THE STEWART COOKING STOVE.

The undersigned offers this STOVE to the public, the superior qualities of which have been satisfactorily tested for so many years, with the full assurance that its peculiar merits render it the most complete and perfect cooking apparatus now in use.

Its advantages which are all the requirements of a good Stove, are enumerated below:

ITS DURABILITY.

It is so constructed that the parts liable to be burned out can be replaced, and the Stove thus renovated, is rendered as perfect in its operation as when first used, at but a comparitively trifling cost.

ITS ECONOMY IN FUEL.

The Stove is air-tight, and with other contrivances appertaining to it, a great degree of heat is retained within the Stove; and thereby less fuel is requisite for its various culinary purposes.

THE DRAFT DAMPER

Is a perfect regulator of the heat in the fire-box and oven, so that heat may be increased or moderated, as the occasion may require.

ITS VENTILATING PROPERTIES,

By which different kinds of meat may be cooked in the oven simultaneously, without imparting the peculiar flavor of one to the other; thus securing the full benefits of the old style of cooking by an open fire-place.

The Stove possesses many other advantages—such as the HOT WATER RESERVOIR, furnishing hot water at all times, and the TIN WARMING CLOSET, where articles ready for the table may be kept warm, bread set to rise, etc. etc.

EVERY STOVE FULLY GUARANTEED.

Always on hand, a large assortment of COOKING and HEATING STOVES.

Agents Wanted for

THE OFFICIAL HISTORY of The War.

Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results.

BY HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

☞A Book for all Sections and all Parties.☜

This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its Official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.

The best Paper in the World.

Published for nearly a Quarter of a Century

This splendid newspaper, greatly enlarged and improved, is one of the most reliable, useful, and interesting journals ever published. Every number is beautifully printed and elegantly illustrated with several Original Engravings, representing new Inventions, novelties in Mechanism, Agriculture, chemistry, photography, manufactures, engineering, science and art.

Farmers, mechanics, inventors, engineers, chemists, manufacturers, and people in every profession of life, will find the Scientific American to be of great value in their respective callings. Its counsels and suggestions will save them hundreds of dollars annually, besides affording them a continual source of knowledge, the value of which is beyond pecuniary estimate. All patents granted, with the claims, published weekly.

Every public or private family should have the work bound and preserved for reference.

The yearly numbers of the Scientific American make a splendid volume of nearly one thousand quarto pages, equivalent to nearly four thousand ordinary book pages. A new volume commenced January 1, 1868. Published Weekly, at $3 per year; half yearly, $1 50. Clubs of ten copies for one year, $25; specimen copies sent gratis.

Address, MUNN & Co.,
37 Park Row New York.

☞The publishers of the Scientific American, in connection with the publication of the paper, have acted as Solicitors of Patents for twenty-two years. Thirty thousand applications for patents have been made through their Agency. More than one hundred thousand Inventors have sought the counsel of the Scientific American concerning their inventions. Consultations and advice to inventors, by mail, free. Pamphlets concerning Patent laws of all countries, free.

☞A Handsome Bound Volume, containing 150 Mechanical engravings, and the United States census by counties, with Hints and Receipts, mailed on receipt of twenty-five cents.

PROSPECTUS OF THE Weekly National Intelligencer.

In compliance with numerous solicitations the publication of the Weekly National Intelligencer was resumed on Thursday, November 29th, 1867.

It is much enlarged, and is, in fact, one of the largest weekly newspapers published in this country. It is printed with new and clear type, on strong, fine white paper, and will contain more reading matter than any weekly published south of New York. Its columns are devoted to news, literature, commerce, agriculture, the industrial arts, the interests of religion and political affairs. It contains regular reports of Congressional proceedings and Departmental news, and the latest foreign and domestic markets.

In each of its departments special attention is given by an able and numerous corps of editors and reporters to provide the latest, most interesting and reliable intelligence, and to make the Weekly National Intelligencer in every respect a first class family newspapor.

