Olive Fremstad Saves Opera Night

BY SYLVESTER RAWLING.

"THE TALES OF HOFFMANN" at the Metropolitan Opera House last night had a narrow escape from no performance. Half an hour before the curtain was to rise, Mr. Gatti-Casazza was informed by telephone that Maria Duchene, who was cast for Giulietta in the second act and for The Voice in the third act, had been stricken with sudden illness. A hurry call for Olive Fremstad, who was Giulietta at the first performance this season, fortunately found her at home, and she consented to take the part and to start at once for the Opera House. Then Lila Robeson was found to sing The Voice and Mr. Gatti and everybody concerned with the management was transformed from gloom into joy. Before the second act, Mr. Gatti appeared in front of the curtain to explain the circumstance and, in behalf of Mr. Gatti, to thank Mme. Fremstad for her graciousness.

A large audience enjoyed Offenbach's interesting work which was well presented, under the direction of Mr. Polacco, by the familiar cast of Frieda Hempel, Lucrezia Bori, Jeanne Maubourg, Karl Jorn, Rothier, Didur, De Segurola, Feiss, Ruysdael, Rossi, Bada, Ananian, Audisio and Begue. Whether in ignorance that there was an epilogue in Morten Lutz's tavern, or in impatience to get away in advance of their neighbors, there was a large exodus after the third act.

A delightful entertainment was that the Olive Mead Quartet furnished at Rumford Hall last night for its farewell concert of the season, and the audience that filled the little house showed its enjoyment of it in no stinted manner. The programme comprised Mozart's quartet in C major, Dittersdorf's quartet in E flat major, and Brahms's quintet in F minor, opus 34. In the latter, Ernesto Consolo was the assisting artist at the piano, taking his part in the ensemble with fine artistry. After both the andante and the scherzo the players were made to rise several times to acknowledge the applause. Miss Mead and her associates, Vera Fanaroff, second violin; Gladys North, viola, and Lillian Littlehales, 'cello, rarely, if ever, have played with greater charm.

Victor Herbert may be the next American composer to have an opera in English presented at the Metropolitan Opera House. At least, Mr. Gatti-Casazza has heard him play the piano score of his "Madeleine," a one-act opera composed to a libretto by Grant Stewart, adapted from a French play by Decourcelles and Thibaud. Mr. Gatti has made no promises; but the work may have a chance next season as half of a double bill. Meanwhile, Mr. Herbert's opera "Natoma," which Mr. Dippel accepted for his Philadelphia-Chicago Opera Company after Mr. Gatti had passed it by, is making a great hit, Mr. Dippel declares, on the Pacific coast, where his company is giving an opera season. Telegraphing to Mr. Herbert, he says: "Overwhelming success; enthusiastically received; regret your absence."

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 12.—The Senate Minimum Wage bill for women was passed by the lower house of the Legislature to-day and now requires only the Governor's signature to make it a law.

Willard Louis is to be the House Detective in "The Ghost Breaker."

"The American Maid" quits Saturday night. This is John Cort's fifth rapid failure this season.

Marie Dressler finishes at Weber-Fields' Saturday night. She suggested to Seymour Hicks he join her for three weeks. But he asked $3,000 a week.

"The Love Leash" by Anna Steese Richardson and Edmund Breese will be produced by the New Era Producing Company (Henry B. Harris estate) at Washington, March 24, with Grace Filkins as the star.

While a crowded audience in a movie at Philadelphia yesterday was wondering why the pictures had suddenly stopped, it was found that the operator had accidentally stepped on his lamp wires and had been instantly electrocuted.

In a Bad Way.

(From the Philadelphia Bulletin.)

Dr. A. M. Dougal, surgeon of the Carthaginian, was describing the splendid cruise of seasickness that he obtains by means of hypnotism.

"The most violent cases yield to my treatment," said Dr. Dougal. "Yes, some very violent cases indeed have vanished under my hands.

"I remember a particularly bad case." Dr. Dougal stroked his mouth to hide a smile.

"It was a Philadelphia squab dealer. He sent for me the second day out. As I hurried to his cabin I could hear him groaning a corridor away.

"'Do you feel very bad?' I asked the man sympathetically.

"'Oh, dear, yes!' he groaned. 'Oh, my! I feel very, very bad indeed.' "I looked at him. Serpentine undulations passed over his frame. He was raked and shaken as by an earthquake.

"'Can't you keep anything on your stomach?' I inquired.

"'Only my hands,' he sighed. 'Only my hands.'"

Tomorrow Never Comes!

"Yes, I intend to have a Victrola," said a woman who had just heard the Victrola Concert in the Wanamaker Auditorium, "but not just now—a little later."

"But a 'little later,' like tomorrow, never comes," sighed her companion.

Nothing is truer than this retort—nothing is more certain than that delay means never and that "never" means an unsatisfied hope.

Why did this woman who wanted a Victrola say "a little later"?

She felt that she could not afford one—just now.

She knew that the type XVI which she had just heard in the Auditorium was $200.

She felt she could not afford to lay out so large a sum at one time.

But she did not know the Wanamaker Educational Terms of Purchase—$10 as a first payment and

$10 a Month

The moment she knew of this easy means of purchase she ordered a Victrola sent to her home.

She did not wait until tomorrow.

Will you?

How to be Beautiful

Secrets of Health and Beauty

by Claire Ainsworth

NOTE—If the reader does not find the information wanted in the questions answered below, just address a letter to Miss Claire Ainsworth, 40 Patterson Bldg., Dayton, Ohio, inclosing self-addressed stamped envelope, and she will gladly advise on health and beauty problems.

