

THERE was an increase of over $17,000,000 in the amount of currency during July, or more than $500,000 per day, and yet the inflationist talk as if a contraction had taken place.

IF YOUR uncle Tobias Castor knows whereof he speaks, there will probably be appointments made for the local land office within the next week. All applicants will hold their breath for a few days.

IT HAS now been several months since we have heard of a sub-alliance in Lincoln county convening. What's wrong? Is it possible that this non-political (?) organization has gone to the dogs?

WITHIN the next seven days $12,000,000 or $14,000,000 in gold will arrive in New York from the outside world. Of course, this will banish distrust and release twice or thrice this sum in the country at large which has been hoarded.

BOIES has finally said in plain words that he will not again be a candidate for governor of Iowa, but the republicans can carry the state by a handsome majority without the help that they had hoped to derive from the presence of his name at the head of the democrat ticket.

THE wisest financiers say "the tide has turned." This country is too rich and prosperous to lie down and squeal because of the temporary sway of political tinkers and tariff smashers. Let every man buckle up and make the best of the situation. The time will soon roll around for another change of bosses.

IT IS now work or starve for the idle men in Denver, the city council having appropriated a large sum of money for the purpose of giving the men employment in grading, cutting weeds and other street work, thus giving them a chance to earn their living. This plan of caring for the idle workmen is to be commended.

IN 1865 our national debt, less cash in the treasury, was $2,074,815,856. After almost thirty years of republican protective administration this was reduced down to $841,526,464 in 1892. This was a decrease from $77 per capita of our population to only $12.87 last year. Does this look as if protection had been hurtful to the American nation and to the American people.

COMPARING our exports for the first half of this year with the corresponding period in the three preceding years, we find that they were $10,000,000 less than in 1890, $31,000,000 less than in 1891, and nearly $91,000,000 less than during the first half of 1892. Our imports, on the other hand, were $65,000,000 more this year than during the first half of 1892, making an aggregate trade of $156,000,000 less in our favor this year than last.

WE are now in the sixth month of Cleveland's reign and there has been ample time for "those good old democratic days" to put in an appearance, but they are not here, not on the way, have not even started; alas, they will not come. The "good old democratic days" are a myth; the policy of the party is in direct opposition to the best welfare of the country. The boys who yelled the loudest last fall must continue to live on the birds they carried last fall.

R. C. HARLAN declares that he will not be the independent candidate for county congress this fall, and we presume that office is now running at large over the county vigorously searching for a man who will consent to be a candidate. At least our independent brethren would have us believe that in their party the office seeks the man instead of the man seeking the office. But how is it with Hawley and Buchanan; are they allowing the respective offices of sheriff and treasurer to chase them? No, brethren they are not; both can be placed in the category of chronic office-seekers and they are attempting to improve each shining hour.

THE refusal of the authorities at Washington to allow mileage to the members of congress for the extra session has aroused Jerry Simpson to a high degree of obnoxiousness. Jerry had been spending the summer in the east, and went promptly upon his arrival at the capital to draw the money which he is supposed to have spent on the journey from far away Kansas. It seems that it is not the custom to pay mileage for extra sessions, but Jerry could not believe that the order was not made for the purposes of oppressing the poor men like himself who do not feel that $5,000 a year is a sufficient compensation for their services unless a few perquisites in the way of mileage are thrown in.—Journal.

THE members of the farmers' alliance are greenbackers almost to a man. Of course they are now howling for free coinage, as that is a step in the direction of the greenback idea—an unlimited quantity of cheap money, no matter whether it be worth anything or not. The reputation of their indebtedness is what they are after and the cheaper the money which they pay, the better they will like it.—Ex.

For the first time in over a third of a century the democratic party enters into undisputed power in the national government with the present meeting of congress. Not since James L. Orr, of South Carolina, laid down the speaker's gavel on March 4, 1850, has a congress democratic in both branches greeted a democratic president. That date was the middle of Buchanan's term in the presidency. In the latter half of his term the republicans controlled the house, William Pennington, of New Jersey, being speaker. During the war and reconstruction periods the republicans bore sway in both branches of congress. From March 4, 1875, to the same to the same day of the same month in 1881, the democrats controlled the house, and in the last two years of this period they controlled the senate also, but Grant was in the presidency in the earlier years of this time and Hayes in the latter four years. Since 1879-81 the democrats never had a majority in the senate until now, although in 1881-3 that body was a tie, an independent and a readjuster holding the balance. Virtually, though, the republicans swayed that body. During Cleveland's first term and for two years preceding, while Arthur was in the presidency, or from 1883 to 1889, the democrats were in the preponderance in the house, but the senate was held by the republicans, and in 1891-3 the democratic house was confronted by a republican senate. This is the first time, therefore, in thirty-four years that the destinies of the government are unrestrictedly in the keeping of the democratic party.

