CARRANZA SAYS HE WILL SLAY ALL MURDERERS OF MADERO; WILSON DEMANDS AMNESTY

President Tells Rebels There Must Be No Wholesale Slaughter of Prisoners.

NO PROMISES MADE.

Washington Expects Change in Mexican Government to Take Place Next Week.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—It became known to-day that the United States has demanded Carranza grant amnesty to his foes. Those guilty of crimes against the nation may be punished without interference by this government, but there must be no wholesale campaign of assassination simply because the Constitutionalist cause has triumphed.

This attitude has been explained to Carranza by Consul Silliman, President Wilson's personal representative. Carranza has made no definite promises. He has told Silliman, it was learned to-day, that there is no intention of punishing the rank and file of Huerta's army, but so far has refused to promise a general amnesty that will include the high officials of the Federal army. He has also failed up to the present time to promise that foreigners will not be interfered with.

Silliman has impressed on Carranza that the United States cannot recognize his Government unless he "comes into power with clean hands." A number of official telegrams both from Mexico City and Monterey were taken to President Wilson to-day. While their contents were not made public, Secretary Tumulty characterized them as "very encouraging."

A statement issued to-day by Constitutionalist representatives here declared that no amnesties would be granted by Carranza, and that the "Juarez decree of 1862," providing execution of anyone implicated in overthrowing executive power would be invoked against all those involved in the Madero murder, if caught. It was also stated that long jail sentences would be given the minor actors in the Madero tragedy.

"The enlisted force will not be molested, except those companies or regiments which had a direct hand in the murder of President Madero," the statement declares.

"Any report that there will be wholesale butchering of the followers of Huerta is unfounded. Carranza has no intention of molesting any but those who were instrumental in the overthrow and murder of Madero. These executions will be carried out.

THUNDER SHAKES BRONX WHILE SUN BAKES MANHATTAN

Blinding Lightning With Storm and Horse Is Struck at Empire Track.

A terrific thunder storm broke over the Bronx at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and while there was not great damage done the residents of that section of the city were expecting the worst every second for about twenty minutes.

Reverberating thunder sounded continually and occasional blinding lightning flashes served to intensify the gloom. A bolt of lightning put the police telephone system of the borough out of commission, and late this afternoon there was no communication over police wires between Bronx Headquarters, Fordham Hospital, Highbridge station and Kingsbridge Station.

While the Bronx was almost drowned out, the lower part of Manhattan sweltered in blistering sunlight.

The storm enveloped the Empire race track in darkness just before the fourth race was run and the stable of A. J. Goldsborough was struck by lightning. One of the rubbers was knocked down and the celebrated three-year-old Roamer was struck. The man was revived, and while Roamer was considerably shocked and knocked down by the force of the electric current, he was able to stand on his feet shortly afterward. Mr. Goldsborough walked him around, and while suffering from shock it is not believed he has been seriously injured.

YACHT RACE CALLED OFF AGAIN OWING TO FOG

Sloops at Starting Line in Fresh Breeze When Weather Conditions Changed.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 17.—The race of the American cup yachts was called off again to-day because of heavy fog which shut in just as the three sloops were emerging from Newport Harbor on their way to the starting line.

It had been thick all day, but as the wind was fresh the regatta committee of the Newport Yacht Racing Association decided to give the yachts a short race from Brenton's Reef Light vessel to Point Judith whistling buoy and return.

WITH GUM ON CANE PULLS $500 FROM CAGE AT WALDORF

Young Dandy Dressed All in Brown Smiles at Cashier He Coolly Robs.

BOLTS PAST GUESTS.

Chased for Block Along Fifth Avenue, Where Traffic Policeman Makes Capture.

A handsome youth attired in brown even to silk gloves and hat band lounged against a column in the Waldorf lobby lazily twirling a slender cane, also brown, shortly before noon to-day. Just beside him was the cashier's cage and behind the ironwork of brass Cashier Isadore W. Muller was counting money. In a basket two feet from the lounger, but inside the cage, were four packages, each containing $500 in twenty-dollar bills.

Cashier Muller took up three of the packages and placed them in a drawer. Five seconds later he turned to get the remaining $500. The basket was empty.

Disappearing between the brass bars was the package, securely stuck to the end of the small cane, on which was a wad of chewing gum. The young man smiled at the cashier, snatched the package from the end of the stick and fled around the corner through the main exit into Thirty-fourth street.

Dozens of hotel guests curiously watched his fight. Muller, who had been dumb with amazement, suddenly regained his voice.

"Catch him! He's stolen $2,000!" he shouted, forgetting he had removed $1,500 from the basket.

House Detective M. A. Lawlor and Head Footman Patrick Brady leaped through the doors and started in pursuit toward Fifth avenue, the thief fifty yards in front and gaining every minute. He turned up Fifth avenue, with the two hotel employees heading several hundred men and boys, and tried to dart across the avenue at Thirty-fifth street. Traffic Police Fitzpatrick of Squad C saw the crowd and heard the cries, and as the symphony in brown dashed from the curb he was met by the policeman, who tackled him in football style.

The fugitive surrendered without a struggle, and was taken back to the Waldorf. There he was identified by Muller. The $500 was found in his pocket.

Fitzpatrick took him to the Thirtieth street station, where he gave his name as William Edwards, twenty-seven years old, of No. 301 West Fifty-third street. The police say he has been arrested before.
