THE CLOTHES OF A GHOST.

[THE SPIRIT OF A BEAUTIFUL VAIN WOMAN SPEAKS.]

They are shut from me in a costly chest
Thought I, in a woman's slight, sad way,
Of the lovely things that I loved the best
Held none, I fear me, so sweet as they—
For I was daintily dressed!

A precious glimmer of old was mine,
To soil and charm on my bosom then;
And two green jewels whose restless shine
Troubled the foolish hearts of men,
Who fancied their light divine.

These thin hands were on their tremulous grace
Such fair little gloves as white as snow;
And softly laid on my dive, fixed face
Were calm, colors of white and rose
In another time and place.

There's a withering, weird half picture of me—
No, of my Clothes—on a shadowy wall;
A wonderful painter, they said, was he
Who studied my drapery, that was all,
Not guessing what I might be.

Yet he raved of me in my fair, flush'd day,
And though he knew me, and held me dear,
And now, should I waver across his way,
He would grow as gastly as I am, with fear,
Through his is so wise and gray!

But my beautiful Clothes were his despair—
They were so well-cut, so charmingly made,
It is best that they were not worn threadbare;
It is best that I did not feel them fade;
It is best—did he ever care!

I, a thing too fearfully fine to show,
Or stair the starlight wherin I pass,
Must still have the old, fierce vanity grow,
Must yearn by the water, as by a glass,
For a glimpse of—Nothing, I know!

Oh, my lovely Clothes that I still admire!
They were only fashioned for moth and rust;
Yet I, their wearer, though scarr'd by fire,
Shall sit with the gentle ghosts, I trust,
Who once wore meaner attire!

For had I been less like the lilies array'd,
They of the field that toil not nor spin,
I had thought of my Father's work, nor strayed
In empty glory, in shining sin,
Far into the final shade.

It is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt and speedy remedy for diarrhea, dysentery, bowels complicated dyspepsia, lowness of spirits, faintings, sick stomach, headache, etc. For chills and fever of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine without any of its pernicious effects. It effects an appetite, proves a powerful digestor of food and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes. As indisputable evidence of its medical properties, we append a few of the many certificates in our possession:
Johnson's Depot, East Tenn., and Va. R. R. Tenn.
JACOB SCHEETZ, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have used the Bitters I have obtained from you, and find them to be all they are recommended to be. I found one bottle to afford me considerable relief, I feel as though I cannot do very well without them, in my present state of health.

MICROSCOPES.

THE CELEBRATED
CRAIG MICROSCOPE
Is an optical wonder, reveals the thousands of hidden wonders of Nature; is of permanent use and practical availability, combining instruction with amusement, and never losing its interest. It magnifies
TEN THOUSAND TIMES
a power equal to other microscopes of many times its cost. Reveals countless little worlds, all around us, teeming with life, which to the naked eye must forever remain a sealed book—as eels in vinegar, animals in water, cheese mites, sugar and itch insects, milk Globules, claws and hairs of insects, hundreds of eyes in a single eye of a fly, dust of a butterfly's wings to be perfectly formed feathers, the much talked of Trinchina Spiralis or pork worm, which was first discovered in America with this Microscope.
It is of infinate value to professional men, to teachers and to students, but nowhere is it of greater value than on the family table, within the reach of every member. It will delight yourself, your children and your friends during the long winter evenings. It will show you adulterations and uncleanliness of various kinds of food, as sugar, tea, bread, meal, &c.
It is of Inestimabel Value to the Farmer in examining insects which prey upon his crops. The power of a $50 microscope, and so simple in its construction that any child can use it understandingly and with appreciation.
A beautiful present, elegant, instructive; Amusing, and cheap. Over 60,000 have been sold.
During the past six years its worth has been testified to by thousands of scientific men, farmers, school teachers, students, physicians, heads of families, and others.
PRICE $3 00.—Sent by Mail, Post Paid
Every instrument is neatly boxed, and handsomely labeled with full directions for use. Thousands have been sent by mail.

Cherokee Pills No. 2

These Pills are an unfailing Female Regulator, intended for special cases; those obstinate ones where milder and cheaper medicines fail.
They are composed of the most active and powerful principles of plants, roots and berries, so highly concentrated that each pill contains more medicinal strength than a whole box or bottle of ordinary dollar medicine in the market. Although powerful, yet so mild and pleasant in their operation that the most feeble can take them with perfect safety.
Price, $5 per box, sold by all Druggists.
All letters seeking information or advice, will be promptly answered