Effect of Democratic Rule. Let all who were solemnly assured that existing conditions were ruinous, and that the country wanted a change. The majority of the people seemed to be of that opinion. Well, the change has come, and here are some of the details of the change:

Depreciation of $2,000,000,000 in the value of American securities. All the plate glass factories in America shut down for an indefinite period. Blast furnaces banking fires every day in the week, curtailing the output of pig iron enormously. Textile mills of all sorts in New England either shutting down or preparing to do so.

All the large iron mines in the Michigan districts shut down or running with a short force. Wood at the lowest figure ever known. Wheat at the lowest price in two generations. Balance of foreign trade heavily against us. Money tied up in vaults and banks with no accommodations to any but regular customers, and few new loans of any kind.

More men out of work than at any time since the panic of '73.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Industrial Census of New York. The New York World has published statistics from no less than fifty-seven trades unions in that city giving the number employed and unemployed. The showing is startling. It must be remembered that the World is a democratic organ and not under political temptation to make things appear to be worse than they really are. On the contrary the political bias would be in just the opposite direction.

The total membership of these fifty-seven unions is 99,950. Of these 36,171 are unemployed, or 37 per cent. There are four unions where 75 per cent are unemployed, namely clothing cutters, liners and trimmers, gilders and picture frame makers, horseshoers and shoe making industry. There are fourteen unions which show 50 per cent of unemployed membership, including several of the largest unions. In this list figure the cigarmakers, 3,000 of whom are obliged to be idle. The World says that "the great army of the unemployed is increasing by the thousand every day. A year ago this same New York World was daily appealing to the workingmen of the country to vote the democratic ticket on the ground that it was for their interest to do so. At every democratic rally was heard a campaign song to the effect that the election of "Grover" would mean "four more years in clover."

After a six months' trial and test of the experiment the World rises to announce the result. Will congress heed the lesson? It is in the power of that body to stop this appalling paralysis of labor. If the more sensible democrats will join with the republicans in removing all apprehension of either a depreciated or a contracted currency, also in removing all apprehension of any serious disturbance of the McKinley tariff, the good times of plenty to do at good wages, which all branches of industry were enjoying a year ago, will come again.—Inter Ocean.

The counsel for the Chinese Six Companies will apply to the United States supreme court for a reconsideration of the decision in which it is held that the Geary Chinese registration law is constitutional and must stand. It is the practice of the court to reconsider cases involving important constitutional questions when the decision was not given by the full bench. Justice Harlan was abroad when the first hearing took place. It will be recalled that five of the justices concurred in the finding. One of these, Justice Blatchford, has since died. The final status of the law which has caused so much agitation among the Chinese is in some doubt.

How Do You Like It? Sensible independents in Nebraska admitted that their party could not elect its candidate for president last fall. They said they wanted to defeat the republican party, however, and the republican party was defeated. The result is evident to all. Are you pleased with the job? You old soldiers who fought bravely for the union but thought the republican party was not good enough for you. You saw your brave comrades fall, bleeding by your side; you saw them tortured with the anguish of disease that ruined their constitutions and made them invalids for life. How do you like the idea of having their pensions cut off or reduced now by a young southerner, who has learned well the lesson of the war from rebel teachers? How do you like to see your old crippled comrades turned out of their jobs in the departments in Washington, because, as the head of one of those departments has said, "there are plenty of crippled southern soldiers who need the places?" Farmers how do you like to see the price of wheat and other grain lower than it was ever before, simply because the home market is destroyed by democratic threats to break down American industry. How do you like the financial situation now? How do you like to have a million industrious men, who would be glad to buy your products at a fair price if they had the money, thrown out of employment? Are you pleased with these conditions? Do you enjoy ruin and havoc, the demoralization of finance, the pauperizing of labor and the destitution and misery of the poor? They are the fruits of your victory over the republican party last fall. The result was inevitable and you were warned often enough before election, but empty promises were heard and groundless charges prejudiced your minds so that you would not listen. The only remedy now is to return to the republican party at once and right the wrong as rapidly as possible.—York Times.