Maintaining the just Constitutional powers of the General Government on the one hand and reserved rights of the States on the other, confident that the Union can be preserved only while the rights of each shall be respected by both and not transcended by either, the Weekly National Intelligencer will advocate the restoration of the Southern States to their place in the Union, on the basis of a just and equal representation in the national legislature and the electoral college, and will urge social and sectional pacification and reconciliation as the means of restoring harmony and prosperity to all parts of the country, and the proper development of its vast agricultural, mineral and industrial resources. In addition to its value as a miscellaneous newspaper, the Intelligencer will in every respect supply the place of a national Union campaign paper. It will be the only weekly paper of this character published at the seat of Government. It rests with the friends of the Union and the Constitution to secure this paper a circulation that shall enable it to spread the truth and to arouse the patriotic impulses of the people in every State, county, town, hamlet and fireside, where truth and patriotism are appreciated.

Terms—payable in advance. One copy, one year, $3; six months, $1 50. Five copies, one year, $10. Daily Intelligencer, yearly, $10; triweekly, $6.

Subscribers should forward with their names, the post-office county and State, to which the paper is to be sent. All communications should be addressed to SNOW, COYLE & Co.,

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

Plan and execution commended by Justice Story, Chancellor Kent; Historians Sparks, Prescott, Bancroft and Ticknor; Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, and many others.

It has been published for more than twenty years, and is now enlarged. It is issued every Saturday, giving 52 numbers and over 3000 double column octavo pages of reading matter yearly.

It is a work which commends itself to every one who has a taste for the best literature of the Magazines and Reviews, or who cares to keep up with the events of the times.

It contains the best Reviews, Criticisms, Stories, Poetry, Literary, Scientific, Biographical, Historical and Political Essays—from the whole body of English Periodical Literature, making 4 volumes a year, of immediate interest and solid permanent value.

EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES.

From the late President of the United States, John Quincy Adams: Of all the periodical journals devoted to literature and science, which abound in Europe and this country, the Living Age has appeared to me the most useful.

From Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, May, 1867: Were I, in view of all the competitors now in the field, to choose, I should undoubtedly choose the Living Age. There is not in any library that I know of so much instructive and entertaining reading in the same number of volumes.

From the New York Times: The taste, judgment and wise tact displayed in the selection of articles are above all praise, because they have never been equalled.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican: We can do those among our readers who love sound and pure literature no better service than by referring them to this sterling weekly. It is decidedly the best magazine of its class published in the United States, if not in the world.

From the Boston Post: We venture to say that in no other form can a work of similar character be found of equal merit, or at so moderate a price.

From a Clergyman in Massachusetts of much literary celebrity: In the formation of my mind and character, I owe as much to the Living Age as to all other means of education put together.

Published Weekly, at $8 a year, free of postage. An extra copy sent gratis to any one getting up a club of seven new subscribers.

THE NEW ECLECTIC,

A Magazine of Select, Foreign and American Literature. Published monthly, by Turnbull and Murdoch, at $4 per annum.

The publication of the New Eclectic was commenced with January, 1868. It has met with such immediate and flattering recognition throughout the whole country, that the publishers feel a degree of confidence in recommending it to more extended favor.

It makes its selections from the whole field of current periodical literature, including the most esteemed publications in France, England, Germany and America.

It is identified with no political party or religious sect, but in the sole wish to discover truth, to promote liberal culture, and a thoroughly informed and discreet Christian activity, it will seek to represent, as fairly as its limited space will allow, the best and truest views of various schools and parties.

It is free from sensationalism and disguised immorality.

Liberal space will be devoted to reviews of new publications.

All labors in our behalf will be most gratefully acknowledged, and we believe any such assistance will promote the general cause of sound periodical literature.

THE ROUND TABLE:

A SATURDAY REVIEW OF LITERATURE, SOCIETY, AND ART.

The Round Table is established for the unflinching discussion of the subjects named in its title. Its purpose is to be utterly fearless and untrammeled in forming its opinions, and to collect the most brilliant and scholarly writers in the country to give them expression. Some may occasionally be displeased by the tone and spirit wherein this is done, but we beg all such to consider—in the words of Mr. Ruskin—how much less harm is done in the world by ungraceful boldness than by untimely fear.

The Round Table is independent in politics, and it will not hesitate to condemn or to sustain such men or measures, of whatever sect, clique or party, as may seem to the editors to be from time to time in a position of antagonism or otherwise to the material interests either of the metropolitan community or to those of the whole common country.

