Hood's Sarsaparilla Does for the Sick and Suffering

Hood's Cures

"I read in the papers of the wonderful things Hood's Sarsaparilla was doing for others, and so I bought a bottle for my sick child. She was suffering with Spasms. The physician had given her up. It was terrible to see her; she had spasms from 12 to 18 times in a day. At last her head was affected and she was out of her mind so that she knew hardly anything. She has taken two bottles of this medicine, but she says it has helped her that I cannot say enough in the way of thanks for this good medicine. Now this is only the truth, and I believe it had not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla, May would have been in her grave by this time. I earnestly recommend this medicine, because it has helped my child, it will help others." Mrs. MARY REBER, Wolcottsburgh, Erie Co., N. Y.

THE ELECTIONS BILL.

Final Vote on the Measure Postponed For a Day.

THE HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Resolved Matters Again Absorbed the Time—Ostwald Arrives in Washington—No Tariff Hearings Will Be Granted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The bill repealing the federal election law came up immediately after the preliminary business in the senate. By unanimous consent the final vote was postponed until tomorrow at 11 a. m.

IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—At the opening session of the house this morning, Mr. Ellis (Or.) asked unanimous consent for the consideration of the senate bill to extend the time allowed the Utah Irrigation company for the completion of its canal across the Utah-Idaho Indian reservation, in the state of Oregon, and the bill was passed.

After the call of committees for reports, the Hawaiian debate was resumed. Mr. Outwater (Den., O.) taking the floor in support of the McCrea resolution. He took the position that Minister Stevens, in ordering the troops ashore at the time of the revolution, had been guilty of an act of war; that in betraying the government to which he had been accredited he had been guilty of treason, and that in scheming with the sugar interests to overthrow a weak monarchy which was a step toward the establishment of a republic, he had been guilty of cowardice. He analyzed the events of the revolution itself to show Mr. Stevens' seal on behalf of the revolution. The subsequent attempt to restore the Hawaiian islands into the United States, he said, was marked by mock heroism at Honolulu and mock patriotism in Washington.

Mr. Outwater challenged the production of a single scintilla of evidence to prove that Mr. Cleveland, in the inauguration of a policy which had for its purpose the righting of a national wrong, ever contemplated the use of force. Mr. Callahan (Tex.), chairman of the judiciary committee, followed Mr. Outwater and was listened to with great attention.

LAND LEGISLATION.

Beginning of a Contest Between the House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The action of the house committee on public lands yesterday in refusing to report favorably a certain amount of the proceeds of the sale of the public lands in the Hawaiian islands, which will probably be the beginning of a contest between the house and senate in the matter of land legislation. The senate committee on public lands is made up of western men. In the house there are a great many western men on the committee, but they do not come from the mining states or from those states where the great bulk of public lands are now located. There have been several measures proposed by the senate, and approved by the senate committee, which will probably not receive favorable consideration by the house. The scheme of the senators will be to attach this legislation to some of the appropriation bills and then will come the real contest between the house and senate over land legislation. It is probable that the western senators will try to get their bills in this way which they think will be of importance to their constituents.

OUR BREADSTUFFS ABROAD.

Report of United States Consul on American Wheat and Flour Trade.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—B. R. Belle, United States consul at Sheffield, has made a report on the American wheat and flour trade in his district. The flour mostly used there is known as the XXX standard. No American wheat flour seems to come into the district. For its year ending June 30, 1893, 440,000 bushels of American wheat were imported from all parts of America; from all other countries, 2,300,000. People are prepared to use American flour provided the quality is at a low price. James Vices, consul at La Paz, Bolivia, says native flour from the neighboring state of Sonora, Mexico, and the northern portion of this territory is now used exclusively. It is of poor quality. The amount of native flour consumed in from 150 to 200 tons per month. Import duty is about $10.66 per barrel. This is prohibitory.

SITUATION AT CRIPPLE CREEK.

No Work Being Done at Several of the Mines.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Feb. 3.—On account of the difference between the miners and the mine owners in regard to the hours of labor no work was done at the Zenobia, Pharmacist, Victor, Summit, Legal Tender, Isabella and Little May mines. About 350 miners went to the Victor at 7 a. m. and prevented any of the men going to work. This was done because about half of the force employed at the Victor are union men. No other demonstration was made except to go on as usual at 40 or more minutes in the camp. A call has been issued to all the miners to meet at Barry Sunday to discuss the situation.