A FINANCIAL DISAPPOINTMENT. "What the managers have known for several weeks," says the Chicago Herald, "and admitted in confidential conversations may as well be made public now. The greatest artistic success of the century is a financial disappointment." Then it proceeds to explain that the stockholders of the exposition will receive nothing in return for the $2,000,000 which they subscribed. The city of Chicago will receive nothing in return for the $5,000,000, which it donated. The men who hold the bonds will probably receive their money, although it is not certain. An average attendance of 150,000 a day until the close is needed to pay even that obligation, besides the expenses of conducting the show.

WILL NOT MAKE AN IMPRESSION. The failure of "Jack" Cudahy, in Chicago, while it may have its effect on prices for the time being, ought not to make any impression upon the financial situation. Mr. Cudahy was a heavy dealer in phantom wheat and phantom pork. He hardly ever saw a bushel of actual wheat or a barrel of actual pork, and yet he deals by the million in each of these articles. His failure should have no more commercial importance than the closing of a big gambling house at Long Branch or Saratoga.—Globe-Democrat.

IS NOT "DOWNED." Eastern people who think "the great west is downed" will live to learn their mistake. Its diversity of occupations and the indomitable will of the people will cause it to rise above all its temporary defeats. The effect of a temporary suspension of silver mining has been vastly overestimated, and much to the injury of the silver producing states. It is time that the leaders and orators call a halt.—Inter Ocean.

WOULD FACILITATE BUSINESS. If the army of the unemployed could march on Washington, D. C., about next week, it would facilitate the business of congress wonderfully. As this army has mainly been created by a fear of what congress will do, it is a pity that it cannot be present and aid the party which has expressed such deep sympathy for "the poor man's little dinner pail."—Inter Ocean.

OLD DEMOCRATIC DAYS. There is not a glass factory in operation in the United States now. Such a thing has never been known before since glass was first made in this country. Hundreds of other factories have also closed down and the operatives are trapping. These are genuine old democratic days.—York Times.

THEY ARE GETTING IT. Indiana democrats carried a banner in 1892, on which was inscribed "vote for a change and get $1.25 per bushel for wheat." They got the change and they are getting that price—for two bushels of wheat. Great is democracy.—Exchange.

SUTHERLAND SAYINGS. TUESDAY, AUG. 8TH. Jud Hosteter was a county seat visitor Thursday. He was accompanied by his sister. John Doll has the contract for the Meyers school west of town and expects to commence work Wednesday.

Steve Conway from Paxton was on our streets Wednesday the 2nd. He is now manager of Banker Palmer's large ranch north-west of Paxton and his "bosom swells with pride" accordingly. The crops on his own farm near Mr. Yates don't seem to meet his ideas of practical farming since the change.

R. H. Embree has sold his stock of goods to J. H. Abshire. Whether Mr. Abshire will get married and settle down in the mercantile business or have an auction and dispose of them has not been settled by the bulk of the townsmen but time or Henry will most likely settle it to our satisfaction.

C. F. Iddings spent Tuesday the 1st looking up his business interests with Mr. Coats at the elevator. Conway & Abshire shipped a car load of cattle to Omaha the first of last week.

Mrs. Noehrn and children started for a visit to the old home in Grand Island last Saturday morning. John expects to join them later. Miss Eunice Johnson has been engaged to teach the Eureka school the coming term.

Mr. & Mrs. Chriswell were to leave on the flyer Monday morning for the fair at Chicago. Miss Chriswell will manage the children and the farm during their absence. E. A. Crosby and wife, W. W. Yates and wife, Frank Storm, O. V. Coulter, Mrs. Shoup, Jos. Shoup, Thos. Allison T. J. Lora and in fact nearly everybody living within 14 miles south-west of town was in on business Saturday. Come again.

Mr. Carpenter looks thin since his wife went visiting. Wonder if he is pining or if it is only because he is a poor cook. John Keith & Co have commenced having on the island and the stacks will soon loom up as the grass is good there this year. CITIZEN.

HERSHEY HAPPENINGS. TUESDAY, AUG. 8TH. Charley McAllister arrived home last week from an extended tour to the east. He had the misfortune to have his foot badly injured while away.

W. O. Thompson threshed his wheat crop the latter part of last week, which yielded a little over twenty four bushels to the acre. Bert Sisson is on the sick list. A number of Hershevisites attended the dance at Sutherland last Friday night. Did they enjoy it? Well we promised we would say nothing so we will not.