Arrangements have been effected with some of the best living writers, both American and English; and it is the determination of the conductors to make The Round Table for 1867 a better paper than it has ever yet been, and, if possible, the equal of the best weekly Reviews ever established either in the Old or New World.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy one year, $6, in advance. One copy 6 months, $3 in advance. Single copies, 15 cents.

Ten copies to one address, one year, $40,00 in advance.

To clergymen and Teachers, one year, $4,00 in advance.

The postage on The Round Table is five cents a quarter of a year, if paid in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery. Subscribers will please bear this in mind, and arrange for the postage on the paper at the office at which they receive it.

Persons ordering subscriptions will please remit by postal money-orders. Address all communications to

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

"IT IS AN ILLUSTRATED CYCLOPEDIA."

NEW PHYSIOGNOMY,

or,

SIGNS OF CHARACTER,

As manifested in Temperament and External Forms, and especially on the human face divine. By S. R. Wells, Editor Phrenological Journal. Large 12mo, 768 pp. with more than 1,000 engravings. Illustrating Physiognomy, Anatomy, Physiology, Ethnology, Phrenology and Natural History.

A comprehensive, thorough and practical Work, in which all that is known on the Subject treated is Systematized, Explained, Illustrated and applied, Physiognomy is here shown to be no mere fanciful speculation, but a consistent and well considered system of Character-Reading, based on the established Truths of Physiology and Phrenology, and Confirmed by Ethnology as well as by the Peculiarities of Individuals. It is no abstraction but something to be made useful; something to be practiced by everybody and in all places, and made an efficient help in that noblest of all studies—the study of man. It is readily understood and as readily applied. The following are some of the leading topics discussed in this great illustrated work.

Previous Systems given, including those of all ancient and modern writers.

General Principles of Physiognomy, or the Physiological laws on which character reading is and must be based.

Temperaments.—The Ancient Doctrines—Spurzhiem's Description—The New Classification now in use here.

Practical Physiognomy.—General Forms of Faces—The Eyes, the Mouth, the Nose, the Chin, the Jaws and Teeth, the Cheeks, the Forehead, the Hair and Beard, the Complexion, the Neck and Ears, the Hands and Feet, the Voice, the Walk, the Laugh, the Mode of Shaking Hands, Dress, etc., with illustrations.

Ethnology.—The Races, including the Caucasian, the North American Indians, the Mongolian, the Malay, and the African, with their numerous subdivisions; also National Types, each Illustrated.

Physiognomy Applied.—To Marriage, to the Training of Children to Personal Improvement, to Business, to Insanity and Idiocy, to Health and Disease, to Classes and Professions, to Personal Improvement, and to Character Reading Generally. Utility of Physiognomy.

Animal Types.—Grades of Intelligence, Instinct and Reason—Animal Heads and Animal Types among Men.

Graphomancy.—Character Revealed in Hand-Writing with Specimens—Palmistry. "Line of Life" in the human hand.

Character Reading.—More than a hundred ted Men and Women Introduced—What Physnomy says of them.

The Great Secret.—How to be Healthy and How to be Beautiful—Mental Cosmetics—very interesting, very useful.

Aristotle and St. Paul.—A Model Head—Views of Life—Illustrated Anecdotes.—Detecting a rogue by his face.

No one can read this Book without interest, without real profit. "Knowledge is power," and this is emphatically true of a knowledge of men—of human character. He who has it is "master of the situation;" and anybody may have it who will, and find in it the "secret of success" and the road to the largest personal improvement.

Price, in one large Volume, of nearly 800 pages, and more than 1,000 Engravings, on toned paper, handsomely bound in embossed muslin, $5.00; in heavy calf, marbled edges, $8,00; Turkey-morocco, full gilt, $10,00. Agents may do well to canvass for this work. Please address

This is a beautiful paper that every farmer and every farmer's wife—that every nursery man and his wife, and every stock raiser and his wife, and the sons of these should read, and its advice follow.

"One of the best agricultural papers in the country is the Southern Farmer, published at Memphis, by M. W. Phillips & Co., at $2. We will take pleasure in forwarding subscriptions to it. Specimen copies can be seen at our office. (Gallatin Examiner.

It is exactly adapted to the wants of the people in this neighborhood and the Southwest." (Memphis Bulletin.

It is an excellent paper, and in every respect merits the patronage of our farmers and planters. Two dollars cannot be expended to more advantage than in a year's subscription. (Memphis Appeal.