Miss Ainsworth is noted for her marvelous beauty, as well as famous as a talented concert singer, and artists the world over rave at her beauty and have sought her to perpetuate their masterpieces. She frankly admits that here is a cultivated, but natural, beauty, and no "make-up" is ever used. The articles and preparations mentioned are on sale by all wholesale druggists, large retail and department stores, or any accommodating dealer can obtain them for you.

WRINKLE HINTS

While a smooth, pretty skin is the exception after thirty, nine women out of ten could own an unwrinkled skin if they would but take care of it. It would not do to say that wrinkles will never come, but I do assert that they need not mar the appearance before the sixtieth year and even then they can be kept well nigh invisible if they be rubbed, smoothed and kneaded with the finger tips, and a nourishing emollient be used.

Uncontrolled facial muscles are responsible for many a wrinkled face. Unnecessary frowning, scowling, worrying and even laughing are responsible too. The bad habit of making faces when you write, sew or talk must be broken to prevent wrinkles. Really though, how few of us can control our facial muscles, and lacking in this the best best thing and surest is regular daily massage and face molding with the excellent cream which I and thousands use so successfully.

MEMORIZE THESE RULES

Never massage for more than fifteen minutes at any one time. Do not forget that a heavy massage reduces fat and a light massage, or patting movement encourages the formation of flesh. Don't allow the skin to become dry as this shells wrinkles. Use plenty of massage cream as the skin bores heel to be fed lavishly. Avoid irritating soaps containing alkali. Protect the skin with a disappearing cream before going out into the weather.

Madame N. asks: "Will you please give me some advice? I am 40, and little wrinkles are appearing on my forehead, about my eyes and at the corners of my mouth, and my skin begins to be getting dry and colorless. Please advise?"

Answer: "Read my little 'preachment on wrinkles' above and then obtain a jar of glorioil emollient. Massage the wrinkles very thoroughly twice daily and use plenty of this emollient cold cream. Continue the use of the cream and supply the nourishment needed indefinitely."

Billie B. asks: "I am terribly disfigured by pimples, blackheads and sallow, scaly skin. My blood is bad too. What is best to use to regain a pretty complexion?"

Answer: "Locally, for complexion, use the scientific treatment consisting of glorioil skowene (instead of soap), glorioil emollient cold cream and glorioil balm vanishing cream, as per directions which accompany each.

"Also begin taking one grain quinoxide tablets which act on the blood, and clear the face of pimples, etc. You should continue being devoted to the care of your skin if you wish to retain a pretty completion and it may take several months to restore a healthy skin."

Alice T. asks: "I would like a treatment for the hair and scalp to beautify and increase the growth and lustre. My hair is dead looking and combs out too much. Can you give a reliable formula?"

Answer: "I have frequently answered your question but will repeat it. Obtain one-half ounce concentrated lanwant powder, and dissolve it in a pint of water. Then apply to the hair and scalp twice daily, massaging the scalp with the finger tips.

"To stain or darken the hair, use the same powder of lairwand, but dissolve it in a pint of coffee which has been filtered or strained. The coffee can be made weak or strong as the color may be desired."

Mrs. K. K. asks: "Suppose one is too fleshy and desires to reduce about 20 or 30 pounds, what medicine is best and safest to use, and how quickly effective?"

Answer: "Obtain of a well-stocked druggist one or more tubes of five-grain phy-thy-rin tablets and take as per directions. On a circular in the tube is a diet which is also helpful. Three or four months should show a satisfactory reduction of this treatment. This will enable you to endure the summer heat."

Miss P. R. asks: "How can one remove unsightly freckles?"

Answer: "There are few reliable freckle removers and amongst them is a proprietary preparation called Madam Leslie's Freckle Balm. Most any druggist should have it or can get it of the wholesale firms. Follow the directions very carefully to insure results."

Mrs. Alice R. asks: "How about superfluous hair on face and arms? Is there any safe preparation to rid one of such blemishes?"

Answer: "One of the best and most reliable depilatories is fluvol powder, sold in sealed vials. It is both harmless and instantly effective. Beware of many caustic preparations or you may replace the hair with unsightly scars."

Lady Clerk asks: "How can I prevent chapping, windburn, etc., of face and hands?"

Answer: "Apply glorioil balm vanishing cream each time, before going out into the weather. It is splendid to preserve and protect the skin."

Mildred asks: "Can you advise a good face soap?"

Answer: "I think toilet soaps as a rule are all injurious to a beautiful or tender skin. I use and recommend a delightful cleansing 'water massage' by name, glorioil skowene. Try it and you will like it."

Mrs. T. V. W. asks: "Please tell me what to do to increase the size of my bust and to fill hollow in neck and shoulders?"

Answer: "Obtain medicated vencoal and massage the parts regularly twice daily using the rotary movement and the patting or slapping movement afterwards. There is nothing better that I know of. Let me hear from you after giving this a thorough trial."

Miss Bertie D. asks: "Is there anything which will keep the hair wavy and in curl for days at a time?"

Answer: "Yes. I use glorioil wavolene, a pleasant, easily applied, invisible preparation which has pleased hundreds of my correspondents. It improves the hair and often creates a permanent wavy growth."

Miss B. B. asks: "When I shampoo my hair it looks fine and glossy the next day, it gets oily and stringy. What is a good dry shampoo and will this overcome the oily appearance?"

Answer: "A good dry shampoo restores the hair to natural lustre and removes the excess oil. Try this splendid formula. Two ounces of antiseptic vinane powder, mixed with two ounces of powdered orris root. Use one or two tablespoonfuls. Sprinkle through the hair at night and in the morning comb and brush all of it out."

Harriet C. asks: "I am so terribly thin and bloodless. Can you advise something to put flesh on?"

Answer: "Yes I know of many who have added from 10 to 20 pounds by simply taking 3 grain hypo-nuclene tablets for several months. I think you need this excellent tonic flesh promoting tablet."—Advt.
