WON'T WORKS CRY FOR FREE FOOD IN COURT CORRIDORS

Witnesses for Tannenbaum Rushed to Street in Lieu of Lunch.

NO WORK ON ISLAND.

College I. W. W. Boasts That He Avoided It While in Workhouse.

"Feed us! Feed us! We want food!"

The cries for something to eat rang through the corridors of the Criminal Courts Building during the lunch recess hour of Judge Wadham's part of General Sessions to-day. The I. W. W. managers and leaders had overlooked the appetites of the I. W. W. witnesses for Frank Tannenbaum, who is being tried for participating in a disorderly gathering in Saint Alphonsus's Roman Catholic Church.

The demands for food followed the assembling of the witnesses for the State. These were given their fees of 50 cents a day and then were escorted to a nearby restaurant by a court officer. The Tannenbaum army became desperate. It howled for food and the howl grew so loud that a squad of court officers formed a flying wedge and pushed it out of the building to the sidewalks of Franklin Street.

Among the witnesses for the defense was Charles Plunkett, a young Cornell graduate who has just finished serving fifteen days in the Workhouse for participating in the raid on St. Alphonsus.

"How did you enjoy the workhouse work?" he was asked.

"I declined to work in the workhouse," he replied with a smile.

"And did you get away with it?" he was asked.

"Yes. The first day a warden came to me, handed me a broom and told me to sweep up the dormitory. It was a large room and the broom was small. I told him that if he would pay me thirty cents an hour and deduct the cost of my keep from what I earned I would sweep the room. He passed on with the broom. I expected to be put in solitary confinement, but nothing was done about the matter.

DID NOTHING AND WAS SENT TO SCHOOL.

"For four days I did nothing at all, and at the end of that time the warden asked me if I would work outside. The I. W. W. prisoners had been split up. Some were on Blackwell's Island and some on Hart's Island, where there is a branch workhouse and a reformatory. I was in the branch workhouse, and Hart's Island is a very pleasant place to stay during good weather. The weather was fine, and, as the grub in the workhouse was poor, I told the warden that I'd try the outside job."

Plunkett said he was assigned to a plumbing shop. His course at Cornell did not include plumbing.

"I enjoyed the plumbing department," he said, "for the men there are fed from the kitchen which supplies the officers. The food was much better. Also, I was able to spread the I. W. W. propaganda. It was an excellent thing for the cause to divide us up in the workhouse as they did. Every one of us preached the I. W. W. doctrine of an eight-hour day at no less than 30 cents an hour, and we got some excellent recruits."

"Now that you are out of the workhouse what are you going to do about something to eat?" his interviewer asked.

Plunkett looked puzzled and hesitated. "I would like to know something about that myself," he admitted.

"Don't worry about that," urged Frank Strawn Hamilton, the leader of the I. W. W. while Tannenbaum is in prison. "You'll be looked after."

HIS FATHER SAID TO FAVOR HIS ATTITUDE.

"What does your father think about your 'won't work' attitude?" Plunkett was asked.

"Frank can tell you about that," he replied.

Hamilton answered for Plunkett with the remark that Plunkett's father would have nothing to do with him if he turned back on his principles. The elder Plunkett is said to be a business man in comfortable circumstances.

Plunkett's first idea after his conviction and sentence to the Workhouse for disorderly conduct was that the I. W. W. men should go on a hunger strike, as the Pankhurst followers in England have been doing. For some reason this was not attempted.

Justus Sheffield, attorney for the I. W. W., opened the defense of Tannenbaum with an address to the jury when court convened to-day. He made a sweeping denial of the truth of the testimony given by the police as to what happened in St. Alphonsus's Church and declared that he would put on thirty witnesses who would swear that the crowd in the church was an orderly crowd. Among his witnesses are a number of newspaper reporters.

SIEGEL EMPLOYEES TAKEN ON BY ROTHENBERG & CO.

This Firm Reestablishes Itself in Its Old Premises in West Fourteenth Street.

Between six and seven hundred persons who were thrown out of work by the closing of Siegel's Fourteenth Street Store will be re-employed as a result of the resumption of business to-day by the firm of Rothenberg & Co.

This concern has taken back the premises at Nos. 34 to 42 West Fourteenth street vacated a few months ago when the business was taken over by the Siegel interests. The store has been enlarged and many improvements are being made, a number of carpenters being at work to-day while business was going on.

