, at Nassau and Wall streets. Picking it up he was amazed to find that he was the possessor of a certified check for $200,000 drawn on the National City Bank and signed by J. W. Davis & Co., of No. 100 Broadway, payable to the American Exchange National Bank.

[illegible] at the least hesitation, so [illegible] says, he marched up to his [illegible]'s window and told him of his [illegible]. He was advised to bring it back to the J. W. Davis firm. Scurrying as fast as his legs would carry him, he reached their offices before 3 o'clock and proudly handed the checks to the treasurer. As he ruefully stated today, "All I got was much obliged."

BIG FLEET DETAINED OUTSIDE HARBOR ALL NIGHT BY HEAVY FOG

Humorist George Ade Tries to Console Fellow Voyagers on the Olympic.

"Fables in Fog" will be the next book off the press under the signature of George Ade, humorist, politician, playwright and story teller. Mr. Ade, with 1,234 other cabin passengers and 800 in the steerage, spent the night outside Sandy Hook on the big ship Olympic.

It was all on account of the fog. The Olympic was due at Quarantine at midnight, but about 2 o'clock this morning Capt. Haddock, unwilling to take any chances with the biggest ship afloat, let his mudhooks slip outside the bar. At 9 o'clock this morning he was still waiting for the fog to lift. At that time George Ade was compelled to take in a fresh supply of humor, being all out of it.

The Olympic had company in her stay outside. In the fog bound fleet was also the Notrh German Lloyd liner Prinzess Irene from Mediterranean ports. The Irene dropped her anchors about 3 o'clock this morning. She had 386 second cabin passengers, all anxious to get home, and 1,525 aliens and others in the steerage and no Ade for their drooping spirits.

The Cunarder Carmania had a longer stay than any of the fleet, for she ran into the fog and to the anchor at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Since then there has been rather an increase of the heavy fog than a lifting of it, but the Carmania took a chance and slipped under the fog belt. She passed Sandy Hook shortly before 7 o'clock and was in Quarantine before 8. The Uranium of the Uranium line was a neighbor of the Carmania outside the bar. She is from Rotterdam and did not take the chance of getting into Quarantine under the fog.

In addition, there is any number of small craft detained by the fog.

BROKER L. E. PIKE DEAD.

Big Operator Succumbs to Shock He Suffered Last Winter.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 5.—Lafayette E. Pike, formerly a well-known stock broker, who had offices in a number of cities including New York, Boston and San Francisco, is dead at his home here at the age of fifty-five years. He had been in poor health for months as a result of a shock suffered during last winter. He was reputed at one time to have been worth several millions. He leaves a wife and one son.

LOST COMPLEXION IS EASY TO REGAIN

"I motored a lot during the summer and played tennis and golf between times and the wind and sun certainly played havoc with my face and hands."

"I wouldn't worry," replied the young matron to her friend the athletic girl as they met at the country club. "Get a tube of and rub a little into your face and hands night and morning and when going out of doors and in a few days your complexion will be like a baby's. Velogen is the greatest aid to beauty I know. It makes and keeps the skin soft, smooth and good-looking." At all druggist's, in collapsible tubes, 25 cents. Better than cold cream, used the same way.

Off with the Tan

Vacation days are over—brown faces and hands are out of vogue. What will make them white again? Let Nature do it. Keep the skin soft and the pores clean—let the blood circulate through the tiny vessels in the outer layer of skin—that's the only way to remove tan without injury to the complexion.

DAGGETT & RAMSDELL'S PERFECT COLD CREAM
"The Kind that Keeps"

on a wet cloth, cleanses the pores and softens the skin at the same time—supplies just what the skin requires after daily exposure to the summer's sun, wind and dust. Use it daily (on a wet cloth)—your skin will be grateful and respond to its helpful influence.

Fifty and twenty-five cent tubes.

When you insist upon Daggett & Ramsdell's, you are getting the best cold cream in the store.
