

AT THE CHURCHES

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Next Sunday promises to prove a red letter day. Let us all turn out to the Bible school in the morning, make it over two hundred. The morning subject will be very appropriate to the season, coming as it does before the city election as well as the church election of next Wednesday. The pastor will deliver one of his lectures, the topic being: "Bramble Bush; or the Election and Survival of the Un-fittest." This lecture has been given before many civic bodies, and should be especially interesting to the electors of Alliance, and especially to the business men. One reporter called it, "The election in the backwoods." Such question as, who should rule? Why the unfit often get into the office that by right ought to be filled by the best? If evil exists in the election and city, with whose approval? Who is to blame? Why is the best element of a community often kept at bay by the superior must how to the inferior, if so why? Are you, christian mother responsible if your daughter is wronged in Alliance? You, father whose boy is breaking your heart, is it true that it is with your consent that he is failing? If so why?

Sunday evening the pastor preaches to the Laboring man as a special guest. The topic, "The Irresistible Stone Cut Out Without Hands." Text, Dan. 2:34. Can the laboring or organized effort of the working man be stopped? Is it founded upon a fundamental principle of human nature, if so are those who oppose it doomed to failure? What should be the churches' attitude in the matter? If Christ returned incognito as a preacher, and took an Alliance church, where would he spend the most of his time, in social gatherings of the rich or ministering to and visiting the poor and laboring classes? What would be his attitude in the great questions of the day affecting both rich and poor? Would he simply fold his hand and pray for improvement, and say nothing publicly for fear that he got in bad with the moneyed classes? All these and more will be interestingly considered in the sermon to the men. Provisions has been made to have the women preached to in the parlors in the event of an overflow crowd.

Welcome to the church open to all, and remember you must come early or you get crowded out. Special singing at both services.

B. J. MINORT.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The increased attendance at religious services in Alliance and elsewhere is an indication of a larger interest in the church. It is very gratifying to preach to a crowded house and to hear of others doing the same. Does this mean that the church is coming into her own? Before it can be a reconsecration of self to the service of the Lord. It is putting God first. Two admonitions to man from different sources will bring the results. They are: "Know thyself" and "Search the Scriptures." In harmony with this will be the services next Lord's day. At the morning hour, the minister will preach on "The Law and The Gospel." At the evening hour we will be privileged to hear C. W. Cooper preach. His subject is, "Every Man in His Place." Mr. Cooper has ministered successfully in Nebraska and Kansas. His last work was at Sheridan, Wyoming.

The 300 in Bible School will have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Cooper talk. These will be great services. The Endeavor prayer meetings and the mid-week meeting can be made more efficient by a greater attendance and more prayerful co-operation.

Come to the church with a message and a welcome.

STEPHEN J. EPLER, Minister.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Our church extends a welcome to the Teachers' association. The ladies' auxiliary will serve meals at the church basement both Friday and Saturday noons for the accommodation of visiting teachers. The grammar division of the Teachers' association will hold sessions in the church Friday.

Our services at the church next Sunday morning at the regular hours. It is the first Sunday in the new quarter. Sunday school at 9:45. Let us give earnest heed to the great work of religious education, that branch of the full rounded development of life which is left entirely in the hands of the churches. It is well for us to ask ourselves at this time both in the home and in the church school if we are efficient educators in the matter of the religious development of the children committed to our care.

Morning worship at 11. Subject: "The Center of Religious Authority." "The kingdom of God is within you." Luke 17:21.

We have accepted the invitation of the Methodist church to unite with them in the evening services to hear Bishop Stuntz of Omaha who is the bishop of the Nebraska area of the Methodist Episcopal church. Bishop Stuntz is a splendid speaker and we are sure will bring a message of helpfulness for the entire community. There will be special music by the combined choirs. All are cordially invited to these services.

First Presbyterian church, corner of Box Butte and Seventh street. A. J. KEARNS, Pastor.

METHODIST CHURCH

Word has been received from Bishop Stuntz that he will arrive Saturday night on No. 42 and speak as already announced, Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30 at the Methodist church. Many people who have heard the bishop speak of him as among the two or three most eloquent living bishops of the Methodist church. No matter whether he speaks before a Methodist conference, a body of college students, a mass meeting of various religious denominations, or a group of business men, he never fails to grip his audience with his never-to-be-forgotten message.

The greater part of his time is spent with student bodies of the leading universities and at national conventions of different religious organizations. The public will be gladly welcomed at both these Sunday services. Our boy soloist will give one number Sunday evening. The Presbyterian church has accepted an invitation to unite with us in the evening in a union service, and the two choirs will furnish special music.

Monday and Tuesday, until noon, the Alliance district conference will be in session at the Methodist church. Bishop Stuntz and Dr. C. C. Cissel of Omaha, being the principal speakers. The public is also invited to all these meetings.

MEARL C. SMITH, Pastor.

It Was a Profitable Joke For Both of Them

Two girls were working in the same shop several years ago. The question of saving money came up one day, but these girls said they could not spare anything from their small earnings.

But just as a joke one of the girls said: "I dare you to start a savings account with me and see who can save the most"—so they started.

A few years later, one of these girls quit working at the shop to get married. She was surprised to find more than $600 in the bank to her credit—a very welcome sum at such a time.

The other girl is still working and she continues her visits to the bank each week. Her account is well above $2,000 now, and it is growing fast. Her interest money each year is more than her first year's savings amounted to.

Perhaps this story will suggest a plan that will work as well for you.