Months' Strike Right Out.

DENVER, Feb. 6.—D. H. Moffat, president and owner of the Victor mine at Cripple Creek, said of the Cripple Creek strike: "The miners are very unreasonable in their demand for eight hours with 10 hours pay. We have dry mines and pay $8 for nine hours work, while at Leadville and other mountain camps men work for $2.50 for 10 hours for a day of 10 hours. I will not be dictated to and if the men are not satisfied with my terms, I will close down every mine I have in the camp and keep them closed until I can run them peacefully on my own terms, even if it takes me five years to do it."

ADVICE FROM HONOLULU.

Provisionals Quietly Celebrate Their First Anniversary.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 6.—The barkentine W. H. Diamond arrived this morning, 17 days from Honolulu, bringing papers from the island to Jan. 19, two days later than the advice received by the island. During these two days nothing of importance occurred here save the celebration of the first anniversary of the establishment of the provisional government on the 17th, which passed off quietly. The provisional military turned out and paraded the streets in the morning, 800 strong. When the procession reached the headquarters of the American league the stars and stripes were raised and the bands played the "Star Spangled Banner." A large number of Portuguese marched down the street headed by their own band and joined the throng in front of the speaker's stand. Speeches were delivered by Mr. Atherton, J. B. Castle, W. O. Smith, Judge Robertson and Walter G. Smith. The celebration of the day was brought to a close by a reception given by the president and Mrs. Dole, which was largely attended.

Woolgrowers' Convention.

Governor Wells Delivers a Free Trade Speech.

DENVER, Feb. 6.—Governor Wells delivered a free trade speech before the woolgrowers' convention this morning. He declared all tariff laws to be vicious, but if the country cannot exist without a law of this kind he thought all articles should be taxed alike. He declared the only feature of the Wilson bill worthy of serious consideration to be the income tax clause, which he feared would be killed before it could become a law.

Explosion of a Tank of Gasoline.

WYANDOTT, Feb. 6.—The tank of the gasoline engine in the mill of Newton & Co. exploded. Engineer Rose was fatally burned. Frank Bell and O. B. Kootright were badly scalded, but will recover. Five men, remaining from the explosion, did about $1,500 damage.

Schooner James E. Kelsey Wrecked.

JEFFERSON, Ia., Feb. 6.—The grand jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree against the two Shields boys, and their bonds were placed at $3,000 each.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The House Passes the Wilson Bill by a Majority of Sixty-Five.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The internal revenue bill was placed as a rider upon the tariff bill Wednesday afternoon by a vote of 175 to 44. The entire day was spent in the consideration of amendments offered to the various internal revenue features. The principal fight came up on the proposal to increase the tax upon whisky from 90 cents to $1 and extend the bonded period from three to eight years.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The entire time of the senate Wednesday was consumed in the discussion of Senator Stewart's resolution declaring the secretary of the treasury has no power to issue bonds for other purposes than redemption.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The principal speeches in the senate Thursday were made by Senators Stewart and Allison, both of whom contended the secretary of the treasury had no power to issue bonds for other purposes than redemption.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—At 6 o'clock Thursday night, at the close of one of the grandest and most imposing and most impressive scenes ever witnessed in the American Capitol, the Wilson tariff bill passed the house of representatives by a vote of 204 to 140.

At 12 o'clock, after a preliminary skirmish of an hour over the barley schedule, the bill was reported to the house and the closing speeches were made. Then for three hours the oratory of the champions of the two economic systems followed—Reed, Crisp and Wilson—while their partisans made the air vocal with their shouts of approval. The appearance of Mr. Wilson, the champion of the house engaged in debate was in itself a remarkable as well as an unusual thing. Each of the speakers seemed to be in his best form and the speeches which they delivered will rank among the best and most brilliant of their lives.

When they were finished Mr. Wilson, who spoke last, was lifted to the shoulders of his admiring colleagues and carried from the hall, amid a scene of unmatched enthusiasm.

When it came to the voting the victory of the measure was overwhelming. The vote upon the income tax proposition (taken in connection with the measure) was 152 yeas and 80 nays. Only 13 Republicans voted upon the proposition, seven for and five against. The Democratic opposition amounted to 45.