The business of Rothenberg & Co. has become completely dissociated from the wrecked Siegel Stores, according to a statement made by L. A. Price, President of the company.

"The Court has given us permission to operate under our old name," said Mr. Price, "and from this time on there will be nothing in common between this firm and the Siegel store. We are simply going to resume business where we left off about six months ago when we went over to the Fourteenth Street Store. Of course I am going to take back all of the old employees that I can, some of whom I have raised in the business.

"The firm of Rothenberg & Co. formerly had a large clientele and a good reputation and we feel that the old customers will be glad to come back and see us at the 'old stand.'"

Policeman Indicted for Shooting.

An indictment charging felonious assault was returned by the Bronx County Grand Jury to-day against Policeman William H. Flynn of the Morrisania station. He shot and painfully wounded Walter Teasdale at One Hundred and Sixty-second street and Third avenue on the night of Feb. 17. After the shooting Flynn, who was in citizen's clothes, placed Teasdale under arrest and dragged him to the station house. Flynn charged that Teasdale and another man held him up and tried to steal his diamond scarfpin.

BOLD BANDITS HOLD UP TWO IN PHOTO STUDIO

Rob Victims and Leave Them Tied After Threatening to Shoot.

Three men entered Gaspare Fecurotta's photograph gallery at No. 199 Bleecker street about noon to-day and, as Fecurotta stepped forward to receive them two of them shoved revolvers in his face and ordered him to keep quiet. The other stepped quietly into the developing room and presented a revolver at the head of Giacomo Cazzolini, Fecurotta's assistant.

They searched both their prisoners, found nothing of value in Cazzolini's pockets, but got $55 in cash, a diamond pin, a diamond ring and a gold watch, gold chain and charm from Fecurotta.

Then they tied the men face to face and left them, cautioning them not to make an outcry unless they wanted to be shot. Fecurotta and Cazzolini worked at their bonds and got free in a few minutes. Then they hurried to the Mercer street station and told Capt. Funston, head of the detectives there, what had happened to them.

How to Darken Gray Hair

By a Specialist.

A very satisfactory preparation which darkens gray hair and acts as a corrective agent for dandruff and other diseases of the scalp can be made at small expense and in your own home by dissolving a small box of Barbo Compound in 7 ounces of water and then adding an ounce of bay rum and a quarter ounce of glycerine. Any drug store can furnish these ingredients. This is to be applied once a week until the hair is sufficiently darkened, then every two weeks to keep the hair soft and glossy and the scalp in a healthy condition. It may be used with equal success in darkening the beard. This is a preparation that gives splendid results, both as a hair darkener and a remedy for all scalp disorders, and is well worthy of a trial. You will find it far superior to the ordinary store preparations and much less expensive.—Advt.

HAD ASTHMA 18 YEARS

IS A WELL MAN TO-DAY

The following communication from a reliable business man is but one of Dr. Anderson's cured patients whose names can be furnished as references.

It was most fortunate that this patient finally did learn of Dr. Anderson after such a long and unsuccessful search for relief and cure.

"Dear Doctor—I had been troubled with Asthma and Catarrh for eighteen years, during which time I had been under the care of at least ten different physicians, not one of whom ever gave me any lasting relief.

"I became very much discouraged and despondent, which only aggravated my condition. Finally a friend called my attention to a notice in a morning paper which spoke quite at length of the success and numerous cures which were resulting from your treatment of Lung and Chest Diseases.

"From the start I was very much interested, as your X-Light for positive diagnosis and your method of treatment seemed so very reasonable, though it was entirely new to me. After placing myself in your hands I began to improve at once, and after three months' treatment I felt as I had not felt for eighteen years—A WELL MAN.

"It is now six years since I was cured by your treatment, and I have not as yet seen a sick day."

Dr. Anderson is a renowned and expert Throat and Lung Specialist of twenty-three years' experience in New York. Consult him at once and learn the truth about your lungs. Do not wait until dangerous or incurable conditions develop. Office consultation and examination are given free of charge.

Office, 50 West 22d st., New York (between 5th and 6th aves.). Hours—daily, 10 to 4; Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings till 8 o'clock; Sundays, 11 to 2.
