Special Blanks For Farmers' Tax.

Thousands of farmers whose net income for 1920 equaled or exceeded the exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons will be required to file on or before March 15, 1921 income tax returns for the year 1920.

As an aid to farmers the Bureau of Internal Revenue has prepared a special form, 1040F, for recording sales of live stock produce and a summary of income and expenses. This form should be attached to the taxpayer's individual return on Form 1040 or 1040A. Full instructions for making out the forms are contained in each.

Under gross income a farmer is required to include all proceeds derived from the sale of farm products derived from the sale of farm products whether produced on a farm or purchased for resale. When he exchanges his produce for groceries, clothing or other merchandise he must include in his income the value of the articles received and exchanged. Profit received from the sale of farm land or rent received for the use thereof must also be included.

In determining his net income, upon which the tax is assessed, the farmer may deduct all necessary expenses incurred in the operation of his farm during the year. These include cost of cultivation, harvesting, and marketing of his crops, the cost of seed and fertilizer used, amount spent in repair to farm buildings other than the dwelling, and to fences and machinery. The cost of farm tools used up in the course of the year, wages paid to employes other than domestic servants, and rent paid for farm land and buildings (other than dwelling) are deductible items.

Farmers who keep no records or only records of cash receipts and disbursements should make their returns on the basis of actual receipts, but farmers who keep complete accounts and who take inventories at the beginning and end of the year to determine their profits should report on the accrual basis. Both methods are fully explained on Form 1040F, copies of which may be obtained from the offices of collectors of internal revenue.

YOU CAN'T DODGE IT

Once in Awhile Your Blood Clogs and Your Vitality Runs Down

THEN TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

You'll Pick Up Again Quickly with Plenty of Red Blood Corpuscles.

Physicians nowadays take a blood test when you are run down. They count the red corpuscles in your blood. If these are too few they give you a tonic for your blood. It happens right along. They are always on the lookout for indications of weak blood.

Why? Because they know when your blood is weak your resistance to disease is low Your vitality and energy quickly run down.

You can tell when your blood is weak. You look pale, feel tired you are not ill, but you don't feel right. You don't want to do things. That is the time to take the well-known tonic, Pepto-Mangan.

Pepto-Mangan builds red blood corpuscles. Physicians have prescribed it for thirty years.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid and tablet form. The medicinal value is exactly the same. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's. The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.—Advertisement.

Bogalusa Ball Park Being Put in Shape.

Bogalusa, La., Jan. 22, 1921.—Some forty men are being kept busy at the two ball parks here, to the end that the grounds may be in the best possible condition when the St. Louis team reaches here in February.

A. J. Heinemann, who guides the New Orleans team in its efforts to win pennants in the Southern League, was here today looking over the parks, and he complimented the local officers on the manner in which they are going at this proposition, and predicted that if the plans they have made are carried thru, the Browns will have better accommodations at Bogalusa than will any other big league team training in this section.

When it is considered that club houses are being constructed at each of the parks, and that the directions and suggestions of Bob Quinn of the St. Louis team and Heinemann are being carried out to the letter, there can be no doubt that these ball tossers, no matter how temperamental they may prove to be, will be satisfied.

The two club houses are identical. They are 58 feet long, 24 feet wide and contain lockers, massaging tables, shower baths, and the various equipment necessary in a building of this kind.

Besides putting the grounds in shape, the officials here are having additional stands and bleachers built to accommodate the crowds which will be on hand to see the exhibition games which are to be played here between the Browns and other Major League teams in training near Bogalusa.