P. J. Giffin, of Brady Island, was in Hershey the fore part of the week looking after his store interests. G. C. Ross and brother, of Mead, were in town in these parts Monday.

The match game of base ball came off as announced, and witnessed by numbers from North Platte, Sutherland and other points. The score was twenty-eight to eight in favor of N. P. J. A number from these parts attended the lecture in North Platte last Friday evening. J. & L.

MYRTLE LEAVES. TUESDAY, AUG. 8TH. Crops in this locality are still suffering from the continued dry weather. Mr. Burns is now at Hyannis working on the B. & M. road. The gambler boys had a well put down by Frasier & Little last week.

Nettie Brank, Minnie Burns and Jessie Waite went to the canyons last week and returned home well pleased with the trip and a good supply of berries. Mr. Sanford had one of her hands badly burned by the well rope last week. Chas. Wiberg made a brief visit home on Sunday exercising his new team.

Abraham Bechtold transacted business at Myrtle Saturday last. Ernest Metrew from North Platte made a short visit last week with his parents and friends of this place. Mrs. Frasier is recovering from a bad attack of malaria fever. Mr. and Mrs. of this place were Gandy visitors last Sunday. Perry Peters, of North Platte visited with friends here the past week.

A number of our citizens went sand cherrying last week and secured quite a quantity. The farmers are making hay while the sun shines. It is reported that Miss Combs will teach the Myrtle school this fall again. J. H. Allison and wife came out from North Platte Saturday to see the crop on his farm and visit their parents. John Pollet is now at work with the header, heading the grain. A fine shower Monday night done much to clear up and broaden the faces of our farmers. M. & S.

World's Fair Buildings—No. 2. THE WOMAN'S BUILDING. Just south of the 20th St. entrance. Dimensions, 200 by 400 feet. Cost, $140,000. Every lady should visit it. Don't forget that the Chicago, Union Pacific and Northwestern line offers the best service and rates as cheap as any line to Chicago. No change. John J. Ingalls, once the iridescent statesman of the sunflower state, is showing many signs of mental decay. His latest sensational prediction that the transmissibility valley is hanging on the verge of anarchy and ruin proves conclusively that a statesman out of a job is sure to run rapidly to seed.—Bee.

The success of Mrs. Annie M. Beam, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, in the treatment of diarrhoea in her children will undoubtedly be of interest to many mothers. She says: "I spent several weeks in Johnstown, Pa., after the great flood, on account of my husband being employed there. We had several children with us, two of whom took the diarrhoea very badly. I got some Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy from Rev. Mr. Chapman. It cured both of them. I know of several other cases where it was equally successful. I think it cannot be exceeded and cheerfully recommend it." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. F. Streit, Druggist.

Fred Nye's field of wheat south of town turns out a yield of 55 bushels per acre. Had it not been struck by the hail it would have yielded forty. Almost every field that has been threshed out in this vicinity yields much better than was anticipated.—Amherst Times.

Mr. H. J. Mavers, of Oakland, Md., says: "I have sold thirteen bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to-day and an literally sold out. This is the largest sale on record of any one preparation in a day over our counters. It gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine we handle, and as a seller it leads all other preparations on this market. For sale by A. F. Streit, Druggist.

The total assessed valuation of all real and personal property in Nebraska, as shown by the official statements from every county in the state, is $194,733,124. The state will raise on the general fund levy about $950,000.

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it onto the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. 50 cent bottles. For sale by A. F. Streit, Druggist.

While we read daily of banks, business houses, great manufacturing enterprises, etc., closing up and suspending payment, nobody has yet read of a farmer making an assignment. The farmers all over the United States are in better shape than anybody else. When the farmers begin to make assignments we be unto the people.—Seward Blade.

What a Prominent Insurance Man Says. H. M. Blossom, senior member of H. M. Blossom & Co., 217 N. 2d St., St. Louis, writes: "I had been left with a very distressing cough, the result of influenza, which nothing seemed to relieve. I took Ballard's Snow Liniment. One bottle completely cured me. I sent one bottle to my sister, who had a severe cough, and she experienced immediate relief. I always recommend this syrup to my friends." John Cranston, 908 Hampshire street, Quincy, Ill., writes: "I have found Ballard's Snow Liniment superior to any other cough medicine I have ever known. It never disappoints. Price 50c. Sold by A. F. Streit." 21