We take much pleasure in recommending the Southern Farmer to our planting friends as a journal whose worth to them cannot be estimated in dollars. (Memphis Ledger.

Although there occasionally appears in the Farmer a spice of the old Southern devil, we do not hesitate to warmly recommend it to all our readers. (Memphis Post.

We know of no better agricultural journal in the country. Every farmer should subscribe. (Southern (Mis.) Eagle.

The January number is worth the year's subscription. (Moore's Rural New Yorker.

Every man should read in his profession. The farmer must read and study his by the best lights, or he will lose ground. He should cultivate in his sons a love for agriculture and stock-raising, and he can do this no more cheaply or successfully than by taking an agricultural paper.

One well conducted Southern paper located as The Southern Farmer is, in the center of the South and West, and ably conducted by the South's ablest pens, is worth more to Southern farmers than all the papers written at the North and for Northern farmers. Try the Farmer one year.

"A REPOSITORY OF FASHION, PLEASURE AND INSTRUCTION."

HARPER'S BAZAR,

Is a Weekly Illustrated Family Journal, devoted to Fashion and Home Literature. Their aim is too fold: to supply the existing need of a Weekly Fashion Newspaper and to combine therewith a first-class literary journal, which will be indispensable to every household.

Arrangements have been made, at an immense cost, with the most celebrated of the Fashion Papers of Europe, especially with the famous Bazar of Berlin, which supplies the fashions to the leading journals of Paris, to furnish the same to them in advance, so that henceforth the Fashions will appear in Harper's Bazar simultaneously with their publication in Paris and Berlin—an advantage enjoyed by no other journal in the country.

The patrons of Harper's Bazar will receive every fortnight large pattern-plates, containing from forty to fifty full-sized patterns of ladies', misses, and children's bonnets, cloaks, dresses, under-clothing, and other articles, accompanied with the necessary descriptions and directions, and occasionally an elegant Colored Fashion Plate of the size of Harper's Weekly.

Harper's Bazar will contain 16 folio pages, the size of Harper's Weekly, printed on superfine calendered paper, and will be published weekly.

Terms:—The Publishers have perfected a system of mailing by which they can supply the Magazide, Weekly, and Bazar promptly to those who prefer to receive their periodicals directly from the office of publication. Postmasters and others desirous of getting up Clubs will be supplied with a show-bill on application.

The postage on Harper's Bazar is 20 cents a year, which must be paid at the subscriber's post-office. Harper's Babar, one year, $4. An extra copy of either the Magazine, Weekly or Bazar will be supplied gratis for every club of five subscribers at $4 each, in one remittance; or six copies for $20. Back numbers can be supplied at any time.

Address, HARPER & BROS,
Franklin Square, New York.

Prospectus of the LADIES' PEARL.

A monthly Periodical, devoted to Religion and Literature, published at Nashville, Tenn.

The Pearl is published in a pamphlet form of forty-eight pages. It is printed in handsome style, on the best article of paper, and illustrated with beautiful and appropriate engravings.

It will contain biographical sketches of the most useful and respected ministers of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, accompanied, whenever practicable, with the likeness of the subject of the biography.

A corps of the best writers in the Church are secured as contributors.

We will give our readers a likeness of some of our most useful ministers, now living, in each number of the Pearl.

Terms: Three dollars per year, in advance. Persons sending ten subscribers, will be entitled to the eleventh copy gratis.

All ministers and members of the Church are requested to act as agents, and to send on subscribers. We wish our friends to make an effort in their neighborhoods, and send us the names as soon as practicable.

All communications in reference to the Pearl must be addressed to

REV. J. M. HASELL,
Editor and Proprietor.

THE SOUTHERN OPINION.

Richmond, Virginia.

H. R. Pollard, Editor and Proprietor.

The Southern Opinion will be Confederate in its devotion to the memory of our short-lived independence; and all who fought for it, or sympathized with that proud, though unsuccessful struggle, from Jefferson Davis to the humblest soldier, shall be cherished as a sacred memory. Biographies, narratives, descriptions, sketches, incidents and anecdotes illustrative of the late war shall form one of its most prominent features. A number of distinguished Confederate officers have promised to contribute to its columns.

Terms: One copy one year, $4; six months, $2,50; payable in advance.
