I. W. W. RAIDERS DEFY POLICE IN DAILY TEMPLE

Band of Unemployed Which Seized Hall There to Stay, They Say

READY TO FACE JAIL.

Assert They'll Try to Unionize Workhouse If They Are Sent There.

The I. W. W. band, headed by Theodore Freeman and Howard Schauffler, which raised and captured the Daily Temple, at No. 216 East Forty-second Street, last night, was in possession of the premises this morning and declared its intention of holding the fort.

A meeting was in progress last night when the I. W. W. filed into the hall. Miss Elizabeth Ray was in charge. The meeting had been called to help the cause of the unemployed.

"We're here to stay," said Freeman to-day, "and it will take a whole lot of police to drive us out. We came here last night and when Miss Kay announced that she wanted to do something practical for the unemployed I told her that she could begin with us.

"I said that there were forty of us without shelter or food and that we would turn the place into a headquarters for the I. W. W. She objected, but did not attempt to call the police. She tried to argue us out of our intention, but went away at midnight. We slept here all night.

"We have a piano, electric lights and a telephone, every comfort but heat. I telephoned to our headquarters at No. 64 East Fourth Street this morning and ordered 2,000 circulars sent out, saying that we would hold a meeting here to-morrow night."

It was suggested to Freeman that Miss Kay might call on the police.

"Well," he answered, "it will take a good many cops to throw us out. We'll give them a fight, and if they beat us all right. We'll be sent to the Workhouse, and that's what we want.

"If we can get 200 of our people into the Workhouse, we'll unionize the place.

"They might throw us into the cooler, but they can't put more than ten of us there at a time, and the rest of us won't work. And we'll see that nobody else works. There are a lot of us who want work if we can get it.

"The woman who was in the Temple last night wasn't one of us. She happened in here with her husband. We sent them to the lodging house."

Miss Kay, who is in charge of the Temple, had not put in an appearance up to noon.

Freeman said that twenty of the band were scouting along Sixth Avenue looking after employment sharks who were taking money from unemployed men and women without giving any return.

REFUSED TO ESCAPE FIRE UNTIL DRESSED; FIREMEN RESCUE TEN

Ten persons waited to dress when held the house at No. 448 Third Avenue, Brooklyn, was on fire at 1 A. M. to-day, and firemen had to carry them down ladders to the street.

Eight families, in all about fifty persons, live in the four-story building. Joseph Roach, a salesman living on the third floor, found his kitchen chairs and shouted to Policeman Parker of the Fifth Avenue Station. The policeman, after calling for engines, ran through the house and told everybody to get out. The flames spread rapidly and when Roach and his family were ready to leave they couldn't get down the blazing stairs.

All of them, the mother, Mrs. Delia Roach, his wife, and Joseph Jr., twelve, Francis, ten, and Harold, eight, their children, were driven to the front rooms in fire and smoke. The same thing happened on the top floor apartment of Mrs. Nora Roach, thirty-nine, who lives with her son, John, seven-teen, daughter, Mae, thirteen, and two nieces, Alice Kennedy, fifty-four and Rose Boston, fifty.

Ladders were put up and as rapidly as possible they were carried down by firemen. Mrs. Parker, Miss Kennedy and Miss Boston were all overcome by smoke. All of them were carried down the ladders. They were removed to the Long Island Hospital. All might have gone down the stairs, the police said, if they had left when first warned. The blaze did $1,000 damage.
